PROVIDENCE

(Beat 13)

Last Wednesday night was family night at our church. The service was well attended and each group reported a wonderful program. Refreshments were served in the educational building after the program and everyone enjoyed themself. We hope you will plan to be with us at our Family Night program next month. There is a place for everyone.

We would like for each member of our Sunday School to make their plans to go to the Jemison Baptist Church next Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. for the Associational Sunday School meeting. A good program has been planned, and you will miss a blessing if you do not attend. There will be conferences for each class and our pastor will lead the conference for the Adult class.

Our attendance at Sunday School and Training Union has been pretty good over the holiday, but we hope that if you had to be away last Sunday you will make plans to be back at church this Sunday.

DORMANT HOURS NOW OVER 700

ACCORDING to official weather recording instrumetn at Chilton Area Horticultural Experiment Station, Collins Chapel Community, as reported by C. C. Carlton, we have accumulated 716 dormant hours as 7:00 A.M., Monday, Jenuary 4th. Similar readings in 1957-58 and 1958-59 were 465 hours respectively. Fifteen year average (1944 - 1959) chill accumulation for comparable date for the area is near 600 hours.

Certainly it is too early to be making peach prospect predictions, but the above average accumulated dormancy is definite indication that delayed dormancy or lack of chill probably will not be a problem to harress Chilton County Peach Producers for the 1960 year.

In Bessemer Invitational —

Hutchinson Chosen Most Valuable Player

CLANTON GAINS 2ND. POSITION

by Wayne Atcheson

THE Clanton Tigers have had a fine two week holiday. The Tigers won third place in the Luverne Invitational tourney the first week and came back the next week to take second place in the Bessemer tourney.

Within the two weeks the Tigers won their first tilt of the season, had a three game winning sterak going, and now have [illegible] their last four out of six games since the tournaments.

Clanton Faces Columbiana

Clanton faced Columbiana in their first contest in the Bessemer tournament and whipped 'em 53 to 38, and came back the next night and pulled out a 54 to 50 victory over tough Hueytown after leading earlier in the game.

Tigers Met Bessemer

Then the Tigers met Bessemer in the finals the next night, New Year's Eve. Because the Hueytown game took a lot out of Coach V. L. Bulger's five, the Clanton squad wasn't up to par in their game with Bessemer in the finals.

Tigers Lead at Half

The Tigers did lead at the half 20 to 19, but the game wasn't over for the stronger Tigers of Bessemer. Lead by Marvin Daughty and Ed McKinney, Bessemer pumped in 16 points in the third quarter, while holding Clanton to a field goal and two free throws.

Clarkie Hutchinson and Jimmy Tiffin contributed 13 of Clanton's 18 ponts in the last period.

Most Valuable Player

Although playing on the losing team in the finals, Clarkie Hutchinson received the Joe Little award as the Most Vaulable Player of the tournament. Hutchinson 6' 1½" guard, bagged 14 of the 20 points made in the first half against Bessemer and finished the game with 22 points.

Ed McKinney of Bessemer was runner-up to Hutchinson for the honor.

Eight All-Tourney Team

Eight boys were voted as the all-tourney team. Besides Hutchinson from Clanton, Leroy Arthur and Wayne Mizzell also made the honor team.

The other players were Ed McKinney and Marvin Daughty of Bessemer, Snuffy Garrett of McAdory, Wayne Adams of Hueytown and Joe Bennet of Warrior.

Sixth Annual Tournament

This was the sixth annual Bessemer tournament and it was the second time Bessemer had won it too. Bessemer also went through the tourney without their top player, Billy Jack Pierce, who was injured in the first game of the tournament.

Hueytown Over Warrior

Hueytown beat Warrior 71 to 52 in the consolation and in so doing set a record by scoring the most points in a single game in the tournament.

Right now it looks like the Tigers have no where to go in their next tournament, but up, after going from third to second in their holiday tourneys. And if you don't know what the next tournament is, well, I'll tell you. It's the district But the Tigers have thirteen games to go yet before the district.

The Tigers have made considerable progress after losing their first six games. And let's hope more progress will be gained.

Sports Bulletin!

TUESDAY night the Clanton basketball squad walloped Tallassee by a score of 60 to 48. The Clanton "B's" took the Tallassee five for a 56 to 49 ride to defeat. Clanton's basketball arm is showing considerable improvement over the first of the season mishaps. More on this game next week!

WE are anxiously awaiting the first public reports from the recently inaugurated Driver Training Course at Chilton County High School. Stokes Chevrolet Co. here in Clanton presented the school with the first car, and we predict, if handld properly, this program will broaden to include other schools and be a boon to the youth of Chilton County and the community as a whole. We needn't remind the folks involved that the eyes of the County are upon them and we most assuredly want them to put forth every effort for a successful "first try".

SOME of us didn't have the stamina to welcome the New Year in at midnight, but from the looks of the two days immediately following New Year's Day, we didn't miss a whole lot. Hope the rest of the year is more agreeable and doesn't follow suite.

Yessir, We Said Competition --

A comment was made last week with reference to competition in Clanton and Chilton County. One of our fine readers protested that if his particular business had any more competition they'd be out of business.

We appreciate his point, because we share in his dilemna somewhat, but the competition we had in mind was, ironically, the same as that he mentions. . . competition between the merchants to attract the Chilton consumer to their store.

The past season's rush of business verified the fact that there is much more buying done by Chilton County than the local merchant takes advantage. What we want is buying done IN Chilton County!

To say "I'm getting all the business I'm going to" is just not using good business judgment.

Advertising a quality product and making your services easy to get to and satisfying when done is the best way toward increasing the volume of your business.

We are number one supporters of "Trading At Home" and the merchants of Chilton County are fooling only themselves if they think they are getting 100% of the consumers spending!

Neither do we agree with the assertion of some, that "they're not going to spend it all at home anyway!" You don't know what they might do. . . all you know is what you can do to attract the buyer to your store. Saying "I'm getting all I'm going to get" is most assuredly not doing your utmost to attract new customers. . . and by any standards, that's the only way to increase our volume of business and keep trade at home.

We do so, need more competition. . . the kind that attracts the buyer to trade at our local establishments. . . at home!

"Christ Above All"--

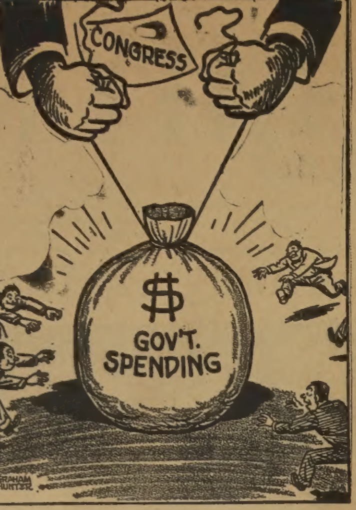
THAT, my friends, is the motto of one of the finest youth organizations in Chilton County or any other. It is the compelling force and the guiding light of the hundreds of Chilton County youths who belong to the MYF. . . Methodist Youth Fellowship.

Without a doubt, this MYF does more for the internal fortitude and self expression of our young folks than all other organizations combined and the big reason for this is, or seems to be, that it is entirely governed (at least on the local scene) by the youths belonging to it. This verifies the opinion that this younger generations is not going to the dogs and the organization is one of the better leaders representing similar youth groups.

The MYF is not a world-shaking or a crusasding (in the accepted everyday sense) organization, but one of the simple truths of how to live a clean life; how to help others do so and gives our young folks a chance to express beliefs and opinions among their own intimate friends as well as to the grown ups on accasion.

We firmly believe that with an ever-increasing number and with the same kind of leadership displayed in this organization that we have today, the MYF and organizations like it, will pave the way to a brigher and better future for many youngsters of today and tomorrow. Congratulations to the young folks who support this fine organization and to their adult counselors and advisors wh[illegible]earn so much for themselves and we other adults th[illegible]ugh their dealings with our youth of today!

HOLD THAT LINE!



Budget's Hard Fact

Spending Pushed Relentlessly Upward!

By Maurice H. Stans

In many ways the Federal budget today is saddled with yesterday's priorities instead of anticipating tomorrow's.

This situation has come about because of our proclivity to legislate benefits, services, and subsidies up to the hilt of our fiscal capacity—and then to hang on to them.

It is almost as though we had forgotten that needs and circumstances change. And that unless we leave ourselves a degree of flexibility, the time can come when we will have inadequate reserves to call upon. For example:

> These remarks are extracted from a speech delivered by Budget Director Stans before the Tax Foundation.

We spend great sums on interest charges on our national debt, but we do not reduce the principal.

We carry on massive Federal programs which State and local governments could do better.

We devote large amounts of money to farm price supports to reduce surpluses, with the opposite results.

We lend money to benefit special groups at rates below those which the Government must pay to its own creditors, when private sources could do the job.

We perpetuate Federal programs which have long since met the objectives for which they were created.

Whatever may be the merits of ancestor worship, I hardly think that the place of practice it is in the budget of the United States Government. After all, we are a nation of people who have achieved much because we have believed in enterprise, in technological advancement, in creativity on a wide front, and in our development as a confident and growing society. On the political front, we must be equally dynamic and purposeful. This calls for an attitude of realism and a disposition to tighten up the machinery of democratic government by putting the nation's interest ahead of particular pressure group interests. And a good place to start is with the Federal budget.

I would like to see us make some real progress toward better citizen understanding of the budget. Except for its dimensions, the Federal budget is paralled to a family's budget. The simple idea that whatever is spent must somehow be covered by what is earned would help to dissipate the wide-spread delusion that in some strange way it doesn't cost anybody anything when money comes from Washington.

"Shape We're In"

However, a difficulty arises because we budget for one year at a time, while we enact laws which mortgage our future income over many years, and sometimes for decades. This is the real reason for a great deal of our budgetary trouble today. We are taxing current earnings to pay for many benefits and services legislated in past years, while we go on legislating new benefits and services without considering how we will pay for them when they come due.

Let me tell you something about the hape we're in. The facts may shock you, but I believe you want the facts instead of fancy.

Fact Number One is that the Federal Government is piling up C.O.O.'s for the future at an astounding pace. I'll mention just a few.

It will cost between $25 and $35 billion to complete the interstate highway system after this fiscal year.

Federal civil public works projects already started will require expenditures of about $8 billion before they are completed.

The Federal Government is committed to contribute $6 billion in the future for public housing.

Merchant marine subsidies and ship replacement constitute a Federal liability of $4.4 billion.

These and a variety of other obligations, when added to huge unexpended balances in the defense program, total $98 billion of commitments for future Federal spending.

Fact Number Two is this: Even if the next session of the Congress doesn't add any new programs, the level of Federal spending is going to go up. The reason is that there are built-in increases in existing programs which are now producing a continuing up-curve in expenditures. The catalog of built-in increases covers such programs as outer space, civil aviation, merchant shipping, urban renewal, science education, medical research, public assistance, loans to underdeveloped countries, and veterans' pensions.

Interest on the public debt will run higher, and the farm program will cost more and more until we get reaslistic legislation. Defense technology is putting increasing pressure on expenditures. Now, for 1961 alone, these built-in increases amount to between $2 billion and $2.5 billion. Of course there are practically no built-in decreases, because Government programs are almost invulnerable to reduction or elimination. A year ago, in his Budget Message, the President nominated 18 programs as being due for revision in order to accomplish future downward adjustments in spending. Only three received attention by Congress, and that with the net result of increasing future exnditures rather than decreasing them.

Spending Pressures Grow

Fact Number Three is that our present national debt of $290 billion doesnt include present Federal liabilities for past services in even greater amounts. We know that our already accrued liability for military retirement is about $30 billion. Our unfunded present accrual for retirement benefits for civilian Government employees is $27.5 billion. On top of that, future pensions and compensation to veterans will cost about $300 billion. Now the $290 billion of current public debt, plus $350 billion of future obligations for past services, plus $98 billion of C.O.D.'s adds to the almost incredible total of about $750 billion. That, my friends, is the Federal Government's mortgage on America's future, beyond the regular annual costs of defense, welfare and commerce.

Fact Number Four is that pressures for new spending programs are increasing in intensity. If you are troubled by an $80 billion budget, I can tell you that unless we hold the line now the day is not too distant when the budget will rise to the $90 billion or $100 billion range. In the last session of the Congress alone, there were 20 major spending bills introduced in the House, along with 20 others in the Senate, for new programs which altogether priced out to more than $326 billion over an average period of five years. If these bills were passed as their sponsors want them, they would add $50 billion to [illegible] billion a year to our present spending.

While I don't expect anything quite so extreme is going to happen, the fact remains that it is going to be harder each year to hold off all of these pressures.

Now, the President can't cope with this kind of pressure all alone. It is true that he can limit the spending proposals of the Executive Branch of the Government, and that he can insist on efficiency of administration. But the power to legislate new programs, to authorize future spending, and to appropriate funds beyond the budget, lies with the Congress. The President can veto, it is true, but he can also be overruled. The really effective control is the responsibility of the Congress to the people, and their overwhelming support is needed by any President to wage a successful fight for fiscal responsibility.

By the same token, we must understand that the President is not free to send to the Congress a budget at any level starting from $1 on up. Almost 85% of the annual budget goes for national security, interest on the public debt, and mandatory benefits for agriculture, veterans, and the needy. That leaves little room for discretion or for cutting expenditures.

In the absence of a genuine thaw in the cold war which could lead to a major reduction in military cossts, the only way to cut back the level of the budget is to look to the Congress to modify laws that are already on the books.

THINGS We see and hear

by BOB

IT says here that farm money is scarce and getting scarcer! We hope they didn't think that was news. . . and it applies to editors and printers as well! Seriously, the news part of it was that consumer credit and residential real estate debt had increased by so many billion dollars in the past three years that money, due to these increased demands for it, is getting scarce for the farmer. The report said that the heavy demand for farm capital forces the farmer to reinvest a large portion of his income into his business. This is, truly, just one reason why lack of hard, cold cash is a common complaint among farmers. . .and practically everybody else!

THE 1,889 employees of Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corp., of which the plant at Billingsley, under Mr. Campbell White is a part, racked up one million man hours of work during the past three months without an injury to a worker. This organization is getting to be noted for it's "no accident" record and we think it speaks well, not only for their setup, but for the men (some of them Chilton County men) who work on the job. Congratulations to 'em!

A sign in a radio station reads: "Help Stamp Out Television". That's gettin' pretty despurt' ain't it?

DID somebody say taxes! According to our reports, in 1923 Alabamians paid $1,739,000 during the entire year in gasoline taxes. This year the total for the first 5½ days of the year was only $1,739,000. . . or. . . the same dadburn amount as a whole year in 1923! Now, you fellers up there in Washington. . . we just ain't livin' that much better that's all! And frankly I can't afford it!

WE received a letter this week from the State Department of Education urging th local Board, along with the science teachers, principal and other officials to select one outstanding science student from Chilton County to attend the International Edison Birthday Celebration in Birmingham in honor of Thomas Alva Edison on February 11 of this year. There is no doubt that there are many students, interested in science, in Chilton County who would welcome the chance for such an occasion. The teachers and other officials would do well, and be doing the County and some individual, if not the whole of America a great favor if they consider this matter fully and act accordingly. It's a wonderful opportunity for some worthy boy or girl. And according to our letter the day is chock full of exciting events.

WE continuously do not understand the merchant who says, "I know I need to advertise, but I just can't afford it." It's rubbing noses with an impossibility to try to explain to some of our good friend merchants that the advertising they do, even on credit, and if done right, will bring dollars into their pockets and people into their doors! Legitimate advertising, when done with the advice of advertising men who know their business, cannot fail to produce results for the merchant. Saying this, however will not convince them. They must convince themselves by DOING it. When a preacher wants his "flock" to take especial not of something he speaks a little louder. . . when a merchant wants people to buy from his store, he tells them about his products and the only way he can do this is by "speaking" a little louder. . . through the pages of his local newspaper. And if you're price conscious. . . there is no more economical media of advertising, with time-ested and proven results like your community newspaper!

OUR good friend Orville Wood says his foot is coming along nicely. . . but there's one New Year's resolution that was at the top of his list this year. . . not to make excuses to his wife, Carrie. . . boy, she packs a wallop for such a dainty young'un!

WELL, we progressed in many ways and in many corners this past year of 1959, but there are two things which weren't done that should have been a thing of the past: 1. We didn't get any large economy size industry into Chilton County and 2. we did not build a new Cour house. Here's hoping that 1960 sees some accomplishment in both these neglcted fields FELLER got out of jail a bit too soon a few days ago (he was in for inebriation of some degree) and upon regaining his freedom, promptly ran a red light causing considerable property damage. A man should not be released on bond, under any condition, until he is ober enough to handle himself and most times he is detained until. . . don't know wha' hoppen. . . but, we're glad we weren't standing under that street light at that particular moment!

ACCORDING to State records, Mrs. Lillie P. Teel is the only su viving widow of a Confederate So dier in Chilton County or surroun ing territory. Mrs. Teel lives Clanton at 14 3rd Ave. South. you recall, the News ran a featu story on Mrs. Teel and her la husband a year [illegible] so [illegible] W venture to say that there [illegible] many in the whole U.S. sharin this distinction at this time an we're sure Mrs. Teel has som fond memories and some fi stories she could tell!

"MEDICAL PROGRESS IS WORTH THE EXPENSE" SAYS HOSPITAL ADMINISTRATOR

Public criticism of the increased cost of medical care is often based on confusion. Many people think that if hospitals and physicians were reorganized in some way, more effective care might lead to reduced costs. So it has for specific illnesses such as tuberculosis and mental diseases and certainly some economy has been possible. But there is no indication that the over-all national cost for medical service would be reduced.

Human Suffering Reduced

New medical knowledge has made possible dramatic changes in average length of life, and has reduced human suffering. Many diseases such as smallpox, malaria, and typhoid fever, which once took a great toll in lives, have been practically eliminated in the United States. Other diseases such as tuberculosis and scarlet fever have been greatly reduced both in incidence and as a cause of death. Still other conditions such as pneumonia, occur as frequently as in the past, but as much less risk, discomfort, and expense to the patient. These gains can only be held by wise use of medical care.

As some of these conditions have been eliminated and other controlled, many person who would once have died have been able to live--but with a chronic impairments that require extensive use of physicians' service, hospitals and drugs. This is particularly true of older people.

Care of Ourselves

The fact that we are taking better care of ourselves does not necessarily mean that we have fewer illnssses. There may be more measureable illness simply because people take better care of themselves by not carrying on their usual activities. Sick-leave policies for example, are more liberal nowadays. Difference in working and living conditions may also be a factor in comparative illness rates. While the average worker is certainly under less physical strain, he may be under more severe emotional strain. But with the aging of the population and the extension of life for those with chronic conditions, the wise use of medical care seems likely to lead to more demand for services and higher costs. The increasing investment by the public for medical care confirms this trend. The public cannot reasonably hope to get something for nothing; but is certainly receiving good value for the medical care it pays for.

New Laws Effect Social Security Benefits In Chilton County

"Many Chilton County residents receive monthly social security checks", Cecil L. Simpson, manager of the Birmingham Social Security Office announced today.

1731 In Chilton

As of February 1959, a total of 1731 persons in Chilton County were receiving $76,059 per month in Old-Age, Survivors, and Disability Insurance payments under the Social Security Act. The largest single group in the county consists of 778 retired workers over 65 (age 62 for women) who receive a total of $44,032 per month, or an average of $56.60 per month. The remaining $32,027 in monthly payments is made to 378 wives and dependent husbands, ... children under age 18 and 13 children over age 18 and disabled, 115 widows and widowers, 67 mothers with young children in their care, 13 dependent parents, 38 disabled workers between the age of 60 and 65, and 8 dependent wives and husbands of disabled workers.

Nearly A Million

Annual payment of social security benefits totaling $912,708 helps business in general in Chilton County, as most of the money is spent immediately for food, clothing, etc.

Mr. Simpson also announced that social security taxes will be increased beginning January 1, 1960. This increase is needed to keep the system self-supporting and provide for more liberal benefits.

New Tax Rate

The new tax rate of 3 per cent on the first $4800 of annual wages was established by the 1958 changes in the social security law. This increase is needed to protect each workers staks in the future. The employer matches the 3 per cent contribution.

The new rate for self-employed is 4½ per cent. However, the self-employed in this area (mainly farmers) will pay only 3¾ percent when they file their 1959 federal income tax returns before April 15, 1960.

Assistance Offered

Mr. Simpson emphasized that his office is anxious to assist Chilton County residents. A representative of the Birmingham office comes to Clanton each Wednesday. He can be contacted on the second floor of the Chilton County courthouse between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. (or the Clanton City Hall if court is in session). The district office representative will be happy to answer your questions concerning social security and assist you in filing claims.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 30 —
Clanton Nips Hueytown 54 To 50

by Wayne Atcheson

THE Clanton Tigers after setting the pace in the first quarter had to fight for their lives the next three quarters to edge the stubborn Hueytown gophers.

Clanton got off to a fast start and led after the first quarter 10 to 7. But the gophers scored 20 points in the second quarter and led the Tigers 27 to 21 at the half.

Hueytown Continues To Hit

Hueytown continued to hit in the next quarter and led three or four times by 10 points. Led by Wayne Mizzell in the closing minutes of the quartetr the Gophers led by 4 points, 40 to 36 going into the exciting last period. Mizzell poured in 9 of his 10 points in that third period which kept the Clanton cagers in the contest.

Sharp Shooting

But the Tigers displayed some sharp shooting in the fourth period, scoring 18 points and holding the Gophers to 10 poitns. Jimmy Tiffin, Leroy Arthur, and Clarkie hit three field goals, Arthur hit a Hutchinson led the way. Tiffin layup and went 4 for 4 at the foul lane which help out the icing on the cake. Hutchinson bagged two jump shots and a free throw.

2 Minutes & 10 Seconds

With 2 minutes and 10 seconds remaining in the game Clanton took the lead for the first time since the second quarter. The score was 45 to 44, Clanton. Leroy Arthur's cool shooting late in the game at the foul lane and Tiffin's and Hutchinson's sharp scoring from the field built the Tiger lead to 6 points, 64 to 48.

One Field Goal

The Gophers made one field goal and had a good chance to hit another, but missed and the game ended 54 to 50. It was the best Tiger finish this season.

Buddy Vines, Mizzell, and Arthur led the rebounding.

By winning the game the Tigers went into the finals with Bessemer on Thursday.

The Tigers have made unbelievable progress since the start of the season. Losing their first six games the Tigers now have won their last three games in a row and have also won four out of their last five games. Clanton's record now is four wins and seven loses.

ASSEMBLY JAN. 5 —

100TH ANNIVERSARY OF CIVIL WAR TO DRAW WIDE ATTENTION FROM MANY

WASHINGTON, D. C. -- "Every person in America and many in foeign countries will be affected by the forthcoming 100th anniversary of the Civil War", Major General U. S. Grant, 3rd chaiman of the National Centennrial Commission, said here today in preparation for the third annual meeting of the agency.

The asembly, perhaps the most important called so far by the Commission, will be held at the Department of Interio at 10 a.m. January 5. It will be preceded on the 4th by a meeting of the Executive Committee, headed by Congressman Smith of Kansas.

"So Meny People. . ."

"Never before in the history of the nation," General Grant said, "has there been an observance that will interest people in so many different walks of life.

Williams--Last Survivor

"We will be reliving--or perhaps I should say re-studying a chapter in our history that saw its last page turned with the death the other day at Houston, Texas, of Walter Williams, the last surviving veteran," he explained. "It was an era that started America on the course toward unification. Widely split a century ago, we now are closer together than ever in our past, and this makes it easier for us to plan our Centennial.

Official'a Underway, Jan. 1, 1951

"Our programs of observances ,of religious and educational programs, and our occasional re-enactments will be of such a nature that every American will be forced to take some interest, regardless of the degree. It is with this in mind that we have planned the program for our annual meeting, perhaps the last bfore the Centennial officially gets under way January 1, 1961."

38 Centennial Commissons

One of the highlights of the meeting will be the annual report of Karl S. Betts, executive director of the National Commission and the hub around which Centennial planning has revolved. Among his major efforts in the year and nine months he has been in the office has been the encouragement of state Centennial Commissions to plan the observances from the grass-roots level. To date, 38 of these have been formed and are now in operation.

Stimulate Tourist Travel

Added impetus to the Centennial, according to Mr. Betts, is expected to come from the Mission 66 program of th National Park Service. This has been co-ordinated with Civil War dates in such a way that projects will be completed in time to have their dedication tied in with Centennial observances.

Much of the planning worked out by the National Commission is aimed at stimulating tourist travel.

Understanding Is Aim

"It is our hope to have every American understand why the Civil War was fought and the benefits that came to us as a nation as a result of it," explained the executive director. "We believe that this can best be done by encouraging people to make actual visits to the scenes of battles and other historic events. Nothing is more impressive than to stand on the actual ground where our forefathers fought a century ago and to visualize the experiences which they went through in fighting for a principle."

Cooperat'ng, Too

To encourage this travel, Mr. Betts reported, the American Automobile Association, National Association of Travel Organizations, National Geographic Society, map manufacturers, oil companies and other agencies are busy now with plans to produce special Civil War maps for the benefit of tourists. The National Park Service expects the attendance at its national battlefield parks during the first year of the Centennial to rise by at least 25 per cent.

Railroads and bus companies of the nation also have been contacted in an effort to encourage their participation in Centennial plans. Other efforts now are aimed at bringing about the preparation by schools and churches of special educational and religious programs to take place on significant dates during the five years of the Centennial.

STANTON

Miss Ruth Hicks

Visitors by the carloads -- too numerous to mention—Food, gifts and all kinds and forms of entertainment. Christmas 1959 has passed. Let's make 1960 a special year!

This poem "Author Unknown" seems worth repeating. It is food for thought.

Oh! why leave the Christ out of Christmas?
Why substitute "X" for His name
There is naught else on earth or in Heaven
Can ever make Christmas the same.
Be it thoughtlessness, hate or indifference,
By the fault I grieve and offend;
When I leave Christ out of Christmas
I'm slighting my very best friend.
When I leave Christ out of Christmas,
In vain in my holiday mirth.
For the Christ, God's gift to His children
Is the Christ who brough Christmas to earth.
God forgive me the thoughtless omission,
I would not that Christ should depart;
Not only the Christ at the yuletide,
But all the year in my heart.

Deepest sympathy is extended the family and loved ones of Clyde Gregg, known by so many as "Bumper Gregg". He will be greatly missed. He was reared in our community.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. J. H. Wells of the Isabella community, reporter of the Mulberry Isabella News.

Mrs. Agnes Nichols will be very happy to hear from her many, many friends. She is now at the Dunn Rest Home, Selma, Ala. Visits will add much to her pleasure.

Mr. Dantzler Passes

William James Dantzler, Birmingham, but formerly of Selma, died suddenly Wednesday night, Dec. 23, 1959 in a Birmingham hospital at the age of 49.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Onie King Dantzler; one daughter, Mrs. George Hopson of Ft. Worth, Texas; mother, Mrs. Eloise Dantzler, Selma; 5 sisters and two grandchildren. Funeral services were held in Birmingham, Ala.

Mrs. Wm. James Dantzler was the former Miss Onie King. Her sisters, Mrs. Bennett Pickering (Willie King) of Plantersville, Ala. Mrs. Neal Harrell of Billingsley, Ala., and Mrs. Sie Foshee of Clanton, Ala.

Her mother, the late, Mrs. Estelle King made her home with Mrs. Bennett Pickring in Plantersvill for many years. This family is widely known in this and adjoining communities. Sympathy is extended to the loved ones.

Wedding Celebration

Two of our former beloved residents returned to this section for Christmas day, Mr. and Mrs. Alonza D. Eaves.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonza D. Eaves (Ellen Bell) celebrated their 64th wedding anniversary Thursday, December 24th, 1959. Mrs. Eaves was unable to make the trip to her daughter's home for the celebration. This celebration took place at the Chilton County Nursing Home in Clanton. Mrs. Gertrude Walker baked a beautiful cake for the celebration. Ice cream and cake was served for refreshments. The Eaves have spent their entire life in Chilton County and are the parents of the following children: Mrs. Cecil Walker (Alma Eaves) Geraldine, Montana, Mrs. Meritt Walker (Gertrude) Stanton, Guin Eaves of Selma, Ala. and Earnest Eaves of Havre, Montana. Their daughter, Rebecca passed to the great beyond approximately three years ago. All the children were present for the occasion and all the grandchildren except two. There are eight grands. All in-laws were present also. Pictures were made of this happy group all during the celebration. Relatives and friends of this fine couple wish them many, many more years together and they share the love and admiration of all who know them.

A & P PRESIDENT SEES STABILITY IN FOOD PRICES

New York, January 3. Food prices should be stable in 1960 and help hold inflation in check, according to Ralph W. Burger, president and Board Chairman of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company. "Abundant food supplies will continue into the new year," said Mr. Burger, "and there is strong evidence that consumer prices will be similar to or slightly below the low levels reached during 1959". The nations leading food retailer also forsees an industry wide leveling off in new store openings, oversized stores in many areas which are already over stored, and the trend of the past decade toward the stocking of more and more non food items. And he said he expects the pulling power of promotional sales gimmicks and giveaways to decline. "I believe the industry has just about reached the saturation point in construction of store units in certain areas", he observed. "It has been growing faster than the population increase and population shifts. Of course, none of us can afford to ease up in our efforts to remain modern and to replace old stores with new ones."

During 1959 A & P itself opened approximately 255 new ones. Many of these, he pointed out, were designed to serve stablished neighborhoods where 110 older A and P stores were closed durtng the same period. Another 390 stores were rmodeled during the 12 month period. "We anticipate that our construction program including remodels, will follow similar pattern during the coming year", he announced.

No questions of store size and non foods, Mr. Burger expressed a belief that continued increases in either of these areas will "discourage" the average housewife.

"One-stop shopping -- for groceries -- was a goal that progressive people in the food industry sought for years, and it has become a handsome reality in recent years with the evoultion of the American food super market that is the envy of the world". Mr. Burger said. "And todays shopping centers effectively concentrate the sources of almost anything [illegible] houlder buys. But with [illegible] provements in home refrigerations and expansion of [illegible] storage space, the average housewife today shops [illegible] supplies that will feed her family from three to [illegible] days and therefore is inclined to prefer separte shopping expeditions for her food needs and non food purchases so while 'one area' shopping seems here to stay, the idea of buying everything under one ceiling appears nearing the end of its short life."

Givaway schemes have about "run their course", in Mr. Burger's opinion, "because the consuming public realizes there is no 'pie in the sky' and the expense of such promotions ultimately must be added to the cost of doing business."

In reviewing the past decade, Mr. Burger noted that sharp rise in demand for "convenience" foods, including a revolution in frozen items and ready mixes as well as giant strides in the development of pre-packaged merchandise, particularly in meats and fresh fruits and vegetables.

"I firmly believe that we have an obligation to our customers to make available to them the best possible quality at the lowest possible price and to strive constantly to achieve economies of distribution that will result in better foods for less money", he said.

THE grapevine tells us that Cecil Ramsey, who was manager of the A & P Tea Co., here for many years, will manage the new Piggly Wiggly that is going up where the Hayes homestead was.

OLIVER Esco remains in Chilton County Hospital. He is improving according to latest reports but is unable to have any visitors yet. He is expected to remain in the hospital for two or three more weeks according to Mrs. Esco.

TWO requests for permission to visit the Chilton County Hospital and Nursing Home by officials from other communities reminds us that this same thing has occured many times during recent months. Citizens of the county don't seem to appreciate the valuable asset they have in the hospital and the Nursing home as much as others who wish to pattern one for themselves after ours. In recent months requests to visit the local institution has come from: Opelika, Hamilton, Dothan, York, Oneonta, Evergreen, Sylacauga, Fayette, Alabaster, Atmore, Roanoke, Tuskegee, and Wetumpka, all in the State. Those who have called from other places are: Manchester, Tenn, Forest, Miss., Georgia Department of Health and one Architect from Central America.

A gambler died. The funeral was well attended by his professional friends. In the eulogy, the preacher said: "Spike is not dead. He only sleeps." From the rear of the chapel came the interrupting words: "I've got a hundred that says he's dead."

OTT Miller made us feel pretty good the other day. He met us on the street and said that the Chilton County News didn't look right if our ugly mug wasn't on the front page where it had been so many years. Why it made us feel good was that we already know our mug was ugly, but it's just so nice to be missed.

GOODYEAR Service Store is offering it's friends and patrons something new in free service. Just call 864 and they will come to your farm and air-up your tractor or farm implement tires at no cost. Billy Bell, Manager, says if you can't call write him a letter--either will do the trick.

The Trouble Is, 'What's A Bureaucrat'? --

THE government of the United States along with several other of the world's free powers decided on a program to relieve situations of hunger and starvation in other parts of the world, and at the same time relieve the "excess" amount of storage of grains which the government was having to pay for here in this country.

We have wondered for some time why these surplus foods were not put to good use. That, however, seems to be as far as the government got. Somebody decided there would be an economic catastrophe if we "gave" away grains, when we could sell it. Upon going through several investigations and sitting through numerous committee debates, the grain is still in the warehouses, the people are still hungry and the committees formed and investigations held cost the people money, and nothing was accomplished.

The government also has another bureau working tirelessly on what constitutes a "Shapely and alluring" leg, with reference to practices of some mail order courses on how to have "shapely and alluring" legs! What taxpayer, pray tell, cares what the government thinks about "legs", shapely and alluring or bony and horrifying!

Another 'for instance' is the foolish expenditures by the government with reference to the space programs and how they hamper progress rather than encourage it with incessant investigations and committee meetings "studying" the problems.

We certainly agree that problems should be worked out on the table and then put to practical use. . . but our government officials have certainly made a unique practice of running this sort of thing so far into the ground, until the project concerned gets lost in the tangling maze of red tape and gobbledygook! It's time to put our free enterprise system to work FOR us rather than employing it so effectively against our economical structure!

Man's Will To Be Remembered --

DRIVING through the green hills of Vermont with his four-year-old daughter, a man pointed out a quaint rural cemetery that had nestled at the foot of a high peak since Colonial days.

"No, Daddy, that isn't a cemetery," declared the young lady with the directness and assurance of youth, "that's a church garden."

Church garden! What a beautiful term. Daddy looked at his little girl in amazement. He had never heard of a more fitting description of these hallowed areas.

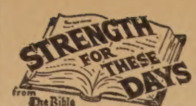
However, be it a cemetery, a graveyard or the child's "church garden", we as a nation, have lost much of our early attitude of respect and reverence for these sacred resting places. It isn't too many years ago that the American family spent a Sunday afternoon visiting the memorials erected by theirs and the other families of the community in the churchyard or in some private memorial park. There, without undue gloom or sentimentality, flowers and green, growing things would be placed to grace the glistening monuments; the grass might be trimmed and the plot given the personal touches of loving care.

This was a quiet time, a time of reflection and thought for the living as well as for those who had gone before.

Today, the faster tempo of life - perhaps our too ready dependence on the impersonal "perpetual care" our burying grounds receive - has pushed this sort of family gathering into the limbo of the old-fashioned. All too often the hard, polished surface of the granite memorials in our cemeteries provides the only reflection of the personal past, yet these stones remain the one unshakable symbol of man's will to be remembered.

In these times when the ungodly forces are gathering before the moat, we do well to reaffirm our loyalty to the ancestors who gave us the lamp of freedom, the franchise of opportunity and the blessing of God. This is the loyalty that speaks through everyone of these hundreds of thousands of family memorials over the nation.

A visit to the "church garden" is in order. It is time to reflect upon the faith of our fathers. This is our greatest need.



And He said unto them, Where is your faith?. —
(St. Luke 8:25)

As Jesus Christ inquired of His disciples, so does He inquire of each of us this very day: 'Where is your faith?' Without that faith, nothing is possible to us except frustration, unhappiness; with it, all good things are possible—for truly Faith is the Answer.

YOUR HEALTH

YOUR BODY NEEDS WATER

Thirst is a self-preservation instinct. The body needs water, for two-thirds of our body weight is water. Water is in every cell of the body and between all cells. Thirst is related to the need of the body cells for fluids, and this is known as intercellular dehydration. The need of the body for water is exceeded only by the need for oxygen. These are factors that prompt a sense of thirst.

Some people believe, when the body lacks sufficient water, the salivary glands do not secrete a normal flow and membranes of the mouth and throat become dry. The sensation of thirst is at times due to a local rather than a constitutional need for water. People feel thirsty when the mouth and throat become dry from hot and dry air, from smoking, after much talking or singing, from breathing with the mouth open, or from eating dry or salty foods.

Emotional conditions such as fear and anxiety may check the flow of saliva with resultant dryness in the mouth. Water maintins the fluidity of the blood, and carries oxygen and food materials to the cells and waste materials from the cells. Many people do not drink enough water. There is water in the foods eaten and much is obtained through the daily use of beverages such as coffee, tea, and milk.

Lack of a sufficient amount of water taken in is likely to impair digestion and other functions. Drinking water between meals is water drinking habit at mealtime the preferable method, and also the can be beneficial. Water at mealtime should not be a wash-down for unchewed food, and it should not be shockingly cold or gulped in great quantities at a time. Drink more water—it is good for you.

Quality milk is produced on the farm, not in the processing plant.

Birmingham Zoo Is One Fine Attraction

IT was a surprising and most rewarding experience we had last Saturday when we had the privilege of exploring the Birmingham Zoo, commonly referred to as "Mayor Morgan's pet"!

We don't know anything about Mayor Morgan of Birmingham, politically and certainly don't know about him personally, but he, and whomever had a hand in making the Zoo what it is today, are deserving a most considerate vote of thanks and appreciation from the citizens of Birmingham, Jefferson County, yes, and even the State of Alabama.

None To Compare

We are not experts on Zoos, but we do know what we like and what is interesting to us. We have been to several of the larger zoos in the Country and some of the smaller ones and there is no comparison whatever with the Birmingham Zoo.

Animals Beautifully Kept

To us, one of the things that makes a Zoo interesting and distinctive is its care of the animals. So many times the animals are sick, decrepid and ugly. Probably because it's hard to keep them captive and attractive. We were almost sold on the impression that it, to be sure, was impossible to keep outstanding animal displays in captivity and keep them looking like anything. We are of this opinion no longer. We don't know what they do, but from the layman's view, the animals are in exquisite health; they are of the highest quality in their kind and they are by no means ugly to look at. . . on the contrary, they are magnificent!

Everything Has A Mate

Another outstanding feature of the Birmingham Zoo, and one which we think lends an atmosphere of freedom and serenity rather than that of captivity is that the animals are all, without exception, in pairs. They may not be "paired" of as they were on the Ark, but there are at least two of everything and it seems to add a note of comfort and happiness to the surroundings.

The Zoo, as it is, is young and needs much support to grow and continue in its present high standard. Along this line, there is nothing in the State of Alabama which is more deserving of your support and 'patronage'. It costs you nothing to see the animals and it is truly priceless for you, and your children, to tour the park and see some of God's rarest creatures in all their wild splendor.

Magnificent Animals, Adequate Quarters

The wild animal display (if that's the proper term) is expecially awesome. They have four of the hughest tigers we ever dreamed existed, lions (of magnificent proportions and form), pumas, black panthers and leopards. Their quarters are spick and span and completely adequate and the animals are spirited, far from the sluggish, toothless variety we're so often "privileged" to see.

Others Take Note

Clanton and Chilton County are not populated enough for a Zoo of their own, but some of the more populated areas of the State, Montgomery for instance, could well follow suite in this venture and do the citizens of their areas a public service indeed.

There is nothing quite like a trip to the zoo, no matter if you're four years old or 94 and the community without one, is poor in that respect.

We Appreciate It

Personally, since we cannot hope for anything like it, we like to think the Birmingham Zoo is part ours too. One thing we do know, we're not considered a Birmingham resident (although it's where we were born), but there's no resident who appreciates the Zoo there any more than we do.

High Standards, Well Employed

We sincerely hope that the very high standards which they have set for themselves in the care of the grounds and particularly the animals, will continue to manifest themselves in the attraction of more and more visitors and that they never fail in those standards.

The standards of how they conduct the Zoo is their primary attraction, and it is these same high standards, self - imposed, which makes anything worthwhile. Birmingham is fortunate to have such an attraction and place of interest!

FATHERS CELEBRATE TOO —

A BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION; OR WHAT HAPPENED 50 YEARS AGO

It is with considerable pride that we can announce that on this New Year's Day of 1960 the U. S. Press Association enters upon its Golden Anniversary year!

The present management took over less than nine years ago, on June 1st, 1951. As for the day in 1910 that the late J. E. Jones opened up shop in the Colorado Building here in Washington, not even his widow, Estelle C. Jones, who worked with Johnny through the years, can tell us. But it must have been in the latter half of the year since your correspondent, then 13, returned to New York with his family from a California visit in late June, and listened in on discussions of the forthcoming US Press Association in his home just before the Joneses descended on the National Capital.

Model "T" Ford

To bring this date into perspective, we might remind our readers that this was the year after Admiral Peary reached the North Pole and Henry Ford began production of the Model T. It was the year that Glenn H. Curtiss won the $10,000 prize put up by the New York World for the first continuous flight from Albany to New York City. (Curtiss covered the 137 miles in 152 minutes.) It was the year before Leonardo da Vinci's "Mona Lisa" was stolen from the Louvre and Captain Raold Amundsen reached the South Pole.

President Was Taft

William Howard Taft was president in 1910. Our population was just under 92 million. New York's Pennsylvania Station (patterned after the baths of Caraculla) opened and people were singing "When you come to the end of a perfect day . . ." Former President Theodore Roosevelt (who was to run again and be defeated by Woodrow Wilson in 1912) proclaimed his "square deal". In 1910 Jack Johnson licked Jim Jeffries and, despite the flying machines, Barney Oldfield travelled faster than man ever had before when he cocked 133 mph in his Blitzn Benz at Daytona.

Boy Scouts, Fathers

Sharing the golden glow of a fiftieth anniversary with USPA are the Boy Scouts, the Campfire Girls and the institution of Father's Day.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

The Second Session of the 86th Congress convened last Wednesday with anticipation of a gruelling, high-speed session ahead. Both the Democratic and Republican National Conventions are scheduled for July, and Congress will attempt to complete its legislative business by that time.

Since the majority of the prospective candidates for President are members of the United States Senate, we can expect a great deal of oratory in that body during the current session. There is every indication that the President of the Senate, Vice President Richard Nixon, will be unchallenged for the Republican nomination. Two Senate members, Humphrey of Minnesota and Kennedy of Massachusetts, are already avowed candidates for the Democratic nomination. Two other Democratic Senators, Symington of Missouri and Johnson of Texas, have not committed themselves publicly but there is little doubt that both are in the race. In addition, many members of both the House and Senate are already actively supporting their choice for the presidency.

But despite the oratory and the political maneuvering, there undoubtedly will be constructive legislation passed during the present session. Like any other year, there will be many tedious hours devoted to consideration of the federal budget for the next fiscal period. In his budget message, which will be delivered next week, the President is expected to propose expenditures in the neighborhood of $80 billion.

In the field of national security, debate will revolve around defense spending, military aid and organization, defense production, and the space program. In the international field, Congress will be concerned with the mutual security program and other matters related to the foreign policy of the United States. Passport legislation falls under this particular heading. For the past two years the House has passed a measure I introduced to authorize the Secretary of State to deny passports to known communists, but the Senate has not yet acted on the proposal. In the meantime, the State Department must continue to permit communists to travel overseas to meet their leaders, furnish reports, and receive new orders.

In addition, there is a possibility of legislation dealing with social security, housing, education, agriculture, veterans, water resources, anti-trust, minimum wage, and unemployment compensation. Efforts to pass a civil rights measure will be strongly opposed by Southern members of Congress.

Congress Make-Up

The fate of legislation this year will be determined in the House by 281 Democrats and 152 Republicans and in the Senate by 65 Democrats and 35 Republicans. There are four vacancies presently existing in the House of Representatives. The total membership of both houses was increased last year with the addition of two senators from both Alaska and Hawaii and one representative from each of these new states.

THINGS We see and hear

by BOB

WE do not believe in avoiding taxes! Strange to hear? The thing about taxes which disgusts us is the use they make of them, requiring additional taxes from every corner. Taxes pay for the subsidies and the government support programs which exempt first one and then the other from paying taxes, Socialism; and then they slap another tax on us because of so many tax supported programs of the government. It just doesn't make any sense, any way you figger it!

WE'LL say one thing about some of our governmental heads and leaders: they very definitely need to reread the part of the Gettysburg Address which states ". . . of the people, by the people and for the people. . .". It is quite obvious that most of them have forgotten just who the government is and who it represents. They've repeated that old thing about "everybody's business is nobody's. . ." until they're beginning to believe it; they think they know better how to run our affairs than we do and that we're just a bunch of ignorant slobs who don't know any better. You know, if we don't do something about the way they're running our government in some quarters. . . they're right!

OUR good friend Maurice Lind and missus were blessed with a fine 8 lb. some odd ounce baby boy Monday morning bright and early. They have two lovely young daughters and the "master of the house" had already cleared the air about what this addition was going to be. Well, the missus agreeably went along with the whole thing and now there is Michael Gustaf (after his paternal grandpa) Lind. Everybody is doing swell except, naturally, papa and he's awful sleepy. Congratulations folks, on a job well done!

ONE thing we note about people . . . they're all different!

WE do not understand the stranglehold which alcohol, in it's various forms, has over some human beings. True, we understand that it is a 'disease', but with some folk's disposition being what it is, they are immune to treatment. It not only hammers away at their vitality and their desire to be something good in this world, but it continually deprives their family of lifes basic essentials, mainly love and security; yes, and even bread!

How does a man get so disgusted with himself, or his lot in life that he sets out on the road to drink himself staggering blind and into an early grave? We truly long to help people who have fallen into this particular snare, but what do you do. . . what do you do?

RECENTLY we mentioned the lack of industry in Chilton County. Well, we find that other, much larger communities have the same difficulty, but get this now. . . they admit that it is a constant and all-time job, this lookout for new industry and the locale which is blessed with it, is so because there are men and women in that vicinity willing to put much time and effort into the attracting of new business. Let's all start doing our bit to attract new industry to Chitlon County and grow with the most progressive!

You Are Very Important --

KNOW YOUR COMMUNITY

(First In a Series)

UNDERSTANDING makes friends! We are going to reserve t space in yor News for a few weeks to 'just talk' about why you, as individual and citizen are important to your community press.

We think, probably the most widespread misunderstanding in relationship between reader and newspaper is the readers belief t What he says, or whether or not he subscribes to his community nev paper, makes little or no matter.

With regard to subscribing. . . most folks agree that a newspa cannot send 52 issues of their paper to them for $3 and still make profit. This is true, as far as it goes, but. . .

In order for a community newspaper to properly serve it's co munities, it must, first of all have economical stability and freedo To attain this measure of freedom, so that it can do the job with influence from outside support, it must have a necessary amo of local advertising revenue.

For a newspaper to get the required amount of local advertis to keep it's presses rolling and it's quality tops, it must have a go circulation.

Now; this is where you come in. . . a most important function, say the least. When you subscribe to your community newspaper y are not necessarily increasing the income with the subscription pri but. . .

You are adding another subscriber to its circulation and thus i suring it the support of local advertisers and in so doing are keepi your community press healthy and free so that it may represent y whenever the need arises, without fear or favor from any source.

So you see; in reality, there is no greater asset of the commun newspaper than YOU, the subscriber. Without you, the local adv tising would stop, the presses would cease to hum, and you would n be represented in things which vitually concern you. You are impo tant to your community, and your press. . . very much so!

TIGERS PLAY SELMA TONITE—

CLANTON BLASTED PRATTVILLE 67 TO 46

by Wayne Atcheson

The Clanton Tigers made it two wins in as many starts last week by blasting Prattville 67 to 46 last Thursday here.

Paced by Clarkie Hutchinson who sacked eight points in the first quarter the Tigers got off to a fast start and had built a 14 to 9 lead at the end of the first period.

Eight Consecutive

Hutchinson scored al lthe Clanton points from the eighth point through the fifteenth, which was eight consecutive tallies.

Jimmy Tiffin, Hutchinson and Leroy Arthur built the lead to 15 points at the half. The score was 32 to 17.

Number of Fouls

The tussle had quite a few fouls on the part of both teams, but mostly by Prattville. Clanton's 5 rang 12 of 16 foul shots in the first half. Prattville made 7 of 13 foul shots.

Wayne Boggs and Thomas Glenn of Prattville fouled out in the last period of play. Jimmy Tiffin fouled out late in the game also.

It was Wayne Mizzell and Leroy Arthur for the Tigers in the third quarter. Mizzell dropped in seven straight points in that period.

Prattville Gets Hot

Prattville managed just two field goals and four foul shots in that period, but really got hot in the last period and scored 21 points.

Guard Leroy Arthur did most of the Tigers scoring in the last quarter.

The Clanton quintet played probably their best rebounding game of the year. Forward Buddy Vines led the team in this department with 15 succeeded by Wayne Mizzell with 13. Jimmy Tiffin pulled down eight rebounds.

Top Men of Game

Three Tigers scored in double figures. Clarkie Hutchinson led the winners with 19 tallies. Leroy Arthur sank 16 and Jimmy Tiffin jumped in 15.

Mach McMicheal led the losers with 14 points. Jerry Blackmon got 11 and Dale Pierce made 9 points.

Clanton made 23 of 32 foul shots for a respectable 71.8 percentage. At the same time Prattville hit only 16 of 27 for a good 59 prcentage.

"B" Tigers 'Eat 'Em Up'

The Clanton Bees had little trouble with the Prattville Bees. The baby Tigrs won 64 to 42 and were led by Wayne Glenn with 12 points and by Kenneth and Kieth Mims with 11 each.

Tigers to Go to Selma

Due to semester exams the Tigers engagd in only one tilt this week. This one is with Selma tomorrow night at Selma. The Tigers in this game will be after their third straight victory.

Beef In 1960 May Be Priced Lower

MORE beef is predicted for 1960.

In fact, the consumption of beef per person is expected to be around 83 pounds--a rate that is exceeded only by those of 1956 and 1957, says Extension Livestock Marketing Specialist Otis Russell. This increase will come from a national herd that numbers close to 104 million, according to estimates made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. And this is the first time that the total number of cattle and calves on farms has exceeded 100 million head.

The Auburn Specialist points out that the prices of all classes of cattle will be weakened by this high rate of over-all slaughter. Although national beef production will be up four to five percent, prices are expected to decline five to eight percent. Russell adds that most of Alabama's cattle are marketed as slaughter calves and their prices are expected to decline at about the same rate.

But even with the prospective drop in prices, consumer income and demand for beef is expected to remain high this year. On the other hand, says the specialist, the large supplies of pork at low prices are a depressing factor.

Winter Nutrition With Beef Stew

FNS

Your family will enjoy a buffet supper planned just for them. It's a welcome change on these cold winter nights to have each person serve himself then find a cozy spot in front of the fireplace or TV.

Here is a simple, delicious and easy-to-serve supper idea. It's planned around hearty beef stew . . . colorful with chunks of browned beef, small white onions, and green beans. Canned condensed tomato soup gives the meat and gravy that "please-may-I-have-some-more" flavor. The soup adds much to the nutritional value of the stew, too. For canned condensed soups . . . while relatively low in calories . . . provide well-balanced calories. That means that there is a proper balance between the calories and nutrients they supply. Flavorwise . . . nutritionwise . . . soup enriches the meal.

Complete the menu with a crisp salad of shredded cabbage and apple slivers. Gingerbread topped with whipped cream is a winter favorite dessert. Your family will love you forever!

Tomato Beef Stew

2 tablespoons flour
1½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon oregano
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 pound beef cubes
2 tablespoons shortening
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed tomato soup
1 cup water
1 clove garlic, minced
10 small white onions
1 package (10 ounces) frozen green beans

Combine flour, salt, oregano, pepper; roll meat in this mixture. In heavy skillet, brown beef in shortening. Stir in soup, water, and garlic. Cover and cook over low heat for 1¼ hours. Stir now and then. Add onions and frozen green beans. Cook, covered, for 1 hour or until meat and vegetables are tender. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Telephone Talk

W. R. Waters

Your Telephone Manager

WITH THE OLD YEAR behind us, it's a good time to take a look ahead. To me one of the most interesting and timely telephone projects is a terminal to outer space. This is an experimental ground station for sending and receiving telephone messages by way of man-made satellites. The station, under construction by Bell Telephone Laboratories on a hilltop in New Jersey, could point the way to a network of terminals for sending phone calls and live television to distant parts of the world. I'm glad telephone scientists are continuously active in the field of experimental communications, and who knows but what we'll hear our youngsters saying someday . . .

HELLO, OPERATOR, GIVE ME THE MOON. Already transistors invented by telephone scientists beep vital information from satellites orbiting in space. And today, right here on earth, folks in many sections of our country enjoy the convenience of dialing their own long distance calls, phones that answer and record while they're out, and other telephone conveniences once undreamed of. Tomorrow the moon? Well, we can dream. Research sees even greater telephone wonders ahead.

DREAMING IS NICE but the practicalities of life are always with us. That's why it's especially handy in bad January weather to find outdoor telephone booths conveniently located. Don't you agree?

Good News for Old Folks

Gov. John Patterson (left) goes over an annual report on the state's old age pension program with Alvin T. Prestwood, commissioner of the Department of Pensions and Security. The report contains good news for the state's 100,000 pensioners: by September, the average old age pension should reach $55 a month, and next year climb toward $60.

State's Old Age Pension On Rise: Gov. Patterson Sees Record Benefits

MONTGOMERY ,Aa. -- Old age pensions of more than $55-a-month are in prospect before the end of the state's fiscal year.

Gov. John Patterson said the highest budget in the history of the State Department of Pensions and Security -- coupled with new revenues from liquor taxes -- would soon allow record benefits every month.

By spring, pensions should rise to about $53 a month. The governor said the old folks' share of the new 10 per cent state tax on liquor should be reflected by March or April in the increased benefits.

"We will be making higher and higher payments nearly every month throughout the remainder of my administration," Gov. Patterson said. By August or September, average pensions should be up to $55 a month -- an all-time high.

The governor pointed out that the forecast of $55-a-month pensions in September 1960 represented an increase of 30 per cent in pension payments over a two-year period. In September 1958, pension payments averaged only $37.82.

Gov. Patterson's goal is $75-a-month pensions.

Cannibalism In Poultry

With the current low prices for poultry and poultry products, producers can't afford to lose profits because of cannibalism.

Feather picking or cannibalism can cause down-grading and deaths in the poultry flock, warns Auburn Specialist Jim Hubbard. He points out that all of the causes of cannibalism are not known, but debeaking the birds is one of the best ways to combat this problem.

The Extension poultryman also advises growers to provide the recommended amount of floor space to keep good litter conditions. In addition, provide plenty of water, good feed, and keep the birds as cool as possible in hot weather. Specs are also used successfully on laying hens to prevent cannibalism, adds Hubbard.

Tests have shown that a switch from an all-pelleted to an all-mash ration will decrease cannibalism. Although the reason for this is not completely known, scientists believe that the bird's desire to peck is satisfied through the increased pecking necessary to eat mash.

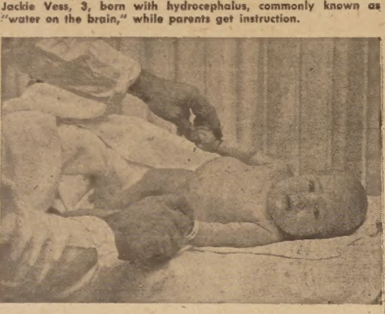
'Dimes' Opens First Birth Defects Center

A birth defects study center, the first of its kind designed to combine clinical treatment with research and teaching, has just been officially opened at Columbus, Ohio. It is supported by funds from the New March of Dimes, which is now engaged in its January campaign for contributions to fight three major crippling diseases including, besides birth defects, arthritis and polio.

Medical experts say that birth defects are the biggest unmet childhood medical problem in the United States today. There are more than 600 different kinds of birth defects, or "congenital malformations," as they are called by doctors. They range all the way from harelip and clubfoot to mental retardation.

Some 250,000 American babies are born each year with one or more significant birth defects; and about half of this number are doomed to a lifetime of serious illness or crippling. About 34,000 infants each year are stillborn because of these afflictions, or die within the first month of life. Medical science as yet has few clues to the causes of these disorders that occur before birth; and there are few known methods of prevention.

Parents are taught to give home care to children with birth defects at the Columbus Children's Hospital Birth Defects Study Center, supported by New March of Dimes funds. Here doctors examine Jackie Vess, 3, born with hydrocephalus, commonly known as "water on the brain," while parents get instruction.



Born with an open spine, two-month-old Madonna Galich is examined by a physician at the Birth Defects Study Center, just officially opened in the Columbus, Ohio, Children's Hospital. New March of Dimes funds will be used to help this baby toward a normal and useful life.

Shrouded in Superstition

The study center in Columbus' famed Children's Hospital thus represents the beginning of the New March of Dimes attempt to solve a medical problem that has heretofore been largely neglected by research. It is a problem that has for centuries been shrouded in fear, superstition and shame. By tackling this issue with a three-pronged program of research, patient aid and training of skilled medical professionals, the March of Dimes organization seeks to bring hope to the hundreds of thousands of parents whose lives have been blighted by bewildering grief and heartbreak following the birth of a malformed child.

This hope is bolstered by the past record of the March of Dimes organization in fighting baffling diseases. It was March of Dimes funds that encouraged Dr. Jonas E. Salk to become a virologist and that produced his world-celebrated vaccine against crippling polio.

Some Can Be Helped

Certain major birth defects, such as "water on the brain" (hydrocephalus) and "open spine" (spina bifida), can now sometimes be corrected by new techniques of surgery, medical experts at the March of Dimes organization report.

Through the combination of treatment, teaching and study at the Columbus Birth Defects Study Center and others the March of Dimes hopes to establish and support, it is believed that new knowledge will be obtained and spread so that the devastating effects of these disorders may eventually, for the most part, be prevented or controlled.

Dairy Records Will Increase Production

Every dairyman knows that production per cow determines net profit. And records show that there is a definite tie between dairy record-keeping and average production per cow.

"The states with the highest percentage of cows on test also have the highest average production per cow," points out Sam Jones, Auburn University Extension dairyman. "And states with only a small part of their dairy cows on test have low production per cow. For example, California has 33 percent of her dairy herds on Dairy Herd. Improvement Association tests, and the average production per cow is 11,022 puonds. On the other hand, Alabama has 6.4 percent of its cows on test, and the average production per cow is 7,194 pounds."

However, Alabama's DHIA average has increased 31.3 percent in 10 years. In 1950, the herds on test averaged 4,756 pounds of milk per cow. In 1959, the state average was 7,194 pounds per cow.

According to the dairyman, Alabama cows not on test produced an average of 5,310 pounds of milk cow production is 35 percent high- in 1959. This means that the per er in herds where records are used to operate a sound dairy program.

The dairy record-keeping programs--D.H.I.A. or Weigh-A--Day-A-Month--are available to dairymen in every section of Alabama, says Jones. And the number of herds on these programs is increasing each year. For example, on Nov. 1, 1958, a total of 18,577 cows were on test. Today the figure is 20,733 cows, or an increase of 11.2 percent.

"Dairying is an exacting and highly competitive business," points out the specialist. "Therefore, dairymen must constantly seek ways to improve herd effigciency to maintain a successful operation."

Equipment For Fire Prevention

When frozen foods are exposed to temperatures of 20 to 25 degrees their quality quickly declines.

However, these damaging effects cannot be seen or tasted in the early stages, points out Auburn Extension Food Preservation Specialist Jeanne Priester. But one day of storage at 20 degrees will cause changes that ultimately affect flavor and appearance.

Local FFA Goes Into Cattle Business

CLANTON--The Clanton FFA chapter is now in the beef cattle business, reports J. R. Thompson, local vocational agriculture teacher and FFA advisor.

Four registered Hereford heifers were purchased by the chapter recently as foundation stock for a livestock enterprise. The animals will be used for teaching, in judging contests, for pasture studies and as a source of income for the chapter.

Chapter Funds - Prize Money

Three of the heifers were purchased with chapter funds and the other with prize money from the Sears Roebuck Foundation that the chapter won in the Sears Bull program.

Board of Directors

A Board of Directors has been set up to supervise the program. This board consists of the school principal, county superintendent of education, the president of the Chilton County Cattleman's Association, the county soil conservationist and the vocational agriculture teacher.

Animals From Oneonta

'The animals came from Oneonta. Mr. Thompson says that the chapter plans to clear land and establish a pasture for the animals on land owned by the school adjoining the football field.

Three bulls that were acquired through the Sears Roebuck Foundation are already owned by the Clanton chapter. The heifers will be bred to one of these bulls and good heifer calves kept for enlargement of the herd until the board of directors decides the herd has reached its capacity. Bull calves will be sold as herd bulls or as feeder calves.

All animals that the chapter advisor feels are in condition for exhibiting will be shown at county and state fairs.

ALABAMA is a Good Place to Work and Live

Many receiving this message have come to see for themselves, found it to be true, and have established plants—some very large, some of modest size—in Alabama.

We will continue to work with others in spreading the word that Alabama is a good place to work and live, that Alabama has almost unsurpassed natural resources, is in the center of one of America's fastest growing markets and presents broad opportunities for many types of industry.

And, we will continue to have, as always, ample electric power available for still more industries who will locate in Alabama.

IN CHILTON —

GROUP LOANS ARE AVAILABLE FOR CONSERVATION PURPOSES

Groups of farmers in Chilton County considering irrigation, drainage or similar projects may be eligible for credit assistance through the Farmers Home Administration's program of loans to associations for soil and water conservation.

FHA County Supervisor Isaac C. Byrd said the 3-member county FHA cmomittee has recently discussed the need for group action as an approach to local soil and water conservation problems.

What Loans Do

The agency makes loans to farmers' non-profit associations to carry out approved projects for irrigation, drainage, water supply and distribution systems, establishing reservoirs, diversion dams, pipelines, wells, orchard and crop spraying.

Who Is Eligible

Associations eligible for Farmers Home Administration loans are those whose credit needs cannot be supplied from other sources, and whose activities are to be jointly beneficial to several families. The main purpose of such an association must be to serve farmers. When an association reaches the point where another lender can handle its credit needs, it will be expected to repay its Farmers Home Administration loan.

Up To $250,000

The agency is authorized to lend an association up to $250,000, repayable over a period up to 40 years depending on the repayment ability of the borrower, or the useful life of the project or of the security property.

Associations applying for loans obtain nd pay for the technical aid tsey need, but the agency's engineers wil lsee that proposed improvements are sound and that cost estimates and plans are complete. After a loan is made, the agency periodically inspects p ress to see that funds are use agreed upon and that construc meets approved standards.

Small Water Sheds

The agency also has authorit make loans to eligible orga tions to carry out plans to pr and develop the land and resources in small watersheds.

A sidelight on the Acme Building Supply robbery--The safe that was destroyed in opening had been used in Clanton for the past 40 years and three weeks after Sam Patterson buys it--yep it was robbed. Sam thinks he's snake bit.

THE drunk sitting at the bar was adjacent to a mand and his wife. Suddenly the drunk came forth with a resounding burp.

"How dare you, sir. What do you mean burping before my wife!"

With that the drunk unsteadily ot off the bar stool and making sweeping bow said:

"A thousand pardons, sir. I id not know it was the madam's rn."

A lion broke loose from the cir- s so a posse was formed to track down. "Before we go", said the sheriff, "let's all step in the saloon and have a drink."

They all had whiskey except ttle Max.

"What's the idea of drinking nger ale?" asked the sheriff. "We're all having whiskey. Why aren't you?".

"Not me," replied Max. "Whiskey gives me too much courage."

TALKING to Russ Sutley the other day. You know he is our new acting postmaster. Russell says he has things under control now although for a while after the change things were pretty well jumbled. We're glad the boys at the P.O. have things under control. When things get tumbled up handling mail, brother, they're tumbled up.

Amendment Election 16th--

Courthouse Question To Be Settled By Vote

ONCE again, the now age-old problem of whether or not Chilton County wants a new Courthouse building is to come before the people for approval or dismissal, which every the case may be.

On Tuesday, February 16, 1960 the people of Chilton County will have the opportunity to express themselves as to whether or not they want a new Courthouse building and where it will be located!

People Who Know

The Board of Revenue and Control has gone on record, heartily endorsing the building of a new Courthouse for Chilton County without any additional taxes. So have numerous Grand Juries. So has this newspaper. And through a public poll, so have scores, upon scores of private individuals who have voiced various and sundry reasons "why" we should have a new Courthouse building.

Interest County-Wide

The interest created in this undertaking thus far is monumental. With few exceptions, Chilton Countians know the situation of our County Government housing facilities and have many reasons in their minds why we need new space, and more of it!

In Bad Need

Valuable records are being unquestionably lost, destroyed or mutiliated because of lack of facilities and space to properly house and store them. County officials are behind, many of them, in their work due to the lack of space given them to do their respective jobs.

You, as a private citizen, are possibly confused at the way business concerning you has been handled in the past due to restrictions of necessary facilities and space for additional office help.

A Decision — Imperitive

It is not at all commendable that it has taken the people of Chilton County this long to reach a point of decision. There have been other times; but interest was not sufficient to receive any action. We are, however, at the decisive point as to whether or not we will progress and include in that progress adequate housing for our public officials. It is now, completely, without question, in the hands of the people of this County.

Polls Will Be Open

Actions speak very loud in a situation such as we now face. . . The polls will be open on February 16! If you have an opinion on this matter we urge, plead with you to go and see to it that your opinion is aired. If you have no opinion, and are not aware of the circumstances, please act now, and get a clear understanding, of just what a great decision this is for our County.

Looking Back. . .

Do these things, and act accordingly and nobody will be looking back to see if Chilton County is catching up. . . they'll be too busy trying to keep up with us!

Unanimous Approval--

Grand Jury Endorses New Courthouse Plans

Hear Probate Judge White On Finances

State of Alabama,
Chilton County

Circuit Court of Chilton
County, Alabama
January Term, 1960

To The Honorable Oakley W. Melton, as Judge of said Court:

After having been empanneled and receiving your Honor's charge, we entered upon the investigation of all matters that came before us and herewith submit the following report:

Examine 44 Witnesses

During our deliberations we examined 44 witnesses, and considered 27 cases and are herewith returning 21 true bills.

60c Not Enough

A personal inspection of the County Jail found it to be generally clean and neat. It has been brought to the attention of this Grand Jury that only 60 cents per day per prisoner is paid for food for jail prisoners. It is the general consensus of opinion of this Grand Jury that this amount is totally insufficient to provide a substantial diet or wholesome food for prisoners lodged in the County Jail. We hereby request that our Representative in the state legislature and our state Senator seriously consider ways and means of having an additional amount provided for the purchase of food for county prisoners.

Law Should Be Repealed

It has been brought to our attention that some prisoners in the County Jail have sentences ranging up to twelve months and there is no provision for the purchase of proper clothes for prisoners who are without means of obtaining sufficient clothing. We feel that the state law which provides for all prisoners with sentences of less than one year to serve their sentence in the County Jail places an undue hardship on the various counties of the state. While this law has its advantages this County is totally unprepared to care for all prisoners serving misdemeanor sentences. We hereby request our Representative and Senator to consider the possibility of having this law repealed.

Two Additional Deputies

Due to the increase in population, in traffic, and in crimes, we are of the opinion that three Deputy Sheriffs and one jailer provided for in this county is totally insufficient for the best interest and welfare of Chilton County. We hereby recommend that provision be made by the proper authorities for the employment of two additional deputy Sheriffs. We are further of the opinion that the present salary paid the Deputy Sheriffs of this county is insufficient and that capable men can not be employed and retained on the present salary paid the Deputy Sheriffs. We hereby urgently request the proper authorities to give immediate consideration toward raising the salary of our Deputy Sheriffs.

Unanimously Endorse Courthouse Building

We called before us the Probate Judge of Chilton County in connection with the present condition of our courthouse building. He stated that on February 16, 1960, a vote will be made by the citizens of this county on whether or not they desire a new courthouse building be constructed without any additional taxes. The citizens will also be given the opportunity to vote on whether or not the new courthouse should be built on the vacant lot west of the City Park or on the present location with the addition of the adjoining lot. Judge White pointed out that the county is now in a financially sound condition, and that a new courthouse can be constructed without curtailing any of the county's present services. He stated that the building of the new courthouse would not in any way affect our road building program, our school building program, our health program, or any other service now performed by the County. It also was pointed out that under the law a certain portion of our taxes are set aside for the construction and maintenance of county buildings. This Grand Jury desires to go on record as unanimously endorsing the plans of our Board of Revenue and Control in their desires to construct a new courthouse building.

Now, having complied to the best of our ability with Your Honor's charge, we respectfully request that we be dismissed until such time as your Honor may deem it necessary to have us again convene.

This the 14th day of January, 1960.

Sports Has Its Advantages, Too!--

(Jack Doane's "Speaking Of Sports")
(In Montgomery Advertiser)

IT may be hard to believe, but boys in high school who play football are less likely to be fatally injured than those who do not participate in the sport.

These interesting figures were reported to us the other day by Cliff Harper, executive secretary of the Alabama High School Athletic Association who recently returned from the meeting of the National Football Alliance Committee in Indianapolis, Ind.

Figures computed in 1958 show that for every 100,000 participants in football there are 1.7 fatalities. In the same age group for every 100,000 there are 56.6 fatalities from some type of accident.

If the figures are broken down into the number of hours spent practicing and playing, it is still 14 times safer for a boy to be playing football than not to be playing as far as fatal accidents are concerned.

Naturally, there are more minor injuries in the gridiron sport such as bruises, sprains and charley horses. But as Harper pointed out, "The figures would lead parents to wonder whether they would rather have their boys with bruises, sprains or charley horses or to be fatality injured in an accident."

Last year there were only seven boys throughout the United States who died as a result of injuries suffered in football. This was the least number of deaths in 10 years. Four of the seven occurred in Ohio, two in Texas and one in California. Two of the seven were caused by heat prostration.

Harper pointed out that the declining number of deaths may be due to the new safety measures being taken to protect high school gridders. Harper said the theme of this year's meetings in Indianapolis was on safety.

Due Consideration To Facts Presented--

We are often being accused of not retaliating to a charge of this or that, when it is obvious that the charge is meant either as a smear or simply to aggravate into an argument a subject that is not worth the printer's ink necessary to put it into words!

There is totally and absolutely a difference in "retaliating" in support of a just or worthy cause and merely arguing for the sake of those who enjoy "mud-slinging" as a spectator sport.

We call upon the Courthouse situation as an example of our policy: We make every effort to enlighten the people on the situation that prevails and to give reason why we need to make the progressive step toward building a new Courthouse building! Though we can honestly see no reason why anyone could not want a new Courthouse building for this County, our editorial page is available to any who do have this opinion and we always invite constructive criticism and justified argument from any source through our "Letters To The Editor" column.

Because a newspaper does not join in the popular "sport" of condemning one public figure after another because of a difference of opinion does not mean that it possesses a closed mind. On the contrary, facts must be judged very carefully in order to determine what to say, when opinions, especially prejudice, is involved.

In order to get rid of a bad element, in County Government, city business or community affairs of any nature, a lot more than mere conjecture and idle rumor and gossip is necessary. Without legal and moral proof, there is no ground to stand upon.

We are proud to stand up and be counted when it comes to our belief in a situation, but cannot condone the person who thrive on the blackballing and smearing of another man's name.

It is one thing to accuse. . . an entirely different matter to prove a wrongdoing by your fellowman!

HERLONG-BAKER TAX REFORM BILL CONGRESS
TAX BLOCKS TO ECONOMIC PROGRESS
CAPITAL-DESTROYING TAX RATES
GRAHAM HUNTER

Prosperity or Unemployment --

THAT bumper crop of post war babies is growing up. In two years its members will start job hunting in numbers that will add 14 million persons to the U. S. work force by 1970.

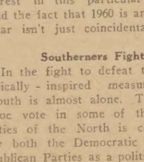
This unprecendented surge in available manpower can mean rapidly rising output, pay and living standards. Or it can mean rising unemployment and stagnation. The outcome will depend on whether enough new jobs can be created.

Creating jobs takes money — money accumulated through profits or savings and invested in new or expanding businesses. But our present federal tax structure is draining off most of the money that should be creating jobs. If we are to insure against increasing unemployment, this tax structure must be reformed — and quickly.

Bipartisan legislation in Congress known as the Herlong-Baker bills would accomplish the reformation. It would reduce income tax in all brackets without shifting the tax burden from one group to another. It would do so gradually over a period of five years, simply by preempting the annual increase in federal revenue brought about by growth of th national economy. This money, currently averaging $3 billion a year, would be used for tax relief rather than for more government spending.

Congressional tax experts have said there will be no tax law changes this year. We sincerely hope they will change their minds and enact the Herlong-Baker proposals, to provide a brighter future for our young people and our nation.

Report from Washington



BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Self-styled liberals in the Congress, as well as certain pressure groups, continue to press further so-called civil rights legislation. Each day that Congress meets it is being urged that a "strong" civil rights bill be passed during 1960. This sudden upsurge in interest in this particular subject and the fact that 1960 is an election year isn't just coincidental.

Southerners Fight

In the fight to defeat these politically - inspired measures, the South is almost alone. The negro bloc vote in some of the larger cities of the North is considered by both the Democratic and Republican Parties as a political plum. Although those votes have been case for Democratic Presidential candidates since Franklin Roosevelt's first election, the Republican Party still hopes to win them back. Thus, while the Republicans are not as aggressive as Northern Democrats in forcing an issue on this type legislation, the majority of the Republican members of Congress vote for civil rights measures when the chips are down. For that reason, ample votes are available to pass almost any so-called civil rights legislation if such measures finally reach the floor of both the House and Senate.

Since sufficient votes to defeat these bills do not exist at the present time, Southern members of Congress are left with only one weapon -- parliamentary maneuvering to prevent a bill from reaching a final vote in both the House and Senate. At the present time a civil rights bill is bottled up in the House Committee on Rules. This measure was repored during the last session of Congress by the House Judiciary Committee, headed by Democratic Congressman Emanuel Celler of New York, and then referrd to th Rules Committee.

The Committee on Rules is composed of 8 Democratc and 4 Republicans. The two ranking Democratic members are Rep. Howard Smith of Virginia and Rep. William Colmer of Mississippi, both outspoken opponents of so-called civil rights measures. Under their leadership, Southern members of Congress have a fighting chance of holding the civil rights bill in the Rules Committee in spite of political pressure from high places.

Effort to By-Pass

Realizing this possibility, proponents of the measure are in the midst of a drive to discharge the Committee on Rules from further consideration of the bill and automatically bring the measure to the floor of the House. This parilamentary maneuver requires the signatures of 219 members (a majority of the House). The immediate problem we face, then is to prevent the necessary number from signing the discharge petition. Our Southern group is fully alert to this situation and is doing all in its power to discourage members from signing the petition. The road became more difficult recently when a statement made by Speaker Sam Rayburn was interpreted by the press as encouraging members to sign. Yet, less than 170 signatures have been obtained to date, and the line is still being held.

Beet tops have been fed to dairy cows in Michigan, and milk production stayed up.

THINGS We see and hear

by BOB

TOO much cannot be said concerning the Mothers who will March this month against Polio, Birth Defects and Arthritis. Especially should we concern ourselves with the local scene and the many ladies who will be volunteering for duty to call upon each of us and not only give us a chance to give, but also get vital information from us concerning our families. Jon Will Pitts, chairman of the New March of Dimes in Chilton County is working tirelessly to insure the success of this undertaking during the month of January. We are positive, that any cooperation you may see fit to volunteer will be appreciated, not only by Mr. Pitts and the Mothers, but by your neighbors and fellow citizens as well!

AND the man said, concerning the lack of industry and new business in Chilton County: "Maybe politics weren't just right!" How true, how true; and it gets back to that old thing about the fact that politics, as such, are not the thing that is wrong. . . it's the people whom we allow into politics which make it bad. And so considering, it seems that we are all guilty when politics take on a dirty appearance. If we back honest, upright, God-fearing men in politics then that particular realm of our Democracy will be as white as snow. On the other hand, when the scum of the community takes over, and the decent people abide by their wishes and listen to their false promises of prosperity and progress, that is when the lustre turns a dark brown and people start slinging mut at one another trying to find an escape route for their own apathetic approach to good, clean local government!

ONE of our favorite "bill collectors", J. Ott Miller, Esq. has had a bout with a bug this week. We told him all along, if he persisted in aggravating a germ, it would most assuredly take it out of his hide. Sure sorry you've got that code, Ott, hobe it's buch better by Subber, at least!

THIS weather (for the birds) really has our feathered friends mixed up. They believe it's summer, or something. . . other day we saw one of 'em actually taking a bath!. . .without the shades drawn!

SINCE there has been some speculation of one degree or another on the part of parents concerning their boys participation in "rough and tumble" sports in high school, our alert News Sports Reporter Wayne Atcheson has come up with some startling facts on "Accidents in Sports and Out". The information we refer to, is in the form of an Editorial (across the page there) and is written by a top Sports writer. Read it parents, before you decide to refuse your son, participation in a sport in which he excels or especially enjoys. We thank Wayne for keeping us "posted"!

THE politicians are beginning to come out and carefully fly their colors for the upcoming political scramble. It is interesting to note how many "black sheep" there are trotting around in the party fold when election time draws near. Too many would be politicians are reluctant to show their true colors when approaching a primary election because of the fact that they haven't always been true to the party which they're trying to win over and use! It is regrettable that they must seek favor in the opposing ranks, when in all honesty and fairness and the American way of doing things, their own political party should make ranks for them. The man who can proudly fly his true beliefs has half the battle in his favor, whether he wins in the outcome or not. The aspirant who must fly grey colors and then fly them from a concealed position is handicapping himself, his party, the opposing party, truth, honesty, and most of all his fellow citizen, who is unable to tell from the label, just what's in the bottle because of a myriad of half-made statements and misdirected promises!

A MEMORIAL

J. Hance Alred

The sudden passing of J. Hance Alred, on the 26th day of November, 1959, brought profound sorrow to the people of Clanton and the surrounding community where he was born and reared and spent his lifetime. He was 75 years of age at the time of his death and was a director when he died.

Mr. Hance Alred was a young man when the Peoples Savings Bank was organized in 1901 and in many ways in his social and business life grew and prospered along with this bank and he believed in the safety and security of the Peoples Savings Bank, supported much by the integrity and honor of his own life. He was noted for the solidity and constancy of his convictions which contributed much to this community and to those with whom he came in contact.

BE IT, THEREFORE, RESOLVED by the stockholders, officers and directors of the Peoples Savings Bank assembled in the Bank building on January 11, 1960, that we meomrialize his passing and the loss suffered by this institution and the community at large and that we extend to his widow, Pearl Alred, and his family our condolences, at their loss.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this memorial be published in the minutes of this bank and that a copy be given to the widow, Pearl Alred, and to Callen Alred and Jerry Losey, his son and daughter, and that a copy be published in the local newspapers of this County.

The above resolution was adopted at the stockholders' meeting on January 11, 1960.

A MEMORIAL

W. Louie Smith

This community was profoundly saddened by the report that Louie Smith died in New York City on September 28, 1959 at the age of 52. He became connected with the Peoples Savings Bank early in his life and in July, 1926 as Assistant Cashier and soon thereafter was promoted to Cashier, which position of trust he held until the date of his death. During his thirty-three years of service he endeared himself to his fellow employees and to the patrons of the bank. His service was characterized by honesty, diligence and efficiency as well as his unswerving loyalty to the Bank .

Louie, during these years, became associated with many charitable, civic and religious organizations of the country, unselfishly giving of his time and efforts for the progress of the religious, social and business life of this community.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the stockholders, officers, and directors of the Peoples Savings Bank, at its official stockholders' meeting held in the bank building, on the 11th day of January, 1960, that in his passing we sorrowfully record the loss of his friendly congenial association as well as the loss to the bank of his untiring service and assistance in guiding the affairs of the bank, and we extend to his widow our sympathy in his passing.

Be It Further Resolved that a copy of this memorial be recorded in the minutes of the bank and a copy be sent to his widow, Zora Guy Smith, and a copy be published in the local County papers.

The above resolution was adopted at the stockholders' meeting on January 11, 1960.

Selma Trims Tigers 40-38 In Friday Night Thriller

by Wayne Atcheson

The Selma Rams used a tight zone which was enough to stop the Clanton Tigers last Friday night at Selma. The Ram's defense was so strong that the Tigers didn't score until about three minutes had eloped in the first period.

Clanton scored only three points in the first quarter too, which was the difference in the game. Selma, meanwhile, sank nine in that first period of play with Butch Henry and Mike Sexton leading the way.

The Tigers began to find their way through the stubborn ram zone and bucketed 12 points in the next period and trailed 19 to 15 at the half. Leroy Atrhur was the big man for Clanton in that period scoring eight points, all coming consecutively.

Slow Type Wins

Clanton in the first half and all through the game found the slow type of ball that Selma played very hard to go along with.

The Rams paced by Butch Henry's long jump shots still wouldn't give ground to the Tigers in the third period. But Wayne Mizzell and Clarkie Hutchinson kept Clanton in the game with three field goals and five free shots in the third stanza.

Tigers Threaten

The battling Tigers still wouldn't give up in that last period. In the fourth period Clarkie Hutchinson dropped in two free throws and Jimmy Tiffin who was held scoreless until the fourth quarter his two straight jujmp shots to set the score at 36 to 32, Selma. After a wild scramble under the Tigers Basket, Buddy Vines picked up the loose ball and put it in to make the count 36 to 34 with 2:30 seconds left on the clock.

Hold Onto Ball

Selma now began to hold the ball until they could get a good shot. Dale Falkenberry of Selma was fouled with 1:35 seconds remaining in the game. Falkenberry sank the free throw. Clanton took the ball up court, shot and missed and Selma took over. But not for long because Leroy Arthur stole the ball and raced down the court and layed it up.

Tie It Up

The Tigers trailed by one point. Dale Falkenberry was fouled again and again he dropped in the free throw with 1:00 to go. Clanton came up the court and Buddy Vines tied it up with a jump shot. Clanton got control of the ball again and Wayne Mizzell was fouled. Clanton called time out then with 20 seconds left on the clock.

Mizzell shooting a one and one shot, missed the whole backboard and Selma marched down the court looking for one last shot. As the Rams passed the ball around it seemed that the buzzer was going to go off, but Butch Henry got the ball and drove toward the basket and was fouled by Wayne Mizzell. Selma called time out.

Tied Up — 1 Second

The score was all tied up 38, all with just one second left in the game. This was the closest the Tigers had come to the Rams all through the game. Clanton had fought hard and true since the first quarter.

Now it was all up to the Selma ace, Butch Henry. Henry, who had two shots, walked up to the foul line as calm as if his team was leading by 20 points and sank both shots.

After the second shot Buddy Vines took the ball out and slung it up to Hutchinson, who couldn't get hold of the ball and the buzzer sounded.

It was a great win for Selma and even more a great come back which was in vain for Clanton.

Henry, Arthur Top Scorers.

Butch Henry, who has already signed a schlorship to the University of Alabama, was the top scorer of the game with 15 points, Leroy Arthur was tops for Clanton with 12 tallies. Clarkie Hutchinson followed with 8 points and Wayne Mizzell bagged 7.

Selma Hit 8 Of 9

Selma was red hot at the free throw lann hitting 8 of 9 free throws. Clanton also hit 14 of 20 free throws which was 70 percent.

The B game was as much exciting as the A game. Clanton came out on top in this tilt edging Selma Bees 56 to 54. Randall Headley led the baby Tigers with 16 points and Keith Mims followed with 15. Elliot Monroe sank 12 points.

FOR DRIVING —

15-Year-Olds May Now Obtain Learner Permits

New Bill Makes Legal What's Been Done All Along

Alabama has a potential of 65,000 new drivers. Governor Patterson has signed into law Senate Bill No. 41', which further amanded Section 64 of Title 36, Code of Alabama 1940, which will permit 15 year old persons to obtain learners permit.

The Alabama law relating to learner's permits has been amended to read as follows:

Amended Law Reads:

"Any person not less than fifteen years, but under sixteen years of age, may obtain a permit to learn to operate a motor vehicle upon application to the Judge of Probate of the county in which he or she resides, which permit shall entitle such person to operate a motor vehicle when he or she is accompanied py a parent or his or her legal guardian who is duly licensed in this state as a motor vehicle operator, or when accompanied by a licensed or certified driving instructor who is actually occupying a seat beside the motor vehicle operator The application for a learner's permit must be accompanied by payment of a fee of fifty cents, to be distributed as provided in Section 61 of this title, as heretofore or hereafter amended; and the age of the applicant must be substaniated by the applicant filing with the Judge of Probate a certified copy of his or her birth certificate. A permit issued under this subsection shall be in such form as the Director of Public Safety may prescribe. It shall expire on the day after the holder thereof becomes sixteen years of age; and when the holder subsequently applies for a drivers license, the certificate thereof shall be prima facie evidence that the permit holder was fifteen years of age, or older, on the date of its issuance. Such a permit may be suspended or revoked in the same manner and for the same causes as a drivers license, and may be revoked for any violation of the terms and conditions on which it was issued.

Must Pass Exam

The Judge of Probate shall not issue such a permit to any person until the applicant has undergone the same examination as that of a person applying for a drivers license is required by law to undergo, with the exception of the driving test, and has produced a certificate to that effect signed by the proper examining officer.

90% Drive Too Early

The records of the Drivers License Division shows that more than 90% of the sixteen year old driver applicants have been passing the driver examination without ever having had a learners permit. This clearly shows that a large majority of the young drivers have been taught to drive before they were legally old enough to be allowed to drive a motor vehirle on the streets and highways.

Parents Responsible

The law has been amended so that you as a parent or legal guardian, may teach your fifteen year old boy or girl how to drive a motor vehicle.

I hope that all parents and legal guardians will accept their full responsibility for teaching these young drivers the proper attitudes and safe driving habits, also that they make these young drivers realize that this learner's permit is a privilege that may be revoked for any violation of the terms and conditions in which it was issued.

How To Apply

Floyd H. Mann, Director of the Department of Public Safety announced today that the Driver License Examiners have been supplied with the proper forms upon which to handle the learner permits of the fifteen year old applicants.

Any person who has reached their fifteenth birthday and wants to obtain a learner's permit should apply to the regular Driver License Examiner in his or her county of legal residence.,

WORTH MORE BECAUSE THEY WORK MORE

Chevy's new torsion springs and Sturdi-Bilt design are changing everybody's ideas about how much work a truck can do. Last year's schedules are out—Chevrolet trucks ride faster over the rough runs to get in more trips a day! Big repair bills are no longer a problem—Chevrolet trucks soak up punishment that means downtime to other makes! And trade-in time's put off for extra thousands of miles—'60 Chevrolet trucks stay new like never before!

New Dollar-Saving Prices
Step-Vans, 4-Wheel Drives, many light-duty models with automatic transmissions—all are lower priced. Prices have also been reduced on all optional V8's.

New Torsion-Spring Suspension
Eliminates I-beam shimmy and wheel fight! With torsion springs up front there's a brand-new, smoother, easier handling feel behind the wheel. New rear suspensions include wide-based coil springs in most light-duty models; tougher variable-rate leaf springs in medium- and heavy-duty models.

Electronically Balanced Wheels
Front wheels and tires are balanced at the factory. Helps make that new ride revolutionary!

New Cabs—Wider, Safer, More Comfortable
Many models are a whole 7 inches lower (without sacrificing road clearance), so it's easier to hop in and out of cabs. Still there's more space inside: more room for hats and hips, more foot room with suspended pedals; Cabs are safer, too; new build makes them 67% more rigid.

Plus Improvements All Through the Line
A new steering linkage system that cuts vibration, means better control. There's new V8 efficiency. Sixes long famous for saving. New key-turn starting; Higher, wider visibility. Talk to your Chevrolet dealer about the world's most advanced trucks;

Alcoholic Anonymous Plans 10th Annversary Celebration

The Clanton Group of Alcoholics Anonymous will celebrate their 10th anniversary, on January 31st., at the Armory at 1 p.m. Food will be served and at 2 p.m. the meeting will begin.

The anniversary speaker will be a Judge of Probate, of one of our Alabama counties.

The purpose of these meetings are twofold.

First, they enable AA members from all the groups in Alabama to get together and renew acquaintances, hear guest speakers from other cities relate some of their battles with alcohol, and how they recovered from alcohol through the AA program.

Secondly, to extend a cordial invitation to anyone, man or woman, who may be finding alcohol a problem, and is seeking a solution.

We hope you will attend. You will find much of interest, and you can learn about the disease of alcoholism.

To our special friends, the members of the medical profession and the clergy, our usual warm welcome.

Alcoholics Anonymous is a non-profit, non-sectarian fellowship of men and women who have found through AA, a solution to their own drinking problem, and are dedicated to helping others recover from alcoholism. If you need or want our help, call 442 or 94.

Everyone is invited to come at 1 p.m., share our food and enjoy the fellowship of AA, at the Armory, Sunday, Jan., 31st. 3-2t

Wonder What The 'Asians' Are Doing Without Their 'Flu'!

Alabama Business Shows Remarkable Growth In 50's

ALABAMA during the fabulous fifties has shown a remarkable growth measured by any yardstick Jack W. Warner, president of the Alabama State Chamber of Commerce said in reviewing the decade. Manufacturing has increased, farm income has risen, State tax revenues have more than doubled, population is up, and Alabama's per capita income rise is one of the nation's highest, Warner continued. More than a thousand new plants have come to Alabama and nearly 5[illegible] aexistig industries have announced expansion plans during the decade just ended, a sure sign of a fine industrial climate.

In 1960, 206,000 persons were employed in 3,600 manufacturing plants and earned wages of 547 millio dollars. Products were manufactured at a total value of 2.5 billion dollars. By 1960, manufacturing in Alabama had experienced a remarkable growth, with 250,000 persons employed in 4,800 plants, earning wages of 930 million dollars, and producing goods valued at 3.8 billion dollars.

New types of industry have appeared on the scene in Alabam along with remarkable growth in the older basic industries. Output of some of the newer industries, chemical and paper pulp being a good example, has shown outstanding growth. Output of these industries rose from 312 million dollars in 1957 to 467 million dollars in 1958.

Alabama industry was busily engaged in expanding during the decade from 1950 to 1960. During this period, a total investment of 1,460 million dollars in new capital investments in industrial plants was announced. A total of 1,139 ew industries announced capital ivestments of 485 million dollars and 454 plants already in operation in the state announced expansions costing 97[illegible] million dollars.

Early in 1950 plans were announced to reactivate Redstone Arsenal in Huntsville for missile development. Since then Alabama has achieved missile center of the free world. In worldwide fame as the rocket and addition to the many millions of dollars spent for this and other U.S. military installations, railroads and public utilities in Alabama during the ten year period announced capital expenditures to cost in excess of 1.3 billion dollars.

Cash sales in Alabama farmers' products increased from 371.3 million dollars in 1950 to 520.8 million dollars in 1958. Cash receipts from sale of Alabama livestock increased from 131.4 million dollars in 1950 to 285.6 million dollars in 1958.

Alabama's citizens had at their disposal 2.4 billion dollars in effective buying income in 1950. This had risen to 2.7 billion dollars in 1958. Retail sales in Alabama in 1950 were 1.7 billion dollars and in 1958 amounted to 2.7 billion dollars. Net tax revenues to the State of Alabama have climbed from 116.5 million dollars n 1950 to 244.6 million in 1959, more than double. Alabama's population is growing steadily, rising from 3,061,743 in 1950 to an estimated 3,224,890 in August 1959.

Per capita income increases in Alabama are running well above the average of increases for the nation. In 1956, Alabama's increase over 1955 was 6.6 percent, the highest in the nation, while the increase for the same period nationally was only 3.6 percent. Per capita income in 1950 in Alabama was 867 dollars and had risen by 1959 to an estimated 1,485 dollars.

Ala. Guardsmen Prepare For Their "Operation 2000"

MONTGOMERY - Alabama National Guardsmen this week completed final preparations for a statewide recruiting drive to begin February 1.

Guardsmen have dubbed the new campaign "Operation 2000" - a new increase of 2000 men in the Army National Guard by June 30.

Already ranked fifth in strength in the nation, the new recruits will boost Army Guard strength to over 17,000 officers and men.

Major General Henry V. Graham, Alabama Adjutant General, pointed out that there are openings in both the 31st Infantry "Dixie" Division and scores of Non-Divisional units in every county in the state.

The Adjutant General said the new spaces were allotted to Alabama because the excellent recruiting record of its Army Guard units made them a logical choice for another strength buildup.

"Operation 2000" means that some of our units will be allowed to reach full strength for the first time since the Korean War," General Graham stated. National Guard units are normally held to 60 per cent to 80 per cent capacity in peacetime.

Local commanders have now received their minimum quotas and are anxious to discuss membership qualifications with interested young men and veterans.

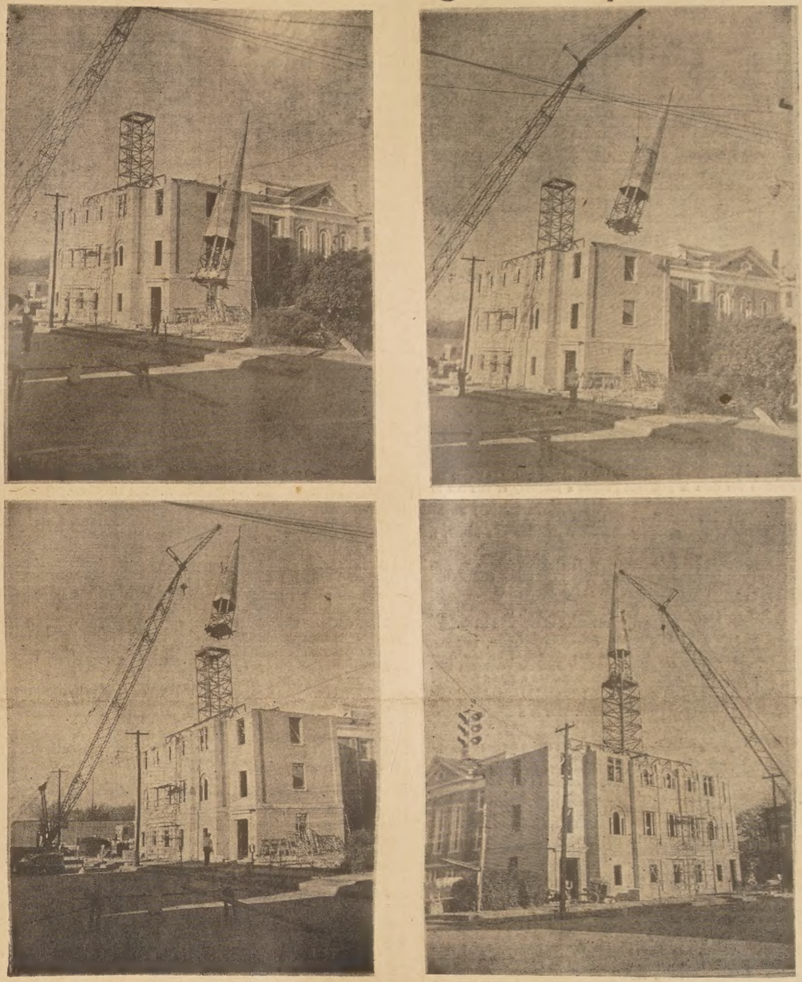
The Full Story- From the ground up



HERE are "On The Spot" shots of the raising of the new 90-foot Steeple of the First Baptist Church here in Clanton. News Photographer Scott stood in the cold for quite a spell tryin tgo get the sequence photos of the actual raising of the new structure. At one point the hugs "Topnot" toppled over and caused quite a delay, but workmen finally got it up and Mr. Scott thought out his pictures.

There was some discussion about who was going to paint the steeple (nine stories high) but the question was soloed-It doesn't need painting! O Happy Day!

U. S. Department of Agriculture scientists found that eggs of some turkey and chicken parasites may live from two to four years after being deposited on soil and left exposed to outside weather. These findings indicate that a three - month or 12-month rotation of poultry yards is inadequate for the safety of young chicks and poults.

Flu Bug Bites Hard Into News Force

CALL it Asian Flu or the Can't Help It's, the News force was attacked this week and spared nary a one of us.

Monday morning, when everyone usually hits the door a'runnin' one woe begotten printer managed to drag himself down to the plant. He, and the secretary were the only ones that made it.

Tuesday? Well, Tuesday was different! We managed to get up a skeleton force (and we use the term in it's more literal sense) and we got started. As the day progressed however, the "crew" deterforated into a poor excuse for getting out a newspaper and thereby hangs a tale.

It's the first time in the history of this newspaper that all it's crew was sick at the same time.

We are sincerely regretful that the News is not its usual "work of art", but if you've ever been down, or half down with the flu, you know the last thing you care about is "art"! —THE EDITOR

COTTON FARMERS —

MARKETING QUOTAS APPROVED NOW ALLOTMENT

NOW that marketing quotas have been approved for the 1960 crop of upland cotton, the next step for the farm operator will be to choose between the A and B allotment and price support programs for his farm, Eddie Owen of the Chilton County ASC Committee said today.

Mr. Owen emphasized, however, that no election of such a choice can be fild until after the farm operator receives a notice of the price suppor levels applicable for 1960 under the A and B allotments.

What Is Choice?

"Choice (A) will include the 'regular' farm allotments and price support to cooperators who comply with their farm allotments at not less than 75 percent of parity. Choice (B) will include allotments which are 40 percent larger and price support to cooperators at 15 percent of parity less than under Choice (A)".

Deadline For Choosing

Mr. Owen said that the level of price support for the 1960 cotton crop will be announced by the Secretary of Agriculture not later than January 31, 1960. Each farm operator will then be informed of the support levels available on his crop under both choices. and he will also be reminded of the deadline--March 16, 1960--by which he must register his election of Choice (B) at the County ASC Office. If the operator decides to grow his crop in compliance with Choice (A), no action is required. Failure to elect Choice (B) will automatically make Choice (A) effective on the farm for 1960.

America's increased population is expected to require 50 per cent mere cattle by 1975.

The mechanism that triggers all plant development has been found by scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This discovery promises to be the key to man's complete control of plant growth from seed germination through plant flowering and fruiting.

Don't Miss The Issue--

FROM certain quarters there seems to be an urgent necessity for the people to "hurry up" and decide where they want to build their new Courthouse, if and when the decision to build one is reached.

There very definitely should be serious consideration as to where the new structure is to stand, although we feel that the brunt of this decision should lie with the Board of Revenue and Control, which is elected by the people to make such decisions for them in the best interests of the public good

Whether they build a new Courthouse on the old lot and go "straight up" with it or whether they pick out a "roomier" location is of secondary importance. . . both ideas have merit. The important decision facing the people of Chilton County, as fate would have it, is "will we build a new Courthouse" or will we continue in this decaying circumstance?

Let's consider all the facts, to be sure; but do not lose sight of the primary question, while considering all the secondary matters!

The decision will be with the people who will speak (vote) on February 16!

The basic question:

Will we build a new Courthouse for Chilton County?

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

It will be perhaps a few weeks yet before the data is gathered on spending in the recently completed political campaigns.

But already, with figures in only up to September 1st, an idea is gained of the vast amounts of money Big Labor threw into campaign activity.

C. W. Harder

Up until September 1, organized labor groups had spent on campaign purposes a recorded total of $696,000 as compared to only $751,000 spent by one of the major political parties.

These totals only give an idea, not the full amount as it is only required under Federal law to report campaign expenditures by political committees that operate in more than one state.

Thus, while the totals on labor's political spending is largely under the banner of the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education, presumably, unions operating inside a state that have set up local political organizations can also spend freely on campaigns without reporting.

It is interesting to note that of reported political campaign spending, Labor accounted for 20% of the total.

It is also interesting that the law does not require reports on moneys spent in primary elections even though in many cases they are equal in importance to the general election.

Under the law, it is illegal for labor organizations to make contributions to candidates for national office. Yet, Big Labor has made a mockery of this law by setting up groups such as the Committee on Political Education, which takes in the money from the unions and spends it for campaign purposes.

It is also interesting to note that just one union, United Auto Workers, through their political satellite, the Political Action Committee, C. I. O. spent almost one third of reported totals.

Generally speaking, businesses are prohibited by law from making political campaign contributions. Thus, for all practical purposes, the biggest single factor in election spending is Big Labor. This is a fact which the Senate Privileges and Elections Sub-Committee recognized during recent Congress and expressing the feeling that some action will have to be taken to tighten up the laws in this respect.

Undoubtedly, entire situation points up need for businessmen to take a far more active part in the political affairs in order for business to survive in an economy where labor looms so important in political arena. And while it is undoubtedly quite unwise for business to try to enter into political campaigning with political funds, it also seems obvious that business must take some action.

It seems without doubt that the best influence businessman can have on political matters affecting small business is to make known, without trying "pressure" tactics, the problems of independent enterprise, and express opinions on measures that do affect small business welfare. It is in this area that the National Federation of Independent Business functions. Only in this manner can the American politico-economic scale be kept in proper balance.

THINGS We see and hear

by BOB

IN this age of miracles when they are inventing everything but a cure for the common cold, we'd like to see somebody take time out to perfect a pair of scissors that will cut red tape. They've got everything else. . . why not?

YOU know it's natural to accept a fellow like Nikita Krushchev as a villian-type human being, first of all because he stands for what most of us disbelieve. Moreover, according to our American newspaper reports of the fellow, any boast he makes usually carries with it an overbearing shadow of threat and grim "watch out" to the rest of the world. We can't help but see the "bully" in a man like this and it seems to us, the most devasting threat about his whole being is the fact that he is such a big oaf in such a prominent position. One thing is certain: the Russian people do not require their leaders to be intelligent, well-mannered, or even well-educated... all they need it seems, is a lot of bull, a lot of guts and most important. . . "carry a big stick!"

AS they say, "do good and nobody notices too much, but make one false move and they'll plug you!" Well, we plead guilty as charged. Last week, two lovely young ladies of the Senior Class at CCHS brought a news release by, concerning a money-making project and asked us to print same. We were glad to do so. . . but we didn't! The release, as sometimes happens, got lost in the shuffle of paper day and "press tucking in" and we plain and simply goofed! We're sorry girls, and if the show wasn't a complete success. . .well, we just wanter to prove that it pays to advertise in the News! We owe you one news release!

THE 6th grade of Clanton Elementary School (Mrs. Warr's room) bless 'em made a concentrated effort for the March of Dimes last week and collected $38 in less than two hours on the streets of Clanton. Any time there's a real, sho'nuff job to do, you can always rely on Mrs. Warr and her 6th grade youngsters! They're just peachy fine!

SEE where Senator Lister Hill is trying to get an extension of five years on the Rural Library Services Act of 1956. He says that fortp million Americans (rural residents) still have inadequate or no public library facilities. We think, in Chilton County, that the Board of Revenue and Control should cooperate with those interested in forming a Bookmobile program for this area. Since the Library Act was passed more than three-quarters of a million Alabamians have new or improved library facilities . . . why is Chilton County and vicinity still without! It seems to be something worth considering.

THE Merchant Marines sound like a good way to earn a living? According to our reports, ten qualified applicants will be accepted from Alabama to attend the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy next year and thus far Senator John Sparkman has made only two of his ten appointments. The Academy, at Kings Point, N. Y. has a four-year college level program leading to a B. S. degree. a U.S. oast Guard license as a Third Officer or a Third Assistant Engineer in the Merchant Marine and a commission in the Naval Reserve. Nothing to sneeze at, for the right young man. We suggest you contact Sen. Sparkman, if you're at all interested in these facts. His address: 3213 New Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C.

CONCERNING NEW LAW —
VETERANS SHOULD KNOW

Because of the wide-spread interest among veterans and their depedents on the new pension law going into effect later this year, the Chilton County News today prints the first of five columns of pertinent information on the new law. Succeeding columns will appear for the next four weeks. Cut out and save each column for a complete fact sheet. The following questions, with appropriate answers, were chosen by the Veterans Administration from the thousands being asked:

Q. When will the new system of pension payments go into effect?

A. On July 1, 1960. The first checks under the new system will not be mailed before August 1, 1960.

Q. Who will be affected by the new system?

A. All veterans of World War II and the Korean conflict and their dependents who qualify and begin to receive non-service pensions after June 30, 1960, will be under the new system. Those already on the pension rolls on June 30, 1960, will not be affected unless they choose to come under the new system. They can make this choice at any time, but once the election is made, the pensioner can never revert to the old system.

Q. How does the new law affect those drawing compensation or service-connected benefits?

A. The new law does not affect benefits paid for service-connected disabilities.

Q. Does the new law affect service pension?

A. No. Service pensions are paid only to Indian War, Civil War and Spanish American War veterans. These pensions are not affected by the new law.

Q. Does the new law change the eligibility requirements for pensions paid to veterans.

A. Not basically. Ninety days active wartime service and an honorable-type discharge are required. The veteran must also be permanently and totally disabled. There are important changes in the income limits under the new system as well as some changes in the methods employed to compute the pensioner's annual income. Under the new law the veteran's estate or "worth" will become an eligibility factor.

Q. Let's go into this a step at a time. What are the criteria for establishing permanent and total disability?

A. The degree of disability may vary according to the age of the veteran. Generally he must have a disability which at his age prevents him from getting regular, full time employment. This disability must be such that doctors do not expect it to improve materially.

Q. What are the changes in a veteran's income limits?

A. Under the old law a veteran without dependents could not draw a pension if his annual income exceeded 1400. Under the new law he may receive some pension if his income is as high as $1800.

Under the old law a veteran with dependents could not receive a pension if his annual income was more than $2700. Under the new system his annual income may be as much as $3000 and he still will be eligible for some pension.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
from The Bible

I can do all things through Christ, which strengtheneth me.—(Philippians 4:13.)

"All things are possible—only believe." Too often too many of us give up in despair, turning away from the hand that always is extended to help us—the hand which holds all the power of the Almighty: the hand of Jesus, Saviour, through which we reach God.

From my front porch

By CARL HELM

It is one thing (and a very good one, at that) to listen to inspiring music or to view a wonderful painting.

It is quite another to be able to do something, then, about the emotion and the burning yearning that fills you from the hearing or viewing.

Most of us yearn to express this inner feeling, in music or art work of our very own creating. But, if we've never been privileged to study music or art — how to do it?

Blessed in my book, then, are the new "do-it-yourself" opportunities for anyone, no matter how musically or artistically inept, to play music, and to paint in oils or water colors.

Following up the painting "by the numbers" kit (and you really can paint beautiful scenes with it, even if you're color blind!) is a compact little electric organ that you can play beautiful music on, "by the numbers." With your left hand you press the numbered buttons which give you chords; with the right hand you play the numbered notes for the melody. It sounds real fine, and it's surprisingly reasonably priced.

What a boon these new wonders are to those of us who "would give just anything if I could sit down and play, or paint a picture!"

Hog Prices Lowest Since January Of '56

A sharp turnaround in hog production and recent developments in the cattle situation have changed the outlook for livestock producers.

During the first 10 months of 1959, the number of hogs slaughtered under Federal inspection was 15 percent higher than a year earlier. But during the last two months of the year, the number was 21 percent higher than in 1958. As a result of this increase, hog prices received by farmers dropped to $11.20 per hundredweight in December. And this price is the lowest since January of 1956.

Because of this, the hog industry is apparently entering a period of downswing in production. Record slaughter of breeding animals plus a cutback in breeding intentions for this spring give evidence of the change in production. As a result, the hog outlook is more optimistic.

An eight percent higher cattle slaughter during November and December has been interpreted to mean that the sharp build-up in cattle numbers is slowing down. Therefore, the immediate cattle outlook would be for increased slaughter and lower prices.

However, the high level of slaughter only indicates the large number of cattle on feed during the fall. In contrast to high steer and heifer slaughter, cow and calf slaughter have stayed at relatively low levels. Although a larger supply of beef is indicated, the increase is not expected to cause a serious break in prices.

Scientists Make New Discoveries In 1959

New knowledge was uncovered during 1959 by farm scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Perhaps the most important on the long list was the removal from plants and partial purification of a plant pigment which controls all plant development. Research that included performance testing of beef cattle, the heretability of tendederness and other quality characteristics in meat, and methods of measuring tenderness in live cattle was conducted.

THE USDA also experimented pelleted and chopped alfalfa hay for sheep, irrigation with brackish water, decontamination of agricultural land from radioactive fallout, and many other progressive ideas.

Clean The House For Baby Chicks

Your baby chicks will be arriving soon, so be ready for them.

The first thing to do is clean out the poultry house. Clean with a solution of lye water after the litter is removed. Check with your county agent if you don't have a formula for lye water available.

Spread new litter after the interior is dry. Then check the thermostat because it may fail to do a good job when it hasn't been used for months. Don't take chances if the thermostate seems to be in bad condition. Remember that thermostats are cheaper than dead chicks.

And since the brooder usually needs checking, it's a good idea to make a trial run before the chicks arrive.

Mrs. Hubert's Science Club Met

On January 15, 1960, the Science Club of Mrs. Hubert's room was called to order by the vice-president, Ralph Burkhalter. The secretary, Martha Sudduth, read the minutes and all business was attended to. The devotion was given by Rebecca Gwathney, and the treasurer, Shirley Payton, gave her report.

The program chairman took charge and Alex Jackson gave his report on Halley's Comet. Hal Dumas gave a report on Mars. Sandra Marcus gave a report on Constellation. Bascomb Veneable gave his report on Jupiter.

Protect farm machinery from harsh winter weather.

Do not kill hogs and process on the farm is average temperatures are above 40 degrees, warns Auburn Extension Meats Marketing Specialist Ray Cavendar. Organisms causing spoilage become active above this temperature.

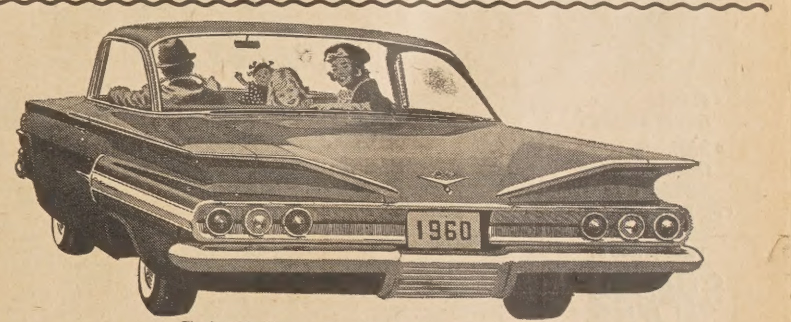
Use extreme care in applying pesticides.

Lifestock and poultry industries are operatiny at a record pace. Because of an increase in livestock production and heavy rates of feeding, feed disappearance is estimated at 11 percent over last year's level.

Start now on your 1960 farm records.

Pork production this year is expected to be at its highest point since the World War II years of 1943-44. The increased output this year will be enough to provide each person in the nation with six more pounds of pork than last year.

Dairy cows enrolled in the national Dairy Herd Improvement Association program returned an average profit to herd owners in 1958 of $78 per head over total estimated cost of feed and care. In contrast the average cow provided her owner with only $28 above estimated expenses during the year.



There's nothing like a new car—and no new car like a Chevrolet. This is the Impala Sport Coupe!

GO '60 GO CHEVY!

NOW- THE CAR THAT STARTS THE SIXTIES WITH SO MUCH THAT'S NEW, SO MUCH THAT'S DIFFERENT ...AND SETS THE PACE WITH LOWER PRICES!

Chevrolet speaks of the Sixties like no other car—with a broad accent on spaciousness, stirring new concepts in styling and strong emphasis on spirit and thrift.

Step inside this superlative '60 and look at the worlds of room around you: head room, hip room, shoulder-squaring room. Note how Chevrolet's engineers have further flattened and narrowed the transmission tunnel to give the middle man more foot room. Chevrolet's greater roominess is inside where you want it—not outside in useless body overhang.

You'll find economy teamed with performance in a new standard V8, engineered to deliver up to 10% more miles for every gallon, or the strapping Hi-Thrift 6.

And riding comfort in the new one is a never-ending treat, thanks to Full Coil spring suspension. There are also thicker, newly designed body mounts that filter noise and vibration to the vanishing point, more rigid frame and many other engineering advances.

But you'll have to drive the Sixty sizzler yourself—that's the clincher.

Why not see your Chevrolet dealer now—for a drive and the happy details on Chevy's new lower prices.

MRS. WYATT HOSTESS, SHOWER

ON Saturday afternoon at 3:30 O'Clock, January 23, Mrs. T. E. Wyatt was hostess at a Lingerie Shower at her home, honoring Miss Priscilla Hubert.

The color scheme was yellow and white throughout the home. Mrs. Wyatt greeted the guests at the door and they were received by Mrs. T. H. Hubert and Miss Sharon Hubert.

The refreshment table was covered with a yellow linen cloth centered with a crystal punch bowl flanked with yellow and white snapdragon interspersed with greenery.

The refreshments further carried out the color scheme. Yellow punch cakes and mints were served by Miss Caroline Dickinson and Miss Esther Jones alternating at the punch bowl.

The many and useful gifts were opened and displayed in the living room before the open fireplace where the college girls enjoyed the event.

The guest list included the college friends who attended the luncheon and Misses Joyce Lawrence, Judy Waites, Betty Waites, Sidney Jones, Miriam Golden and Mary Kate Tucker.

Miss Miriam Golden rendered several musical selections on the piano at the shower.

Station Wagon Pioneer Announces New Model Ford

Ford Motor Company, which mass-produced the world's first station wagon 30 years ago and has sold more station wagons than any other Company, today announced the latest addition to the economy field--the Ford Falcon station wagon -- with the longest cargo space and greatest floor load area in its class.

The Falcon station wagon seats six-passengers comfortably and will be offered in either two or four-door models. It will be first displayed in public at the Chicago Automobile Show, January 16.

Ford began mass-producing the station wagon in 1929 and has led the industry in sales and production ever since, having built nearly two million in the past three decades, a million in the last four years alone.

Ford announced its Falcon station wagon models would go on sale in the spring at Ford dealership showrooms from coast to coast. Suggested prices have not yet been announced.

Over - all length of the Falcon station wagon is 189 inches, about 8 inches longer than the Falcon sedan models. Width and wheel--base are the same--70 inches and 109½ inches respectively.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR HOUSEWIVES

When cooking or laundry work is going on, it is advisable to shut off the kitchen or laundry entirely to keep steam from the rest of the house. At the same time, open the windows to help circulate air and give ventilation to carry off moisture.

Curved collars and cuffs should not have bulkky seams. Sew 20 stitches per inch and trim to one-eighth-inch seam if the fabric permits. Otherwise, grade the seam.

I shall bless the Lord at all times; His praise shall continually be in my mouth—(Psalm 34:1.)

YOUR HEALTH

HEART MASSAGE

Resusciation is the restoration of life after apparent death. Since prehistoric time death has been considered to be present when breathing has stopped. Attempts at resusciation until recent years have been made by artificial respiration.

Today, however, the heart beat is receiving attention as the prime indicator of death and even when the heart has stopped beating, life is being restored in many persons through massage of the heart. The frst successful restoration of the heart beat by cardiac massage was accomplished in experimental animals as long ago as 1874. In 1902, the first human whose heart had stopped beating was revived by massage. Two years later, a girl whose heart had apparently stopped during brain surgery was brought back to life by massage of the heart.

In 1926, Doctor Chevalier Jackson successfully resusciated a man by heart massage who suffered cardiac arrest during an operation. Today in operating rooms all over the world, heart massage has been accepted as a basic technique for resuscitation when death seems apparent. Artificial respiration is not overlooked in these cases, and, in fact, resuscitation is a combination of restoring the heart beat and also the breathing, and the term cardiorespiratory resuscitation is used.

Most reported cases of cardiac resuscitation occur in the operating room where equipment and trained personnel for heart massage and assisted respiration are immediately available. Time is of the essence in cases of cardiac arrest, for the stoppage of blood circulation to the brain for more than five minutes usually leads to irreparable damage. People apparently dead are being brought back to life.

Marching Mothers to Collect Facts, Funds

"If you can answer no to the questions inside, be thankful! If you must answer yes, take hope!"

American mothers will carry this message to over 30 million homes this month. The mothers, volunteers in the annual Mothers' March for the New March of Dimes, will be seeking information and support for The National Foundation's fight against birth defects, arthritis and polio. These cripplers, initial targets in The National Foundation's campaign to prevent crippling disease, affect the lives of one of every four American families.

This questionnaire will go to more than 30 million homes in every part of the country to provide information about three crippling diseases that affect one of every four American families.

Two Million in March

An estimated two million women will join the nationwide mothers' appeal for facts and funds. In most communities the mothers will march Thursday evening, Jan. 28, bringing to a climax the New March of Dimes January campaign.

The mothers will present each household with a copy of "Door Count," a concise fact-finding folder in which a family may indicate if any of its members has a birth defect, arthritis or polio and how many have had three or more Salk vaccine shots. Each family record will be confidential.

Salk Shot Reminder

The Mothers' March door count will focus family and community attention on the majority of Americans still without Salk shot protection against paralytic polio. It will remind the unvaccinated to start shots in time for summer polio protection and it will help communities plan local programs to further encourage the widespread use of Salk vaccine.

Although the house-to-house poll is in no way planned as a statistically valid survey, the sum of information taken in the door count will provide a working estimate of the number of persons suffering from arthritis; the number born with birth defects and the number who have been victims of paralytic polio. This tabulation will help guide National Foundation county chapters in formulating local programs to aid the disabled.

Mothers making the house-to-house door count will also seek contributions to the New March of Dimes for its attack on birth defects, arthritis and polio. The New March of Dimes is combating these disabling disorders with the same effective weapons used to conquer paralytic polio: medical scientific research to find causes, cures, preventives; patient aid for medical care; and training for medical workers needed to treat the sick and disabled.

Two million mothers like this one will conduct a house-to-house door count this month seeking information and support for the New March of Dimes campaign against birth defects, arthritis and polio.

Charity Mr. President Begins At Home Says Sen. Hill

Health Appropriations Should Not Be Cut!

WASHINGTON—Senator Lister Hill (D-Ala.) promised to do "all in my power" to restore in the Congress some $147 million which President Eisenhower proposes to cut from eight major health and education programs ranging from Hill-Burton hospital construction to vocation education assistance.

The cuts were proposed to Congress in the President's budget recommendations for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Increases Foreign Aid

"While President Eisenhower is proposing to reduce important health and education programs by $147 million he is at the same time asking Congress to increase spending for foreign aid by $900 million over the amount appropriated for the current fiscal year.

A Balanced Budget

"I want to see us live within our means as much as President Eisenhower and I am confident," continued the Senator, "that we can adequately meet our foreign aid requirements without cutting our vital domestic programs to the bone--I believe we can do this and still live within a balanced budget."

Cuts At Home. . .

Programs which would be sharply curtailed under the Eisenhower program include: Hill-Burton Hospital Construction (of which Senator Hill is author), reduced by $60 million; Construction of health research facilities under the Research Facilities Act of 1946 (another Hill measure), $5 million reduction; grants for sewage treatment plant construction, $25 million reduction; grants to states for Tuberculosis and veneral disease control, combined reduction of 1.7 million dollars; federal assistance to federally impacted school distrites (public laws 815 and 874) combined reduction of $54 million; assistance to vocational education in the various states; $2 million less than the current appropriation.

"The President reserved his most severe reduction for the Hill-Burton program, suggesting that the program in 1961 be allowed only two-thirds of the $186 million appropriated by Congress over the President's opposition for the current fiscal year," declared Snator Hill.

Crippling Budgets

"President Eisenhower persists in proposing crippling budgets for this vital program in the face of overwhelming evidence given before my HEW Appropriations Subcommittee that Federal appropriations coupled with the local contributions plus all other hospital construction is insufficient to replace the hospital beds lost through obsolescene and those needed to meet the population incrase", said the senior Alabama Senator.

Helthy People Essential

Added Senator Hill: The health of our people is a vital national resource and our Nation will be strong only so long as our people are strong in body and mind. No time to relax our battle against the diseases that each year take a vicious toll in human suffering and untimely death.

"On the basis of economics alone the funds we spend on health and hospitalization programs are well justified", continued the Senator.

"The people saved by medical research sinc World War II earned in 1958 alone approximately three and one half billion dollars. In turn these people paid to the Federal Government $623 million in taxes in 1958. This was three times the amount of money invested by our Government in medical research during the same year", said Senator Hill.

"Despite all this the President asks that we reduce not only our hospital construction program but at the same time he would slice our health research facilities construction program by 17%. In addition he continues to ask a 25% cut in funds for assisting the states in controlling tuberculosis and veneral disease.

"And yet his own budget document cites an increase in secondary syphillis during 1959 of nearly 23%.

Water Pollution

Closely allied to the hospital consutrction and other health programs is the program to provide municipalities financial encouragement to construct treatment plants to render harmless the tons of sewerage that daily are dumped into our rivers and streams.

"The problem of water pollution is increasingly serious throughout our nation", said Senator Hill, "yet the President wants to curtail the construction of treatment facilities by $25 million, or 56% less than the current appropriation."

Education Suffering

In the field of education. the Alabama Senator sharply critized budget recommendations that would trim by approximately one third the funds available to school districts forced to absorb the children from neraby military or other Federal installations. The President proposed to cut Public Law 874 (payments to Federally impacted school districts for operations and maintenance) to provide only 68% of entitlement under present law.

"And it has been proved", said Senator Hill, "that even the entitlements as compiled by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for fiscal 1960 under-estimated actual need by some $7 million."

Under the companion Law 815 (payments for school construction in Federally impacted areas) the budget advocates money to meet only 70% of the total entitlements.

"I shall do everything in my power to insure that the Congress restores the full amount necessary to continue these vital programs of health and education without interruption', included Senator Hill.

So much as may be necessary of said taxes will be pledged for the payment of the principal of and interest on the Warrants as the same matures and comes due. The Board will create the following special funds:

1960 Census District Office Opened

Establishment of a district office for the 1960 Census of Population and Housing at Tuscaloosa News Bldg., 8th Street, was announced today by Director Meredith A. Bass of the Census Bureau's regional office at New Orleans, La.

Mr. Jonah P. Standrirge of Tuscaloosa, Ala., will be supervisor of the district office. He will direct a force of 14 crew leaders and 225 census takers in the following counties: Tuscaloosa, Bibb, Shelby, Greene, Hale, Perry, Chilton, and Sumter.

Taking the 1960 Census nationally will require the services of 160,000 crew leaders, and 400 district suprevisors, all temporary workers. The district supervisors, working under the general direction of the permanent regional field directors, are responsible for all phases of the census in their districts. Duties of the district supervisor include the recruiting of the crew leaders, obtaining space for crew leader training, recruiting and training a small office staff, reviewing the completed questionnaires, and direct supervision of the field canvass which begins on April 1.

Prior to the start of the census, all households will receive in the mail an Advance Census Report Form, a new cenus-taking device which is designed to speed up the field canvass and provide more accurate statistics. Distribution of this form, which contains the basic population and housing questions, gives the family a chance to assemble information about each member in advance of the census taker's visit.

PLAYGROUND COMPLETED—Boys and girls in the Kinsey community of Houston County have plenty of playground equipment in their city park now. Responsible for the project were the members of the Kinsey Home Demonstration Club who held hot dog suppers and a small bazaar to raise money for the project.

Kinsey HD Club Members Tackle Community Improvement Projects

EACH year Alabama's home demonstration club women select worthwhile club projects to work on throughout the year. And in most cases a project is chosen to benefit the entire community.

Take the Kinsey Home Demonstration Club in Houston County for an example. Their project in 1959 was playground equipment which was purchased and placed in the Kinsey town park where all community families have access to it.

At their February meeting a year ago three members of the club were appointed as a committee to study the needs of the youth in the community. And when the committee recommended the playground equipment project, all club members heartily agreed.

Several of the ladies met with city councilmen, reported on their proposed plans, and were pleased with the council's immediate agreement to help with the project. Under the supervision of one of the club ladies, the councilmen met at the park and built frames for pouring two cement picnic tables and benches. The cost of the tables and benches including the cement came to $40.

Men from Kinsey's two churches and one of the councilmen took new and used materials and built two swing sets—three swings to each set, a monkey bar, and a see-saw. After the job was completed, club members painted the new equipment.

Sharing in the expenses, the city council paid for half the cost of installing a string of electric lights, and the home demonstration club paid the other half. One of the councilmen did the wiring.

The total cost of the project came to $113.52—only about one-third the cost of first-class, factory-made equipment. And this equipment is equally as good as factory-made products, insist the ladies.

Community-wide cooperation was necessary for the project to be successful. As a victory supper or appreciation dinner for all who participated, members from throughout the community brought covered dishes and joined in a community park supper.

Kinsey's youth have one of the most modern playgrounds in the area and they're thankful to the home demonstration club for starting the project.

Auburn University Agricultural Experiment Station

BUTTERFAT CHANGES. Butterfat percentage of milk changed when cows were fed certain rations in Auburn tests. Feeding low quality roughage increased butterfat test and decreased milk production. Feeding some pelleted concentrates or stale bakery products produced milk with lower fat test, but milk volume was not affected. This was not true for all pellets.

SPLIT FERTILIZER APPLICATIONS. Split applications of fertilizers to potatoes on a light-textured soil increases yields. Over a three-year period, dividing the annual rate of 2500 pounds of fertilizer into three applications increased yields from 110 to 207 bushels per acre. Increases resulted from dividing nitrogen, potash, and phosphorus, in that order.

LAND CLEARING. Cost of clearing land with a D-7 tractor and conventional dozer blade averaged $60.09 per acre. This compares with $36.71 when a D-7 tractor was used with a KG blade (angle blade with cutting edge parallel to ground and protruding point for splitting large trees). Clearing tests were done in Cherokee County on level land with a relatively light cover of small hardwood and pine trees. Costs included all machine operating and fixed costs, labor, diesel fuel used in burning trees and brush, and disk harrowing of cleared land.

TRACTOR SIZES. Farms of the same size with similar cropping programs in the same area usually have about the same size tractors. However, it was learned in a Tennessee Valley study that similar farms in different areas do not have tractors of the same size. This suggests that neighborhood custom may play a large part in determining size of tractor purchased. Some farmers might be able to reduce tractor investment by buying the size more nearly suited to their farming operations, rather than by following custom.

RETURNS FROM EGGS. Farmers managing commercial egg flocks under contract in northern Alabama estimated that their gross returns ranged between $1 and $1.25 per hen per year in 1958. Independents with commercial flocks producing at the same rate said their gross returns were $2 per hen. Those not under contract assumed risks associated with ownership for the greater return.

TAX SAVINGS. A uniform taxable income is more desirable from the Federal income tax standpoint than one that is high one year and low the next. For example, present income tax on $3,000 taxable incomes (gross income less business expenses, deductions, and exemptions) is $600 figured on a joint return. On a taxable income of $15,000, tax is $3,620. If for two years taxable incomes were $9,000 each year (average of $3,000 and $15,000), the tax would be $1,940 each year. This amounts to $3,880 in two years, as compared with $4,220 tax with low income one year and high the next.

PINE SEED SOURCE. Weather conditions affected ripening of loblolly pine seed in 1959. Cones ripened earliest in areas where weather was clear and drying winds prevailed. Trees on well drained soils produced ripe cones earlier than trees on most other soils. Cones must be mature to produce good seed, and weather conditions must be considered if good seed are to be collected.

Grade-Quality Important

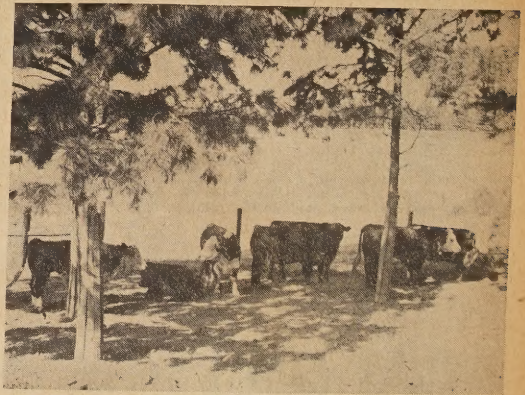
Growers Find Beef Profits Hidden In Finished Animals

By

RAY CAVENDER, Meats Marketing Specialist

And BOB FARQUHAR, Beef Cattle Specialist

Auburn University Extension Service



PROPER SHADE—Thin calves can be made to look like these following a grazing and feeding program. The above steers were successfully finished during summer months in a properly shaded area.

ALABAMA beef cattle income in 1958 amounted to $97 million.

We say this income could have been doubled without adding another cow to Alabama's cattle number. Failure to realize this additional income potential resulted from lack of a thorough understanding of grades, weights, and qualities of slaughter cattle by our producers.

CAVENDER

Therefore, a close look at this stage of Alabama's meat animal agriculture points out a real need for a clearer understanding of consumer preference by our producers before progress can be made in the future. And such an understanding should involve a knowledge of the relationship of live animal grades to carcass grades and qualities of meat demanded by the consumers.

Since the cattle marketing structure is based on grades, there often exists extreme price differences among the various grades of slaughter cattle. Past studies show that 82 percent of the calves marketed in Alabama fall in the lower grades of standard, utility, and cull. These grades do not produce steaks, roasts, and chops readily accepted by consumers at the retail meat counter. Low grade products lack the taste and appearance that appeal to homemakers who take pride in satisfying the appetites of their families.

FARQUHAR

For these reasons, much of the lower grade cattle is shipped to feed lots for more finish. And the meat from those animals slaughtered is used in luncheon meats, sausages, and canned meats where grinding and packaging add appearance and spices add flavor. These products do not demand the better prices that steaks and roasts of good and choice grades enjoy. Therefore, producers of poor quality cattle are penalized on the live market.

Poor Breeding And Finish

Research and observations on Alabama cattle markets point up two factors that contribute to low grading of cattle. These are poor breeding and lack of finish, both of which contribute to poor quality. Although cattlemen have made considerable progress in improving the quality of their animals through better breeding practices in recent years, we must not lose sight of the importance of quality and the need for superior tested breeding stock in our commercial cattle operations.

It appears that much of our present quality problem stems from lack of weight and proper finish on our slaughter cattle. In addition, many of our calves are marketed as lightweights and their thin, rough appearance indicates poor quality from the standpoint of finish. Naturally they fall in the lower grades and producers do not reap the cash rewards that await those who turn out good quality, well-finished calves.

Research also shows that many of these lightweight, lower grade calves can be grown out and fattened under Alabama conditions. These findings indicate that by carrying these cattle longer on grazing and through a dry-lot feeding period, an additional $45 to $70 can be expected above all feed costs.

For a long time now, Alabama cattlemen have subsidized the cattle income of the midwestern feeders by allowing these lightweight calves to leave the state. The cost of production has been absorbed by calf producers in this state, and the profit made from feeding to heavier weights has gone to out-of-state feeders. It should be pointed out here that these lightweight calves merely have a vacation in some corn belt producer's feed lot and then are returned to our state all fattened, slick, and pretty to be slaughtered by an Alabama packer and sold in the retail meat store in your home town.

It is quite obvious that homemakers fancy this finished beef, and the demand locally is supported by Alabama meat packers, some of whom report that as much as 96 percent of the finished beef used in supplying their wholesale and retail trade is shipped into the state.

Supply Local Demand

Alabama farmers should start now planning a system of cattle feeding to take advantage of the local demand for higher finished cattle. Present calf prices may seem adequate. Still, people who study trends in cattle prices as related to numbers feel that the future demand for calves by feeders and for replacements may not continue too long. If this is true, then many Alabama-produced calves will require some finish to obtain the grade and quality necessary to make cattle production profitable and, at the same time, satisfy local market and consumer demands.

Give your beef production unit some serious thought. We have and are convinced that the income can be doubled.

Improper Handling In Transit

Bruises Take Big Bite Out Of Livestock Dollar

OTIS RUSSELL
Extension Marketing Economist

RUSSELL

Roy Otis Russell is the agricultural economist in livestock marketing with the Auburn University Extension Service.

He is a native of Montgomery, was educated in the Montgomery County public schools, and graduated from Sidney Lanier High School in 1952. He received his B.S. degree in agricultural administration from Auburn in 1956 and was immediately appointed assistant in agricultural economics by the Alabama Agricultural Experiment Station. In 1958 he received his M.S. degree in agricultural economics from Auburn.

For the past year Russell has served as an assistant professor at Virginia Polytechnic Institute in Blacksburg, Va., working as a livestock marketing specialist with the Virginia Extension Service.

Russell will work with our extension personnel, livestock producers, processors, and distributors in coordinating their efforts to further strengthen Alabama's livestock industry.

LIVESTOCK losses from bruising, crippling, and death cost you money.

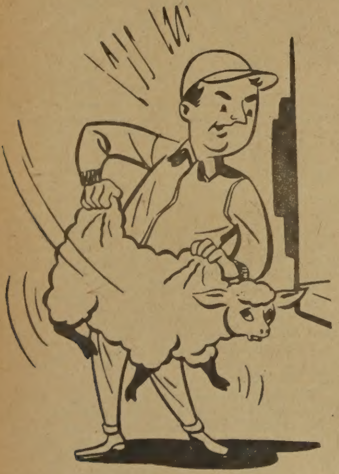
In fact, every time you sell livestock such costs are deducted from your check—not as a direct charge but in lower prices for your livestock.

Recent estimates by Livestock Conservation, Inc., indicate that these losses amount to approximately $50 million a year. That's more than a sixth of the total value of all the livestock and livestock products sold by Alabama farmers in 1958.

The sad part of these losses is that they are all unnecessary. It is a man-made, self-inflicted cost of marketing livestock. And remember, you and only you must pay the cost of these practices which cause wasteful losses. On the other hand, a knowledge of the causes will serve as a guide in their elimination.

The Causes

Improper handling and loading of livestock between the farm and the slaughter plant are the major causes of livestock losses. Generally, livestock do not make a practice of hurting themselves. They are assisted by their benefactor—man.



Lifting By Wool

Most bruise losses in hogs are caused by rough handling during loading and unloading. In fact, almost two-thirds of the bruise losses occuring in hogs are caused by canes, whips, clubs, kicks, and prods to hurry the animals along. Overcrowding and protruding nails take a toll, too.

More than three-fourths of the bruise losses found in cattle are the direct result of improper loading and unloading techniques. Rushing and crowding cattle cause trampling and bumping. All of these result in carcass bruises.

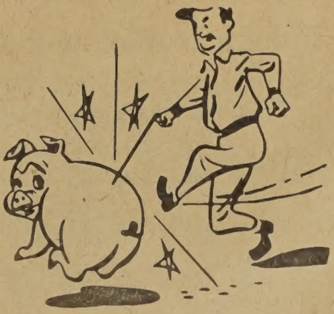
All species of livestock are sensitive and relatively easy to bruise and damage, but none are more sensitive than sheep. Rough handling, lifting by the wool, and inadequate loading and unloading facilities are the major factors responsible for most bruise losses in sheep. Mixed loads of sheep and other species of livestock result in severe bruises.

Like bruises, losses from death and crippling result from poor handling procedures. Improper bedding and overcrowding are the major causes but unpartitioned hauling of mixed loads adds to the toll.

Where Bruises, etc., Occur

Bruise losses are especially expensive because most of them occur in the highest price cuts. And trimming these cuts not only reduces the value of the meat because of the weight trimmed but also usually reduces the value of the entire cut.

In hogs, almost 50 percent of all bruise losses occurs in the hams and loins. Back and shoulder bruises account for most other losses. So every time you kick a hog in the ham, you are kicking yourself in the pocketbook.



Kicking and Prodding

Cattle bruises are most prevalent in the higher price cuts, too. More than 50 percent of bruise losses found in cattle carcasses are on the rumps, rounds, and hips. These, too, are costly trims.

The Prevention

The old adage, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," fits the situation well in the handling of livestock. And at the same time, a little prevention can add dollars to your livestock income.

A few simple practices will eliminate most of the expensive and wasteful losses. And most of them are simply humane.

First, don't use whips, canes, and prods to load livestock. If you need some device, use canvass "slappers." They sting and make noise but do not bruise.

Don't kick animals. The next time you have the irresistable urge to kick one, take off your shoe. That's a sure cure.

Don't mix loads of livestock without adequate partitioning. That is, separate horned cattle from non-horned, separate one specie from another, and separate cattle from calves.

Load livestock with care and don't rush and overcrowd them. Have a heart; give them adequate ventilation, bedding, and space during transit.

And who can give you more information on these and other ways of reducing livestock losses? Your county agent, of course. See him about these and other farm operations.

Plant Coastal Bermuda For Grazing And Hay Crops

O. N. ANDREWS
Extension Agronomist
Auburn University

Clover-Grass Grazing Good Combination

COASTAL bermuda, properly used, can help make Alabama a great "pasture state."

Alabama farmers are now producing only about two-thirds of the hay needed for the present livestock numbers. Coastal bermuda managed for best production can supply the hay needed for these animals and enough extra to furnish the feed for an expanding beef cattle industry, too.

Farmers in the state now have an estimated 115,000 acres planted in coastal bermuda. Starting in 1951 with only 2500 acres, the increase has not been phenomenal, but it has been steady from year to year. Most of the acreage is planted in the southern half of the state. Yet, you find some acreage in every county. Our state goal is 400,000 acres.

ANDREWS

The fact that coastal bermuda is propagated by sprigs has retarded the spread of the grass. Too, many farmers associate the name bermuda with a pest in row crop land —namely common bermuda. On the other hand, people who have given coastal a trial run say that it is the best grass available for hay and grazing on the well drained, drouthy upland soils in the state. This includes most of the upland soils except the Black Belt area.

Coastal overseeded with crimson clover and vetch provides excellent grazing for brood sows and fall-dropped calves. Calf gains of 350 to 450 pounds per acre are not uncommon. This mean that calves weighing 150 to 200 pounds placed on crimson or vetch-coastal bermuda combination along with their dams in March can be sold off pasture and milk in June or early July weighing 550 to 600 pounds per calf. Too, from market time of the calves until late fall, coastal will provide adequate grazing for the brood cows.

After the calves are sold, some farmers cut their cows off part of the area and top-dress with nitrogen. Then they harvest enough hay for winter feeding. Hay yields of four to six tons per acre are common.

Crimson and coastal furnish good quality grazing for dairy cattle until about the middle of July. After mid-summer, lactating dairy animals on coastal bermuda begin to drop in production. However, in Experiment Station findings cows on dallis and bahia grass pastures also decline in production during the same period.

Here are examples of well-pleased coastal bermuda growers in Alabama, as reported by county agents over the state.

Webb Ryan, one of Tuscaloosa County's most successful dairymen, was one of the first farmers in the county to plant this crop, according to French Sconyers, assistant county agent. Ryan, an FHD farmer who is milking 35 cows at present, says that coastal has cut his feed bill at least $1000 per year.

In Elmore County, Agent J. E. Morris states that dairyman T. G. Teel of Tallassee Rt. 1 has 54 acres of coastal on his farm which he uses for grazing and hay. From 16 acres he harvested 68 tons of hay, and the area also furnishes limited grazing for his dairy cows. Teel says that coastal is the most productive hay crop he has ever had on his farm.

County Agent Jack Bolling of Macon County points out that one of his coastal bermuda demonstrators produced an average of eight tons of hay per acre on 60 acres.

And according to Assistant County Agent Gene Sessions in Pike County, sprigs from a five-acre coastal bermuda nursery patch on J. C. Harden's farm have been used to expand his acreage to 65 in just five years. This acreage also furnished about three-fourths of the grazing for 125 cows during the past year. In addition to the grazing provided for the animals, the FHD farmer harvested 80 tons of good hay.

For detailed information on growing coastal bermuda, see your county agent. And while you're there, ask him for Extension Circular 476—Coastal Bermuda For Hay and Grazing.

FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

MANY Alabama farmers are denying their families future social security benefits because of their failure to file social security tax returns. This statement was made by Douglass M. Richard, manager of the Montgomery Social Security district office.

Farmers who have a net income of $400 or more must file federal income tax returns by April 15th. Social security taxes must be paid along with any income taxes which may be due. Richard pointed out that many farmers think that they are not required to make a return if their exemptions would mean that no income tax is due.

Late income tax returns may be filed or assessed at any time. However, there is a time limit during which social security credits may be established. For example, returns filed after April 15, 1960 cannot be used to establish social security credits for years before 1957 if the taxpayer uses the normal calendar year method of record keeping.

Richard suggests that those self-employed farmers who have failed to file proper returns do so at once. Failure to do this could result in a substantial loss of benefits. Filing of returns and payment of taxes come under jurisdiction of the Internal Revenue Service and tax returns as well as remittances should be mailed to that office. If information regarding social security coverage is desired, contact your local social security office.

Dale Farmer Moves Forward

Switches From "Shade Tree" Farrowing To Modern Pens With Pig Saving Devices

ROUDELL BYRD
Auburn University
Extension Service

SHADE tree hog production has nothing in common with the modern farrowing house and its individual pens and built-in pig savers.

Gaston Blankenship of Newville Rt. 2 in Dale County says so, and he should know because he has tried both methods. Points out Blankenship, "I've been raising pigs under that Chinaberry tree for years and I know the problems you have there."

The Bertha community farmer, who raises cotton, peanuts, and a few cows, has been producing hogs all along, but not until last summer did he switch to individual farrowing pens, heat lamps, corner brooders, and the like.

"Before, when I had a sow ready to farrow, I fastened her up in my old rail-fenced pen under the Chinaberry tree and let nature do the rest. Didn't have too much trouble except in the winter time—you know, that old rail fence just won't stop cold wind from coming through."

Guess Blankenship realized that little pigs have their thermostats disconnected when they are born and the old sow can't hover over the litter like a hen can her "biddies." Too, the "tree roof" over his farrowing pen wouldn't keep much of the cold rain off the little porkers, especially during winter when the tree sheds its leaves.

And I reckon sitting out there in the middle of a cold, rainy night taking care of the sow during farrowing wasn't as comfortable as a feather bed and six quilts. Don't blame him if he just rolled over and hoped for the best.

But it's different down on the Blankenship farm now. A new six-pen farrowing house takes the chill off things. It all started last summer when the energetic farmer built a new combination farm machinery shed and corn crib. While he was at it he added a lean-to shed on one side to house the farrowing pens. With electricity added and sun porches extending from each farrowing pen, Blankenship's sows and pigs live in class.

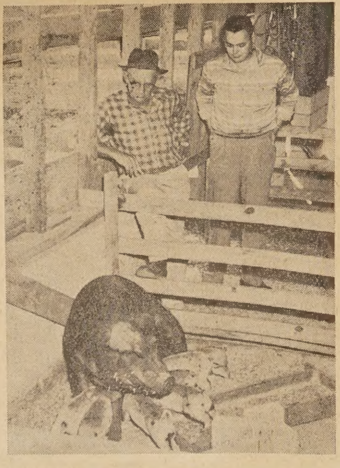
And when he has to spend most of a night in the farrowing house cleaning and placing the newborn pigs under heat lamps, he doesn't mind because the bitter grip of Old Man Winter is shut outside.

Glancing down Blankenship's hog records I noticed he is using purebred Durocs crossed with a purebred Poland China boar. According to research findings and farmer experience, this is good. Crossbreeds are more vigorous and faster-growing animals, thus pulling the market in a little closer. Too, four of his sows had farrowed in the new facilities and he saved nine out of every 10 pigs born. Said he would have saved all of them but at that time he didn't have all his equipment installed.

The pigs and their mothers are introduced to an ungathered field of corn when the baby pigs are three weeks old. Here creep-feeders filled with pig starter are available for the young porkers and containers of supplement and minerals plus salt are before the animals at all times. Then, when the pigs are eight weeks old, the sows are moved to an oat field or other such green grazing area where they are bred and fed the proper rations to insure another good pig crop.

The little pigs are left in the corn field to make hogs of themselves as they eat their way to market.

There's self-satisfaction and profit in the hog business, if you'll cut down the old Chinaberry tree.

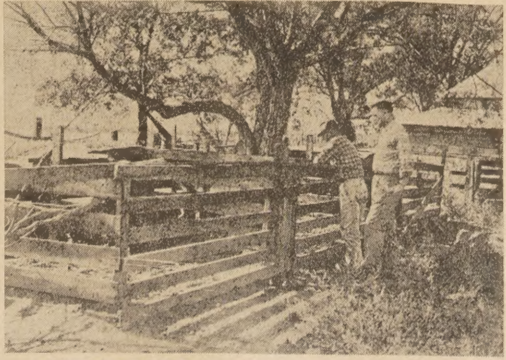


INSIDE LOOK—This inside look gives you an idea of Gaston Blankenship's farrowing facilities. Six of these individual pens make up the farrowing house. Each pen has a sun porch for the sow to move on to when the weather is comfortable outside. The entire area is concreted for easy cleaning. Too, a thorough disinfecting of the pens prevents spreading of diseases when another sow is brought in to farrow. Blankenship (left) tells former Assistant Agent Kenneth Tow that he is saving nine out of 10 born pigs with the new setup.

HUNTING ACCIDENTS

ABOUT two-thirds of all hunting accidents can be traced to three causes: humans in the line of fire, mistaking humans for game, and careless handling of firearms, which includes hunting with the safety catch off.

NEW FARROWING FACILITIES—Here Agent Tew (left) and Blankenship look over new farrowing facilities built last summer on the Blankenship farm. The six-unit farrowing house is equipped with corner brooders, heat lamps, and feeding facilities.



SHADE TREE METHOD—Here Blankenship (left) and Tew view the old farrowing equipment Blankenship used before building his new farrowing house. Blankenship says he wouldn't recommend raising pigs under a Chinaberry tree if you want to keep up with modern times. You have got to save those pigs if you want to make a profit.

Keeping Ahead in Farming

Sales Drive Increases Use of Eggs

Special promotional campaigns by retail food chains to spur movement of eggs into consumption channels during the past summer increased sales by as much as 300 percent in one instance, the National Association of Food Chains reported this week.

The 300 percent gain was registered by one company through means of placing an egg cooler box at each checkout counter so that eggs were the last item seen by the customer. The campaigns were conducted at the request of the American Farm Bureau Federation, the National Grange, the Poultry and Egg National Board, and the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives.

Fertilizer

This giant of modern farming promises to provide even greater production benefits as a greater number of farmers are using plant food more efficiently. Crop experts base predictions of continued record-level production on expected increase in corn plantings and a growing need to offset cost-price squeeze through greater yields per acre.

The spectacular rise in use of nitrogen coincides with the tremendous up-surge in crop yields. USDA figures show that since 1956 the trend in crop yields has gone up 35 percent, while nitrogen use is up about 40 percent. From 1945 yields are up 50 percent; nitrogen is up 300 percent.

Go South, Young Man

The northern region gained leadership in the last century because it had the three basic ingredients needed for the steel age—limestone, iron ore, and water. Now the South can expect to pull industrial leadership away from the North because we have the three basic necessities for the synthetic age—sulphur, hydro carbons in gas and oil, and water. Out of these three essentials come thousands of chemicals, plastics, and synthetics. The manufacture of these will demand thousands of new factories with enormously expanded payrolls.

For many years one of our greatest southern exports was people, and people of talent at that. Because of lack of opportunity at home, they took their abilities and educations and left to help build up other areas. This situation is being reversed in Alabama. More of our educated youth are staying home because they are finding outlets for their ambitions and talents.

Last year 308,000 students registered in secondary schools of Alabama . . . in strong contrast with the 70,000 in our high schools 25 years ago. More Alabama students are going to college, and most important, more are coming back home for their careers.

Expanding Meat Consumption

One of the most encouraging aspects of Alabama farming is the fact that people are eating more beef and other meats. In 1939 the per person consumption of all red meats (beef, pork, veal, and lamb) totaled 133 pounds. By 1949 this had increased to 144 pounds. Today we are eating an average of 157 pounds per person. Beef consumption amounted to only 56 pounds per person in 1951. It jumped to 85 pounds per person—an all time high—in 1956.

It looks like beef has more elasticity of demand than some other meats. Were it not for the great popularity of beef we might have seen a further decline in cattle prices from 1952 to 1956 than we did.

Consumer Education Specialist Says

Homemakers Should Study Needs Before Shopping For Family Groceries

MANY grocery stores carry over 6,000 items.

Among these are a number of products that can be classified as service items, points out Extension Consumer Education Specialist Dorothy Overbey.

"You can buy a fresh chicken, potatoes, and a vegetable, cook them at home, and serve your family a chicken dinner," she says. "Or you can buy a frozen carton which will contain the same items. You just heat and eat it. In one instance you bought the food, in the other you bought food and service."

The question facing many homemakers is whether or not to buy these built-in services. According to Miss Overbey, the answer usually depends upon the individual family situation. She suggests some guides to help arrive at an answer:

Is there a choice? Some marketing services have become so firmly accepted that the homemaker no longer has a choice. "A good example is carrots," says the specialist. "When was the last time you bought carrots with the tops attached?" French fried potatoes are another matter. Here the homemaker has the choice of buying the service or not.

What does the service cost? It may take careful checking to determine the exact cost of the service being bought. In many instances it is surprising to find that the service costs little or nothing. It may be even cheaper, as in the case of topless carrots and frozen orange juice. "It may surprise you as it did me to find out that buying tea in bags instead of bulk is one of the more costly services," says Miss Overbey. "If you find that the service food does cost more money, then you need to decide if the service is worth the cost."

Social Security

BACK in December I stated in this column that non-farm, self-employed persons must pay social security tax but that farmers have a choice. I am happy to correct that statement as follows:

Self-employed people must report their net earnings for social security purposes. However, self-employed farmers have a choice in the method of figuring their net earnings. They may use their actual net earnings or an amount figured under an "optional" method.

If you would like to have details of the two methods, please contact your local social security office or write to Mr. Douglass M. Richard, manager of the Montgomery Social Security District Office, Montgomery, Ala.

Shoes To Cost More

The outlook for agriculture isn't so good this year. Retail food prices are expected to be a little lower than in 1959. This, of course, will be due to lower prices to farmers for some important food commodities, such as meat animals. And prices for durable goods including furniture, household equipment, and housing will be up. Little change in the cost of wearing apparel is expected except in the cost of footwear which will be up some five percent.

For Healthier Pigs

G. B. Phillips, Extension hog production specialist, tells me that legumes, in general, make better grazing for swine than grasses. Wise use of such forage cuts the protein supplement bill, reduces the total feed bill, helps control parasites, and makes healthier pigs.

Strictly For Hunters

During the fall and winter seasons when many rounds of ammunition are fired through your favorite gun, "leading" in the barrel is usually seen just beyond the chamber. This buildup of lead looks like thin stripes running down the barrel and a bristle brush often fails to remove the coating.

Should this happen to you, follow Fish and Wildlife Specialist Earl Kennamer's advice and coat the inside of the barrel with blue (mercurial) ointment for a day or so. You can then clean out the material with a tight patch. Always clean, oil, and grease the barrel after such a treatment.

Cottonseed Supply

The supply of cottonseed for this spring's plantings is not so good; however, if you hurry you should find an adequate supply of high-germinating, good quality seed for your needs.

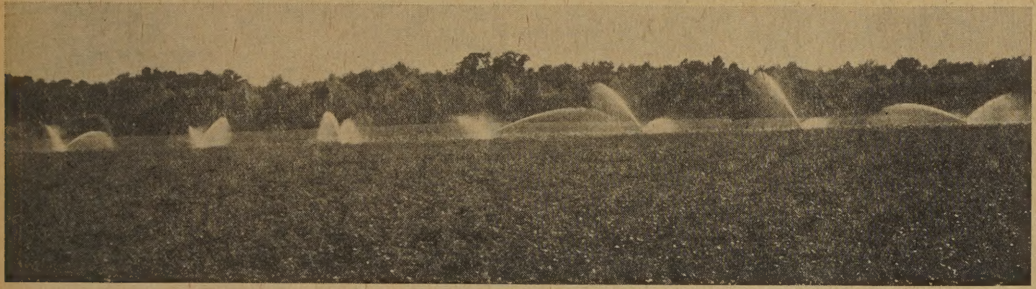
Late shoppers will be the ones caught in the squeeze, ending up with lower germinating seed.

It's Later Than You Think

Don't forget to send in those soil samples today. Although this is a late hour, near the end of this month and early in March the laboratory will be flooded with samples. Then you'll have to wait for test results. And it could be later than you think.

Rain Makers Should Check Equipment

Consider Irrigation Needs And Potential



Cotton Under Irrigation In Madison County

LAWRENCE ENNIS, JR.
Extension Soil Engineer
Auburn University

WILL irrigation pay on my farm? More people ask me that question than any other. It's a tough one, too, because the answer depends on so many things. Only a few of these are water source, type of land, labor supply, and kind of crops.

The fact that more farmers now seek an answer points to an ever increasing interest in irrigation as a means of reaching higher yields of better quality products. Ten years ago it was hard to find a farmer who used irrigation on a field-size basis. Now it is a fairly common sight along our highways. And within another few years, many more thousands of acres of high potential crops in the state will be put under irrigation.

Although irrigation is no cure-all, it does remove one of Alabama's big farming hazards—drought. And this is extremely important. Just look at what has happened in recent years and as far back as weather records have been kept.

Shortage of Rain

Alabama's average rainfall during the growing season—March to September—is about 30 inches. Of this amount, approximately 15 inches runs off the land because of the high rainfall intensity. The remaining 15 inches soaks into the ground. This is about 13 inches short of the 28-inch total that is needed by the average plant from seedling stage to maturity if it is to make good growth.

Farming-wise, the moisture shortage during the March to September period added to our normally dry falls make Alabama, which is usually thought of as humid, more like a semi-arid area. Equally hard on farming are the numerous dry spells that seem to come at the wrong time. According to U. S. Weather Bureau records, Alabama has had four weeks or longer with less than one inch of rain 92 times in the past 50 years. During 183 periods of the same 50 years, we were without an inch of rain for three weeks or longer.

Therefore, it isn't surprising that more farmers are analyzing their irrigation possibilities. They correctly figure that an investment to provide water when and where it is needed will pay off in a big way.

When irrigation fits a farm from every standpoint—land, water supply, labor, potential crops, management—and the owner can finance a system, it will be profitable. On the other hand, some farmers who do not have sufficient labor or the right set up have been wise to do without irrigation.

Irrigation Costs

How much does it cost to supply water on our farmlands?

The initial investment in irrigation systems varies from $50 to $200 per acre depending on the shape of the field, differences in elevations, type of water supply, distance of water from the field and other factors. Usually the larger the acreage under irrigation, the lower the cost per acre.

After a farmer has purchased his irrigation equipment, it will probably cost from $1.50 to $4.75 for every inch of water put on an acre. This total operation expense—which includes labor, fuels, oil, interest on investment, and depreciation—usually runs about $25 per acre each year.

This may seem like a lot of money, but consider it in the light of the returns it will bring. In an experiment at Auburn, 18 different vegetables irrigated for a 14-year period showed an average yield increase of 35 percent due to irrigation. This increase meant $122 net profit per acre annually over that of unirrigated truck crops after all irrigation costs were deducted.

Dairy farmers, as well as truck crop growers, can profit by using irrigation. Test re-

Light Your Way

MOST of us take a flashlight for granted on trips involving darkness. Yet that flashlight is your most valuable possession. On spring and summer fishing trips, it helps you avoid stepping on snakes or puncturing your boat on rocks and snags. And in winter when you enter deer woods early and leave late, it's at least mental protection against a shot from a trigger-happy hunter. It's your safety against dropping into a stump hole and breaking a leg or stumbling over roots and logs. It's your guide at night on a weak trail out of strange country. And when camping, it's your eye for finding firewood. Play it safe and keep a good flashlight handy.

Winter Fishing

On a recent hunting trip my son and I decided to take time out for fishing when the winter chill took a turn for the best. My thermometer registered a water temperature of 60 degrees F. And within five minutes my boy had caught two four-pound bass on a wounded minnow!

Proper Gun Care

The character of a gun is its barrel. If its inner surface is pitted or rusted, it won't shoot true or give good patterns. And now that you're ready to put up your gun for the season, give it proper protection. Scrub out any lead fouling with a bristle brush. Coat the barrel interior with solvent and after a few hours, wipe outside of barrel with oily rag and coat with grease. If the stock is unvarnished, rub in a couple of coats of raw linseed oil. Put only a drop of oil (do not squirt) on each moving part. Too much oil will gum the works. If your rifle has a leather sling, wash with saddle soap, or rub a small amount of neat's-foot oil into the leather. Don't pack your gun in a bag—metal needs airing in a dry place. And don't plug the barrel with an oily cloth.

Release Hammer Spring

Incidentally, I always fire the hammers on my guns when I put them away. I see no reason to keep the springs compressed until next season. Constant tension will weaken them.

Light For Night Fishing

If you do much overnight camping or trotline fishing, invest in a gasoline mantle lantern. Until a year or so ago, white gas was a scarce item, even in towns. But now one brand of white gasoline is available everywhere. And used properly, the gasoline lantern is perfectly safe. But always take along extra mantles.

Prevent Rabies

By the way, don't forget to inoculate your dog against rabies again this year. It's effective, safe, and good protection. And if your dog isn't worth inoculating, he's not worth keeping!

sults show that cows on irrigated pastures had a 43 percent increase in milk production and a 40 percent increase in grazing days per acre over their production on an unirrigated pasture.

Cotton yields through the years have increased from approximately 1,000 pounds of seed cotton per acre to 1100 pounds due to irrigation. For several years, many farmers have produced up to two and one-half bales of cotton per acre under irrigation.

Corn increases due to irrigation have reached 40 to 50 bushels per acre. Alfalfa under irrigation generally provides about six cuttings of hay per year. And coastal bermuda will yield eight to 10 tons of good hay per acre when irrigated.

I want to emphasize that these are averages from observations made in both dry and wet years. During extremely dry years, irrigation can mean the difference between a bumper crop and a total crop failure.

Who Can Irrigate?

Generally speaking, any farmer who has an adequate supply of water is in a position to irrigate. Streams seem to offer the best possibility for water in most of the state. Before any irrigation system is purchased, however, streams should be checked for quantity during the driest part of the year.

Farm ponds are becoming more important as a source of irrigation water. Farmers should keep in mind, however, that an average pond will lose about 12 feet of actual water each year through evaporation and seepage. Ponds that are primarily planned for irrigation purposes should be fed by a strong spring or drainage from an extremely large drainage area. Then the ponds can catch a maximum of water from any summer rains that occur.

Deep wells that are eight inches in diameter or larger are popular in areas with a sufficient amount of underground water. These areas include the Tennessee Valley, the Lower Coastal Plain, and part of the Black Belt.

THE WAY I SEE IT...

by Dr. E. T. York, Jr. - Director
Auburn University Extension Service

IT seems that we have reached somewhat of a crossroads in cotton production in Alabama. We are faced with the possibility of either losing a good part of our present more than one hundred million dollar income from cotton or of increasing our cotton income by almost the same amount.

Planting Fewer Acres. Cotton acreage has been dropping steadily in Alabama since the late thirties. In fact, we planted 61 percent fewer acres and produced 40 percent fewer bales during the past five-year period than during the comparable period twenty years ago.

If this trend continues, we could essentially be out of the cotton business in another 20 years. Are we content to let this happen? Or perhaps we should ask if there is anything we can do to prevent it from happening.

Yield Is Reason. The major reason for this declining cotton acreage in recent years has been our low average yield and our correspondingly low return per acre. During the past 20 years, our cotton yields have increased about 100 pounds of lint per acre to an average of slightly more than 400 pounds. During this same period, California yields have increased around 500 pounds to an average of better than 1,000 pounds.

With current prices and the high cost of production, there is little profit in growing cotton at the 300 to 400 pound level at which our average farmer has been operating during the past 20 years. There is still less profit (or greater loss) for the many farmers producing below this average. Consequently, much cotton has gone unplanted and has been reassigned to western growers.

Numerous studies have shown that with yields of 650 to 750 pounds of lint, we in Alabama can produce cotton as cheaply as our competitors in the West.

Increase Yield. Can we expect to produce yields 50 to 75 percent higher than our present state average? The best answer is to say that this is already being done year after year by our better farmers. Reports indicate that some counties averaged better than one and one-fourth bales per acre in 1959. A 4-H Club boy in Madison County produced 1,340 pounds of lint per acre. Research workers in experiments at Auburn have produced yields of about four bales per acre for several years.

Obviously, we have the know-how and resources to do this job. And as I see it, our problem is now two-fold:

First, we must try to get every possible allotted acre planted. In 1959, 165,000 acres of our state allotment went unplanted. This represented a loss of some twenty-five million dollars income to the state.

Second, we must make the highest possible return from each planted acre. This means high yields and low unit cost of production.

By producing the yields we are capable of growing on all of our allotted acres, Alabama farmers could easily add another one hundred million dollars to their total income next year. Everyone—farmer and businessman alike—stands to benefit by this program. Let's all get behind this effort and take full advantage of this challenging opportunity.

People who have not made their annual contribution are urged to return the mailers as soon as possible to the March of Dimes, Clanton, Alabama, in order that the badly needed funds may be put to work in the fight against crippling diseases.

Mothers Make March

The Mother's March against crippling diseases, which was held last Thursday, January 28, collected more than $250.00 reports Mrs Morgan Reynolds, who was Chair man of the Mother's March.

50 Participate

About 50 mothers in the Clanton area participated in the march and a census was taken of the Clanton area to determine the number of people in this area that suffer from arthritis, birth defects, and polio. The results of the census will be made public as soon as all the figures are compiled.

Flu Gets Into Act

A larger number of mothers were scheduled to have helped in the drive, but many were reported ill with the flu, and the mothers who did make the March found people ill with the flu at ". . . almost every house. . ." Colds and flu are caused by virus and perhaps in the not too distant future the March of Dimes, through its extensive research facilities in the National Foundation will find an effective weapon against common virus diseases as it has against polio.

A Worthy Celebration --

WHAT make's a man? Well, first you take a boy . . . and then you do quite a bit of molding, teaching, example setting and the like and with the help of the Power from above you can come out with quite a man!

One of the very best "man-makers" in our books is the Boy Scouts of America, celebrating, this year and this month, their Golden Anniversary of scouting leadership for young men in the Uunited States.
ership for oung men in the United States.

In Clanton and Chilton County, Scouting has a firm foothold on the younger set, as well as quite a few adults who are interested in scouting through leaders, den mothers and scoutmasters.

The News joins millions in honoring the Boy Scouts of America on their Golden Anniversary (February 7-12) and dedicate this issue of the News to that organization in the knowledge that such endeavors by those interested will continue to mold and make men of Amrica who are worthy of their heritage. Congratulations and Happy Birthday Boy Scouts of America!

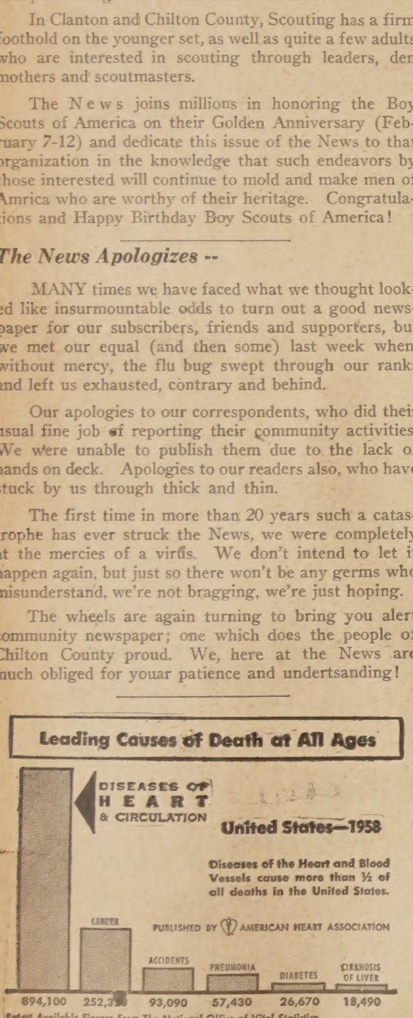
The News Apologizes --

MANY times we have faced what we thought looked like insurmountable odds to turn out a good newspaper for our subscribers, friends and supporters, but we met our equal (and then some) last week when, without mercy, the flu bug swept through our ranks and left us exhausted, contrary and behind.

Our apologies to our correspondents, who did their usual fine job of reporting their community activities. We were unable to publish them due to the lack of hands on deck. Apologies to our readers also, who have stuck by us through thick and thin.

The first time in more than 20 years such a catastrophe has ever struck the News, we were completely at the mercies of a virus. We don't intend to let it happen again, but just so there won't be any germs who misunderstand, we're not bragging, we're just hoping.

The wheels are again turning to bring you alert community newspaper; one which does the people of Chilton County proud. We, here at the News are much obliged for youar patience and undertsanding!



NO. 1 HEALTH ENEMY in the United States today is diseases of the heart and circulation, responsible for 54.3 per cent of all deaths, or more than all other causes combined. The Heart Fund —supporting nationwide programs of research, education and community service—is your No. 1 defense against heart disease. GOVT. SPENDERS
HOPED FOR 4 BILLION GOVT. SURPLUS Warren King

Let's Look Ahead --

THE prospect of a $4.2 billion surplus in the Federal budget has cheered everyone up. To the citizen it would mean that he wouldn't be faced with another inflation-producing Federal deficit to whittle the value of his dollars. But to some open-handed Congressmen it is an invitation to abandon last session's trend toward Government economy.

Already the ardent spenders are coming forth with plans that would assure the surplus never could materialize. These Congressmen seem to think they are never doing enough for "the peepul" unless they put the people's government in the hole.

Their concern for the voters, who double as downtrodden taxpayers, could find a better outlet in the direction of income tax rate reform. Virtually everyone acknowledges that present taxes are too high to permit maximum economic growth. Everyone knows his own taxes are too high.

The bi-partisan Herlong-Baker bills now pending in the Ways and Means Committee would bring down everyone's taxes, and do it in such a way that economic growth would be stimulated sharply. More growth will bring more tax revenue from lower tax rates.

This would mean more Federal surpluses to cheer us up in future years.

The politicians would be doing themselves a favor, too. They could never get all the voters to agree on how to spend the surplus, but one thing everyone will agree on is that taxes are too high.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Action is expected in the House of Representatives this week on a resolution I have introduced which expresses the sense of Congress that any change in the interpretation of past treaties between the United States and the Republic of Panama, with special reference to matters concerning terrtorial sovereignty, be made only by a revision of existing treaties. The purpose of the resolution is to discourage the executive branch of our government from granting permission for the Panamanian flag to be flown in the Canal Zone without also giving the legislative branch an opportunity to consider fully this important and far-reaching proposition.

U. S. Sovereignty

The original treaty, under which the United States constructed the Panama Canal at a cost of hundreds of millions of dollars, granted in perpetuity to the United States the use, occupation, and control of the land for the construction, maintenance, and operation of the Panama Canal. At the same time, it granted all the rights, power and authority within the zone which the United States would possess and exercise if it were the sovereign of the territory. Two additional treaties have confirmed United States sovereignty in the area, although certain financial concessions were made by these treaties to the Republic of Panama. To allow the Panamanian flag to be flown in the Canal Zone would reduce, in the opinion of some, the sovereignty of the United States in the Zone and invite demands for further concessions. It should be noted that all prior requests to fly the Panamanian flag in the Canal Zone have been refused.

Demands Increased

Largely as the result of campaign oratory in Panama's pending Presidential election, demands have increased in recent months that the United States permit Panama tc fly its flag beside our own in the Canal Zone. While such a request may appear on the surface to be a small one, a careful analysis of the situation indicates otherwise.

Although there have been reports that the Department of State advocates favorable and immediate consideration of the request of the Panamanian government, there is reason to believe that a sharp difference of opinion exisits on this subject even within the executive branch of our government. Also, many members of Congress have voiced personal concern and misgivings.

Resolution Adopted

The Subcommittee on Inter-American Affairs, of which I am chairman, is currently holding hearings on this entire question. As these hearings have progressed, it has become increasingly apparent that flying the Panamanian flag in the Canal Zone would be a major deviation from our previously established policy in that area. Although the Subcommittee will reach no final conculsion as to the merits of the proposal until hearings have been completed, subcommittee members agreed unanimously that such action should not be undertaken by the executive alone. My resolution was the result of this decision, and it was adopted overwhelmingly by the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Should this resolution be approved this week by the House of Representatives, an immediate and perhaps ill-advised decision by the executive branch may be averted.

THINGS We see and hear

by BOB

HERE at the News and at home last week we had a battle royal with the old virus called the Flu! There is, as far as we are personally concerned, nothing whatsoever that you can say that's good. . . about the flu; except possibly the fact, that when it strikes 100% it brings out the best in folks and they set about, ever how reluctantly, to help one another out of the dumps and back onto their feet once more. Yessir, if there's a good side to the flu, it has to be that it's a good morae booster after all, but only if it strikes everybody! Frighteningly ironical ain't it? But, it's true!

THE State of things which is brought to light in a political year is pathetic as a rule, but this one coming up, is one for the history books, and how! Both major political parties have exactly the opposite views on every matter considered, no matter how illogical either argument seems. We believe, very definitely in party politics, but we do not believe putting the party or the party principles above those of our own conviction and above those basic things which we know to be true and profess to believe and practice!

OUR party politicos have gotten to the point where when one says it's red the other maintains in no uncertain terms that it must be blue. This is not Democracy, it's idiocracy!

THERE seems to be, and has always been, an unwritten phrase in all advertising media's code of ethics not to "talk down" competitive products. . . and then along comes TV. Practically without exception, when a product on Television makes a claim, it also has to throw some discredit toward a rival product. We don't think it is elevating to the media or to the product in question! It's not so much that T Vis the only guilty party. . . they just seem to make it so corny and dramatic!

Science Club Enjoys Contest

On January 22, 1960, the Science Club of Mrs. Frances Hubert's room was called to order by the president, Delores Jones.

The secretary read the minutes. Old and new business was attended to. We sang the Star Spangled Banner. Then we had a contest on science.

The contest was between the 1's and 2's. The 1's beat.

The refreshment committee took charge and served refreshments. Elaine Grant and Frances Lewis served. The meeting adjourned.

VETERANS SHOULD KNOW -

Because of the wide-spread interest among veterans and their dependents on the new pension law going into effect later this year, the Chilton County News today prints the second of five columns of pertinent information on the new law. Succeeding columns will appear each week. Cut out and save each column for a complete fact sheet. The following questions, with appropriate answers, were chosen by the Veterans Administration from the thousands being asked:

Q. What are the changes in methods to be used in computing income under the new system?

A. Income received by a veteran or by his widow from any source, with few exceptions, will be considered as income under the new system. In cases where the veteran's spouse has a separate income the new law provides that all such income over $1200 per year shall be counted as the veteran's income, unless to do so would create a hardship.

Q. What would constitute "hardship" in this instance?

A. If the evidence shows that the entire income is needed for large and unusual family expenses-such as those incurred by serious illness or unusual expenses incurred for the education of children--counting all but $1200 of the spouse's income as the income of the veteran might be regarded as a hardship. Each case of this nature is considered on its own merits.

Q. What income is specifically exempt by law?

A. Eight categories of income are exempt from consideration in calculating the annual income to determine pension eligibility. They are:

1. Payments of the six m death gratuity by the Service partments.

2. Donations from public or vate relief or welfare organiza

3. Payments of compensatio pension by the VA.

4. Government life insu payments and payments of se men's idemnity.

5. Social Security lump death payments.

6. Payments to an individua der public or private retire annuity, endowment or s plans equal to the amount he tributed thereto.

7. Proceeds of fire insu policies.

8. In the case of widows or dren of a deceased veteran are excluded amounts equal t amounts paid for settlement o veteran's just debts, the exp of his last illness, and the exp of the veteran's burial less amount reimbursed by the V

Q. How does a veteran's become an eligibility factor the new law.

A. It is one of the need fa used in determining eligibilit der the new system. It means pensions will not be paid to having quite a bit of property

THE LAST DAYS

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following was presented us by E. D. DAWSON and though it includes a somewhat pessimistic outlook on the situation, it nevertheless contains many truths which we thought you might be interested in.

In second Timothy, and chapter three,
Open up your Bible and look and see.
We find the alst recorded words of Saint Paul
To Timothy written from Rome,
Telling him how thinks would be around home.
"In the last days," says he,
"Terrible and horrible, things will be.
Our prisons overflowing with criminals today,
And they are killing the guards and getting away.
Killing and robbing, they are making a show;
Stealing and raping wherever they go!
Lovers of pleasure more than of God,
Cursing and drink and using the rod.
Perilious and dangerous times are here;
People are running rampant without any fear.
Paul said they would have a form of Godliness, this he knew,
And denying the power thereof which is also true.
To preach smooth things that would tickle the ear.
Ever learning, but there is not any use
They would never be able to come to the knowledge of the truth.
Paul also gave us to undersand.
That juvenile delinquency would fill our land.
But evil and seditious men,
Shall wax worse and worse as we near the end;
Deceiving all they can,
And being deceived on every hand.
Now I am not saying this just to be heard,
But to call your attention to God's holy word.
Now study your Bible, and listen to the news,
For it will give you all the clues.
The word was written by men of God,
Indued with power from on high,
Prophecy is true, and it does not lie!

Thorsby-Jemison L & N

After two years tussell with the L & N officials about total cancellation of the Thorsby L & N Depot, Mayor Grover A. Bice finally received a letter from Jack Owen, Alabama Public Service Commissioner, that Thorsby and Jemison will share the same operator, with Thorsby getting the afternoon hours. The two agencies Thorsby and Jemison are now consolidated and will end full time service on January 31, 1960. Commercial service telephones will be installed at each station and the operator may be reached at any time, during office hours, over the telephone. Also that the station building at Thorsby will not be removed. The same operator will serve both stations. We do not know who the operator will be.

Thorsby and Jemison are rapidly merging as both are served by the same gas board, the same telephone company, the same bank and now the same operator at our railroad stations.

Card Of Thanks

I very much want everyone who assisted in any way, to help rerserve our railroad station in Thorsby, and who worked with the Town Officials in such a congenial way. to know that I personally, and the council in unison, gratefully accepted your help and with your help we kept our depot intact. I believe half time service will suffice our needs at this time, and the way is left open that if a greater need arises in the future, we may petition the commission for full time again. But at the present we are happy to know that we still have our depot with us.

Again let me say thank you, my friends!

Grover A. Bice,
Mayor of Thorsby

CCHS FFA Builds FFA Mailbox Post

Vocational Agriculture students at Chilton County High School will build a number of concrete FFA mailbox posts this year, reports J. Reed Thompson vo-ag teacher and FFA advisor at Chilton County High School.

These post will bring to approximately 100, the number of portable stands that have been constructed and placed in the school community by the chapter since the program began four years ago.

The mailbox program has become one of the FFA's best public relation medium and is a program in which everybody concerned wins. Building the posts, which can now be seen on virtually all roads in the state, gives vo-ag students experience in concrete, painting and carpentry.

A purchaser benefits by obtaining an attractive post at a relatively low price. Mail carriers like the sands because they are of the correct height to be easily accessible. Both carriers and road crew appreciate the post because they are portable.

Mr. J. Reed Thompson said that the post are not all spoken for and orders are being received at the vocational agriculture building.

James Henderson Wins In CCHS Speaking Contest

James Henderson, a member of the Ag. III class, won the Chilton County High FFA chapter Public Speaking Contest which was held at the December meeting of the Chapter announces Mr. J. Reed Thompson, vocational agriculture teacher and FFA advisor at Chilton County High.

James's speech was entitled, "Farm Cooperatives". Second place was won by Benny Atkinson whose speech "Conserving Our Soil" and Tommy Cargile, Pat Willis, Melvin Billingsley and Kenneth Mims also participated in the chapter elimination.

As a chapter winner, James is eligible to compete in the Chilton County contest which is followed by area, district and the state contest which is held during the FFA convention in June. A state winner may continue to national honors.

The public speaking contest is one of the best means that the Future Farmers of America provide leadership training for members. Not only must a participant deliver his speech, but he also is required to answer questions concerning it from the judges.

James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Henderson of Route 2, Clanton, Ala. He has been active in school and FFA having been chapter winner last year, member of FFA poultry judging team, and carries one of the largest Supervised Farming Programs of any member.

STEP OUT IN IT

Get the quiet proof of Chevrolet's superior performance on the road—No other car in the low-priced three can match the borne-on-the-wind sensation you get from a ride in the 1960 Chevrolet. But that's not surprising when you consider to what lengths Chevy has gone to provide for your comfort at no extra cost to you. As you drive, count the ways Chevrolet has been thoughtful:

Supple Full Coil suspension—Coil springs at all four wheels melt bumps as no other suspension can. Taking the punch out of rough roads is their only function—they don't have to anchor the rear axle.

Butyl rubber body mounts—Thicker, newly designed body mounts further insulate you from the road.

Body by Fisher—Only Chevy in its field offers the polish and craftsmanship of Body by Fisher.

Foam cushioned seats—Chevy offers foam cushioned seats in both front and rear in all series but one.

Safety-Girder frame—X-built and not merely X-braced, the Safety-Girder frame affords greater rigidity to minimize twisting and squeaks.

Hydraulic valve lifters—Oil hushed hydraulic valve lifters reduce engine noise to a whisper.

Cushioned steering shaft—A universal joint and cushioned coupling keep those annoying road tremors from the steering wheel.

Precision balanced wheels and tires—Here again Chevy has shown concern for your comfort by eliminating vibration in this vital area—tire life is longer, too.

Easy steering ratio—Chevy's high ratio Ball Race steering takes the work out of steering for you.

Superior weight distribution—Chevy rides better, handles better and stops better because the car's weight is more equally divided between the front and rear wheels.

Wide choice of power teams—Choose from 24 different power combinations to satisfy the itchiest driving foot—more than any other car.

Voter Says "Leave Courthouse Where Is"

TO THE VOTERS OF CHILTON COUNTY:

EVERY citizen in Chilton County has business in the Courthouse at times and it is now where every citizen going to Clanton, by private or public conveyance can visit the Courthouse without much trouble. Our present Courthouse is attractive and the architecture is outstanding. The Courthouse is not only convenient for business and attractive to look at, but it is well built and if there are defects in it, it is because it has been neglected and needs repairs which can be made. Leave the Courthouse where it is and build an annex sufficient to take care of the county offices and storage we need. To tear down the present Courthouse, which is as good as many others in Alabama and better than a lot of them, and build a new one, would not only waste most of the building in the present building, but the same space in a new building would cost ten or more times what the present building cost when built. All kinds of building are very expensive now and the statement that a new Courthouse can be built under present conditions without adding more taxes is absurb. This could not work out unless money that needs to be put on roads and other things that will benefit all our citizens is used to pay the Courthouse debt. Reason It Out for Yourself.

-S- A CHILTON VOTER

Study Club Against Proposed C.H. Site

ON February 16th, the People of Chilton County will vote on quite a number of amendments to the Constitution of Alabama, and vote on whether to build a new courthouse; if built, would you favor building it on the resent site; would you vote to move it to another site (the other site being the property west of the City Park).

Believeing that we accept our heritag, both cultural benefits and the land we hold, a sacred trust a heritage to be used, improved and bequeathed to our children and all generations to come, we, the Civic Committee of the Study Club, ask that the Study Club go on record as desiring that the land adjoining the park not be used as a site for the Courthouse, but rather that this area be held for enlarging the park and recreation area, if not used as residential sites.

In order to secure these benefits for the future of the children of our County, we ask that each member learn al lfacts possible on this subject and use all influence possible to keep this site from being used as the site of a Courthouse.

Respectfully submitted,
Mrs. Joe Earl Gowan,
Mrs. J. R. Mullins,
Mrs. Omar L. Reynolds
Civic Committee.

GARDEN CLUB OBJECTS TO COMMERCIALIZING PLAY AREA

THE Garden Club of Clanton goes on record as asking the people of Chilton County to preserve the property joining the City Park for the future use of our children for recreation and Community Center. This is the only desirable property in the area that is wooded and could be used for this purpose.

Our Garden Club objects to commercializing around the Park and Recreation area where our children will be playing. We need to keep it desirable for the use of our children for present and future generations.

Are You Confused on The Courthouse Issue

MANY hundreds of persons in Chilton County are definitely FOR a new Courthouse, but do not agree on the chosen new site. Logical thinking makes the old site impractical by many standards.

This situation puts many of us in the position of wanting a new Courthouse building, but feeling that neither location offered is suitable.

If you feel that a new Courthouse is needed for Chilton County then it is your privilege to vote YES on the first question and either leave the other question blank or write in your opinion that the site should be chosen carefully by a duly authorized group of citizen-officials and you can thus clarify your opinion.

This, to my way of thinking is better by far than feeling confused in the matter and voting against it or not voting at all.

A Courthouse is needed; a new site is needed, but not necessarily the one which is given as a "choice"!

Don't govern your own opinion by that of others; form your own!

NO NEW TAXES —

Legislators Urge Passage Of Proposed Amendment Number One

MENTALLY ILL; OTHERS WILL BENEFIT

THE approval of Amendment Number One is of urgent importance according to a statement issued today by Senator Joe Graham and Representative Francis Speaks from our county. This Amendment, according to this statement, provides for a three million dollar bond issue to finance the construction of a 100-bed treatment and training hospital as a part of the Medical College of Alabama.

No New Taxes

They stated that no new or additional taxes now or in the future will be required if Amendment Number One is given approval. "The principal and interest of this bond issue will be paid out of the ten percent tax on liquor enacted in 1959", they said.

100-Bed Hospital

They continued, "This 100-bed treatment and training hospital will serve patients from all sixty-seven counties in the state. The patient load will be made up of three kinds of individuals: those who can pay all the cost of treatment for mental illness, those who can pay only part of the cost, and it is expected that about sixty-five per cent of the total admissions will be indigent patients who will be treated at the expense of the state as is now being done at Bryce and Searcy Hospitals."

Elderly People Aided

It was pointed out in this statement that a number of beds will be reserved for elderly people who will be given special diagnosis and treatment of children who are mentally and emotionally disturbed. This will be the first time in history of Alabama when diagnostic and treatment facilities will be available for children who are mentally and emotionally disturbed.

In concluding their statement they urged that all citizens consider the needs and give every possible support for the adoption of Amendment Number One.

Names registered as Absentee Voters will be removed from the regular Qualified Voters List and remain on the Absentee Voters List until the voter requests his name to be removed from the Absentee Voters List and replaced on the Regular Qualified Voters List.

If you desire to Vote an Absentee Ballot appear before the Board of Registrars. Those wishing to appear for such purpose may do so at any time the board is in session. The board is in session the 1st and 3rd Mondays in each month, and at such other times as prescribed by law.

Fruit, Truck Growers Organize To Better Serve Chilton Farmers

The above picture group realizes the great responsibility they accepted as directors of the Chilton County Fruit and Truck Growers Ass'n. for the coming year. Yes, this group of farmers are disturbed. They are striving to keep a half million dollar business alive - a business with a much greater potential.

100 Producers in County

Several years ago approximately 300 local farmers produced and marketed one million, eight hundred thousand pounds of berries through the facilities of the Fruit Growers' Ass'n. at Thorsby. The volume is down to 500,000 pounds with approximately 100 producers. This represents a loss to Chilton County of approximately 350,000. This is the disturbing factor.

Volume Too Small

Another factor to consider is the volume of berries now being produced is too small to attract big buyers. Mrs. Cleckler, stated to the Board members recently that she has received numerous inquires for berries recently, but had no report that the Association had no berries or juice for sale.

Favoable Market Outlook

The outlook for a better market is rather favorable. This is evident by the fact that producers on the west coast, our competitors, have reduced their acreage rather sharply. Facilities at the Thorsby shed would accomodate five times the volume it is now handling, and the marketing problem isn't near the problem that it is with peaches, tomatoes, watermelons, corn, and many other perishable commodities. The cooperative property and equipment is valued at approximately $60,000. and has at this time a liability of only $14,000. These facilities should be used for the benefit of those who support its operation. The present directors are desirous of new plantings of blackberries this spring, and encourage all present growers to make any available plants that they might have to new producers.

'Cukes' To Be Handled

Cucumbers will also be handled through facilities of the Thorsby shed this year. See your County Agent for further information about seed and cultural practices.

Could other commodities be marketed through the facilities at the Thorsby shed to an advantage of Chilton County farmers? This is a good subject for discussion at the next general meeting. Be present to express your views.

COURTESY in all things and to everyone proves to be good business.

THE right kind of experience is sometimes worth the cost.

IT'S a money losing proposition to laugh at the expense of others.

IF you follow the crowd, you'll never become a leader.

SELF-INTEREST in a thing is apt to warp a man's judgement.

SPEAKING personally self contentment may be a virute, but it is certain death to enterprise.

EVEN if you are on the level it's an uphill flight to make ends meet.

A dollar used to go further maybe--but it sure didn't go any faster.

Ground Hog Day --

THE ground hog is perhaps our most famous weather prophet, but, unfortunately not the most accurate to be found. However, we believe this February 2nd found the little fellow "on the ball". Since that day he came out and saw his shadow we have had nothing but changing temperatures, wet, cold, hot, cloudy,--you name it and we have had it.

We will doubt the little fellow less next year when he comes forth from his den. We believe we'll have that six more weeks of bad weather he foresaw.

Anyone In Mind? --

THOSE who still carry the torch for New York's Governor, "Rocky", as a surprise candidate for the Presidency in 1960, are doubtless comforted by President Eisenhower's unwillingness, at his latest press conference, to endorse his two-time running mate, Vice President Nixon as his successor.

The President explained that "we don't know what is around the next corner" and that "there are a number of Republicans, eminent men, big men, that could fulfill the requirements of the position. . ."

We are only sorry, for the lack of excitement in the Republican ranks, that the President declined to name any of them.

February Anniversaries --

THERE are many anniversaries connected with the history of nations and the United States has reached an age that entitles it to observe some memorable occasions. The month of February contains its share. We call attention to a few, and the reader can participate in something like a quiz test in connection with them.

(1) A far-reaching tax measure, affecting the entire United States, was made possible on Feb. 3, 1913.

(2) Two important treaties were signed in 1922, one on Feb. 1st about naval matters and the other about a long-festering Far Eastern question. Five nations signed the first and nine powers the second.

(3) A special corporation, greatly affecting the boys of the United States, came into being on Feb. 8, 1910.

(4) Representatives of six states met in Montgomery, Ala., for the founding of a new nation on Feb. 4, 1861.

(5) Unexplained violence, affecting an American naval vessel, occurred on Feb. 15th, 1898, killing 252 men.

The answers may not be very hard to give, but after casual identification, how much do you know about the events listed? Anyway, here are the answers. (1) Wyoming became the thirty-sixth state to ratify the income tax amendment; (2) Washington Naval Treaty and Nine-Power Pact to Protect China; (3) Boy Scouts of America incorporated; (4) First meeting of Confederate Congress; (5) Battleship Maine blown up in Havana harbor.

THINGS We see and hear

by BOB

SAY, before we plumb forget it (as if we could), don't you forget the Pancake Day at First Methodist February 13th and you won't want to miss all that good country sausage, those luscious homemade pancakes and that wonderful mo-lasses! They'll be havin' breakfast, lunch and supper and. . . well, you can check the details elsewhere in this issue of our favorite newspaper. As for the goodness and the quality you'll be missin' if you don't come. . . well, if you can't take our word for it, just ask Mr. Jimmy Bell down Bell Hardware way. If they ever had a fan, he's it! This, by the way, is the second consecutive year the Methodist Men have sponsoerd Pancake Day and last year was a whopping success. The men are ready, waitin' and willin' to cook for you and serve you, so if you want some good eatin' on the 13th, try the First Methodist Church, down in the basement! It's a treat!

AND while we're remindin'; positively under no circumstances should you forget next Tuesday. It's voting day in Chilton County on several amendments as well as the all important question concerning a New Courthouse for Chilton County. If you're an eligible voter, and you've ever voted on anything, by all means vote on this important issue. It is for the people to decide and the more people who turn out to vote, the surer the powers that be will be of just what we the citizens of this County want and demand! And it's high time we demanded. . .

WE'D also like to add that if you have checked on the courthouse situation, either through this paper or first hand, you know why the decision next Tuesday is of such monumental importance. Get out and vote come February 16th!

WE'RE prejudiced of course, but we can't for the life of us see how they can call the Flu epedimic we've been having anything but a flu epedimic. As far as we're concerned it was of magnitudinous proportions and could not be called a "light epedimic" or an unimportant scattering of the crummy virus. Man, it was here! We've got proof positive and you can ask practically anyone on the street how they've been fairing lately and they'll sneer at you and try to get over to you, in somewhat nasal overtones, just how bad their situation has been. Yessir, it was an epedimic all right, and we wuz right smack dab in the middle of it! Asian or otherwise, we sincerely hope it has found an escape route back where it came from and will remain there indefinitely. (Wherever that is, we hope it's not inhabited).

Please give serious consideration about this problem. Please think of our present needs for a courthouse as well as our future needs when you vote.

Also, several of the amendments being voted on need your most serious consideration. If we are to preserve the freedom to decide on local problems by a majority vote of the people, several of these amendments should be passed.

Now, in conclusion, I would like to invite each of you to visit us in the Courthouse and feel free to call upon us if at any time we can be of help to you. May I earnestly urge your continued help in helping us move forward in Unity and Harmony for the good of all the people of Chilton County.

Junior Citizens Collect $125.34 For Dimes March

The Junior Citizens Club of Clanton Elementary School, Mrs. L. C. Warr, teacher, has proven their ability to be "tops". They have raised $125.34 for the March of Dimes and did this in one half day and three afternoon after school. Each of the 35 members participated and counted it a great privilege to help those who are less fortunate than they are.

Officers of the Club now serving are: President, Jackson Moore; Vice-President, Jan Sexton; Secretary, Miriam Gerald; Treasurer, Ann Dailey; Corresponding Secretary, Stanley Carter; Critic, Earl Monroe; Parliamentarian, Mary Langston; Song Leader, Cecilia Craig; Activity Committee, Janet Culp; Chairman, Johnny Blalock; and Jackie Seales.

In addition to the many activities the class participates in, they have recently learned the Confederate Creed, by Walter B. Jones.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Although most activity in the House of Representatives last week was centered about important sessions of various committees, several legislative measures were approved. One of these--an income tax revision bill--makes technical changes in certain provisions of the Internal Revenue Code relating to estates, trusts and partnerships.

The bill is designed chiefly to close a number of loopholes in the present tax laws. In several instances, however, it also simplifies the computation methods for taxes on special types of income. This measure was the result of a two-year study of tax inequities made by the Subcommittee on Internal Revenue Taxation. Other legislation is expected to be recommended to Congress by the Subcommittee this year and next.

Panema Bill Passes

Also passed in the House last week was the resolution I introduced to express the sense of Congress that any atleration in the traditional interpretation of the treaties between the United States and the Republic of Panama shall be made only by a new treaty.

As I explained in last week's column, this resolution is designed to prevent the Executive Branch of our government from granting permission to Panama to fly its flag in the Canal Zone without the concurrence of Congress. The Subcommittee on Inter-American Affairs, which I serve as chairman, is continuing to hold hearing on the subject of United States sovereignty in the Canal Zone and will report its findings to Congress when the study is completed.

President to Visit

The importance of our Latin American neighbors will be emphasized during the next few weeks by visits from two distinguished citizens of the United States. Between February 23 and March 3, President Eisenhower will visit four South American nations. Also leaving this month for a tour of Central and South America is the gentleman who was twice defeated by President Eisenhower--Governor Adlai Stevenson.

We are often accused, and is some cases justly so, of neglecting our Latin American friends while we concentrate on other areas of the world. Since the Latin American area is vital to the United States, both from a military and economic standpoint, it is important that we reassure those countires of our friendship and good will.

The visit of President Eisenhower, as President of the United States, and that of Governor Stevenson, as titular head of the Democratic Party, should indicate to our neighbors to the south the importance we attach to their friendship.

3RD. IN SERIES —

VETERANS SHOULD KNOW --

Because of wide-spread interest among veterans and their dependents on the new pension law going into effect later this year, the Chilton County News today prints the third of five columns of pertinent information on the new law. Succeeding columns will appear each week. Cut out and save each column for a complete fact sheet. The following questions, with appropriate answers, were chosen by the Veterans Administration from thousands being asked:

Q. In order to compare the new pension system with the present one, what is the amount of pension a single veteran may receive now?

A. At present any World War I, II or Korean conflict veteran if he is single and drawing a pension receives $66.15 a month unless he is 65 years of age or older, or has been on the pension rolls 10 years, in which event he draws $78.75. Those who become blind or so helpless as to require the reqular aid and attendance of another person, receive $135.45 per month.

Q. Now what will single veterans receive under the new system after July 1, 1960?

A. The new system is planned to relate the amount of pension paid to the need of the pensioner. Thus a veteran without dependents may receive a pension of $85 a month if his annual income is not more than $600; 70 a month if is above $600 but not more than $1200; and $40 a month if his come is more than $1200, but more than $1800. If his ann income is more than $1800 he ceives nothing.

Q. What pension does a veter with dependents receive at pr ent?

A. He receives the same amo of pension as the single veter receives. His only advantage that he may continue to draw t pension if he has an annual inco as high as $2700, whereas the sing veteran cannot draw a pension his annual income exceeds $1400.

Q. How will the veteran w dependents fare under the n system?

A. A veteran with one depe ent may receive $90 a month his annual income is not more th $1000; $75 a month if his ann income is more than $1000 but n more than $2000; and $45 a mon if his annual income is more tha $2000 but not more than $3000 his annual income is more tha $3000, he receives nothing.

Q. What about the veteran wi more than one dependent?

A. A veteran with two depend ents may receive monthly pensi the same three income ranges payments of $95, $75 and $45 ed above. A veteran with thre or more dependents may receiv monthly payments of $100, $75 an $45 in those income ranges.

Q. What will the new system d for veterans who require regul aid and attendance?

sions will be increased $70 a mon

A. Under the new law all pe for veterans who require regul aid and attendance.

LEE BOUNCES CLANTON 70 TO 53

By Wayne Atcheson

The Robert E. Lee Generals bounced the Chilton County High Tigers 70 to 53 last Tuesday, Feb. 2 on Lee's court.

The Lee men hit fifty-five percent of their shots from the floor and netted 12 of 18 foul shots. The Tigers, meanwhile, made thirty-eight percent of their shots and sank 9 of 14 free throws.

Reese Carr Starts Action

Lee wasted no time and got ahead from the start when Reese Carr hit from under the basket to start the atcion. Glenn Gilley pitched in two straight baskets following Carr's field goal and the Generals were off to the races.

The Generals scored 22 points in the first period and the Tigers had rallied for 11. Lee, one of the top teams in the state, still remained hot in the next period and walked off the floor at the half with a commanding 41 to 19 lead.

Takes Out Big Guns

Midway in the third period Coach Leon Ford took some of his big guns out of the game. The big boys had a 30 point lead at one stage of the game before they were taken out.

Then the Tigers stayed up with the Generals in scoring. Jimmy Tiffin, Leroy Atrhur and Clarkie Hutchinson paced the Tigers to only 12 points behind Lee, late in the last period.

4 Players Hit Double Figures

Lee had four players who hit in double figures. They were Woody Weaver and Reese Carr with 13 each, Glenn Gilley with 12, and James Warr with 11.

Vines Clanton High Man

Buddy Vines was Clanton's high scorer for the first time this season with 12 tallies. Jimmy Tiffin ripped the cords with 9, Wayne Mizzell, John Will Wyatt and Clarkie Hutchinson got 8 each, and Leroy Arthur made 7. So the scoring for Clanton was well balanced but it wasn't balanced enough.

Vines also led his team with eight rebounds and Mizzell grabbed five. Glenn Gilley was Lee's top rebounder with ten, and Reese Carr was behind him with seven.

'B' Team Lost Game

The baby Tigers lost their game too, 50 to 43. Jimmy Boyd was red hot for the baby Generals with 18 tallies. Elliot Monroe kept the Tiger Bees in the game with 15 points.

LOOK AT THE LOWER PRICES

List prices as much as $76.05 lower on popular models with popular equipment

The '60 Chevrolet models most people buy, equipped the way most people want them, are actually priced lower than last year's models. This two-tone Bel Air V8 sedan, for example—with Turboglide, push-button radio and de luxe heater—lists for a whole $76.05 less! Prices are lower for all comparable V8 models throughout the line. Also for all comparable 6-cylinder models with Powerglide. Yet Chevy's loaded with more of the things that put pleasure into owning a car. (Just look at the list!) It's the greatest year yet to get into a Chevy!

Softer, more silent ride with coil springs at all four wheels and new butyl rubber-cushioned body mounts.

Big brakes for quicker, surer stops. Rivetless bonded linings mean they last longer, too.

More room to relax in. Chevy sedans offer roomier seating than any car in their class. Lower, narrower transmission tunnel means more foot room.

Only full wraparound windshield among the leading low-priced cars.

Electric windshield wipers keep sweeping even when you speed up to pass.

Vent windows crank open and closed. So much simpler than fighting those tricky little catches.

Keyless locking of all doors. Quick and easy. The same key opens door, glovebox, trunk and starts the car.

Economy Turbo-Fire V8. Or how to get up to 10% more miles per gallon of regular and still have lots of "git."

Thriftiest 6 in any full-size car. It's the '60 version of the engine that got 22.38 miles per gallon in the 1959 Mobilgas Economy Run.

Widest choice of power teams. 24 engine-transmission teams in all, with output up to 335 h.p.

A trunk that's made for long trips with up to 22.5% more actual luggage space. Sill's lower for easier loading.

Fisher Body craftsmanship. Look at the finish, the fabrics, the detail work. You'll see the difference.

CANDIDATES who have qualified and announced their intentions to make a race for public office come May (Demo. Primaries of 3rd and 31st) are: Glen T. Bashore and Joseph J. (Joe) Mullins for the new Circuit Judgeship; Judge J. B. Atkinson for re-election as Judge of County Court of Chilton County.

Encumbents Seek Another Term

Charles L. Patterson seeks re-election as Tax Assessor of Chilton County as does George D. Smith, Tax Collector. They are unchallenged thus far.

Coming up to the "go" line for County Treasurer is a newcomer to politics and just about the prettiest face in the running so far, Mildred D. Burnett of Stanton. She also is unopposed.

Board of Revenue Races

The races for the two places on the Board of Revenue & Control are, as usual, a hot spot. There is no such thing, it seems, as an unopposed candidate for a place on the Board. Running in District 4 is encumbent Reedie L. Hilyer challenged by newcomer Acie L. Mims, an old Chilton County resident.

The most contended for position in all the political offices seems to be District 3 of the Board of Revenue and Control. Challenging oldtimer Sherman Motley for his position on the Board are E. L. (Buddy) Lawley, B. T. Adams and Clyde C. Lenoir all of Maplesville, Rt. 2. This one will be well worth the watching.

The race for the Democratic primaries is obviously going to be interesting and downright competitive in some fields, as you can see. Keep up with the different candidates through the pages of your Chilton County News.

District Office For '60 Bureau of Census

The District Office for the 1960 Bureau of the Census has been assigned to Tuscaloosa by the Department of Commerce in Washington.

The District Office for Tuscaloosa, Bibb, Chilton, Greene, Hale Perry, Shelby and Sumter Counties has been officially opened and is located at 2209 8th. St., (at the rear of the old Tuscaloosa News Business Office.

District Supervisor

Mr. J. P. Standridge has been appointed District Supervisor; Miss Eleanor Lawless an Technical Officer and Mrs. M. C. Rumley, Jr., as the Administrative Clerk. (Other office staff members report on duty at a later date.)

All of the preliminary preparation is under way for the BIG COUNT, as stipulated in the Constitution of the United States.

Accuracy Is Vital Part

As you know, much depends upon an accurate Census count and the public will need to be informed of the importance of supplying the Enumerators with the answers to each of the questions asked, in full. They will need to know that all answers will be treated with strict confidence and nothing they say will be used in any other way than statistical.

Primary Use of Census

The primary use of pouplation figures will be to determine the number of Representatives each State may send to the United States Congress. After the 1960 Census some States will gain and some will lose Congressmen.

Important To Local People

Local governments will use Census information about population and housing in planning for new schools and recreational centers. Businessmen will use Census figures on population, age and income to help determine the need of new supermarkets, laundries, restaurants and other services. The building industry will use Census information on the age, condition and the number of vacant and occupied houses to help plan when and where to construct new buildings. Everywhere in the United States, people who work with everything from saefty pins to satellites will be able to do their work more effectively because of the statistics provided by the Census.

Mr. B. E. Reeves Writes To Voters

Many citizens have urged me to announce for re-election as County Treasurer, and they are entitled to an answer.

For several reasons, mainly because more of my time is required in my business connections, and the fact that now I am working too many hours and with too much responsibilities, tensions can be caused that could be detrimental to one's health. After much thought, I have decided that I will not be a candidate for re-election as County Treasurer, or candidate for any office, at this time.

I do wish to thank the voters for having given me the opportunity to serve them as County Treasurer for the past three terms. I thank all the other County Officials with whom I have served, for their kind cooperation with me at all times.

When I was first a Candidate, I promised the citizens that I would perform the duties of the office as efficiently, honestly, and to the best of my ability, with showing any partiality to any person or group. This I have done. It has been a great experience and I shall always cherish it.

I wish the best to my successor in office, who ever it will be, and all those other officials who will be elected to serve in the future.

Thanks to everyone.

Sincerely,
B. E. REEVES

FOLKS and THINGS About Town

by Ben

THE City has a new garbage truck. The big new truck will hold 16 cubic yards of ground garbage where the old truck just held 13 yards. It had got to where the old truck, what with being in the garage part time, couldn't make the rounds. You can look for better service on your garbage pick-up rounds in the future.

YOU know, these little Police Departments around Clanton aren't to be sneezed at. Monday two convicts escaped from Kilby Prison at Montgomery. Just after midnight that night they were picked up at Thorsby by the Thorsby Police. They had made two mistakes. One was stealing a State automobile to make their get-a-way, and the other was going through Thorsby.

THAT same night, Monday, the Maplesville police picked up two small run-a-ways from the Methodist Home at Montgomery. They were two small boys, ages 9 and [illegible] years. A little too small to get far.

CLYDE Mims daughter, Mary Clyde Merrell lives in Andalusia. She also teaches music there. She was asked recently to help in a "Barn Dance" type operetta there which to say the least is a bit out of Mary Clydes line. But under the circumstances she offered to help and do her best--her's being more the classical line of music. Anyway, during the show, which incidentally turned out fine, someone made the remark that they were surprised that Mrs. Merrill would lower her dignity to such an extent. Overhearing the remark was Jean Blalock, an old Chilton County girl, "shucks you don't know her Dad at Clanton, he acts like that all the time".

CONGRATULATIONS to "Skeeter" Stokes on the formal opening of their new home. It is modern in every respect and it is an asset to Clanton and Chilton County. If you get time go up there Saturday and see their new building. They're proud of it and we're proud for them.

TOLD you ten years ago they needed a new courthouse.

SEE Acie Mims running all over Beat 4, or should we say District Four urging the voters to support him in his race for the Board of Revenue & Control. Acie is a local businessman being co-owner of the City Tire Service in South Clanton. Acie will be a hard boy to beat. He is young and a go-getter. You other birds better keep this in mind during this race.

DURNG World War II a buck private and a sergeant were courtmartialed for striking an officer. When questioned, the sergeant explained that the colonel, while passing down the line of review, stepped on his sore foot. "Instinctively I threw up my guard and let him have it before I realized what had happened," he said. He added "I assure you it was an accident."

When the buck private was asked for his explanation. "Well, sir", he replied, "when I saw the sergeant striking the colonel, I thought the war was over".

People Choose To Build New Structure On Present Location

TUESDAY'S election held for the purpose of deciding on 19 state amendments created very little interest in the voters of the county. However, along with the amendment election the ballot as to whether Chilton County would have a new Courthouse, and where did bring out about a 20 percent vote.

The County over whelmingly voted for a new courthouse, but as to where the new building would be put was rather close compared with the vote on the new Courthouse itself.

Below is a beat by beat count of the vote on the Courthouse and the count on where the building was to be located:

A little knowledge is a dangerous thing--especially if the party is in politics and the other fellow knows more.

Snow -- A Novelty

THERE is no telling just how deep the snow fall would have measured here Saturday had the ground not been soaking wet from hours of rain.

As it was the youngsters got a good idea what snow looks like and had the opportunity to throw a few snowballs. Sunday morning it was cold, but the snow was leaving fast--gone, but not forgotten.

Tourists through Alabama probably thought they had been reading their geography and "tourist information" wrong about the warmth and beauty of the "Deep South".

Anyway, come again in about thirty days and we'll show you.

Hats Off To FFA --

In Alabama and throughout the nation, Future Farmers of America will celebrate February 20-27 as National FFA Week.

Fifteen thousand from Alabama along with 380 thousand members from other states will rededicate themselves to the purposes of their organization and do their best to let their friends and neighbors know what FFA is, what it does, and why it is important to everyone.

Individual FFA Chapters will conduct their own local programs which will include banquets, broadcasts, programs at Civic Club meetings, contests and games, programs in school assembly, barbecue and fish fries, tours, parades, and numerous other ways.

Vocational Agriculture and the FFA constitute the most effective program yet developed for training boys to be good farmers and helping them to become established in farming and other agricultural occupations of their choice.

In view of the nation's need for new farmers, and since only half enough are being trained, it is fitting that recognition be given those young men who are preparing for careers in farming. Encouragement at this time will do much to stimulate them to harder work and great achievement.

National FFA Week comes each year during the anniversary of the birthday of George Washington. Although usually considered first as a great general, George Washington's first love was his farm at Mount Vernon. He was one of the first to practice crop rotation, contour planting, and other soil conserving methods.

On the state level, the FFA is sponsored by the State Department of Education, with the State Supervisor of Agricultural Education serving as State FFA advisor. Other members of his staff also help with the work. Nationally, FFA is sponsored by the Agricultural Education Branch of the U. S. Office of Education in Washington.

FFA is not the largest organization in the world-although we can say that it is the largest "farm boy" organization - but every Future Farmer is an active, interested, and participating member. We have an organization that encourages its members to put their shoulders to the wheel and push when something needs doing.

THINGS We see and hear

by BOB

WHOEVER it was said it didn't ever snow in the deep South was wrong! We just saw a truck load of snow go by the office window!

THE fascination of snow, and there definitely is a fascination down here where we see very little of it, is the quietness of its coming. Soft rain is soothing when it falls upon the rooftop; wind is sometimes awesome in its wild independent ways; snow is inspiring and soothing in its quiet majestic way. As some might express it; it doesn't snap, crackle or pop, it just falls silently and lays there! We'll say one thing, no matter how hard they try to imitate it or take its place with synthetic ideas, there is nothing that looks quite as soft as a snow bank! Not even a cloud.

SAW our good friend Donald Yeargan down at the Eastbrook Piggly Wiggly sore last Friday afternoon. Don is getting "broke in" to the way they do things at Piggly Wiggly so he will be ready to go to work when they get the store here in Clanton finished and ready for the customers. He said he thought scheduled opening was for the first of March, but klinkers along the way have postponed opening date some weeks or so. Still, we know it's a comin', so look for your old buddies Cecil Ramsey and Donald Yeargan, among others when the new Piggly Wiggly comes to Clanton!

OTT Miller said we were a lot wittier on Thursday night than we obviously were whenever we wrote this gem we call a masterpiece, so we took his "advice?" and wrote part of it then. Shall we tell him now, or do you think he'll get the full message when he absorbs this installment?

ONCE upon a time, when we were just a young sprout we had bestowed upon us what we thought at the time to be a rather dubious honor; we were chosen as President of the Junior Citizen's Club in Mrs. L. C. Warr's room at Clanton Elementary School. Since that time we have, of course learned there was nothing at all dubious about the honor and the experience was after all, a rewarding one for us. We are now indebted to the Junior Citizen's Club, their President Jack Moore and Mrs. Warr for bestowing upon us another and even more significant honor and that is considering us seriously enough to write us some thank you letters for giving their club a bit of space in our column. The space had to do with the Club's actions in raising funds for the March of Dimes and we can only say they deserve praise from more worthy hands than ours. Fan mail, if we may call it that, is most uplifting to anyone, but we were never more sincere when we say that Mrs. Warr and teachers like her are to our way of thinking, the unsung heroes of modern day education and do not get the credit, honors and prestige they deserve. If any hand guiding our children's future is sound, solid and thorough in its purpose and in it's success it is that of a teacher such as Mrs. Warr who devotes much of her time to showing our youngsters how to be better Americans. Our hat is of to her and the Junior Citizens and we personally guarantee that if ever you dear reader, need a job well done. . . we know where to get your help! Thanks again Citizens and we'd like to take you up sometime on that invitation to visit with your Club. It would be a rewarding experience indeed!

WE were just thinking: you know, Ott Miller is about the only person we know (outside of our mother) whom we can tell, if he doesn't like what we write, to quit readin' it! We're afraid to do that with most folks 'cause we have to assume that they might take us literally. Believe me, after you get the bread buttered, you sure don't want to just throw it out the window!

LAST week was Boy Scouts of America week and the Clanton Troop "Scoutmastered" by Harry Loyd was recognized at First Methodist Church on Sunday as the fine group which they are and the amazing organization they represent. Mr. Loyd has done mighty fine for himself and the community since coming to Clanton about a year ago and we sincerely hope he will continue in this rewarding work. . . and also that some of his community spirit will rub off on some of the old-timers around who don't see fit to take part in community affairs and therefore do not appreciate their community to the fullest!

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

A compromise version of a bill that will permit higher federal payments for water pollution control was approved by the House last week and referred to the Senate. Both chambers passed legislation to expand the Federal Water Pollution Control Act last year, but the differences in the two versions were not worked out before Congress adjourned.

As passed by members of the House on a voice vote, the bill raises from $500 million to $900 million the present ceiling on long-range federal grants to help local communities build sewage disposal plants. It would also permit an increase in annual expenditures for the water pollution control program from $50 million to $90 million.

Since the program was initiated four years ago, approximately $185 million has been appropriated for various sewage disposal projects across the nation. Several cities in the 6th District have received a portion of these funds.

Matching Funds

Funds appropriated under the Water Pollution Control Act are made available to municialities on a matching basis with the federal share limited to 30 percent of the total cost of a project. In no event, however, can federal funds for any one project exceed $250,000 under present law. The measure passed by the House last week raises this ceiling to $450,000.

Although the pollution control measure is expected to be passed by the Senate, its chances for Presidential endorsement appear to be slim. The President is opposed to the authorization of further funds for this program and has asked that Congress limit actual cash appropriations under the Pollution Control Act to $20 million.

Rocket Team Transfer

Also passed by the House last week was a resolution designed to make effective immediately the proposed transfer of Dr. Wernher von Braun's rocket team from the Department of the Army to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. This transfer was requested by the President on January 14 and would automatically take effect 60 days from that date provided Congress failed to act adverseily on it within the two months' period. The resolution passed by House members waives the 60-day rule and permits the transfer to become effective immediately.

Secretary of the Army Brucker has indicated that it will not be possible to transfer the rocket research group immediately. Yet, he believes enactment of the House resolution will expedite the transfer plan and will also be helpful in removing employment uncertainties for those now connected with Dr. von Braun's Development Operations Division of the Ballistic Missile Agency.

Although a small percentage of the personnel will be offered an opportunity to remain with the Army in order to maintain that department's weapons system management capability, most of the team will be transferred to the new National Aeronautics and Space Administration. However, the rocket organization will continue to be located at Redstone Arsenal in Huntsville.

REPORT ON SCHOOLS

Romero Is Gratified Over Survey; More Taxes For Education Urged

Secretary of Education Jose E. Romero said yesterday he was greatly gratified over findings of the general education survey team composed of American and Filipino educators.

Romero spent almost the whole day listening to reports from:

Dr. J. Chester Swanson, chairman of the team, who reported on vocational education; Dr. Arthur Hearn on secondary education; Dr. Delos P. Culp, organization and administration; Dr. Earle Hawkins, teacher education, and Dr. John U. Mitchaelis, elementary education.

In substance, the reports were the same as those given Tuesday to the Phillippine Public Schools Teachers association and the Phillippine Association of Superintendents and Supervisors.

Romero said that the reports indicated that the education department "has been doing a pretty good job despite finanical difficulties."

The reports confirmed the fact that we are giving back praiseworthy services to the public and that their money has been usefully spent," he declared.

Romero said that the recommendations given by the team were of two kinds: those requiring money and those that do not require money.

"We shall, of course, proceed with the non-money proposals first and the rest, later, when funds will be forthcoming," he said.

He said Dr. Culp's recommendations on administration and organizations were especially helpful since he had been considering reorganizing the present set-up in the department.

Dr. Culp had traced Phili education's financial trouble the tax problem. He recomm that taxes be raised for the fit of better education.

He pointed out—and Secr Romero agreed—that the P pines' taxes were much, much er than those of other cou particularly Great Britain an U.S.

Romero said that the iss jacking up taxes had always sidestepped by politicians. He ed on the press to point o the people the need for taxes for education.

Mrs. Geronima Pecson, chai of the Unesco national co sion for the Phillippines, said public forums in the provinces c help in the drive to raise taxe

Recalling her experiences as senator, Mrs. Pecson said she public forums some years ago they resulted in her successful temps to pass two bills raising salaries of teachers.

She pointed out the great re Filipinos had for education. families have mortgaged or properties to see their chi through school, she said. " may kick over taxes for items, but certainly not educa

Dr. Culp spoke next on the cational expenditures per stu In 1920, $22.73 were spent on student. In 1930, the sum $25.61.

In 1955, $48.69 were spen each pupil, but according to National Economic Council, sum was worth only $16.12 in war currency. In 1958, the spent on each student was $ but was worth only $24.12 ac ing to N.E.C.'s prewar peso

Dr. Culp indicated that many lions of pesos were needed to grade Philippine education. said that there were many ed tional services the Filipino pa did not know about yet.

But one they were acqu with these new services, they demand it, he said.

Educational TV Presents Program For Non-Readers

THE Chilton County Rural Development Health Education and Welfare Chairman, W. A. HISTORY

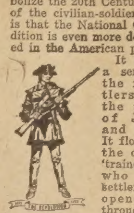
In The Fore In Peace and War

The National Guard tradition of service to country and community is an unbroken line which links the missile age of today with the era of the Minute Man.

Although the heroic figure of the Minute Man and the "Spirit of '76" have come to symbolize the 20th Century concept of the civilian-soldier, the fact is that the National Guard tradition is even more deeply-rooted in the American past.



It began, in a sense, when the first settlers patrolled the perimeters of Jamestown and Plymouth. It flourished in the courageous 'trained bands' who protected settlements and opened roads through primeval forest.

The colonists' philosophy was that an able-bodied man would "join the avocation of a soldier" to whatever business or trade happened to be livelihood. This was the philosophy which led to the reliance that was to be placed in the militia over the years. An American phenomenon, it defied the European tradition that arms were to be borne only by"professionals" led by noblemen.

Nevertheless, Colonial militia forces fought shoulder to shoulder with the British in the French and Indian Wars. They helped win the siege of Louisbourg with skill which startled the professionals. British noblemen were inclined to look down their noses at "a regiment of New England farmers and fishermen — led by a lumber merchant!"

Britain's professionals and noblemen would meet these provincials again.

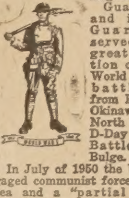
It began, the history books tell us, at Lexington, Massachussetts. This is where the tradition of the Minute Man got its impetus.

What is now known as the "National Guard" was first the Organized Militia. The term National Guard was first associated with the militia in 1824 when the 2nd Battalion, 11th New York Artillery (later, the famous 7th Regiment) was selected to serve as guard of honor for the visiting Marquis de Lafayette. The New Yorkers promptly re-named their outfit the "National Guard" in deference to his "Garde Nationale."

Of great importance to the military structure of the U. S. was the passage of, first, the Dick Act of 1903 which set the stage for modernizing the Guard along the same lines as the Regular Army. The National Defense Act of 1916 officially bestowed the title "National Guard" upon the elements of the old Organized Militia, ordered the organization of the Guard to conform to that of the Army itself. This established the Guard firmly as a part-of the Nation's organized peacetime establishment as well as an integral part of the Army of the United States when in active service.

In 1916 some 159,000 Guardsmen were mobilized for duty along the Mexican Border. In World War I the National Guard furnished 17 divisions. Eleven of them saw service under General Pershing in the AEF. Of eight U. S. divisions rated "excellent" or "superior" by the German High Command, six were National Guard divisions.

In August 1940, the President of the United States ordered the National Guard into active military service. This brought into service more than 300,000 men in 18 combat divisions as well as numerous non-divisional units and 29 air observation squadrons. This at one stroke doubled the strength of our traditionally meager peacetime Regular Army.



Guard units and individual Guardsmen served with great distinction on every World War II battlefront from Bataan to Okinawa, from North Africa to D-Day and the Battle of the Bulge.

In July of 1950 the U. S. engaged communist forces in Korea and a "partial mobilisation" of our forces took place. During 1950-53, 183,000 members of the National Guard saw active service. Eight infantry divisions, 22 air wings, and hundreds of other units of both the Army and the Air National Guard were ordered to duty. Two divisions were hurried to bolster our forces in Europe; two divisions and two air wings were rushed to Korea.

Battle-tested and time-tested, the National Guard up-to-the Minute Men are ready today just as they have always been ready, willing and able in over 300 years of service to country and community.

Try These February Mates

FNS

THERE are two kinds of foods . . . those pantry shelf musts . . . which mix and match year 'round, but have special appeal during the winter months. Think about the many combinations, interesting variations, and new ideas which can be developed with these two great foods . . . soups and crackers.

As a starter we suggest these soup combinations, perfect for serving from a plain or fancy tureen, and simply wonderful served with cracker variations. Try one or all for lunches, snacks, after-play times, or for the "drop-in-guest" occasions when a "hurry up" is the thing of the hour!

SOUPS GO TOGETHER LIKE THIS:

Combine: 1 can (11 ounces) condensed beef soup + 1 can (10½ ounces) beef broth + 1 soup can water:

Combine: 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed beef noodle soup + 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed green pea soup + 2 soup cans water.

Combine: 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of chicken soup + 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed chicken with rice soup + 1½ soup cans water.

Combine: 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of celery soup + 1 can (11 ounces) condensed beef soup + 1½ soup cans water.

Combine: 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of asparagus soup + 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed clam chowder + 2 soup cans water.

GOOD CRACKER VARIATIONS ARE:

Cheese 'n Herb Crackers

Sprinkle crackers (saltines or plain soda crackers) with shredded sharp Cheddar cheese; sprinkle with leaf oregano. Broil until bubbling.

Herb Nibbles

Brush crackers with melted butter. Sprinkle with herb or seasoning. Broil until lightly toasted.

Suggestions: sesame seed crackers sprinkled with dried parsley or paprika unsalted soda crackers sprinkled with garlic salt

Tangy Crackers

Spread crackers (saltines or plain soda crackers) with cream cheese with bacon and horseradish; broil a few minutes.

For A February Bridge Party

IS it your turn to entertain at bridge? This means your best foot forward in the food department.

February is the month of celebrations, and your theme can be taken from one of these. Serve a hearty soup in your prettiest soup bowls. Your best delicate china and a centerpiece attractively done with small red rosebuds create a pretty table. Use lots of green fern too; it lends the delicate "feminine air" for the bridge foursome.

Mix and match two chicken soups . . . the canned condensed kind . . . cream of chicken and chicken vegetable. Make the combination hearty enough for an entree with ham strips; for color add chopped parsley. In case you want a red-hued soup for Valentine's Day, make it TOMATO BEEF DUET. Crisp crackers as go-withs add crunch.

To complete the luncheon menu, all you'll need is a light dessert of canned or fresh fruit and crisp-thin cookies Demi-tasse or herbed tea for the beverage

Bridge Party Special

½ cup diced cooked ham
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of chicken soup
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed chicken vegetable soup
2 soup cans water
1 tablespoon chopped parsley

In saucepan, brown ham lightly in butter Stir in soups, water and parsley Heat. Makes 4 servings.

Tomato Beef Duet

1 can (10½ ounces) condensed tomato soup
1 can (11 ounces) condensed beef soup
2 soup cans water

Blend soups and water; heat. Makes 4 generous servings.

Beef Gravy For Meatball Quickie

Meatballs are extra special when cooked in canned beef gravy For a quickie, try this: Lightly mix 1 pound ground beef 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, ½ teaspoon salt and dash black pepper Shape into 16 small meatballs; brown in 1 tablespoon butter or margarine. Stir in ½ cup sliced mushrooms and 1 can (10¾ ounces) beef gravy. Simmer until meat is done—about 10 minutes. Serve to 4 hungry people with fluffy mashed potatoes. FNS

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

from The Bible

For Thou art my hope, O Lord God; Thou art my trust from my youth.

—(Psalm 71:5)

In the vigor of youth, one inclines to assume that his strength will overcome all obstacles and insure success, without any other help. But how joyous and useful life will become when youth realizes the need of the love of God, and His guidance and His help, which are so freely given.

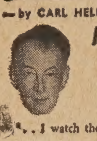
LOCAL MERCHANTS ARE WELL REPRESENTED IN CHILTON COUNTY NEWS

— by CARL HELM



From my front porch...

'. . I watch the world go by.'

For several generations New York has had its Greenwich Village and so-called "Bohemians"—adventurous, ambitious youngsters lured from almost every state by the rewards of success in the arts.

They gathered in the cheap-rent section of lower Manhattan; from dingy rooms and garrets came poems of Edna St. Vincent Millay, novels of Theodore Dreiser, plays of Eugene O'Neill, and works of lesser lights.

Then huge apartment buildings began crowding downtown into the little neighborhood; the old houses are rapidly being razed, rents soaring, the end of New York's "Bohemia" may be near.

Meanwhile, on the opposite coast, a new one emerges on the steep streets and alleys of San Francisco's Telegraph Hill. There, in tiny "coffee houses," hold forth the "beatniks" with their modern rhythms in music and art. What lasting literature, if any, they will create remains to be seen.

And midway between the coasts — in Chicago — there quietly has been evolving a growing colony of young artists and writers neither "Bohemian" nor "beatnik" in tastes or talents. It has not been ballyhooed, fortunately, and from it may come real, lasting contributions to American art.

It is in a respectable neighborhood of our second city's "Near North," among the venerable mansions of what was Chicago's "Gold Coast." Most of the wealthy old families long since have departed; along tree-lined little streets abide serious youngsters (and a few off-beat beards!) whose pursuit of the arts is worth watching.

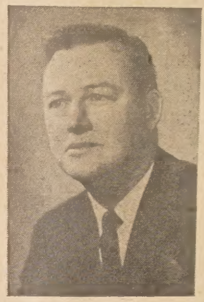
Selden Announces For 5th Term Re-Election



U. S. Representative Armistead Selden, who is presently serving his fourth term as a Member of Congress from the Sixth Alabama District, announced today that he will be a candidate for re-election in the May 3rd Democratic primary.

Congressman Selden is now the sixth ranking member of the important Committee on Foreign Affairs. He serves also as Chairman of the Inter-American Subcommittee which has jurisdiction over the Latin American area. In view of this nation's vital role in world affairs, the Alabama Congressman's present position continues to be a strategic one in American government. For three consecutive years, Rep. Selden has been appointed by House Speaker Sam Rayburn as a delegate to the NATO Parliamentarians' Conference.

On the home front, Selden has fought consistently to secure for the farmers their fair share of the national income and to maintain segregation in the South. He has received nation wide recognition for his efforts to enact legislation that will prohibit the issuance of passports to known communists and for his support of measures designed to preserve the rights of the individual states. At the same time, Congressman Selden has also played a leading role in the multi-million-dollar development of Alabama's waterways and the further industrialization of the Sixth District.

Selden has kept in close touch with his constituents during his tenure in office by writing a weekly newspaper column, maintaining a year-round office in Tuscaloosa, and visiting throughout his district during the congressional recesses. In the House of Representatives, he has consistently maintained an attendance and voting record equalled by few in the entire Congress. For attending sessions of the House and voting on the issues, his overall average to date is more than 99%.

In announcing his candidacy, Congressman Selden said, "I am deeply grateful to the people of the 6th District for their past support and cooperation. If re-elected in the forthcoming Democratic primary, I shall continue to the very best of my ability to serve well all the fine people of the eight counties I have the privilege to represent."

Don't Drive In Foggy Daze

By Martha Johnson
Dodge Safety Consultant

"WHAT SHOULD I do when driving in fog?"

This question is heard frequently, particularly now that the weather is so changeable.

The best advice for driving in fog, according to the Michigan State University Highway Traffic Safety Center at East Lansing, is:

1—Reduce your speed. If visibility is low, crawl.

2—Put headlights on low beam. During the day headlights will help other drivers see you; parking lights are not effective enough for this. At night, the low beam reduces glare and throws light down on the road. If fog is very heavy, switch off panel lights on the dashboard.

3—Roll down left front window so you can hear the traffic.

4—Drive as close as possible to right edge of road. Do not ride center line or use it as a guide—oncoming traffic may be using it, too.

5—Use your windshield wipers.

6—Don't attempt to pass.

7—Don't follow car ahead too closely and don't rely on it as a guide.

8—Avoid sudden stops and signal your intention to stop well in advance by flashing your brake lights.

9—Flash turn signals well in advance and take special care in making left turns.

Continued Research On Pesticides Needed

Many chemicals are required in modern farming.

However, continued research is important for solving the increasing number of problems relating to the use of chemicals in farming and other operations. At a recent meeting of the Agricultural Research Policy Committee of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, immediate expansion in pesticide research was urged. This research will make it possible for agriculture to continue supplying the goods necessary for the country's present high standard of living.

MALARIA—THE OLDEST RECODRDED DISEASE

More people suffer from malaria than any other disease—hundreds of millions. More than 3,500,000 deaths from malaria occur annually throughout the world. It is estimated that one-third of the world's population is infected with the disease. Malaria is the oldest recorded disease. It is referred to in ancient Chineses, Chaldean and Hindu tests.

Malaria is credited with contributing to the collapse of both the Grek and Roman empires. It attacked the Gauls when they besieged Rome, and it plagued the soldiers of many nations during the recent Korean War. The malarial parasite is found in the anopheles mosquito which breeds in ponds, swamps, and any place where there is stagnant water. The ancients realized this fact, and the Romans dug drainage canals to dry up the swamps.

The Indians of Peru long ago discovered that the bark of the quinaquina tree could end a victim's attack of maralia. Spanish explorers tried to keep this knowledge a secret, but French scientists learned of it and were able to isolate quinine from the bark, and it proved the curative agent. Now anti-malarial drugs have been synthesized, and new drugs such as mepacrine or atabrine and chloroquine have proved more effective than quinine.

Malaria is characterized by intermittent chills and fever, and the parasite causes destruction of red blood cells, resulting in anemia. Travelers from this country to warm or tropical regions can be provided with antimalarial drugs. Drugs, if taken regularly at short intervals, prevent a person from contracting malaria even if bitten by an infected mosquito.

Jemison Lad to Represent Chilton At State Meet in Birmingham

The Alabama FFA State Officers and 67 County FFA President will be the guests of the agriculture committee of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce for two days, February 18 and 19.

Ralph Littleton from the Jemison chapter will represent Chilton County in Birmingham during the two days festivities. L. C. Shields is his local advisor.

Upon arrival the boys will register at the FFA booth in the lobby of the Thomas Jefferson Hotel according to J. A. Beaty, Manager, Agriculture Department, Birmingham Chamber of Commerce. They will visit the Birmingham Food Terminal, Farmers Market, and other points of interest in the city during the first afternoon.

At 6:30 p.m. the FFA delegates will be guests of the Alabama State Fair for a banquet in the Jefferson Room of the Thomas Jefferson Hotel. Also, that night they will be treated to a picture Show Party at the Alabama Theatre by M. C. Glohon, manager of the theatre.

Next morning the Future Farmers will be guests of the Standard Oil Company for breagfast at Britling's Cafeteria, and then make an educational tour of Birmingham Industries.

At noon the group will be guests of the Birmingham Agricultural Club for a luncheon in the Windsor Room of the Thomas Jefferson Hotel. After this the boys will return to their homes throughout the state.

Looking at several of Alabama's major crops we find that farmers are now receiving 79 percent of parity for cotton, 56 percent for corn, 62 percent for sweet potatoes, 81 percent for peanuts, and 69 percent for soybeans .

Fertilizer Mistakes Can Rob Profits

"Fertilizer is one of the largest expenditures in the farming business today," declares Dr. Walter Sowell.

This statement by the Auburn University Extension Service soils specialist concerns the fact that fertilizer costs amount to about $50 million each year. And this is about 20 percent of the total cash costs of production. "Despite these high figures, fertilizer is still the best buy that the Alabama farmer has," according to Dr. Sowell.

Auburn University has conducted extensive research and established a soil test laboratory to help farmers use fertilizer more efficiently, explains Dr. Sowell. Besides this, the Experiment Station conducts research to determine the amount and ratios of fertilizer that produce the greatest return on each of the major soil types in the state.

"When a soil sample is sent to the laboratory, an inventory is taken of the soil to determine the available plant nutrients," points out the specialist. "With this inventory, plus the research findings the laboratory can recommend the most profitable fertilization program for that particular soil and crop. This enables the farmer to make a wise decision in the purchase and use of fertilizer. And the program can help the farmer make more profit, which means a healthier economy for the entire state."

Since cash costs in farming are high, it's too costly to make mistakes. Therefore, urges Dr. Sowell, all production practices and resources need to be studied carefully. If your soil has not been tested in the last three years, he recommends that you see your County agent for details on soil testing for greater profits.

Hubert - Collins Vows Said 7th

Miss Priscilla Frances Hubert and Airman 3C James Ervin Collins exchanged marriage vows at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the West End Baptist Church of Clanton, Ala.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Thomas Hadaway Hubert, Jr., the late Mr. Hubert and Mr. and Mrs. William Alford Collins of Thorsby.

Candles were lighted by Thomas Swanner and Bobby Ray Cook, who were also ushers. Other ushers were Tommy Hubert, brother of the birde, and Lynn Easterling.

The couple's vows were repeated to Dr. J. Gilbert Hutchinson, pastor of the First Baptist Church. Rev. Cecil Little had the prayers. The double ring ceremony took place before an improvised alter entwined with southern smilax with standards of white burning tapers glowing. On either side of the arch were tall white baskets of glads and white mums interspersed with fern artistically arranged.

The center pews of the sanctuary were marked with large bows of white ribbon for members of the cuples families and other relatives.

Nuptial music and the traditional wedding marches were played by Miriam Golden, organist, who accompanied Mr. Roy Wood as he sang, "I'll Walk Beside Thee" and "I Love Thee". As a fervent benediction Mr. Wood sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride chose for her maid of honor, Miss Sharon Brooks Hubert, her sister. Bridesmaids were Misses Janet Carol Ramsay of Chattanooga, Tenn., Esther Jean Jones and Bennie Gail Collins, sister of the groom.

They wore street-length frocks of pastel blue brocade with matching waistbands of satin and matching bandeaux with veils. Miss Huberts bouquet was of white carnations. The other attendants carried bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Little Miss Penny Norris was flower girl. Her dress was of matching blue. She carried a basket of rose petals.

The ring bearer was, Royce Collins, who carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

MR. CHILTON —

Changes In Cotton Program Apply To You

Chilton County farmers should be certain that they understand recent changes in the law in order to fully protect their cotton acreage allotments for each year beginning with 1960.

Briefly, to protect your allotment the following requirements apply: 1. Plant at least 75 percent of your 1960 allotment; or

2. Release at least 75 percent of your 1960 allotment to the ASC County Committee; or

3. Acreage planted plus acreage released be at least 75 percent of 1960 allotment.

If your allotment has been released for the last two years, at least 75 percent of the 1960 allotment must be planted to avoid loss of allotment.

If you are in doubt as to what must be done on your farm to protect the allotment, you should check with the ASC Office.

Excluding acreage which it appears will be in the Conservation Reserve Program, some 10,000 acres of cotton under Plan (A) may be planted. Those choosing the (B) allotment can of course increase acreage by 40 percent.

Again let us remind you that the closing date for releasing allotments or applying for additional acreage to plant is March 15, 1960.

A shopping bag containing cleaning rags, brushes, and powders hung on a door knob in the room that is being cleaned will save many steps.

Warren Edwards Back In Uniform

by Wayne Atcheson

THIS is Warren Edwards, you remember who was injured on October 9 against Columbiana in a (football not basketball) game.

Warren came back to school at the beginning of the second semester, after staying in the hospital for eight weeks and six days, and I might say that all of this time, except a few days, he spent lying flat of his back.

He stayed in traction for exactly six weeks. In case you have forgotten he suffered a fractured vertebra.

Warren wore a cast around his upper body for eight or nine weeks after being removed from the hospital. Now he is wearing a brace. Warren took the brace off long enough the other day to have this picture made for the annual.

It is hard to keep this sports loving young lad out of the sports picture even though he can't play. Warren is the manager for the Clanton High Basketballers.

This week Warren was elected class favorite by his class.

We are happy to see you back in uniform, Warren.

Time To Plant And Prune Trees

Before planting shrubs and trees, be sure to select good plants that are appropriate for your landscape and free of diseases and insects.

Troy Keeble, Extension specialist in ornamental horticulture, recommends digging a hole that is at least twice the size of the root spread. The soil directly around the plant should have plenty of organic matter, and the rich topsoil should be kept separate from the subsoil when the hole is dug. When the tree is set, place this topsoil in direct contact with the roots of the plan ball.

According to the Auburn University specialist, the plant should be set about half an inch higher than its origional depth so that it will be about the same dept when it settles.

Now is also a good time to prune evergreen and late summer and fall flowering shrubs, says Keeble. However, do not prune spring flowering plants because this will destroy the flower buds that have already formed and cause you to lose much of the spring flower crop.

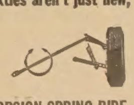
WORTH MORE BECAUSE THEY WORK MORE!

Compare this list of Chevy advances with the features ordinary trucks are still talking about. You'll see why Chevy trucks get more work done in a day . . . why they go extra thousands of miles before trade-in time. These Sturdi-Bilt Sixties aren't just new, they're a full scale revolution!



TORSION-SPRING RIDE

Each front wheel, suspended independently of the other, is free to step individually over bumps. And shockproof torsion springs up front soak up the jars and jolts before they reach the body. With three rugged new tailored-to-the-truck rear suspensions to further reduce road shocks, Chevy gives you the smoothest truck ride you've ever felt.

NO SHIMMY, NO WHEEL FIGHT

Drive a '60 Chevy. Just once. Right away you'll notice the absence of I-beam shimmy and wheel fight common on ordinary trucks.

With independent front suspension there's a brand-new, smoother, easier handling feel behind the wheel.

CABS FOR BIG GUYS

Big guys get a bigger break in a Chevy cab. There's plenty of space inside to stretch out and relax; more room for hats and hips, more room for wide shoulders and long legs. There's horizon-wide visibility through a windshield with 26% more glass area; a new see-at-a-glance instrument panel. Cabs are safer, too, up to 67% more rigid.

6'S SWORN TO SAVE

Chevy's 6-cylinder engines are set to squeeze extra miles out of every drop of fuel. They're long famous for low fuel consumption, high performance.

SHORT STROKE V8'S

Jemison FFA Enjoys A Tractor Clinic

A tractor clinic was held in the Jemison High School with L. C. Shields, teacher of vocational agriculture, in charge. Boys enrolled in vocational agriculture participated.

Highlight of the clinic was the demonstration given on how to correctly service a tractor where all boys actually performed the services themselves. In addition to the demonstration, films were shown on farm tractor safety, and periodic maintenance. The films were shown by Mr. R. E. Cantrell, Agricultural Representative, Standard Oil Company. Mr. Cantrell also led a discussion on the proper choice and use of lubricants and the importance of performing daily and periodic maintenance services. These are most important to long life and economic operation of the farm tractor.

Inasmuch as farm mechanization has become such a major factor in our modern day agriculture, the vocational agriculture department is adapting its farm mechanics program to give the students studying vocational agriculture a working knowledge of farm mechanics and preventative maintenance. The tractor clinic is a part of the emphasis that is being placed on the farm mechanics program in the Jemison vocational agriculture department.

These tractor clinics are made possible through the cooperation of the Agricultural Representative of the Standard Oil Company and the local Standard Oil Agent. Similar clinics are being held in vocational agriculture department throughout Alabama and are in cooperation with tractor operation contests sponsoed for FFA members.

FED. LAND BANK —

Local Director Returns From LA. Meeting

JAMES N. Dennis, Clanton, Alabama, a director of the Federal Land Bank Association of Marion, has just returned from New Orleans, La., where he attended a meeting with officials of The Federal Land Bank of New Orleans. The meeting was held for the purpose of discussing loan policies and loan servicing.

With capital being substituted for labor, with a greater need for more efficiency on the farm, Mr. Dennis feels that there will be a strong and continuing need for credit on the farm.

The Federal Land Bank Association of Marion, according to G. B. Auburtin, closed loans totalling $543,395 in the last fiscal year, and there has been a strong demand in this fiscal year. According to Auburtin, the FLBA of Marion has a net worth of $308,993, is entirely owned by the farmers of this area and is in position, in spite of the tight money situation, to supply the long term credit needs of agriculture.

Temple Assembly S. S. Riddle; Attend

EVERY person who brings a visitor to the Temple Assembly of God Sunday School next Sunday, Feb. 28, will be awarded a most unusual prize.

Pastor Nelson E. White describes the gifts by the following mystery riddle.

"It was first made in India over 1500 years ago, later found in China in 600 A.D. It took over one year to make it. Nations have met in conference to determine its destiny. It has graced the home of kings. It has had a resting place in the hovel of the poor. Men have died for it. Women have searched the country for it, and children have cried for it. Men have presented it to their sweethearts. It was secured in Clanton.

Adorning it is something that has often been a curse. Men have lost their souls over it, women have sold their place in eternity over it, children have broken their parents hearts over it. The one thought about the adonment is that in eternity it will be of no value. Lastly, it weighs very little".

Sunday School begins at 9:45 a.m. The Temple is located three miles east of Clanton on Temple Road. Everyone is eligible to receive one of these prizes.

Heavy infestations of lice on cattle are usually evident because of the appearance of the hair on the neck and back regions.

The Course We Must Take . . .

SINCE the overwhelming vote last Tuesday to build a new Courthouse for Chilton County there has been more than one remark from responsible parties to the effect that the location of the new building is now more confusing than ever.

Nothing could be further from the truth! The Board of Revenue and Control saw fit to ask the people, and the people answered in no uncertain terms. It now seems to be a matter of decision on the part of the powers that be as to the best approach to the problem.

The problem is clear enough, it's the solution to the problem that is staggering, but let it be remembered that very few worthwhile undertakings are accepted and accomplished without level-headed thinking, lots of hard work and decisive action on the parts of the authorities involved.

The course to be taken at this point involves much planning and, no doubt, many conferences, but the people have chosen to build a new Courthouse and, having been asked, have also indicated their choice of location for same. . . a majority of the votes cast we might add.

The attitude with which we approach the problem at hand should be one of enthusiastic optimism if the task is to be done with any efficiency. We have taken a step in the right direction toward progress for Chilton County. A defeatist attitude could 'louse' up the project good and proper and is not commendable to say the least.

The people have spoken, a task lies ahead of us; let's take the task in stride and all get behind the Board of Revenue and necessary parties involved in building the new Courthouse and do it with pleasure and pride rather than with bickering, indifference and jealosy!

Quote:

THERE is no particular percentage of national income which when exceeded by taxes means private enterprise must wither and die. But there is a proportion beyond which growth and a rising standard of living is severely hindered. We have passed that point. It is imperative that government spending be reduced and that we have a basic tax rate reform. Only in this way may we get the savings necessary to reduce interest rates and finance the desired growth of the nation.—Dr. Ralph Robey.

Pays Off Education

IT is estimated that a college graduate earns during his lifetime an average of $100,000 more than a non-college man of comparable aibility, reports Dr. Frank H. Sparks, president of the Council for Financial Aid to Education. On this basis, he adds, the 240,000 men graduates of June 1958 will, during the next 35 to 40 years, receive as income and spend as customers some $25 billion more than if they had not gone to college.

Location To Be Decided

"Many people have asked me," said Mr. Thompson "where the new project would be constructed?" "We are unable to determine that at this time, and anyway, that's partly what this authorized appropriation is for. . . surveys and continued planning."

SUCCESS is not measured by what a man accumulates, but by the obstacles he has had to overcome along the way.

IN this day and time, too many people refuse to facts as long as they can raise the down-payment.

WHEN you run a red traffic light, you are betting your life against a few seconds time.

NEVER try to forget your past-the experience will aid you in the future.

IT isn't necessarily the most gifted people who accomplish the most.

YOU can do more good with a little encouragement than a whole book of advice.

The Setup Is Wrong --

WHEN the voters of the State at large can force a law on a certain county that is not of their choosing, then the law is all wrong.

A good instance is our neighboring county of Elmore in the recent election. The people of Elmore voted about three to one to put their local officials on a salary bases. But when the votes were counted statewide the Amendment was defeated.

The people of Elmore County want their officials put on a salary bases. The voters saw fit to vote otherwise thus denying Elmore county of her rights. Our argument is that it is strictly Elmore County's business and the State should not be permitted to vote on a Bill pertaining to the business of one county alone.

The Girl Scouts --

THE newly organized South Central Alabama Girl Scout Council will met on February 25 at Montgomery.

Chilton County will be represented as this county is one of the Central Alabama Counties in this group. This Council is composed of 227 Troops. It has a membership of 4,302 girls. One thousand, one hundred and four adult members and counselors which gives the South Central Alabama Girl Scout Council a total membership of 5,406.

Congratulations to the girls and may their accomplishments be many. There's no weighting the influence of a woman and these girls are certainly started off on the right track.

Major Causes Of Death --

THE six counties area that makes up the Montgomery Post of the Highway Patrol has made their report for January. There were 96 rural traffic accidents which resulted in 57 personal injuries and six traffic deaths during that month.

In this area are Chilton, Montgomery, Autauga, Elmore, Crenshaw, Pike, Counties. The large percent, of course, were from Montgomery County due to the large population.

Here in Chilton County there were ten traffic accidents which resulted in three personal injuries.

Listed by the Highway Patrol as major causes were:

1. Excessive speed.
2. Failure to yield right-of-way.
3. Driving while intoxicated.
4. Driving on wrong side of road.
5. Following too closely.

Make a resolution right now to check yourself on these five points and let's see if we can't show a better record during the succeeding ten months of 1960.

You know it isn't the car that kills--it's the driver.

THINGS We see and hear

by BOB

MANY Chiltonians voted to build a new Courthouse in the old location because they felt the only other choice given them was not the right one. By the same token, many voted to build it on the City Park property (adjoining) because they felt the old location would be unsatisfactory and were given no other choice. These are opinions to be considered, but the facts are that the people did vote and the decision was not questionable. The logical thing to do now is to take the answer of the people to the planning table and set to work to do the job. The people of Chilton County are not idiots and they do not expect miracles. They do expect an honest and sincere approach to the problem and if given that, they will work with the officials to the final gun. We personally and publically commend the people of Chilton County for seeing the need of a new Courthouse and voting to build same. We anxiously await the next step, to be taken by the Board of Revenue and Control!

A VERY nice fellow indeed is Harry Loyd, whom we mentioned here last week. He called our attention to the fact that we gave credit to the wrong party, however and we are most happy to set the record straight. We mentioned that he was Scoutmaster of the Troop here when it should have been Jimmy Beall. Mr. Loyd is assistant Scoutmaster. Glad to make the correction for two very fine citizens of Chilton County.

DURING the course of the above conservation we indirectly referred to Mr. Loyd as an "outsider". Not in a hostile way, but we said it nevertheless. Nothing could be further from the truth; in fact, we've been here for 20 years and he's probably more of an "insider" in the community than we are!

FELLOW we were talking with the other day, while discussing a particular subject said to us: "Bob I might not have much in this old world, but one thing I know I do have, and that's the best daddy in the world." Strange that he would say that; we always thought we did. . .

AND there's another fellow hereabouts whom we're having a devil of a time convincing that the News has gone up to a dime per single copy! The fellow good-naturedly maintains that it isn't worth the dime, but he religiously comes by on Wednesday evening (as many times as necessary) to get the first one off the press! For a guy who doesn't think it's worth a dime, he sure puts out a lot of effort to see that he gets his. . . and we thank him for that. . . but it's still a dime, mister, unless of course you'd care to make it easy for yourself and subscribe. That way you can get it for less than six cents per copy and not only that, it's delivered, and regularly!

AND it was mentioned to us the other day that it would be a fine way to spend a Sunday afternoon (or any other for that matter) to sit on the bank of the Coosa and watch boat races which could be worked up around these parts with a minimum of effort. We think it's a fine idea and one that would fit right in with the program underway to establish public beaches on the Coosa in Chilton County. (See elsewhere on this page). The idea has merit and bears looking into by boat enthusiasts in these parts!

THE merchants of Chilton County have, over the past twelve months realized the value of informing the people on the good sense used when they "Trade at Home". The News has been a part of this program in presenting to the people different businesses and better acquainting the buyer with the merchant, his employees and the product involved. This, of course, is not a temporary program, as the merchants realize. Telling the people about our businesses and urging them to trade at home. . . where it helps all of us is plain good sense and should be systematic. The "Business of The Week" page which has been running for some time in the News has reached some 25 local business establishments to the public for their better understanding and approval. The people take notice when there's a local face or establishment involved. This is one more good reason why "Trade at Home" advertising is not only good business, but essential to the economic progress of our community and County.

NOW what we want to know is when are we going to get started on the Civic Center that should be erected on the lot next to the City Park. It's a long overdue, sorely needed (ask the kids) and it can be done. All the reins need is good strong intelligent hands to fall into. Righto, we said strong hands. . .and as soon as possible!

WE didn't know what we were going to have for supper Sunday night so we went to the range and peeked into the pot and what do you think. . . 'boiled nipples'. Tomorrow night we're having mashed bottle caps. Oh boy, oh boy, the eatin's fine with a four-month-old son around the home!

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

The third major appropriation bill for fiscal year 1961 was passed by the House last week and referred to the Senate. The bill appropriates a total of $543 million for operating the Interior Department and its related agencies, an amount which is seven million dollars less than was requested by the Administration.

Included in the Interior Department's appropriation bill are funds of $66,21 for operating the Marion Fish Hatchery in Perry County. This constitutes a raise of almost $10,000 over the amount appropriated for the hatchery last year and will petrmit an increase in estimated production of about 4,000 pounds.

River Meeting

This week end I will be in Tuscaloosa to attend the eighth annual meeting of the Warrior-Tombigbee Development Association. At that time, it will be my pleasure to introduce the principal speaker for the meeting, Lt. Gen. E. C. Itschner. Now serving as Chief of the U. S. Corps of Engineers, General Itschner has a distinguished record as an Army Engineer, both in military and civil works activities, and has been most helpful in efforts to fully develop the waterways of our State. Among other distinguished representatives of the Corps of Engineers who will attend the river association's meeting are Maj. Gen. R. W. Love, District Engineer from Mobile.

Since the Warrior-Tombigbee Development Association was organized, two new navigation projects have been completed on the waterway, a third is nearing completion, and a fourth is in the planning stage. All major improvements to date have been made south of Tuscaloosa, but efforts are now being concentrated on extending the benefits of a modern river channel above Tuscaloosa. In 1958 we were abel to get authorization for the first step--construction of the Holt Lock and Dam -- and since that time one appropriation has been obtained for advance planning and another is icluded in the federal budget requests for fiscal year 1961.

Civil Rights Bill

Members of the Rules Committee voted, seven to four, last Thursday to permit House consideration of the so--called civil rights bill that has been pending since last year. Southerners on the Committee, along with the help of several Republicans, had been able to hold the bill since last August. Under pressure from the Administration, however, the Republican members joined with Northern Democrats in voting to grant the bill a rule.

It is expected that the bill will be brought up during the second week in March. In the meantime, the Senate is continuing to debate the subject of civil rights, even though it is generally conceded that the Senators will wait until the House acts before voting on a specific measure,

Thomas Jr. 4-H Club Has Meeting

The meeting was called to order at 8:20 A.M. by our faithful president, Joe Hopper. Mr. Dan Mims took charge of the meeting for the day. He gave us some interesting facts on how to prepare a garden, how much fertilizer to use and how important it was to keep the insects and grass under control. He said the average family of five will eat about $325.00 worth of vegetables out of a garden a year. Then Mr. Mims taught us how to keep a good record.

The meeting was adjourned.

New Feature on Alabama's Colorful Past Begins in News

(THIS feature is to be a regular thing in the News for a while and the editor along with the feature writer invite anyone who knows of historical places of interest or old landmarks in Chilton County or surrounding area to notify the editor of the Chilton County News. It could mean some statewide publicity for our County. Thanks; the editor).

By Ronald Gunter
Alabama Highway Department

Along the Heart of Dixie Highway which skirts from Yankeeland to Alabama and points south, a motorist passes through a Blount County community immortalized by America's greatest writer of short stories.

The community is Summit, Alabama; the writer is O. Henry or William Sydney Porter.

In all probability O. Henry never got any closer to Summit than a one time glance at a Rand-McNally map, but that was enough to place Summit in the archives of American fiction.

"The Ransom of Red Chief," often called O. Henry's greatest short story, was set in the hilltop village of Summit.

O. Henry's writing proves he wasn't much of a factual reporter and probably knew but little of Alabama or Blount County geography. In the lead of the story he says: "There's a town down there, as flat as a flannel-cake, and called Summit, of course."

The truth is, Summit nestles on a hillside so steep that it has been said that before the advent of new fangled tractors, farmers planted corn with muskets.

And to the proud citizens of this maligned village, O. Henry Penned: "It contained inhabitans of as undelecterious and self-satisfied a class of peasantry as ever clustered around a Maypole."

The oldest citizen found living on the hillside of Summit declared: "Neve in my recollection has there been no Maypole here-a-bouts around which people coul cluster."

The old-timer, with a scowl furroughing across his brow, further allowed that the inhabitans were not undelecterious or self-sa or a class of peasantry.

With that type of animosi ward America's greatest tell home-spun tales, O. Henry would probably be about as come in Summit as a pass gun-toting revenooers. But all this, the man who made ica laugh and cry with his has managed to keep aliv memory of a town where the nal buildings are now aban the post office closed and rutted from little travel.

Now the Summit of the O. ry era, its Maypole, its inhab undelecterious and self--sat live only in the time-ho world of literature.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Gove John Patterson and High Director Sam Englehard, nounced today that a s marker would be placed o S. 331, the Heart of Di highway, calling attention to fact thet Summit, Alabama, the setting for O. Henry's " Ransom of Red Chief."

EPIDEMIOLOGY

Epidemiologists deal with disease in the mass rather than in the individual. Epidemiology is defined as that field of science deailng with the relationship of factors which determine the frequencies and distributions of an infectious process a disease, or a physiological state in a human community. This scence, involved with the mass phenomena of diseases and human defects, is one of the important weapons in the worldwide fight against disease and disability.

The process of solving the mysteries of a disease may be likened somewhat to the solution of a detective mystery. The epidemiologist asks himself certain key questions when investigating a killing or crippling disease. Why does this disease strike a particular population or a particular age group, or sex, or vocational group or urban or rural group? Why does it strike with particular severity or compaative mildness or not at all? Why does it strike regularly or infrequently? The disease detective, the epidemiologist, patiently gathers his data.

The answer may be found with--in the borders of the country where he starts his investigation or clues may lead him far afield. One of the uses of epidemiology is to discover populations or groups with high rates of disease and with low, in the hope that causes and of freedom from disease can be pinpointed. Epidemiologists have been concerned with such major worldwide epidemics as cholera and smallpox. They are also investigating fatal disease of the nervous system discovered in an isolated population living in the interior of New Guinea.

Kuru accounts for over half of the deaths among this isolated tribe, and the epidemiologists working in this field want to know the why and wherefore. The search for the mysterious killers and cripplers continues throughout the world-headed by the epidemiologists.

MULBERRY

Mrs. Gordon Conway

We had two very inspiring services at Mulberry Baptist Church last Sunday. Rev. I. [illegible] Daniel brought two spiritual and uplifting sermons. Sunday morning he spoke on "An Awakening Call" and Sunday night "Lamp Lighting Time."

Our attendance in Sunday School and Training Union increased over the Sunday before, but was below our usual attendance. Each member is encouraged to be present next Sunday and invite someone who has not been coming. Some of our faithful members have been sick. We pray for these and others that are sick in our community that they may soon be well again.

There will be a Training Union Study Course at Mulberry on Feb. 29 and continuing through March . Everyone is urged to attend.

Our Spring Revival will be held April 3-8. It is not too soon to begin to pray and make plans for the revival.

All Fabrics To Be Labeled After March

A new fabric labeling law goes into effect March 3, 1960.

According to Extension Home Management Specialist Alice Peavy this law requires that names and more than five percent of the whole percentage of all fiber making up must appear on the label and in the order of their predominance.

We are dependent on labels because it is difficult to look at or feel a modern fabric and be certain what fibers are in it, points out the Auburn specialist. And maximum performance and satisfaction from a fabric depend on its fiber content, the construction and finish of the fiber, and its proper use and care.

Although many manufacturers have been giving this information on labels, the new law should give it on all fabrics and prevent mislabeling.

BETTER SPEECH CLUB HAS GALA AFFAIR, FEB. 19TH.

Friday, February 19, was a gala occasion for the Better Speech Club. During the morning session interested parents and friends visited us to observe our progress in art, speaking, writing, and performing before an audience. But the climax of the day's activities came during the afternoon session when Mrs. Billy Maddox and her group of homeroom mothers made it possible for us to enjoy a class party.

In front of the classroom, made lovely with beautiful spring flowers, carrying out the club colors, red and white, was spread along committee table with a red linen cloth, from which was served delicious red punch, white mound individual cakes topped with small silk decorative United States flags, and crunchy toasted nuts. Beth Maddox happily served punch to all her classmates, being assisted at the table by David Easterling, Theda Windham and Linda Cox. Speakers for the occasion were: David Johnson, Edwin Wilson, Theda Windham, Shirley Tucker, Margaret Glasscock and Beth Maddox.

Jemison FFA Visits State Bank At Calera

The Junior Bankers of Alabama are sponsoring a School Educational Program to create a closer relationship between the banks and schools in our State. This program is not intended to be an advertisement effort, but rather to enlighten the students on the fundamentals of banking and the importance of commercial banks and the services which they offer the community.

Mr. Wayne Johnston of Central State Bank, Calera, Alabama has chosen to represent his bank in participation of this program. On January 27, 1960, Mr. L. C| Shields, teacher of Vocational Agriculture at Jemison High School and his group of FFA boys visited Central State Bank and were guided through the premises by Johnston. He explained the general operation of the bank and gave demonstrations on the various machines throughout the bank. Each boy had the opportunity to operate a coin counting machine and hold a small bundle of money worth $10,000.00.

On completion of the tour refreshments were served and at this time the boys were given the opportunity to ask any question on banking.

The visit to the bank preceded a classroom lecture by Mr. Johnston at Jemison High School on February 3, 1960.

NEWS OF—

THORSBY

Rev. H. W. Rice, pastor
9:45 A.M. Sunday School
11:00 A.M. Worship Service

It was good indeed to have Mr. and Mrs. Sutlive back in church after the recent illness of Mrs. Sutlive.

Although the weather was bad Sunday and kept several members away from church, we hope it will clear up now that winter is almost over. With the coming of Easter and Springs it seems particularly fitting for us to renew our vows to support our church with our prayers, tithes and attendance. We are a small group and the absence of even one member is sorely felt. There are good reasons for occasionally staying away from church, but the desire to "take it easy just one day a week" is not one of them!

CREED

I believe in the future of Farming, with a faith born not of words but of deeds—achievements won by the present and past generations of Farmers; in the promise of better days through better ways; even as the better things we now enjoy have come up to us from the struggles of former years.

I believe that to live and work on a good farm is pleasant as well as challenging; for I know the joys and discomforts of farm life and hold an inborn fondness for those associations which, even in hours of discouragement, I cannot deny.
I believe in leadership from ourselves and respect from others.
I believe in my own ability to work efficiently and think clearly, with such knowledge and skills as I can secure, and in the ability of organized farmers to serve our own and the public interest in marketing the product of our toil. I believe we can safeguard those rights against practices and policies that are unfair.

I believe in less dependence on begging and more power in bargaining; in the life abundant and enough honest wealth to help make it so—for others as well as myself; in less need for charity and more of it when needed; in being happy myself and playing square with those whose happiness depends upon me.

I believe that rural America can and will hold true to the best traditions in our national life and that I can exert an influence in my home and community which will stand solid for my part in that inspiring task.

Tigers Split With 'Tumpka

By Wayne Atcheson

On Tuesday, February 16, the Clanton Tigers met the Wetumpka Indians at Wetumpka and were upended by the Indians 55 to 37.

The following Friday night the same two quintets met at Clanton and the Tigers was the run away team in this one by a 70 to 39 figure.

In the first game Clanton couldn't buy points. The Tigers scored one point in the first quarter when Buddy Vines dropped in a free throw with two seconds remaining.

Clanton's First Field Goal

Five and one-half minutes remained in the first half before the Clanton cagers managed their first field goal of the game.

Mickey Stiff was Wetumpka's big gun with 18 ponts, followed by Bobo with 11 and Sonny Dickinson and Edgar Welden 10 each.

Tiffin Tallied 14

Jimmy Tiffin tallied 14 points in the losing cause and Leroy Arthur rallied for 9.

Wetumpka hit a respectable 47 percent of its shots to a weak 23 percent for Clanton.

Clanton beat the Indians in rebounds though, 40 to 29.

Arthur's 12 Point Performance

An amazing 12 point performance by Leroy Arthur in the first quarter spearheaded the attack that toppled Wetumpka in the second game 70 to 39.

Arthur added the points by fast breaking and hitting from outside on some deadly set shots. He shot only one time in the second half and made the shot which gave him 18 tallies for the game.

Indians Without Guards

The Indians playing without their starting guards, Sonny Dickinson and Edgar Welden, simply couldn't stay up with the Tigers Coach V. L. Bulger's squad led 36 to 18 at the half.

Other top scorers for Clanton were Clarkie Hutchinson with 14, Jimmy Tiffin 12, and Wayne Mizzell and Elliott Monroe with 8 apiece.

Bobo Leads Wetumpka

Larry Bobo led Wetumpka with 13 points and Mickey Stiff had 11.

The Clanton Bees romped the Wetumpka Bees in the first game 43 to 23. Bobby Gilliland led his teammates with 11 points and Tommy Tiffin shared the spotlight with him with 9 points.

Due to the illness of many of Wetumpka B squad a B game was not played on Friday night.

Clanton closed out their home season on Tuesday night against Luverne. The team with moved over to Selma tomorrow night and meet Selma. It should be a thriller.

Enters District Tourney

Next week the Tigers will enter the 3rd District Class AA Basketball tournament, also at Selma.

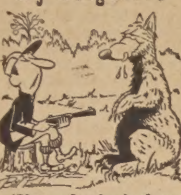
My Neighbors



"Now, as I understand your disarmament proposal, I'm to destroy all..."

FROM MY FRONT PORCH

'I Watch the World Go By'

by CARL HELM

On swanky Park Avenue in mid-Manhattan there's a famous church. Visitors go there to see its interior beauty; fashionable New Yorkers go to Sunday morning services.

The nave and vault sparkle in gold mosaic; the altar and crucifix are gleaming gold. The ushers wear frock coats, striped pants, gray gloves, white carnations. The ladies of the congregation are loaded with mink.

Often when I find myself in New York of a Sunday I go there, principally to hear the scarlet robed choir and witness the stately Processional.

Always, as I approach the church, I am met by shabbily dressed, alms-seeking members of the human race. Maybe they really are needy or hungry or broke, as they whisper; maybe they're not. I don't know, and I don't care. I carry a supply of loose change to give them, as unostentatiously as possible.

I have yet to see one of the Homburg or derby hatted gentlemen of the parish stop to give them anything but a frigid look. More often, the sanctimonious swells just choose to ignore their lowly existence.

As I go in and sit in the mahogany pews, I can't help but think of the Man of Nazareth for whom the church was named: the meek, the humble One who said 'Even as ye do to the least of these, ye do unto Me' . . . .

And I get to wondering what He would do should He return to us some Sunday in the human form once more. Would He go inside that sparkling edifice supposed to be His — or would He stay out there on the sidewalk?

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

from The Bible

But why dost thou judge thy brother? Or why dost thou set at naught thy brother? For we shall all stand before the judgment seat of Christ. —(Romans 14:10.)

The people we work with, those who ride the bus with us—let us look upon them with eyes of love and understanding and brotherhood, remembering in our deepest heart the wondrous words of St. Paul.

FACTS ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

When it comes to questions of health, NOT knowing the facts could be dangerous, especially if cancer is involved. The American Cancer Society tells us that the earlier cancer is treated by the doctor, the better are the chances for cure. There are hundreds of thousands of Americans now living who have been saved. But there are many thousands of others who die needlessly each year, because the disease is treated too late for cure. Be sure you get the facts. All the life-saving facts free from your Unit of the American Cancer Society -- Mrs. Hugh Jones, Chrm.

Dosage For The Treatment Of Cottonseed

The treatment of cottonseed with doses of fungicide is risky business.

Growers must understand the reason for maintaining an effective dosage on the seed. Since it's impossible to know the degree of cottonseed deterioration due to moisture content and the weather or soil conditions following planting, it is extremely important to apply adequate dosages of seed treatment fungicides.

"The real value of good seed treatment is the protection it gives against diseases during periods of cold, wet weather right after planting." For this reason, reputable seed processors should always use the recommended dosage that will give the best disease control under adverse weather conditions, where the soil is badly infected, or when partially deteriorated seed may be higly susceptible to disease attack.

Cotton gowers should use certified seed with a germination of at least 80 percent. And be sure that the planting seed have been treated with Ceresan M, Dow 9B, or Panogn. Use Ceresan M and Dow 9B at the rate of three ounces to 100 pounds of seed. Three ounces of Panogen is needed for 100 pounds of reginned seed and two ounces for acid-delinted seed.

"No one today questions the value of cottonseed treatment as an economical way to insure a good, healthy stand." For complete protection against seed and soil, borne diseases.

Foods of the Future

KIID CARROT KNOCKS OUT WILLIE WEED!

Alabama researchers found that using chemical weed-killers EARLY helps young plants get a head start on their enemies — weeds and tall grass — before summer rains make weeding difficult.

Scientists tried this early weed-killing on such widely varied crops as strawberries, peanuts, cotton and livestock pastures. Cotton hoeing was cut 80%!

Healthy young plants mature faster, making earlier crops to market! Result — plumper, firmer, tenderer and juicier vegetables, fruits and berries.

New farming methods may mean more of many better foods for your table, to be enjoyed with tried-and-tested BEER and ALE. These wholesome beverages will go well with "Foods of the Future" just as they do with foods of today!

"CORVAIR HANDLES BETTER, STEERS MORE EASILY, RESPONDS MUCH MORE QUICKLY AND HOLDS THE ROAD MORE SECURELY THAN ANY STOCK FOUR-DOOR SEDAN EVER MADE IN THE U.S."
—Jim Whipple, Car Life

If you think we're enthusiastic about Corvair, leaf through the leading automotive, sports and science magazines and see what the experts are saying. Then, by all means, drive one yourself.

"Corvair's steering is so light that at parking speeds it feels power assisted; it is so precise as to be absolutely without play, and it is fast enough to allow complete control over every situation."
—Karl Ludvigsen, Sports Cars Illustrated

"Steers like a feather and is extremely quick. . . . This is a beautifully designed automobile, engineered by real pros. . . ."
—Tom McCahill, Mechanix Illustrated

"Most surprising thing to me outside of the excellent handling characteristics was the feeling of roominess inside. . . . I didn't have the sensation of driving a small car and the headroom was greater in the Corvair than in some standard size cars. . . ."
—L. H. Houck, Automotive News

"So far as shopping goes, the Corvair is a housewife's dream. It's small and easily maneuvered without any power steering, and so easily parked . . . it's a lot easier to unload a cart full of groceries into a front trunk at the supermarket than it is into a rear one."
—Rosemary Francis, Popular Science

"I want to state as firmly as I can that the Corvair handles as beautifully and is as safe as—if not safer than—any family car on the road today."
—Jim Whipple, Car Life

"There is none of the typical whine normally associated with rear-engined vehicles. Inside the car, the effect is quite unlike anything we have ever experienced. It almost seems that there is no engine, and the general effect is so quiet as to be almost uncanny."
—John R. Bond, Road & Track

"No written word can suffice for the genuine pleasure that you will receive behind the wheel of America's newest and most advanced contribution to transportation. . . . It is a great car."
—Don Stewart, Motor Life

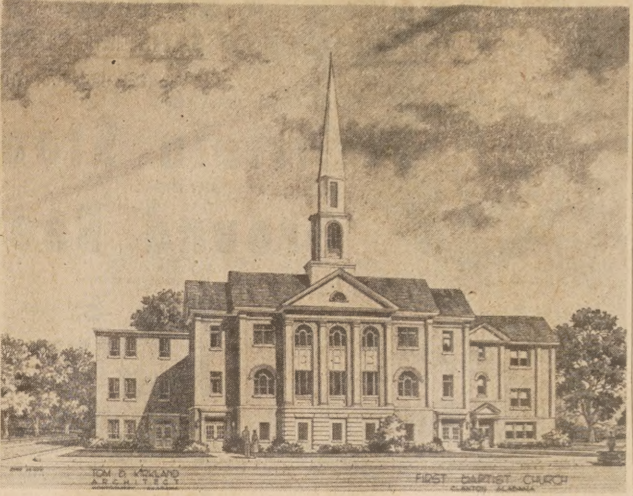
Bond Issue Constructs $300,000 Building For Clanton Baptists



TOM B. KIRKLAND ARCHITECT
FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH CLANTON ALABAMA

ON the strength of a $300,000 Bond Issue the members of the First Baptist Church in Clanton have erected this magnificent house of worship which, in fact, is valued at considerable more than that amount, but the present construction is being done for $300,000.

Completed In May

In an interview Monday with the Building Committee Chairman, Mr. F. Leo Thompson, it was learned that the building, at least the sanctuary will be completed for use the middle of next May. This date has been set in conjjunction with the Baccalaureate Sermon for Chilton County High School.

Mr. Thompson stated that the present job is a major rennovating of the sanctuary of the church building and including additions to it and to the educational part of the building.

Seating Capacity Doubled

Seating capacity of the new sanctuary is to be 496. The balcony will seat 156 and the choir loft will seat 38. Capacity of the new building will be 690 or twice the number of the old sanctuary and balcony.

Elevator

The building will be three stories with twin stairways in front and a set of stairs on the north side together with an elevator to all three levels.

The first floor of the new structure will include a chapel, for small weddings, funerals, and gatherings along with the educational area (Sunday School rooms) the dining area where they will be able to seat and feed 150 persons at a time, and a completely modern kitchen.

The second floor will house the sanctuary of course, a vestibule and entrance way and on the back side of the building a suite of offices for general offices, secretary's office and the pastor's study. A choir room will also be on this floor along with some Sunday School classrooms. The third floor of the building will consist entirely of Sunday School classrooms.

New Equipment

100 percent year-round air-conditioning is featured throughout the entire building. The new pews and pulpit furniture are made of solid rock maple in Colonial design.

Work on the new structure, which will greatly enhance Clanton's appearance, is coming along rapidly and completion date should be on time for the Baccalaureate Services as planned.

Committee Members

Sitting with Mr. Thompson on the all important Planning and Building Committee are: Luther Mims, Houston Niven,s John Foshee and Sam Patterson.

Pastor Hutchinson

Pastor of the church is Dr. J. Gilbert Htuchinson who has been with the First Baptist Church here for nearly 11 years.

Bell In Tower

An interesting footnote to the accomplishment and progress shown by the membership is that a 640 lb. bell is to be installed in the tower of the church in memorial for Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Hayes for their children. Dr. and Mrs. Hayes were devoted workers in the church and it is a fitting tribute. According to Mr. Thompson, he received verification from Belgium this week, were the bell is being cast by the largest and oldest founders in the world, that it is ready for shipment. The bell will be rung for services and other special events.

Jemison 4-H'ers Held Meeting

Thursday, February 11, Jemison Elementary 4-H Club held their meeting in Mrs. Johnson's room. Miss Davis, our leader told us how to make skirts.

Some people received awards for making things in 4-H Club. She told us when some contests were to be held.

Our next meeting will be the 10th of March.

Strawberry Varieties Suitable For Alabama

Although fall plasting is recommended, strawberry plants may be set any time from November 11 to April 1.

Klonmore and Blakemore varieties are recommended for South and Central Alabama, and Blakemore and Tennessee Beauty are suited for northern counties. The Suwannee is suited to all sections of the state, but it is not good for shipping.

Mums For Color And Lasting Flowers

A favorite flower throughout the United States, chrysanthemums are easy to grow in the home garden. Since mums produce colorful blooms from early fall until killing frosts, the long-lasting flowers brighten the garden and are popular for making flower arrangements.

Mums ae sold as packaged plants for both spring and fall planting and cuttings are available in the spring. Both the plants and cuttings (when well rooted) will bloom the same year they are planted. Hardy mums, which can survive the winter outdoors, will grow from year to year without eplanting. However, the varieties bought from florists as house plants are not hardy and usually do not survive the first winter when they are transplanted outdoors.

Plant chrysanthemums in fertile, well drained soil and to be sure that they get full sunshine all day. Also delay spring planting until after killig frosts.

Tractor Clinic Big Success For Local FFA

A tractor clinic was held Feb 10, 1960, in the Vo. Ag. Dept. of the CCHS High School with J. R Thompson, teacher of vocational agriculture in charge. Eighty-four boys enrolled in vocational agriculture participated.

Highlight of the clinic was the demonstration given on how to correctly service a tractor where all boys actually performed the service themselves. In addition to the demonstration, films were shown by Mr. R. E. Cantrell, Agriculture Representative of Standard Oil Co. Mr. Cantrell also led a discussion on the proper choice and use of lubricants and the importance of performing daily and periodic maintenance services. These are most important to long life and economic operation of the farm tractor.

The tractor clinic is a part of the emphasis that is being placed on the farm mechanical program on Clanton Vo. Ag. Department.

Avoid Danger; Use Safe Electric Fences

The use of makeshift electric fences is not worth the chance you're taking.

Warnings about using only approved electric fence controls often go unheeded, says Bill Cox, engineer with the Auburn University Extension Service. And the result can be injury or loss of life.

You will not be risking such a penalty if you always use approved electric fence controls, urges Cox. He adds that warnings should be placed at gates, gaps, and other fence openings. Also, take every precaution to protect children as well as adults from electric fences. But most important, says the engineer, never make the mistake of connecting a fence directly to the electric line.

When Fertilizer Is Properly Placed

Where you place the fertilizer in relation to the seed may mean the difference between profit and loss.

CUT-AWAY VIEW OF SEED-FERTILIZER PLACEMENT

J. C. LOWERY
Extension Agronomist
Auburn University

REMEMBER when we used to open up the planters and put down a roll of cottonseed in each row that would fatten the pocketbook of any seed dealer?

Those were the days when we knew little about high germinating seed, less about good seedbed preparation, and nothing about proper placement of fertilizer. Why, I can remember when we used to split the seedbed with a bumper- or knocker-type fertilizer distributor laying a band of fertilizer directly down the center of the row. Then, we would split this furrow with the cotton or corn planter dropping the seed practically in the fertilizer band. That's why we had to plant plenty of seed—enough to get a stand despite the heavy damage to seedlings due to placing the seed too close to the fertilizer.

LOWERY

Just where do you place the fertilizer in relation to the seed when you plant cotton or other crops? The way you answer this question, especially in the field, may determine whether you make a profit or lose on your crop. Fertilizer placed in contact with cottonseed can destroy a big part of your stand. And a poor stand means a poor harvest.

Now let's see just what causes poor seed germination where fertilizer is concerned. Seed placed in contact with fertilizer or in a position where moisture can carry the fertilizer to the seed actually does not prevent the seed from germinating. But as soon as the seed sprouts, the young seedlings dry out as a result of the soluble salts in the fertilizer.

Experiments were conducted at the Auburn University Experiment Station to determine the effect of fertilizer placement on cotton stands. When the fertilizer was placed with the seed or directly below, the stands were very poor. This second experiment proved that the moisture in the soil moves the soluble salts in contact with the seed when they are directly above the fertilizer. That is, as the surface soil dries, moisture from a lower depth—where the fertilizer is located—rises bringing with it the salts of the fertilizer. Thus, plant seedlings dry out and eventually die.

On the other hand, when the fertilizer was placed two to three inches to the side and two to three inches below the seed (as shown in the above drawing), seedlings were not injured by the salts and good stands resulted. This shows that little or no sideward movement of moisture takes place. Therefore, salts moving upward with the moisture do not come in contact with the seed or seedlings.

In one experiment, fertilizer placed to the side and below the seed level produced 1,412 pounds of seed cotton per acre, compared to 908 pounds produced when the fertilizer was placed directly below the seed and 277 pounds when the fertilizer and seed were together.

Roots of plants make better use of fertilizer if it is placed in a band a couple of inches to one side and below the seed level than if it is scattered throughout the soil. So, be sure to adjust your equipment and check it frequently to insure proper functioning and placement of fertilizer.

If you cannot adjust your equipment to apply the fertilizer at the recommended place, prepare the seedbed over the fertilizer band about two weeks before planting.

The broadcast method may be used on land that has been heavily fertilized in the past if you are still using high rates per acre.

Hidden Gun Damage

Here is a tip to all double and single barrel shotgun owners: don't snap your gun shut from the open or broken position. Slamming together the moving parts will cause more wear on the locks and metal than hundreds of fired rounds. After awhile the gun may begin to feel loose.

To properly close a double, over-and-under, or single barrel, hold your thumb against the top lever and close the barrel assembly tightly. Then release the top lever gently so there is little sound. This may take practice for quick, smooth action.

What's the Price of Wildlife?

Every year around $50,000,000 is spent in Alabama for hunting and fishing. In 1956 the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service ran a scientific survey and discovered that the average person who hunted and fished spent $114.42 a year in these outdoor sports, and one person in five, 12 years old or older, hunted or fished. All I had to do to arrive at such a figure was to get the most recent census figures and work from these. My actual result was $49,746,040.

We Have Other Interesting Facts

Here is the value from wildlife projects in Alabama as determined from last year's county agents' reports: income from hunting rights, $391,850; fishing income from private ponds, $726,310; production of natural fish-bait, $1,399,390; trapping, $87,275; and sale of home-grown fishing canes, $73,085.

We have no figures on how much money landowners spent in building new ponds, controlling pondweeds, fertilizing pond water, planting and managing game food crops, or killing rats and mice.

Now, would you say that hunting and fishing is a "little" business?

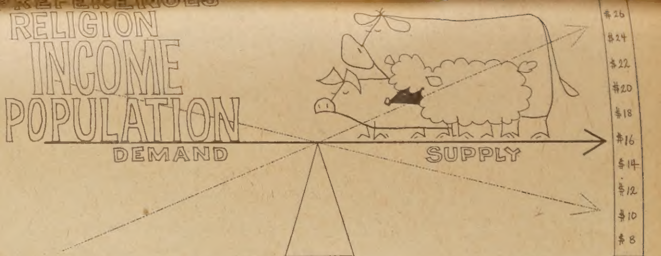
Control Beaver Damage

Beavers, once in demand by many Alabama landowners, are now often thought of as a pest because they flood and drown timber with their ponds and cut trees. They also eat bottomland corn. The truth of the matter is that beavers would not be as numerous today if an average beaver pelt would bring the trapper $15 to $20, as it did a decade ago, instead of $5 to $6.

There are two ways to control beavers that cause damage through water flooding: (1) Thin (do not trap all animals) the beaver colony, (2) Place a 10-foot length of pipe big enough to take care of normal overflow in the beaver dam at whatever level you wish. The secret here is to drill big holes about half the circumference of the pipe along the length. Place the pipe in the dam with cross pieces for supports so that the holes are on the bottom of the pipe. Then plug each end of the pipe. Beavers, in trying to stop the drop in water level will pack mud and sticks on top of the pipe; they do not know how to plug holes beneath the pipe.

The beaver is, in many cases, praised rather than condemned. He helps in controlling erosion, in conservation of water for stock drinking, and in providing fishing areas. Some of my best duck hunting is the result of beaver swamp trips.

Do You Know About Supply And Demand?



Shift the weight on either side . . . price changes!!!

OTIS RUSSELL
Extension Marketing Economist
Auburn University

LIVESTOCK prices are constantly changing. In fact, about the only consistent thing about prices is the fact that they vary. And while it is difficult to predict price changes, being able to understand the basic factors that cause them to change is important in making marketing decisions.

What Sets Prices?

The two basic factors in determining livestock prices are supply and demand. The relative weight of the two determines the price level. But if there is a shift of relative weight of either demand or supply, the price level will move up or down.

RUSSELL

For example, if the number of livestock offered for sale increases without an increase in demand, then livestock prices will decline. On the other hand, an increase in demand without an increase in livestock supply will result in higher prices. Notice how a change in the weight on either side of the balance in the illustration will change the price level.

Reasons for Price Level Change

Disposable income is one of the biggest factors influencing demand. And changes in demand may result in a different price level. Disposable income is simply the number of dollars consumers are able and willing to spend for a product. And the amount of money spent for meat depends upon the portion of the consumer's disposable income that he can allot to meat. This is generally from five to six percent.

This could mean that a rise in the consumer's income would create a rise in demand for meat. However, we must keep in mind that all products are in competition for the consumer's dollar.

Consumer income changes gradually. But regardless of the income bracket, consumers spend—with reasonable, definite limits—a given amount of their income for meat.

Let's look at the meat dollar this way. From day to day and week to week, the amount consumers spend for meat is relatively stable. During the same time, however, the supply of livestock offered for sale varies significantly. The result is more and more livestock over which to stretch the same number of consumer dollars. Therefore, as marketings increase, slaughter and production increase, and a price decline is necessary to move the larger volume of meat. On the other hand, as marketings decrease, prices rise.

Other Reasons

Consumer income also affects livestock prices another way. As income rises, consumers' tastes and preferences may change. Thus, with more money to spend, the consumer may prefer higher-priced cuts of meat. This, in turn, has an effect on the supply and demand of certain meat products. Consumer preferences may also change as a result of education.

Certain factors influencing eating habits have a direct effect on demand. For example, meat consumption drops off during hot weather, and certain seasons of the year—Christmas and Thanksgiving—more of one meat is bought than others. Religion is another factor affecting demand.

With a newborn baby every seven and one-half seconds, our population increase has a direct bearing on demand. And as population increases, more people are added to the working group creating more food dollars. Thus, total demand for meat will rise.

Things Affecting Supply

Supply to the consumer may mean the abundance or lack of meat at the market. To the farmer or producer, supply means the number of animals raised and marketed, or probably more important, the amount of meat the animals yielded.

A number of factors affect the number of livestock raised and marketed. The first of these is price. For example, producers react to rising prices by increasing production. Increased production results in increased marketing in the future. And once marketings begin to increase, prices begin to go down.

Feed costs, another important factor affecting supply, are influenced by the amount of feed available. And feed supply and its cost determines the number of animals produced, the number fed out, and the weights at which the animals are marketed.

A third factor accounting for daily and weekly changes in price is irregular marketing. Market receipts vary largely because of seasonal production patterns for livestock but partly because of producers' decisions to market tomorrow instead of today. And as receipts increase or decrease, prices necessarily move up or down.

In A Nutshell

Look again at the important factors determining livestock prices. The first one was the demand for meat, influenced by population, consumer income, consumer preferences, and the availability of competing products. That's one side of the balance.

On the other side is supply, influenced by livestock prices, feed costs, seasonal production, and marketing patterns. This delicate balance determines your livestock prices.

See your county agent for information on marketing your livestock and all other products.

Cattle and Hog Market Outlook

A sharp turnaround in hog production and recent developments in the cattle situation have changed the outlook for livestock producers.

During the first 10 months of 1959, the number of hogs slaughtered under Federal inspection was 15 percent higher than a year earlier, says Extension Marketing Economist Otis Russell. But during the last two months of the year, the number was 21 percent higher than in 1958. As a result of this increase, hog prices received by farmers dropped to $11.20 per hundredweight in December. And this price is the lowest since January of 1956.

Because of this, the specialist points out that the hog industry is apparently entering a period of downswing in production. Record slaughter of breeding animals plus a cutback in breeding intentions for this spring give evidence of the change in production. As a result, the hog outlook is more optimistic.

An eight percent higher cattle slaughter during November and December has been interpreted to mean that the sharp build-up in cattle numbers is slowing down. Therefore, the immediate cattle outlook would be for increased slaughter and lower prices.

However, points out Russell, the high level of slaughter only indicates the large number of cattle on feed during the fall. In contrast to high steer and heifer slaughter, cow and calf slaughter have stayed at relatively low levels. Although a larger supply of beef is indicated, the increase is not expected to cause a serious break in prices.

Keeping Ahead in Farming

Meat Animal Trends

Meat animals may continue to pull ahead of other farm enterprises. Some reasons for this trend are that more land is going into pastures, pasture land is receiving better treatment, better use of adapted crops and fertilizer, increased corn yield, and better breeding and management practices.

We have the land, climate, rainfall, adapted grazing and feed crops, and markets to compare favorably with other enterprises in the state and to compete with other livestock-growing areas outside the state. What better use could we plan for more Alabama resources than in the production and sale of cattle, calves, hogs, and lambs?

Bargaining Power

Tremendous bargaining power is held by two of the three big economic groups in this country—labor, through trade unions, and industry, through built-in bargaining advantages due to the enormous size of many corporations. However, finding ways to exercise more bargaining power is one of the real needs today in the third big group—agriculture. Most farmers still have not found a way to bargain for prices for the products they market.

In 1958 consumers spent over $68 billion for food while the gross farm income for all agriculture was less than $38 billion. Out of this amount, farmers spent over $24 billion for production expenses leaving only a little over $13 billion for management and labor. Even this figure included nearly $4 billion for such things as food, feed, family supplies produced on the farm, and other items that were not real money income.

Therefore, the farmers' actual net income amounted to less than $10 billion—a tiny, pitiful fraction of our gross national production or expenditure of over $437 billion.

More Cooperation Needed

Successful business depends upon our ability to understand and get along with our fellow men. And only through added cooperation can bargaining be profitable. Two of our farm leaders have expressed their views on farmer-bargaining through cooperative effort.

Kenneth Hood, American Farm Bureau Federation, and Joseph G. Knapp, Farmer Cooperative Service, feel that since the trend toward mass distribution and specification buying will probably continue, there are only two alternatives facing the grower. He may remain alone in the mass distribution system having little decision-making power, or he may join with other growers to retain control over major marketing decisions.

Land Prices Leveling Off

An end to the five-year upsurge in farm land prices which added nearly one-third to land values is foreseen by the USDA. And the followup may be a price decline. The sharp drop in farm income during the last half of 1959 took much of the stimulus from the land market.

There are still some factors, however, which tend to support a further rise in the land market. Among them are continuing pressures for farm enlargement, demand by farm operators for the limited number of tracts that come on the market, prospects of further gains in the general economy, and conversion of farm land to non-farm uses.

The proportion of total farm capital represented by real estate is now the highest in recent decades.

Dirt Clogs Refrigerators

IT'S impossible for refrigeration systems to do a good job if condenser coils or fins are clogged with dust and dirt.

This radiator-like part of a bulk milk cooler, egg cooler, freezer, or household refrigerator depends upon good air circulation to function well. Auburn Extension Engineer Bill Cox advises cleaning the coils and fins periodically with a compressed-air hose and brush.

Be sure to straighten any fins that may become bent during cleaning, says Cox. He recommends cleaning egg coolers and bulk milk coolers about once a month and home freezer and refrigerators, twice a year.

DHIA Brings $50 Premium

DAIRY cows enrolled in the national Dairy Herd Improvement Association program returned an average profit to herd owners in 1958 of $78 per head over total estimated cost of feed and care. In contrast the average cow provided her owner with only $28 above estimated expenses during the year.

Parasite Eggs Hard To Kill

U. S. Department of Agriculture scientists have found that eggs of some turkey and chicken parasites may live from two to four years after being deposited on soil and left exposed to outside weather. These findings indicate that a three-month or 12-month rotation of poultry yards is inadequate for the safety of young chicks and poults.

1959 Discoveries

NEW knowledge was uncovered during 1959 by farm scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Perhaps the most important on the long list was the removal from plants and partial purification of a plant pigment which controls all plant development. Research that included performance testing of beef cattle, the heritability of tenderness and other quality characteristics in meat, and methods of measuring tenderness in live cattle was conducted.

The USDA also experimented with pelleted and chopped alfalfa hay for sheep, irrigation with brackish water, decontamination of agricultural land from radioactive fallout, and many other progressive ideas.

Cotton—What's That?

THE cotton situation in our state hasn't quite reached the point where folks say, "Cotton—What's that?" But the old king of cash crops has had a hard struggle.

It looks now as though we'll be planting more of the "white gold" since legislation has changed the law which thawed the freeze on individual farm allotments. Now you can loan your allotment (through your ASC office, of course) to your neighbor and still hang on to your rights to the acres for planting another year.

BYRD

Hope you read the article on page one of this issue. Jasper Jernigan, Extension agronomist of Auburn University, gives all the facts and some recommended production practices, too.

Control Programs Blamed

I'm afraid we're too eager to place blame away from ourselves, especially when the subject being aired is a government program. Seems that we farm folks and agricultural workers like to think of our lost cotton acres as a direct result of the cotton acreage control program.

I heard a good answer to that one the other day. Dr. E. T. York, Jr., our Extension Service director, said, "Some have assumed that acreage control programs are responsible for our declining acreage. Although our acreage has been reduced more than 60 percent in the last 20 years, California farmers subjected to the same acreage control laws have increased their acreage over 100 percent. While our production dropped 40 percent, California's production increased 254 percent. Obviously, acreage control programs as such cannot be blamed for our difficulty."

Dr. York fingered YIELDS as the major reason for our declining acres. To stay in the cotton business we have to produce two to three bales per acre. It's being done, too, in some sections of the state.

Produce Own Groceries

How long has it been since you planted a garden? John Bagby, the Extension horticulturist, told me a few days ago that the number of farm gardens dwindle a little each year. Guess folks just rather garden in a grocery bag than a clean, fresh-plowed garden, even though it costs them a lot more.

I noticed in Bagby's article (in this issue) that a half-acre garden will produce $325 worth of vegetables—enough for a family of five. That's quite a savings. In fact, you could buy yourself a home freezer to store next year's produce in with that kind of money.

Cost to Non-Gardener

I'd say that a family of five would spend at least $25 a week for groceries (not including milk) when they have to buy everything they eat. That's a minimum of $1300 a year.

I saw that Mrs. E. G. Kivette of Conecuh County kept a record of everything she bought last year, and her groceries came to only $459. She had a garden and canned 300 quarts of vegetables—including fruits and meats.

JOHN BAGBY
Extension Horticulturist
Auburn University

THE economic outlook for 1960 agriculture is rather gloomy. Net farm income in 1959 was about 15 percent below 1958 and is expected to drop another seven and a half percent this year. If this holds true, many farm families simply will not have much money to spend for food and other necessities.

County agents' reports show almost 135,000 farm and over 63,000 non-farm gardens planted and cultivated in the state in 1959. I estimate that the vegetables produced in these gardens were worth a total of $34,000,000. That amounted to savings of anywhere from $100 to $300 for individual families.

BAGBY

One partial means of easing the expected financial squeeze this year is to produce as many of the needed vegetables as possible. A good half-acre garden will produce $325 worth of vegetables at retail prices, enough to feed a family of five. On the other hand, cash outlay for seed, fertilizer, and pest control materials for a half-acre garden is not likely to exceed $60. The $265 difference is labor profit.

Looking at it from another standpoint, to buy these vegetables at current prices, the farmer would have to produce and sell 1,000 pounds of lint cotton (two bales), 250 bushels of corn, 1500 pounds of beef, 2700 pounds of pork, or 1800 pounds of broiler meat to pay the family vegetable bill. It is doubtful if any of these can be produced with as little labor and cost as a home garden.

Besides saving money the farmer knows that vegetables straight from the garden are fresh, whereas he can't always be sure about those bought from a store.

In line with these thoughts, let me emphasize several important practices that contribute to the success of the garden. First, you should plant on good soil, preferably a fertile, well drained, sandy loam. Break the land several weeks before planting, and disk or harrow two or three times to form a smooth, firm seedbed that is free of clods. If you can get it, spread eight to ten tons of stable manure or five tons of poultry manure per acre before breaking. In addition to supplying plant food, manure will improve the physical condition of the soil, help hold moisture, and make plant food in commercial fertilizers more available to plants.

Another important point is to use plenty of commercial fertilizer. Most vegetables are heavy feeders and require adequate plant food all through the growing season. General fertilization recommendations are available, but a soil test is the only way to find out your exact garden needs.

Pest control is another essential in successful gardening. A number of insects and diseases attack most vegetables. The Auburn approved garden dust, which contains one percent rotenone and five percent zineb, will control most of these pests if used regularly. Five percent malathion is excellent in controlling bean beetles and aphids (plant lice). To control cutworms, dust plants and the ground around them with 20 percent toxaphene or 10 percent DDT immediately after setting plants.

For best control, dust early—before the insects and diseases get a start. Repeat applications every seven to 10 days to protect new growth, and thoroughly cover the plants at each dusting.

There's no reason not to have fresh vegetables the year around. The secret is to keep the ground in use as much of the year as possible. As the season for one vegetable passes, replace it with another crop. Repeat plantings of corn, snap beans, squash, peas, and similar crops. For best results, plant cool-weather crops such as beets, carrots, English peas, Irish potatoes, cabbage, turnips, and broccoli early so they will be ready for use before hot weather arrives.

All jobs in the garden are important, but so is the time for doing each job. Soil preparation, planting, cultivating, and pest control must be done at the right time. Neglecting any of these may result in a scant supply of vegetables later in the year.

They are needed to fill newly constructed curing vats in the Montgomery area. In order to do this, they are expecting several hundred thousand pounds to be supplied by Chilton County farmers.

They are offering as a company agreement:

(a) To promptly furnish the grower with the limits of its ability to obtain the amount of specially treated, tested and packaged cucumber seed needed which is estimated to be about two pounds to the acre, at the cash upon delivery price of $1.25 per pound.

(b) To pay in cash at the time of delivery at the receiving station for the following grades as shown in the National Pickle Packers Association Official Size chart:

Grade 1—For straight well formed pickle cucumbers not over 1-1|16 inches in diameter, from the first two belts of the grading machine, $5.00 per 100 pounds.

Grade 2—For straight well formed pickle cucumbers over 1-1|16 inches in diameter, but not over 1-1|2 inches in diameter, from third and fourth belts of grading machine, $2.50 per 100 pounds.

Grade 3 — For straight well formed pickle cucumbers over 1-1|2 inches in diameter, but not over 2 inches in diameter, from fifth belt of the grading machine, $1.00 per 100 pound. For sound crooks and stubby cucumbers from Grades 1 and 2, as above named, as are needed by the company, 50c per 100 pounds.

Above grades will be assorted by machine at receiving station free. Machines manufactured by Standard Machine Co., Canton, Mo., National Pickle Packers Ass'n. specifications.

Oversized, soft, yellow, or seedy cucumbers, white or blighted cucumbers of any size will not be accepted. Cucumbers must be free from injurious spray or dust and or pest infection, and must not contain worms or worm holes.

Both Parties Agree:

(a) That neither party shall be responsible to the other for non-performance due to fire, strikes, or other labor troubles, inability to pocure necessary supplies from usual sources, acts of Providence, restriction of operations by reason of Fedeal or State legislation, or any regulations adopted pursuant thereto, or to any cause reasonably beyond the control of the parties.

(b) It is agreed that the company's obligation to purchase may at its option be terminated at any time after three-fourths of the growers under similar contacts have ceased to delive cucumbers.

Seed and contact agreements are now available to all Chilton County farmers. For furhter information all or stop by the County Agent's office.

Chilton Shares In $1 Million ABC Store Profits, $3,190

Montgomery, Ala. -- The Alabama Alcoholic Beverage Control Board has just completed distribution of more than $1 million in ABC store profits to all 334 incorporated municipalities in Alabama.

Gov. John Patterson said the payments to cities and town totaled $1,031,954 and represented net profits in the six-month period ending last Sept. 30. The profits are distributed twice a year.

Municipalities in Chilton County got a total of $3,190 of the ABC store profits. Included in the profit distribution was the payment of $2,078 to Clanton.

The municipalities over the state receive a pro-rated share of the proceeds based mainly on population. Slightly larger shares are distributed to the state's 20 wet counties.

State ABC Board Administrator Edward J. Azar said the distribution included proceeds from several taxes levied in the stores as well as profits. The February distribution represented one of the largest ever made.

The profits are usually distributed each February and August, Mr. Azar said.

SINGLEY INVITES PATRONS TO VISIT TRACTOR CAVALCADE

INVITATIONS to attend a spectacular kind of exhibit of farm and industrial equipment are being extended to this area's residents by Mr. P. F. Singley, Ford tractor dealer at Thorsby.

Combining entertainment, education and engineering in a manner never before brought to a rural audience, and called the "1960 Ford Tractor and Equipment Cavalcade", the exhibit will feature an original hour and a half long live musical show with Broadway actors and actresses. A "horizon-wide" motion picture screen with "living sound" will also be used during the performance for added dramatic impact.

The Cavalcade Show will be staged four times at 10 A.M. and 2 P.M. on Wednesday and Thursday, March 9th and 10th in Atlanta. This is the only visit of the Show to our area, according to Mr. Singley. It is visiting 23 other cities under the auspices of Ford Motor Company's Tractor and Implement Division, he said.

Mr. Singley added: "I want to urge this area's adults and high schoolers to take this opportunity to see the 1960 Ford Tractor and Equipment Cavalcade. For variety of equipment to be shown, entertainment value of the program and unusualness of the futuristic Geodesic dome and horizon-wide motion pictures, I belive the Cavalcade will be an unprecendented spectacle".

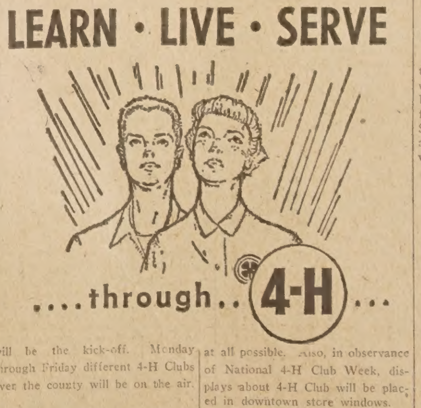
38 Different Projects

There are approximately 38 different projects that a 4-H Club member can take. The most popular ones in Chilton County are: home ground beautification, home improvement, beef, dairy, swine, gardnening, farm and home safety, forestry, corn, fruit production, tomatoes and other truck crops, sewing, cooking, child care, food preservation - including canning and freezing.

Due to the interest of 4-H'ers all over the nation in these and many other projects, it seems that special recognition is due them; thus, National 4-H Club Week will be observed.

National 4-H Club Week

Chilton County 4-H'ers will celebrate National 4-H Club Week in different ways. Saturday, March 5th, there will be a 4-H Club Council meeting held at the City Grill at 9:00 A.M. The County Council is composed of all school club officers throughout the county. Plans for the week will be discussed at this meeting. Beginning Saturday at 11:15 A.M. there will be a 15-minute program on Station WKLF by, for and of 4-H Club members every day at the same time throughout the week. Saturday's program will be the kick-off. Monday through Friday different 4-H Clubs over the county will be on the air.



4-H'ers Urged To Go To Church

Sunday, March 6th, all 4-H members are urged to attend the church of their choice. Four-H members should plan to all sit together if at all possible. Also, in observance of National 4-H Club Week, displays about 4-H Club will be placed in downtown store windows.

We urge every 4-H member to observe National 4-H Week by putting into practice things you have learned through 4-H Club work.

CIVITAN SPONSOR BEEF —

Plans Rolling on Chilton's Annual 4-H Fat Stock Show

N joint meeting of 4-H - FFA Civitan leaders, held in Civitan Hall Monday evening, an agreement for the local Civitan Club to assist in making Chilton County's annual Fat Stock Show the public event it should be was reached.

Grady Popwell, President Clanton Civitan Club, along with Fonza Coe, Vice-President, selected the following Civitan committee members to work with Assistant County Agents and Vocational Agriculture teachers in development of bigger and better Junior Cattlemen's County Show. Finance Committee: Lowell Robinson, Charlie Price and James Langston. Publicity and Show Development Committee named were: M. C. Godwin, Harold Littlejohn and Johnnie Smith.

The Civitans tentatively plan to assist Vocational Agriculture teachers and Agricultural Workers through underwriting approximately $700.00 premium list and plan to prepare a barbecue supper for spectators attending the April 19th event.

Dees-Huggins Study Records

About the only sure way to know if you are making a profit or loss in the beef cattle business is to keep records on every phase of the operation, especially the breeding and herd replacement program. Neck chains and ear tags are being used by Howard Dees of Conecuh County.

Dees Shows Ear Tag On Calf

WANT to see one of the most beautiful farms in Alabama?

Then drive out Route F from Evergreen to the Jay Villa Plantation and feast your eyes on some clean farm living—9,000 acres of it.

Howard Dees, farm manager and a partner of owner Thomas E. McMillan of Brewton, dressed the farm up over the past several years. There's no trash, not even a scrap of paper to litter the green, rolling acres—just whiteface cows. And developing a top-quality herd of horned and Polled Herefords through efficient management and proper breeding practices is responsible for the looks of the farm.

Cattle Ahead of Grazing

It all started back in 1943 when Dees set out to put the place on a paying basis. But profit-hungry, trigger-happy Dees got too good a start with the cattle—he had them out way ahead of the grazing. Says Dees "After the first year those slopes and low hills were bald as an apple, and I saw right away I had to get rid of those animals and develop pastures first."

So, he sold the herd and started planting grazing crops. While he was doing this he set up an efficient, profitable hog operation to tide him over the pasture-building period, points out County Agent M. H. Huggins, who works closely with Dees in all of his farming operations.

Today Dees has 500 acres in coastal bermuda, 400 in Pensacola bahia grass, and between 300 and 400 acres in crimson clover. Grazing these acres are two herds of cattle—a registered herd of 80 brood cows and a 400-brood-cow commercial herd. And that's not counting the calves and bulls.

His commercial animals are three-quarters Hereford and better. In fact, some of them are purebred—the ones that didn't quite have the markings for registering in his purebred herd. But these animals make top-quality brood cows in his commercial herd. And Dees is planning to up the number in this herd to 800 just as fast as he can develop pasture to take care of them.

Dees puts the bulls in the pasture with the grade herd on Jan. 1 and sends them back to the bull pasture May 15. This way he gets fall-dropped calves that go to market the next June, or thereabout. He also creep-feeds the critters to hurry them along to market.

In Purebred Herd

Controlled breeding is practiced in the purebred herd. That is, the bulls are not allowed to run in the same pasture with the cows. When a cow is ready to breed, she is pulled from the herd, bred, and returned to the pasture.

Dry cows are kept in a separate pasture away from lactating mothers and their offspring. Calves stay with their mothers from nine to 10 months feasting on lush grazing and mothers' milk. Then the best ones are selected for herd replacements. At this time each calf is given an ear tag and number identical to that of its mother.

Those calves selected for herd replacements are pastured by themselves where Dees can watch for proper development and the quality characteristics he wants in his brood herd. Before the two-year-old breeding date Dees culls the calves again, removing the ones that failed to show the proper qualities. The others, which have proved to Dees that they are top-quality prospects for the brood herd, are given a new ear tag and number that stays with them from then on.

This number is valuable to Dees in keeping records on each of his brood cows. He can keep tab on the number of calves dropped by individual cows and cull those animals that fail to bring a calf as often as they should.

Performance Testing

To keep a close check on the quality of his herd, Dees keeps a couple of bulls on the Auburn Experiment Station testing program each year. In fact, he has entered bulls in the program ever since it was started six years ago. The latest report on the two bulls now on test shows that one of the animals averaged gaining 4.14 pounds per day over the last 56-day test period, and the other made a daily gain of 3.21 pounds during the same period.

Another indication of good breeding and good quality, points out Agent Huggins, is seen in the calves Dees places with 4-H Club members in the county. Calves from his commercial herd always gain faster and finish out as top animals at the show. And usually it's one of these animals that takes the grand championship of the show.

Breeding Stock Source

Huggins reports that Dees has established a good source of herd bulls, and farmers in and around the county are taking advantage of this fact by getting breeding stock from Dees to build their own herds.

According to Dees, the entire breeding and management program for his herds was set up under the supervision and guidance of Agent Huggins and the Extension livestock specialist at Auburn.

Has Definite Appeal To Community Clubs

R. G. ARNOLD
Extension Community Development
Auburn University

DR. E. T. YORK'S 100-Million-Dollar Challenge to the cotton leadership of Alabama has a very definite appeal to our Alabama rural community improvement clubs.

Among other things indicated in Dr. York's analysis of the state's cotton situation is the fact that we have lost acreage to the far West because growers there have learned to produce more profitably than we have. Many of our cotton farmers have felt that they were wasting their time with both low yields and low acreages; consequently they have thrown in the sponge and quit. Had they been making about two bales per acre, doubtless many would have realized their opportunity and stayed with cotton.

It can be heard on every street corner and at every crossroads store that farmers are leaving the farm, which is true to some extent. But these farmers would have no desire to quit farming if they were producing economically. You do not have to be big in acreage to farm, but you do have to be big in efficiency.

Mr. Richard Blackburn, who was secretary of the American Farm Bureau and my former boss, has a ranch in California. I have heard him say many times "my ranch this, and my ranch that" until one day I said, "Mr. Blackburn, how many acres are in your ranch?" I thought he'd say about 10 or 15,000, but he utterly floored me when he said, "27 acres." Twenty-seven acres in edible, seedless grapes, and he has gone to glory financially. No, you don't have to be big to farm, but you do have to be efficient.

And what I interpreted Dr. York to say earlier this year was that when the cotton farmer, or any other Alabama producer, learns both the science and art of efficient and economical production, he won't want to leave the farm to the bats and owls; farming will be so enticing until even bankers will be milking Brahma cows.

Off hand, I would say that two-thirds of our community club families in Alabama do not produce much cotton, but a lot of them produce other crops. And it's just as important to do a good job of producing poultry, hogs, or milk as it is to produce cotton. Many of our community club members are part-time farmers and earn a goodly part of their income off the farm. This can be a very happy relationship, but if you want to maintain this profitable setup, you will have to make that small acreage a very profitable enterprise.

County Agent C. H. Webb of Coosa County will tell you that members of the Mt. Moriah Community Club selected row crops as one of their projects. And within a very few years they had raised corn yields to an average of 66 bushels per acre. They also doubled their yields of cotton across the board. County Agent Albert Pitts tells me that Lawrence Community Club members over doubled their cotton yields per acre, community-wise, the first year. They simply organized to do the job and did it.

Many of our communities have taken new cash crops such as hogs, poultry, fruits, and vegetables as projects and have done the same thing with them. Still, there are those who say, "But some of these crops are already in surplus, why add more fuel to the fire that's already destroying agriculture?" Of course, surplus crops do pile up, and they do a great deal of harm, but they are only temporary. Eventually supply and demand will balance each other. But there can be only one surplus farmer, and he's the inefficient producer.

There are great, untold opportunities in farming today—surpluses or no surpluses—for the farmer who properly prepares himself for an efficient job of production. Hundreds of our community clubbers are doing just that, only not enough of it.

Today in Alabama we have around 250 organized rural communities; we should have a minimum of one thousand. If each club selected increased crop and livestock production as a project and followed Extension recommendations, just think what a contribution this would make toward Dr. York's 100-million-dollar challenge.

Proper Light Wipes Out Shaving Blues

WILLIAM T. COX
Extension Farm Buildings Specialist
Auburn University

HAS your husband ever enjoyed the pleasure of shaving a really well-lighted face?

Chances are he hasn't, since lighting in many bathrooms is either inadequate or poorly planned. Being able to see the top and back of the head is important, too, when you set and groom your hair.

To achieve these desirable results, provision should be made for:

(1) a long line of light at either side of the mirror to assure light under the chin;

(2) light above the mirror or on the ceiling for top-of-head lighting;

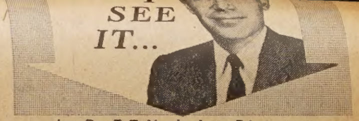
(3) well shielded wall brackets which are at least 30 inches apart so that one looks between and not at them;

(4) a single or double row of fluorescent tubes along the full width of wall-to-wall mirrors, and a good reflecting surface on counter tops to make up for absence of side lighting.

Luminous ceilings in the bathroom literally give out a feeling of cleanliness and cheerfulness. Several manufacturers have made packaged luminous ceilings available in four-by-four and four-by-six-foot sizes. Long fixtures such as these do the best under-the-chin lighting job, but they should be supplemented by two 20-watt fluorescents or two 40-watt incandescents above the mirror.

For a freestanding lavatory, you should have at least three fixtures, one above the front edge of the bathroom and a pair spaced 30 inches apart at either side of the mirror. For appearance's sake, shielded tubes should be used. It's vital that incandescent lamps have shields with good diffusing qualities. A minimum requirement in fluorescent lighting calls for 20-watt lamps at either side of the mirror and in the ceiling fixture.

In tub or shower enclosures, a 60-watt, vaporproof, recessed fixture is needed, since light just won't go through walls or around corners.



by Dr. E.T. York, Jr. - Director
Auburn University Extension Service

LAST month we discussed briefly plans to make an all-out effort in promoting a cotton program this year. In suggesting that we give cotton such a boost, we were by no means suggesting the return to an agriculture dominated by one crop as ours was until some 20 years ago.

Today Alabama has the best diversified agriculture in history with almost equal income from crops and livestock. I am sure that as a state we will be in a much stronger position if we keep it diversified. While we want to do the best job possible with cotton, we also want to boost every other segment of our total agriculture.

Beef Cattle Potential

Our beef cattle industry, in particular, has tremendous potentials for further growth. In fact, Alabama's cattle industry in recent years has enjoyed one of the fastest rates of growth as that for any state in the country.

During the 25-year period from 1930-1955, pasture acreage in the state more than doubled. In the last 10 years, cattle numbers in Alabama increased some 51 percent while going up only 24 percent in the United States as a whole. Approximately one out of every five dollars in farm income in 1958 was from the sale of beef.

More Expansion Ahead

Despite this outstanding progress, I believe the period of greatest expansion and development in our beef cattle industry still lies ahead. We have many natural advantages which should enable us to compete very favorably with other cattle growing areas—even in the face of declining prices. We have the favorable climate, moderate temperatures, high rainfall, and good land suited to a wide variety of feed crops. We are located near large, consuming centers and expanding markets. And we are becoming more expert in forage production and beef cattle management as we gain experience.

Demand Increasing

The demand for beef is increasing steadily as the U. S. population expands at the rate of about 1.7 percent annually. Furthermore there has been a sharp rise in per capita consumption of beef—from about 57 pounds in the 1930's to some 85 pounds in the late 1950's. However, we still do not use as much beef as many other countries. Argentina, for example, has a per capita consumption of some 155 pounds.

Alabama's beef cattle industry is fortunate in having the largest and, as I see it, the most effective state cattlemen's association in the country. This association, which had its annual meeting in Montgomery February 11, is doing an outstanding job of representing the interests of Alabama cattle producers. It is also doing a most effective job in promoting the increased consumption of beef and otherwise helping to build a stronger, more prosperous cattle industry in the state.

We in Extension are delighted to join hands with the Alabama Cattlemen's Association in working toward this goal.

IT'S a lot easier to say the world owes you a living than it is to prove your claim.

ANY man who talks but does not act is trying to build a reputation on false pretenses.

RELIGION that fails to improve the behavior of people is either weak or the people are.

WHEN a man faces misfortune it is time to about face.

IT is a sure thing that if you cheapen yourself--you will get marked down.

CHECK yourself. If you are living too fast a life--drop anchor before it is too late.

YOU are a dreamer or optimist if you think the world will grow better if you do not try to improve yourself.

MOTHER Nature is a funny thing. She lets you begin thinking you are some pumpkin, and then she sends a heavy frost.

THE self-admiration that some people have for themselves proves there is no accounting for taste.

We Believe In America And Chilton County-

PROPOGANDISTS and some news facilities would have us believe that America is going straight to the dogs! Most of these claims come through the "facts" that our rival country Russia is pulling ahead of us in so many ways. "Russia sent up the first and largest satellite. , . Russia has more scientists and engineers every year. . . Russia is pulling up fast in the production field. . ." And they go on and on'.

If we truly believe in the basic principles of freedom and what our way of life stands for we will not concern ourselves so much with what a "rival" is doing as with what we are doing ourselves!

Our America and our Chilton County is still and by far the greatest country on earth and with God as our strength and leader, nothing can, or will ever change that

Along with our faith and works, however, we must strive not to succumb to the "whipped dog" attitude that so many would like us to do!

America is still America and we are still a free people! We govern ourselves.

Someone said, and it's very true, that the secret to happiness is freedom. . . freedom to choose our way of living, loving and making room for one another. The secret of freedom is courage. . . the courage to stand up, be counted, say what we believe and why we believe it to be right! And we would add, that the secret of courage is the strength which the Lord offers us when he says: "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you!"

Nossir, America and Chilton County are not going to the dogs as long as there are free men who are willing to make sacrifice and stand up for what they say they believe!

There will be freedom as long as there are men who will use the courage they derive from the Almighty Hand and there will always be America as long as we stand up for what we believe!

MAYOR MORGAN WRITES ON PROGRESS AT BIRMINGHAM ZOO

Mr. R. M. Tucker, Publisher
Chilton County News
Clanton, Alabama
Dear Mr. Tucker:

I hope you will forgive me for not thanking you sooner for the lovely story you wrote in your January 14th edition about the Birmingham Zoo. We were happy that you concurred in this most worthy project, and it is as you said, everybody's zoo in the state, and happily, we have many visitors from over the state. Having made several checks on cars parked in the area, over week-ends especially, almost one out of every fourth car is from counties over the state other than Jefferson. Then, too, through the week many school buses come in from various sections, and in most cases they bring their lunch and spend a big portion of the day having a good time.

If we are successful in our proposed bond issue to be voted on May 3, we plan on putting in about three other major units, one for birds, one for reptiles and sea lions. We have about enough money to build the giraffe house on hand, so that actually will be four. This will almost complete our endeavors, for a while anyhow.

There are a lot of interesting things which have happened in connection with the zoo, and, too, many interesting stories that have happened in the building ofit--stories about animals and their peculiarities that the average person is not too well acquainted with. There are some funny sides that are interesting and, too, some near tragic accidents. On two occasions some of the larger animals got together, and in one case we lost a beautiful tiger. Three lions did this job. Then the lions got mixed up with the big jaguar. At another time one of the big lions got out and was rambling around the zoo, and, strangely enough, they herded him up with a slap or two on the fact, and he went on back to his cage, about five hundred feet from where he was located. Not many people know it, but most of the animals in the cat exhibit are very friendly and can be petted. In fact, they like it. They are the easiest animals in the zoo to be friendly with.

Next time you are this way, I would en joy being with you, and we will go out and have some fun together.
Again thanks, and with all good wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,
J. W. Morgan, Mayor

Another Year --

The Goodyear Store is just completing it's 19th year in Clanton. The store has grown emmensley in the past nineteen years to one of the finest in this section. Frnm a beginning of approximately 2 thousand feet of floor space the overall business at Goodyear now contains approximately 8,000 feet of space for it's daily sales and service.

Another old timer with the 25th Anniversary coming up this month is the Bell Hardware Company.

Bell Hardware started 25 years ago in the building now occupied by Scott's Studio and soon outgrew the building and moved around to it's present location. It is not possible to approximate the floor space at Bell Hardware, but it is many times over the space it consumed when it was organized.

So you see, Clanton is growing whether we who reside here notice it so much or not. Congratulations to these two prosperous businesses.

Report from Washington

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Just two days after President Eisenhower vetoed a bill providing for the expansion of the provisions of the Water Pollution Control Act, members of the House attempted but failed by 22 votes to override the veto.

The water pollution control bill which the President failed to approve would have raised from $500 million to $900 million the present ceiling on long-range federal grants to help local communities build sewage disposal plants. It would have permitted also an increase in annual expenditures for the program from $50 million to $0 million.

Under the existing water pollution control program, almost 2000 grants have been made totaling $163 million in federal funds. Every dollar of federal funds has been matched by $4.70 in local funds, making a total of aproxmiately $938 million spent to date on sewage disposal projects under this program. Of the participating communities, 54 percent are under 5000 population.

In his veto message, the President said the bill to expand the program would "tempt municipalities to delay essential water-pollution abatement efforts while they waited for federal grants."

It was pointed out during the House debate, however, that the Chief Executive's own Water Pollution Control Advisory yBoard had urged approval of the bill after reaching the conclusion that federal grants for sewage treatment plants have stimulated and increased construction of needed facilities. The advisory board reported that there had been no decrease in the building of locally-financed municipal plants

President's Plan

As an alternative to the appropriation of funds for sewage control purposes, President Eisenhower recommended strengthening the research and technical assistance provisions of the Water Pollution Control Act, establishing a national conference on water pollution to meet in December, and continuing only modest financial aid for the administration of control programs by state and interstate water pollution control agencies.

It is obvious to most, however, that the approach recommended by President Eisenhower will deter, if not eliminate, construction of facilities that are needed to alleviate the critical problem of water pollution.

Fiscal Bill Voted

Another major appropriations bill, providing funds for the Treasury and Post Office Department, was passed by the House last week and referred to the Senate. The measure authorizes appropriations of $823 million for the Treasury Department and almost four billion dollars for the Post Office Department. The total of $4.8 billion is about $102 million less than the amount requested by the President in his budget estimates.

Visitors

Among the 6th District visitors to Washington last week were Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Glasscock of Clanton.

THINGS We see and hear

by BOB

BILL Hays, our favorite 'flat top cutter' is getting lazy or rich or both! We always go in early in the morning to get our ears lowered and we went in on a different day recently and after waiting until 7:15 and nobody showing up, we gave up until another day! Now, anybody knows that when a man goes to get a haircut it ain't no time to fool around because he's most likely a week overdue for one anyhow. Nobody, especially his barber, should stand in the way when a fellow decides for himself he 'needs' a haircut. By that time. . . he really needs a hair cut! When a fellow gets so danged independent that he can just cut hair when he feels like it. . . well, al we got to say is that there are going to be a lot of shaggy fellows around these parts, and it's all Bill Hays fault! Maybe he's just tired of looking at flat heads!

MOST of us were always taught that when a lady entered the presence of a man or men who are seated. . . the gentlemen rise. Such a sotuation arose the other day, but none of the gentlemen rose. We thought perhaps it must be the changing times (good or bad?), but found out different when the fellow next to us remarked: "I was going to stand up for the lady, but I didn't want to embarrass you other fellows!" Now, we claim that was plumb thoughty of him.

SAW a young man riding a bicycle late the other night and he was hanging onto the side of a moving automobile "hitching a ride". Not a very safe way to travel, especially at night. Reminded us of the tale our Dad always told us about when he used to be a Western Union delivery boy in Birmingham. He had to put in quite a few miles per day riding to and fro and he welcomed the opportunity to hitch a ride on a passing car one evening when the driver invited. He was purring along nicely under this "horsepower" instead of footpower when everything went black and he woke up in the West End Baptist Hospital pretty much bashed and banged. What happened? The wheel of his bike got in a streetcar track and threw him a 'winding'. We don't have streetcar tracks in Clanton, but it's still not the safest way to get where you're going. . . unless of course, you're going to the hospital!

A newly-organized Independent basketball club here in Clanton sponsored by "Pig's" IGA Super Markets won second place in the Montgomery Invitational Tournament last Friday and Saturday and they have a fine looking trophy to remind them, and others, of their accomplishment. It's on display over at the IGA. Thomas Payton, a member of the team won the Most, Valuable Player Trophy for his home club and he and Bobby Easterling were named on the All-Tournament team. Congratulations to Thomas, Bobby, Moses Powell, Ralph Mims, Donald Mims, Donald Baker, Osborn Mims, Moses Mims, Earl Hesler and G. C. Robinson on a job well done. This team also has uniforms supplied by the IGA and during the past season won 25 out of 29 games played. Not a bad average in anybodyy's league!

WE saw a sign on the side of a new automobile the other evening which read: "Interagency Motor Pool, U.S. Government, Official Use Only". We couldn't help but wonder just what the official business this fellow was doing, was! He didn't look too official to us. Of course we don't know about that sort of thing, all we know is how to pay withholding taxes and the like to supply this "official" with an automobile! It would be interesting (and probably very enlightening) to know just how much abuse this one "for instance" of our government takes! The taxpayers pay for too much "crap" and that's why our tax dollars don't do the job and require the assistance of other tax dollars. Too many leaks, drain the bucket!

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Ellison and Hal spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. John Evans Culp and Karen in Boaz. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Culp and children in Albertville while up there. The Ellisons were supper guests of Rev. and Mrs. Lane and Ray, Jr. on Monday night. They visited Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Ellison for a while

Because of the wide-spread interest among veterans and their dependents on the new pension law going into effect later this year, the Chilton County News today prints the fourth of five columns of pertinent information on the new law. Succeeding columns will appear each week. Cut out and save each column for a complete fact sheet. The following questions, with appropriate answers, were chosen by the Veterans Administration from the thousands being asked:

Q. There is talk of increased eligibility for widows and children under the new pension law. How many will be affected?

A. The VA estimates that approximately 200,000 widows and children, survivors of veterans who died after serving in World War II and the Korean conflict will become eligible for pensions after July 1, 1960, when the new system goes into effect.

Q. Don't they receive pensions under the present law?

A. Only if they can show that the veteran had a service-connected disability when he died.

Q. But the widows and children of deceased World War I veterans do not have to prove any service-connected disability to obtain a pension, do they?

A. No, they do not. And after next July 1, survivors of World War II and Korean conflict veterans like survivors of World War I veterans will have to show only that the veteran had 90 days of wartime service (or a disability discharge), was not dishonorably discharged, and that their annual income is within the limits prescribed by law to indicate the need for a pension.

Q. How much pension does a widow receive now?

A. A widow with no children now receives a pension of $50.40 a month. A widow with a minor child receives $63 a month, and if she has more than one mnor chld, she receives an additional $7.56 for for each extra minor child.

Q. What is the present limit on annual income for widows drawing pensions?

A. A childless widow may at present receive a pension if her annual income is not more than $1400. A widow with children may be eligible for a pension if her annual income does not exceed $2700.

Q. How will the new law change all this for a childless widow?

A. Under the new system a childless widow will receive $60 a month if her income is not more than $600 a year; $45 a month if her annual income is more than $600 but not more than $1200; and $25 a month if her annual income exceeds $1200 but is not more than $1800. If her income is more than $1800 a year she is not eligible to receive a pension.

Q. How will the new law affect a widow with children?

A. Under the new system a widow with one child will receive $75 a month if her annual income is not more than $1000; $60 a month if her annual income is more than $1000 but not more than $2000; and $40 a month if her annual income is more than $2000 but not more than $3000. If she has more than one minor child, she will receive an extra $15 a month for each additional child. A widow with a child or children is not eligible to receive a pension if her annual income is more than $3000.

Detailed information to fit your individual case may be obtained from a contact representative at any VA office.

It's Time To Celebrate

PUT the candles on the beans ... it's birthday time! Everyone loves a party . . . everyone loves pork and beans.

Yes, canned pork and beans with tomato sauce have always been high on the list of food favorites . . . and especially so in families with children. When combined with canned fruit and topped with marshmallows . . . pork and beans become party fare. These two pantry shelf items are naturals together. They turn ordinary family meals into festive occasions.

To go along with the party bean casserole, bake a slice of juicy ham . . . and serve with it a crisp cabbage and carrot salad. Of course, no party is complete without cake. Make it gingerbread dusted with powdered sugar. But remember . . . put the candles on the beans for this occasion!

Festive Beans

2 cans (1 pound each) pork and beans with tomato sauce
½ cup pineapple tidbits (or chunks)
Dash ground cloves
8 marshmallows

In shallow baking dish (10"x6" x2") combine beans, pineapple, and cloves. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) for 15 minutes. Arrange marshmallows on top; bake for another 15 minutes. Insert candles in marshmallows. Serve immediately. Makes 6 servings. FNS

Origin Of The Bible

Lamentations of Jeremiah

This book does not name the hand of its writer. The earliest direct outside evidence of writership appears in the introductory verse of the oldest extant translation, the Septuagint, which supplied verse reads: "And it came to pass, after Israel had been carried away captive, and Jerusalem had become desolate, that Jeremiah sat weeping, and lamented with this lamentation over, Jerusalem, and said." The Jewish Talmud, embodying the earliest traditions, says: "Jeremiah wrote his book, the book of Kings, and the Lamentations." That Jeremiah was a writer of lamentations seems true from 2 Chronicles 35:25, where mention is made of his lament over Josiah's death; which, however, must not be confused with the canonical book Lamentations now under consideration. Furthermore, who besides Jeremiah was so qauified to write this book that bewailed the siege ad fall of Jerusalem and the exile that followed? It was certainly composed by an eyewitness of the miseries lamented. The very words and phraseology of Lamentations clinch the evidence of Jeremiah's writership, because they are strikingly similar to the language and style of the prophetic book bearing Jeremiah's name. For all these reasons English Bible versions today confidently and correctly title the book "The Lamentations of Jeremiah".

Some Say Jeremiah Wrote

Some, very weakly, have contended that Jeremiah wrote this book upon the death of King Josiah. But the contents so perfectly and vividly describe the horrors and miseries and sorrows of Jerusalem's seige and fall that they fairly scream out that it is over those national tragedies and woes, and no others, that their sorrowful wails rise up. It seems evident from the strong emotion betrayed and the vividness of the scenes portrayed that the prophet recorded Lamentations shortly after the city's fall, while the terrible happenings were still very fresh and uppermost in mind.

The book is divided into five chapters, which are five poems, five dirges, complete in themselves. Chapters 1, 2 and 4 contain 22 verses, each of which verses starts with a different letter of the Hebrew alphabet and do so in alphabetical order. Hence, as learned in the lesson on Psalms, these poems are alphabetical poems, or acros--tics. Chapter 3 follows this structure also, but it has three verses in a row starting with the same Hebrew letter, and so runs alphabetically through 66 verses (similar to the 119th psalm, except that the psalm starts off eight consecutive verses with the same letter instead of three). Though chapter 5 has 22 verses, it does not follow any alphabetical order in structure. The current of emotion and grief runs strong and deep though these masterful poems. After the Israelites' return from captivity this book of the fifth month (Ab), and in was read yearly on the ninth day must laters times pilgrim Jews at the Wailing Wall in present day Jerusalem uttered some of its words.

Historical Events

The last chapter of the book of Jeremiah gives the historical events from those ruins the five dirges of Lamentations rise. It provides the historical setting for the book of Lamentations. The opening cry of the lament bemoans the desolation: "How doth the city sit solitary, that was full of people?" (Lam. 1:1) Tearful weepings continue the sorrowful contrast, and as they pour forth their torrent of woes that has overflowed once joyous Zion the poems entrich themselves ever deeper as descriptions of Jerusalem's siege and fall in 607 B.C. Judah has gone into captivity, dwells among the heathen, is persecuted without rest, while Zion mourns in desolation. The cause of calamity is shown to be her own multitudinous transgressions; the righteousness of Jehovah in permitting the overthrow of the rebellious city is readily and tearfully admitted. But complaint is raised against former lovers or friends turning into enemies in the hour of calamity and rejoicing in her fall. May their wickedness come to Jehovah's notice and draw upon their heads a similar retribu-

Zion Was Laid Waste

Most conspicuous in the second poem, or chapter 2, is the destruction by which Zion was laid waste. From Jehovah himself it came; like fire was his fury poured out to swallow up rebel Israel. He abhorred his sanctuary where true woship had been supplanted by heathen ceremony and religious ritual; broken down were the wall and barred gates that at one time stoped enemy battering rams; gone from the prophets was any vision from Jehovah; instead they conjured up foolish imaginations and vanities; they did not decry the city's iniquities, and failed to forestall the captivity; as a result her enemies swallowed her up and then clapped their hands and hissed and wagged their heads at her desolation. During the siege famine stalked grimly through her streets; starving children asked food of starving mothers, and instead of being satisfied were themselves eaten by the ones who bore them. Then the conquering sword adds its bloody toll to the uncounted numbers already litetring the streets in the wake of famine and pestilence. Everywhere the silent corpses shout out their grim accusation that of all the city's inhabitans only famine, pestilence and the sword have eaten their fill.

Chapter Three

Chapter 3, written in the first person pronoun, represents Jeremiah either speaking his own grief and prayer or else impesonating the desolated sons of Jerusalem. He bewails his calamities, yet extols God's mercies and compassions. Because of these divine qaulities grief is made bearable and will soon pass out of the lives of those who patiently hope and wait for the salvation of Jehivah. In all the flood of calamity justice has not been violated, and so the prophet demandingly questions: "Wherefore doth a living man complain, a man for the punishment of his sins?" The remedy is to "search and try our ways, and turn again to the Lord". A prayer of deliv- hark back to the time when the erance is uttered. and seems to persecutions leveled against Jeremiah were hottest, when he was pitched into the mucky dungeon. From this low state his prayer ascends to Jehovah's ears in heaven and deliverance comes. Jeremiah beseeches that a recompense befitting their works be visited upon the persecutors, doubtless meaning, in a larger way, the persecutors of Zion that now lay desolate.

Chapter 4 Reproduces 1 & 2

Chapter 4 reproduces some of the pictures and thoughts of chapters 1 and 2, but the contrast between Zion's former glory and her present pitiful estate is more strongly drawn. The once glittering gold of the sanctuary has dimmed to nothingness, and the huge building stones have been leveled to the streets. The famished state of the present is contrasted with the plenteous bounty of the past. The city's iniquities are again mentioned, reference is made to her futile looking unto Egypt for help, and the two final verses blast at Edom for her rejoicing at Zion's fall and remind Edom that the same bitter cup will be put to her taunting lips.

The Final Chapter

The fifth and final chapter laments Zion's sorrowful lot in captivity and desolation and constitutes a prayer or petition to Jehovah for deliverance. The ill-treatment and tortures and outrages undergone at the hands of the persecuting enemies are reviewed, and joy has given way to the shrouds of mourning. A plea is raised that Jehovah will not forget and forsake forever, that he will turn to them again and restore the former days of old. Yet the closing words of the poem seem to come in a tone of resignation: "But thou hast utterly rejected us; thou art very wroth against us." Restoration is far off, depending upon God's mercy.

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

A CHAMPION PLAYS TO WIN!

Recently, I heard a story about a famous tennis champion who was in this country several years ago.

At the peak of his powers in the tennis world, he was always on the lookout for young men who were potential tennis champions. One day he found a young man who was really a tennis flash. The champion undertook to teach the boy. He said, "Now, Son, if you will practice, really put your heart into it, someday you may be the champion of the world."

The young man, of course, was greatly excited, and applied himself. Months passed, and then one day the old champ walked out on the tennis court and said, "Son, I have arranged a championship match. I want to see what you can do."

The news spread, and on a certain date the crowds gathered and the game was played. When it was over, the young man rushed over to the old pro and said, "Bill, how did I do?"

Bill said, "Terrible."

The boy said, "Terrible? I won, didn't I?"

"Yes, but that's just the trouble."

"What do you mean?"

The champion said, "Son, you didn't play to win. You just played not to lose. You will never be a champion."

That is why I often ask myself, "Oral Roberts, what kind of person are you? Are you really doing your best, or are you doing just enough to get by? Are you trying to help people? Are you trying to tell people what Jesus really can do for them?"

In the story of David and Goliath, old Goliath said, "Young fellow, I'll feed you to the birds of the air."

Young David said, "You come against me with your sword and spear, but I come against you in the name of the Lord. I'll feed you to the birds of the air."

Now, Goliath, who was about nine feet tall, might have had reason for saying what he did, but David was probably no more than half the size of Goliath. When he challenged a giant, he was talking like a champion. He was going out there to win for God and the people. And he did.

What kind of person are you? Do you have a smile on your face, a spring in your step, and a lift to your shoulders? Is there a fire in your eye? Do you feel on top of the world today?

We, as champions for God, must always play to win. And win we will, for God has given us abundant life.

NEWS OF — SHILOH

Rev. A. V. Bice, pastor

The messages brought by the pastor, Sunday morning and Sunday night were truly a blessing to everyone who heard them. The morning subject was "Whence Cometh Thou". Scripture Job 1, 1-6. Evening subject was "God Is Real", Exodus 3:1-10.

Our attendance is better, but there are still a number of our people unable to attend services due to the flu epidemic. We miss them and pray they will soon be able to fill their places again.

Our study course which closed Saturday night was very informative and interesting.

Misses Adelle and Ardelle Mullins of Birmingnam, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Green and Teresia, Mr. and Mrs. Duel (Red) Budette of Clanton and Miss Olive Kendrick of Thorsby visited relatives here on Sunday and attended church.

Other Church visitors Saturday night and Sunday were Mac and Linda Downing of Clanton and Hezel Headley of Mobile. We are always glad to have these people come back and worship with us.

Mr. and Mrs. James Owen of Georgia are the first ones to ask for one of the old church benches. Mrs. Owen's (nee Margaret Kemp) grandfather, the late J. R. Kemp, father of Tom and W. A. Kemp of Clanton, helped to build some of these benches about the year of 1880. James and Margaret are replacing this old bench with a new pew. Thanks a lot.

The Second Sunday in the months of March, April, May, June and July have been designated as pew days. This will give everyone a chance to contribute to this much needed project. The committee of deacons will hold a business meeting at the home of Earnest Kendrick Thursday night.

Spring Revival

Let's be much in prayer for the Spring Revival which will begin the 4th Sunday in March. The Rev. L. M. Grey will bring the messages.

WMU Enjoys Spend-The-Day

The WMU ladies attended a spend-the-day social at the home of Mrs. L. C. Keen last Wednesday and quilted two quilts. Thirteen ladies carried covered dishes and enjoyed a wonderful day of fellowship together. These ladies have already contributed $50.00 toward the new pews. Congratulations!

It's A Girl

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Neil Mullins upon the arrival of a new daughter, Sheila Denise. She arrived at the Chilton County Hospital, Feb. 25 and topped the scales at 11 lbs 1 oz. Mother and baby came home Sunday.

We are glad to report that Mr. Earnest Kendrick came home from the hospital last Sunday. Earnest is improving after a rough fight with flu and other complications.

Mrs. William Hill had surgery last Wednesday at the Baptist Hospital in Selma. She is improving and we hope she will soon be home.

Quilting Bees Revived

Quilting is an old art being handed down from generation to generation. Interest fags, then suddenly there is quilting again. The children grow up, mother must make quilts, as the young ones will soon be home makers and need quilts.

In Jemison and Thorsby and communities around these towns, the art is going strong. Housewives have to thank Thorsby Manufacturing Co. for this latest upsurge in quilting. This company began giving scraps of cotton and other materials to all who were interested.

Those having spend-the-day quiltings in Jemison are: Mrs. V. O. Lenoir, Mrs. Lonnie Cobb, Mrs. Charles Harrell, Ms. Evie Champion and Mrs. Edna McNeill.

Not only have housewives used the scraps for quilts, many have made spreads, crocheted rugs, afghans, others have made stuffed toys for children. Well, the art of quilting is still with us!

THE BETERANS CORNER

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to questions of interest from former servicemen and their families.

Q. We have a neighbor, a widow of a World War II veteran, who formerly was not eligible for pension. She will be, under the new pension law. We'd like to help her. What points in the new law should we emphasize to her?

A. To qualify for pension, widows and orphans of World War II and Korea veterans formerly were requied to show that the veteran at time of death had some service-connected disability. This is not necessary, under the new law which becomes effective July 1. To be eligible, your neighbor need only show that her veteran husband was in active 90 days or more and was discharged under other than dishinorable conditions, and that her income does not exceed legal limits.

Q. Mostly when you hear about veterans, it's about men. Aren't women veterans also eligible for the benefits the VA administers?

A. Yes. Women veterans are eligible for the same benefits and under the same conditions as men. There is no differentiation as to eligibility in the law.

Q. Is a "peacetime" veteran with a disability rated 50-percent entitled to more compensation for dependents?

A. Yes. Peacetime veterans rated 50-percent or more idsabled may be entitled to additional compensation for a wife, minor children, or dependent parents.

Q. Is it possible to get a replacement for a lost discharge?

A. Yes. Write to: Department of Defense, Military Personnel Records Center, 9700 Page Boulevard, St. Louis, Missouri. Give them your branch of service and tell them you want a Certificate in Lieu of Discharge.

Veterans living in or near Clanton who wish further information about their various benefits should write or visit the VA Office at Clanton on 6th Street.

Protect Cattle With Good Loading Chute

It's poor sense to try to load cattle without a good loading chute.

A good loading chute or a solid loading ramp is a must for getting animals into a truck or railway car. Many animals have never been off the ground before, and they are often frightened at the prospect of entering a strange and perhaps unsteady vehicle.

A strong chute with steps and tight sides often makes prodding or hurrying the animals unnecessary and will prevent excessive bruising and shrink. A firm bank to which the truck can be backed so that it can be used as a loading ramp will also serve the same purpose.

Most farmers have enough material on hand to build a satisfactory chute. The prevention of excessive shrink and bruising makes the animals more marketable and often more than pays for the cost of the chute or loading ramp. The stair-step chute is proving to be one of the best types since cattle prefer it over the conventional inclind chutes.

In constructing a chute make a long enough incline to allow the cattle to move freely. Keep the sides tight and make the width either narrow enough for a single animal or wide enough for two or sturdily built to give the animal more. Also, the chute should be confidence as he starts up.

America's increased population is expected to require 61 percent more broilers by 1975.

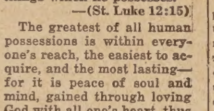
Judge J. B. Atkinson Thanks Citizens Of County

JUDGE J. B. Atkinson, Judge of County Court of Chilton County will have no opposition this year in the May 3, Democratic Primary.

Wednesday after the time limit had expired for qualifying in the elections this year no one had come forward to make the race against Judge Atkinson.

Wednesday morning Judge Atkinson stated: " wish to thank the people of Chilton County, and the County Bar Association for their wonderful cooperation during my past term as judge of this court and wish to assure them I will strive ever to serve them better in my capacity as Judge of the County Court of Chilton County. Within the near future will see them all personally and thank them for their cooperation and through the papers will try to give account of the stewardship of this office."



Beware of covetousness, for a man's life consists not in the abundance of the things which he possesses. —(St. Luke 12:15)

The greatest of all human possessions is within everyone's reach, the easiest to acquire, and the most lasting—for it is peace of soul and mind, gained through loving God with all one's heart, thus to receive His love, without which worldly wealth is ashes.

New Regulations on Boating in Chilton

ATTENTION has been called to the fact that the new laws concerning boat registration for Chilton County and the State of Alabama have come into effect and the general public has little, if any, practical knowldge of their restrictions and benefits.

Following are some of the more important regulations connerhing boat registration and it is important to you fir your own welfare to acquaint youself with these new laws:

Racing Vessels

"Vessels used exclusively for racing are exempted from the requirements of attaching tags to bow. Tags will be attached at some other conspicuous position in or on said vessel."

Less Than 26 Feet

"All mechanically propelled vessels less than twenty-six (26) feet in length shall have one combination light in fore part of vessel showing red to port and green to starboard from right ahead to two points abaft the beam, visible at least one mile; one bright, white light aft showing all around the horizon, visible at least two miles."

Lights On Boat

"All vessels of whatever description or size when anchored in a normal navigation channel or passageway shall carry and display a steady light, visible all around the horizon, as a warning signal to avert collisions."

Life Preserver For Every Passenger

"Every vessel operating on the waters of this State is required to have at least one Coast Guard approved life preserver or buoyant vest or ring buoy or buoyant cushion for each occupant riding in the vessel. Such life preservers must be placed or stored on the vessel in such manner as to be readily available for use in case of emergency."

These regulations are established through the Conservation Department of the State of Alabama and game wardens and other officials of Chilton County are cooperating accordingly. See that you familiarize yourself with any new regulations so that our Coosa waterways will be safer and more enjoyable for fishing, boating and outings of all sorts.

The Rose May Be National Flower

A few years ago, Americans realized that the United States had no official flower.

However, none was officially chosen because of such varied interest. In order to help Congress make the decision, the Florist's Telegraph Delivery Assoc. placed ballots in 11,000 flower shops across the nation. These ballots contained a list of 20 flowers, including the nine suggested by Congress.

When the results of this poll were announced, the rose was chosen by a two to one vote over its nearest rival, the carnation. The question must still be decided by Congress. But it looks now as though Uncle Sam might be sporting a rose in his buttonhole.

Cattle bruising during marketing and processing caused losses ranging from six cents to $2.77 a head in a study by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Farmer Cooperative service. This adds up to a yearly loss of 12 million dollars.

Walter Boldin, President Of Alabama Power Company Elected Director Of Liberty National Company

Directors of Liberty National Life Insurance Company yesterday elected Walter Bouldin, President of the Alabama Power Company, to the vacancy on the Board of Directors caused by the death of Yetta . Samford of Opelika.

Stockholders at the Company's annual meeting elected Mr. Bouldin, and in addition re-elected all other Directors. They are Leo E. Bassinsky, Ehney A. Camp, Jr., Charles T. Clayton, Joseph L. Lanier, Jack D. McSpadden, Arthur M. Mead, Frank P. Samford, Frank P. Samford, Jr., F. Page Seibert and Frank E. Spain.

The Directors declared a divident of 30c a share on the Company's stock payable March 10, 1960 to stockholders of record February 26, 1960. This dividend represented a 10 percent increase over the divident paid in 1959. The Directors also designated William T. Graves and John W. Lovin, Jr. Assistant Actuaries and re-elected all officers of the Company.

1959 Company's Best Year

Mr. Samford in his report to the stockholders pointed out that 1959 was the best year in the Company's history. The increase in life insurance in force amounted to $183,462,790 bringing total insurance in force to $1,676,109,717. Assets increased by $27 million bringing total assets to over $289 million. These were the largest increases the Company has experienced in any other year in its history.

Expands Operation

The Company continued to expand its operations, Mr. Samford said, increasing its field organization throughout the Company's territory and established four new district offices in Alabama, two in Florida and one in Georgia. Mr. Samford also pointed out that the total number of stockholders increased during the year from 2,699 to 3,602, and that total employees of the Company increased to 2,522.

It was also announced at the meeting that the Directors, unless something unusual arises, intend to propose to the stockholders at the next annual meeting to be held in February 1961 a stock dividend of 33 1/3 percent. The effect of such a dividend would be to increase the capital stock of the Company from $7.5 million to $10 million.

Veterans Offered Choice In Ala. Pension Systems

Approximately 26,523 veterans and dependents in Alabama will be offered a choice between the old and new pension systems, Neil R. Smart, Manager, VA Regional Office, Montgomery, announced today.

These veterans and dependents are those already on the pension rolls and are currently receiving pension checks.

Under provisions of the new law, they may continue to receive their present pension payments. If they do, they are subject to the regulations and income limits of the present system.

Should they choose to come under the new pension law, however, their payments will be regulated by the provisions of the new law, Smart said.

Smart pointed out that once a choice has been made to come under the new pension law, it cannot be changed. The pension recipient can never return to the system established by the present law.

Any information about the old or new pension laws may be obtained from Mr. Searcy at the Chilton County VA Office.

STATE'S FOREST PRODUCTS ASSOC. MEETS MARCH 7TH.

Use Caution With Electric Fences

It would be ridiculous to try to lift a heavy bundle with a light piece of string.

However, farm residents make almost the same mistake when they plug a heavy electric appliance into an ordinary light socket.

The undersized wire that leads to a light socket is not designed to carry the heavy current required for a heater, toaster, or other heavy appliance.

Take the advice of the National Safety Council and the Extension specialist and always connect appliances into wall outlets that have adequate power. And this means every time.

Alabama farmers fell short of planting the cotton allotment by 165,000 acres last year. Cotton from this acreage would have been worth about $24 million.

afecrackers Clean Out Stokes Company

SAFE crackers entered Stokes Chevrolet Company early Saturday night and made off with between eight and nine hundred dollars in cash plus a few checks.

According to Sheriff Hugh Champion it was a professional job following the pattern of the ones who entered Noah Latham's Store in Maplesville last week.

The burglars entered by a rear window which they broke and then cut the burglar bars with a bolt clipper. They did a punch job on the safe, knocking off the combination and punching out the pin. In their haste the culprits overlooked more than six hundred dollars in the safe.

15th Deadline For Cotton Acre'ge Rele'se

According to Eddie Owen, Chairman, Chilton County Agricultural Stablization and Conservation Committee, the 1961 cotton allotment for a farm will be reduced if certain conditions are not met in 1960. So a farmer who knows that he will not plant at least 75 percent of his farm's cotton allotment in 1960 can help himself and also other cotton farmers by releasing his allotment before the deadline. This will assure him, as well as the county and State, of history acreage for future allotments.

In order fully to protect the allotment base for the farm's 1961 and future cotton allotments, therefore, the farmer should (1) plant at least 75 percent of the 1960 allotment to cotton, or (2) release at least 75 percent of the allotment to the ASC County Committee, or (3) include at least 75 percent of the allotment acres in the Conservation Reserve, or (4) use a total acreage equal to at least 75 percent of the farm's 1960 cotton allotment in all of these three ways together.

FHA REVISES REQUIREMENTS ON FARM OPERATING LOANS

The Farmers Home Administration has revised its elgibility requirements for operating and farm ownership loans in Chilton County. This has been due to the fact that Chilton County is designated in the Rural Development Program.

Off-Farm Employment

Farmers in rural development counties who are regularly employed off the farm, if they meet other eligibility requirements, may obtain credit assistance from the FHA. Previously, a farmer had to spend most of his time farming in order to qualify for a loan.

Regulation Revised

Many rural development counties have been successful in expanding local industries or in attracting new industries to their communities, and in expanding other opportunities for off-farm employment. The regulation which limited credit assistance to farmers who spend most of their time farming prevented some farmers from obtaining the maximum production from their farms and taking full advantage of the new opportunities for industrial or other employment.

Some 'Rules' Unchanged

Other eligibility requirements, which remain unchanged, are that applicants who are part-time farmers must be established farmers carrying on substantial farming operations, must have a dependable income from other sources, and be unable to obatin the needed credit elsewhere.

The types of assistance provided remain the same. Owners who have employment off the farm may obtain loans to develop their farms and refinance debts incurred for agricultural purposes. Owners and operators who have employment off the farm may obtain loans for necessary farm operating costs.

Check With Local Office

All applications for loans are made at the local county office of the Farmers Home Administration, which is located in the Higgins Building. With the loans, borrowers receive--to the extent necessary ---the assistance of the agency's county supervisors in preparing farm and home operating plans, in keeping farm records, and obtaining advice on farm problems.

Better Speech Club Salutes "Old Glory"

These poems were composed by members of the Better Speech Club who were inspired by the new classroom flag, recently presented to them by the Elementary School P-TA. --EDITOR'S NOTE.

THIS GREAT FLAG

Red and white and blue are the colors,
As in the air "Old Glory" flutters.
It dwells in the hearts of its countrymen,
And is to all a very true friend.
These thirteen stripes of red and white,
Shall always be so very bright.
These fifty stars on a field of blue.
Will wave, I hope, for heroes true.
From the wide Atlantic to the Western sea.
We live in a land where we are free.
And this great flag shall endure for aye,
As all of us our tributes pay.
When we see "Old Glory" in the clear blue sky,
We shall think of those who for her have died.
And though this flag has a simple creation,
It shall reign for years o'er this great nation.

Shirley Tucker

OLD GLORY

We shall give a salute to Old Glory
On the land, air, and sea.
We shall give a salute to Old Glory.
'Tis the flag for you and me.
We shall give a salute to old Glory,
We shall give a salute to Old Glory,
We shall pledge our hearts anew.
For the red, white and blue.

Theda Windham

OLD GLORY

To see the colors of red and white
Reminds us of our flag so very bright.
A field of blue with stars all white
All stand for fifty states with might.
Old Glory is reigning o'er us with pride.
She's always been a grand old guide
All men and women their tributes pay.
They'll honor Old Glory for many a day.

Helen Mims

OUR COUNTRY'S FLAG

Our country's flag is a marvelous sight
As it flies o'er the land of the free.
With its colors of red and blue and white,
It's a wonderful thing to see.
Our country's flag is good to behold
In countries far or near.
The stars so bright and stripes so bold,
To us are very dear.

Luverne Downs Tigers From Behind, 54-42

by Wayne Atcheson

Luverne, trailing at half time 27 to 21, put on a remarkable last half in scoring 33 points and holding their opponents to 15 to give the Clanton Tigers their 16th loss of the season. The game was played on Tuesday, Feb. 23.

The Clanton quintet have won nine games.

Last Game At Home

This was the last game of the season at home for Clanton. They closed out their regular season, play against Selma there last Friday night.

Roger Penn's 28 points and Bill Sanford's /16 for Luverne were two points more than the entire Clanton five could score in the contest.

Tigers Led Once

The Tigers led at one point in the first period by 13 points. But Penn and Sanford narrowed the lead to only six points at the half way mark.

Clarkie Hutchinson had 13 points in the first half, but failed to score in the last half. Buddy Vines had 8 points too, at the half, but scored only a field goal in the next half.

Roger Penn For Luverne

Roger Penn's amazing 20 points and superior rebounding in the last half was all Luverne needed to win the contest.

The Tigers couldn't find the range in that half and scored only five field goals and the same amount of free throfs.

Wayne Mizzell fouled out with 4:29 seconds left to play in the third quarter.

"Heart Disease - Number 1 Enemy. . .

'THE slogan for the 1960 HEART FUND Drive - "Heart Disease - No. 1 Eenemy; HEART FUND - No. 1 Defense," is well supported by Health Department Statistics on deaths in our state.

Here in Alabama, 14,210 persons died from heart or circulatory diseases in 1959. This averages out to one person every hour during the year.

Throughout the nation, 53 percent of all deaths in 1958 were attributed to Heart or circulatory diseases.

Richard S. Brooks, State Chairman of the 1960 HEART FUND DRVE here in Alabama, said these figures point out the "extreme necessity of the Heart Associations' programs of research, education and community service. Only through these programs - supported by contributions to the HEART FUND - can progress be made in the fight against Heart Disease."

LD HOUSTON' IN WINSTON OUNTY STILL SCARRED

r hear of Old Houston in the lls of Winston County?

ll, it's a village kind of small e vlt it has a bu Cbkdahg SH ze but it has a large and e place in history, and like uch of Americana it's Along ma's Highways.

Lynchings, Cicil W ', Oldest Settlers

ston, in the course of its wild ampant history, has known the of war time lynchings, the horro of firing squads and it seen brother pitted against er as a civil war within a war raged over the country- The little village today, whose ess is broken only by an oc- al plaintive crow of a domi- rooster, lives mostly in memo- of some of the older settlers remember hearing tales of the war told and told again.

Night Raiders

rly 10 years ago the hoof of many horses sounded gh the uneasy quietness of as night riders terriorized ounty.

s was a time of sectional hat- This was the time of murder betayal, a time to be forgot- ut a time remembered.

'Stouthearted' Jail

Old Houston still stands a hand hewn logs which was ll constructed and well pre- , today it would probably ll the ten most wanted men e time.

s jail once held many persons refused to fight for the south. ll began. . .

was a cold, a bitter cold, way when mud caked on bug- heels and many a man wrap- toe sacks around his brogans e plodded through the snow d the meeting place.

e meeting was for the purpose ecting a man to the State e of Representatives.

Year To "Whup" Yankees

n then, in surrounding coun- the cracker-barrel conservation unty stores and trading posts hat "there's gonna be a war them damyankees and it may s nigh unto a year to whoop 'em."

But in Winston, county of fiercely independent people, no such talk was heard, only mumering of "this ain't none of our fight and everybody better leave us alone."

Anti-Cession -- 6 to 1

The balloting went on and when all the returns were in, the anti-session candidate, Christopher C. Sheets, was elected by a vote of six to one.

Sheets arrived in Montgomery and trudged up the long street to the state capitol at the end of Dexter Avenue.

"Seceeding Is Folly. . ."

When the House of Representatives was gaveled to order and talk and debate started about seceeding for the Union, Sheets jumped to his feet and shouted above the angry voices of his colelagues: "Seceeding is the sheerest folly," he proclaimed with a reproachful warning.

His protestations weighed lightly on the minds and hearts of many men ready to fight and die for their Southland. That afternoon the Montgomery Advertiser headlines were "Alabama Seceeds."

Back to the Red Hills of Winston County went one Christopher C. C. Sheets.

Winston 'Seceeds' From Everybody

On July 4, 1861, a meeting was called at Looney's Tavern for the purpose of voting on secession on purely a local basis. More than 2,000 were said to have attended the meeting when Winston voted not only to seceed from the Union, but from the South and from Alabama.

So, Winston County farmers and miners kept on at their work determined to stay out of a foreign affray.

Confederate Cavalry

Confederate cavalry rode into the country, ordering all men to arms. Many couldn't understand how a foreign power could force them under arms. But some understood when they were thrown into the dark, dank and airless Old Houston jail. Others were convinced when the crack of rifles in a firing squad felled some who refused to fight for the flag, the flag of the Confederacy.

Then. . .brother against brother; Civil War within Civil War.

Night riders cast a fear, a fear before unknown.

Yankee sympathizers rode into Walker and surrounding counties, plundering, stealing, killing.

Expelled From Legislature

On the streets of Montgomery, Christopher C. Sheets, a member of the Legislature, was arrested for conscripting soldiers to fight in the union army. He was later expelled from the Legislature. But Winston County furnished five companies of Union infantry before the war ended. The county also furnished a number of Confederate soldiers, both volunteers and draftees.

Then, old and respected Judge Tom Curtis of Winston County, and avid and vocal defender of the Union was murdered by night riders and two of his union-sympathezing friends were taken prisoners and whisked off to jail in Jasper, back across no-man's land.

Long and Tiring Sermons

. . . .It was raining and four country preachers who, in their long and tiring sermons, often got off the subject preached and prayed and the congregation intermitterantly shouted and cried.

And then at the graveside the announcement was made, and it couldn't have had more effect or drama if it had been scripted by a Hollywood writer: "They are gonna hang them fellers in Jasper tomorrow," a man rode up and shouted to mourners.

One of the mourners was a furloughed Union soldier who had come home through the underground down through Corinth, Mississippi. He was Anderson Ward, a man feeling the force of many Union victories in Pennsylvania.

"Rescue" Condemned Man

Ward volunteered to lead a "rescue" party for the condemned men.

Twenty-six men joined the ranks of those who were to ride into fame or death on a cold January night in 1864.

Jasper, Alabama, which was fortified only by a "home guard," was easy to overpower. The 26 men quickly took the town and rode up to the jail. They met little opposition.

Huge battering poles were procured and then the hinges to the jail door gave way and the two men who were to have met the hangman in a few hours were freed.

Set Fire To Jail

The jailer was forced to set fire to the jail after all the prisoners were turned loose. Fire [illegible] by the January winds fanned the night as the men rode away.

Riding back across no-man's land the men came to the home of a known Confederate sympathizer. He was called to the front door. Silhouetted against the fire and warmth of his home, he was gunned down as the night riders rode back to Yankee territory.

As days, weeks and months passed every man who was said to have had any part in Judge Curtis" murder was hunted, tracked and killed.

And then one day a war was won and a cause was lost.

Time Heals Wounds

Time has healed many wounds; age has taken many landmarks. Few reminders still stand attesting to the great struggle, a struggle that should be forgotten.

But Old Houston still remembers. A scar of war still remains.

New Civil Defense Shelter Designs Offer Survival to Many Families

Protection against the menace of radioactive fallout is now possible, and within the means of many American families.

For $1,000 to $1,500, depending on the part of the country and the construction season, families living outside target cities may now have an excellent underground fallout shelter equipped with adequate radiation shielding, ventilation and other necessities. It was designed by the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization.

FOR FAMILIES who cannot afford such an elaborate shelter, OCDM has designed other less expensive shelters which would be built in basements—some of them by "do-it-yourselfers." They would not offer as complete fallout protection as the underground shelter, but would be adequate in all but the more dangerous fallout zones.

The shelter designs are a key part of the President's new five-point civil defense fallout shelter policy announced by OCDM Director Leo A. Hoegh:

- Provide the public with the facts on fallout effects. This includes information on how people can protect themselves by building shelters and decontaminating anything exposed to fallout, and how they can protect supplies of food and water from radiation.
- Survey existing structures for fallout shelter, such as mines, subways, tunnels and basements.
- Speed up fallout shelter research to develop new designs adaptable to many situations.
- Build a number of new "demonstrator" shelter facilities in places such as underground parking garages, subways, schools, hospitals, factories and apartment buildings.
- Incorporate fallout shelters in new Federal buildings.

We're ALL Wrong--Wiser Steps Needed--

IT would seem that the Integration-Segregation problem is not enough facing Alabama's schools and educational system, we are now having a cope with the more internal impossibility of funds shortage, which could very possibly cause schools to close early this year or the teachers to quit their positions which amounts to the same thing!

What caused the shortage? Why was it not foreseen and something done about it before now? Nobody seems to have a clear-cut answer for those questions! Pro-ration is apparently no answer, because we will have no teachers if such should occur.

Another question which comes to mind, and very vividly is: What of our childrens education? That particular problem seems to come second in importance when money is involved.

The Governor and his officials are at fault for letting a situation such as this become so acute.

The parents and taxpayers are at fault for not being more outspoken and interested in their children's welfare and education. Some teachers are wrong in declaring that they will "quit" before they will take a cut in salary. Not so much that they wouldn't be justified in doing so, but their profession calls for, and usually signifies more devotion to duty than that.

So we're all wrong, in one way or another!

We do not blame the teachers, since it is most common to expect more from them than we would persons in other fields. And there, possibly lies the answer to the problem, though not the solution to it. We take teachers for granted because we expect them to be some sort of saints who can live on next to nothing yet maintain an IQ of one thousand and live respectably (financially) all at the same time!

This does not answer the question, but it does indicate a reason for the acute situation which now prevails.

We disagree strongly with methods proposed by some high officials, including the governor and since the problem has come to such a state, we see no alternative from shutting down classroom activities early this year. This is by no means the best way, we should have prevented it. We didn't; so we must take the consequences!

Some arrangements could be made by the State Board of Education whereby it would not jeapordize our students scholastic standing in cutting the year short. This done, we should be able to set out in some feasible, intelligent move whereby we would profit from this situation and give our children the education they deserve!

Calling names and making wild accusations and threats is not going to bring in the thousands and thousands of dollars needed at this point. We must make up our minds that the problem is facing us and set about. . . together. . . to rectify our error and better the situation.

It is one thing to make a mistake. . .it is an entirely different matter if wiser steps are not taken to prevent making the same mistake, or a similar one, again.

We must think, act and work for a better educational system for our State of Alabama and our County of Chilton!

If wiser steps can be taken, then all manners of haste should be made to do so and publicize the facts so people will know and understand the situation and thus be better able to analyze themselves and the myriad of shortcomings involved!

How Important Is A Chamber of Commerce?

HOW are we to attract people and industry to Chilton County through the facilities and prestige of a Chamber of Commerce when the present membership excludes most of the businessmen in the County?

To be effective an organization such as the Chamber of Commerce must be impressive in number of members as well as in other respects. We do not have this at present? How come?

On analyzing the situation, it would seem that the majority of businessmen and women don't care one way or the other. . . apathy! Their reason: they haven't been approached by anyone concerning membership in the Chamber.

The Chilton County Chamber of Commerce is, and has for the past several years, been supported by a handful of devoted individuals who realize the importance of such an organization and who have faith in the economic future of Chilton County.

They are still holding it together, but there are rumblings that such will not be the case forever. They are tired of trying to sell to the people, something which the people do not apprciate or support! We do not blame them!

Every businessman in this County who does not affiliate himself and his business with the Chamber of Commerce is, in fact,, doing damage to his own welfare! If you believe that the Chamber does nothing for the community you are not up-todate on the matter. If you believe that the Chamber is a worthless time-consumer, it is because you are not a member.

We need an active, thriving Chamber of Commerce and as we said, a handful of devoted businessmen are trying to hold the organization together. They need help. . . they need your help to better publicize Chilton County, to attract industry and to support your business in this community. Are you doing your part?

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

A bill providing additional funds for various government agencies for the current fiscal year was passed last week by the House of Representatives. This measure -- the Second Supplement Appropriations Bill--provides funds totaling $237 million, which is a sharp reduction in the one billion dollars requested by the Administration.

The measure contains additional appropriations for numerous government programs. Included are funds of $9.7 million for student loans under the National Defense Education Act program; $100,000 for grants for library services in rural areas; and $8.3 million for payments to certain school districts. The latter sum was not requested by the President but was overwhelmingly approved by House members.

Sharp Reductions

During consideration of the bill, the House rejected an amendment which sought to restore to the bill $50 million for the urban renewal and slum clearance programs. This amount had been cut from the bill by members of the Appropriations Committee who contended that sufficient funds were available for the programs for the remainder of the fiscal year. They also argued that making funds available ahead of schedule would prohibit close congressional control over the appropriations.

The largest cut in the bill, made by the Committee and sustained by the House, eliminated $675 million from the budget requests. This amount would have given the Commodity Credit Corporation a greater margin for its price-support program. In denying these funds, the Committee pointed out that there is already a margin of $441 million in the present borrowing authorization, which the agency does not expect to use in the current fiscal year.

Civil Rights Debate

While Southern senators continue to filibuster in the U. S. Senate on so-called civil rights measures, House consideration of similar legislation will begin this week.

Despite the fact that House rules prevent a filibuster, there undoubtedly will be considerable debate in the House of Representatives on the pending measure. A House vote is not expected before next week, if then, and there is every indication the Senate filibuster will continue until the House takes final action on the bill.

THINGS We see and hear

by BOB

HEARD a couple of fellows discussing fishing the other day and one of them volunteered the comment that the best fishing in the world was on the Tennessee River and its "backwaters" up in north Alabama. Anybody who's half a fisherman knows that the absolute last word in good fishing is on the Coosa River and in Chilton County. Nossir, this fellow must have been talking about boating, for the north Alabama rivers do have us beat in that respect, but fishing, well that's another kettle of. . .

SPEAKING of "fish tales"; a fellow we know (in fact we work with him, his name's Buck) went fishing the other day (one of the prettier ones that we haven't been having enough of). Well anyway, on the way down he had a blow out and had to walk a couple of miles because he didn't have a jack. He didn't have a stringer either so he picked up an old piece of string at the boat dock. He caught seven fair sized finny fellows and was about to haul them in and quit. Just as he cleared the water with 'em, his noble stringer broke, and he lost his supper (not literally, but we bet he could have). It just goes to show you what some guys will do trying to have fun. . . next time he'd better ride a bike and buy his fish. At least that way he won't have to come back with some wild, cooked up story about the "seven that got away". Seven yet!

WE'LL have to hand it to Mr. Bobby Futral, Assistant County Agent on the fine cooperation we received this week with regards to the celebration of 4-H Club week in Chilton County. With assistance such as he and his associates have given it's a pleasure to work on such a project, since so many times folks pretty much leave the total job up to us or they wait to the ertreme, very last minute. We're much obliged and we think it was quite a public service to the youth of our County!

OLE Lewis Headley (of IGA fame and fortune) almost got took the other day! It seems in a certain order of goods or something or other a 10 thousand dollar mistake was made and it was not in "Pig's" favor. We certainly won't say he doesn't have that kind of money, but we will say that if the same thing happened to us (or most anybody else) the bank wouldn't have too much trouble figgering out that it was all a ghastly mistake That's a heck of a way to start off a Monday morning if you ask us!

WE take a special interest in little Joe Powell and what he does with himself for personal reasons. Joe has himself a Saturday job now working with Bill Hays, Paul and Oliver Headley down at the Exchange Barber Shop. For a fellow of such a few years Joe shows real promise in making his way in the world and we're particularly proud of him for his efforts. It couldn't happen to a fine young fellow! Joe, by the way, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Greeley Powell.

WHAT'S this doubletalk on TV which goes something like: "This program was previewed before a live audience with reactions technically augmented'." We can't even pronounce all the words, let alone figger out what they mean. Why don't they just come out and say it's a re-run and the laughter is canned! Be a lot simpler and more direct don't you think?

RACE relations will get no better in the South or anywhere else until we can put an end to, or at least curb (as you would a dread communicable disease) the vast amount of hate, thoughtlessness, smallness, bigotry and quick anger that is present in our society today. The white and Colored races are different there's no denying that. We are brothers under the skin, and should in every way treat each other with respect and kindness, but when it comes to custom, enjoyment, work, and general living there is not much similarity, no matter what the geographical location. We heard a man say things against the opposite race the other day which were cruel, unrighteous and certainly unlike him. He is considered a good Christian man! If considered, good, Christian men dwell on such thoughts, what must those who are less Christian feel and think? Force has proven, and has always proven, not to be a settler of differences. Better ways must be worked out with mutual agreement and understanding of both parties (or races) involved! We cannot force integratio any more than we can force segregation. . . the persons involved must want it so. We cannot wipe out and forget differences, we must, someway, settle them. wanted part of our society, but to Crime too ,is an unpleasant and unwipe it out is impossible, simply because there are too many of us who do not want to do away with it! The answer it not force. . . the real answer must come from the Almighty who thinks and acts on a somewhat higher plane than we mere mortals. To get the answer, we obviously must turn to Him, as always, for guidance and understanding!

41 Years Old--

Colorful Post No. 6 Taking Activ Part in American Legion Birthda

MARCH 15-18, 1960, The American Legion's 41st Birthday, will be a time for celebration in the more than 17,000 posts throughout the nation, of which more than 225 are in the Department of Alabama.

While Legionnaires have a right to be proud of the wonderful record of their largest veterans organization in the world, no anniversary is worth observing just for the fun of it. For those who have a serious mission in life, an anniversary is a time for an invnetory of what has been accomplished in the past and what is to be looked forward to i the future.

On the local scene, the first meeting of Amrican Legion in Chilton County was held June 28, 1919 at the County Courthouse. The Post was chartered July 7, 1920 and was first named "Porter Plier Post No. 6" in honor of the first Chilton Countian killed in WWI. Later the name was changed to Chilton County Post No. 6.

In March of 1932, when the vicious storm struck the northern part of Chilton County, Post No. 6 was the first on the scene to put up tents and distribute food and clothing and administer first aid. The Post received a recognition from the County for their heroic actios.

The only woman ever to hold an office in Post No. 6 was the late Caroline Montgomery, a Nurse of World War II. She was elected as adjutant in 1947.

Membership has reached a peak of 285 members in 1947. Present active membership is 168 members.

Some of the worthwhile projects of the local Post are child welfare, Junior Baseball, erecting new flag poles over the County, furnishing new flags to the schools, helping disabled veterans, aiding in charity drives and even sponsiring a boy from this County to Boys State each year!

Cimmanders of Post No. 6 from 1928 to the present are as follows:

Editor of Chilton County News
My Dear Sir:

I happen to notice a day or so ago that I am way behind with my subscription for your newsy paper. So, I guess I better pay you a little.

I was born and raised in good old Chilton County, got lots of kin people there, yet. I left there when I was 14 and went to work on Southern Railroad. Worked for railroad 50 years and retired Sept. 1st, 1959 on what they call ailroad pension. However, I have changed the name to "Honey-Do" pension. Due to the fact my wife yells all day long, Honey will you do that or this. Honey help me with this or that. However, when she finally runs down, I truly enjoy relaxing and reading Chilton County News.

Thank you lots for sending the paper every week.

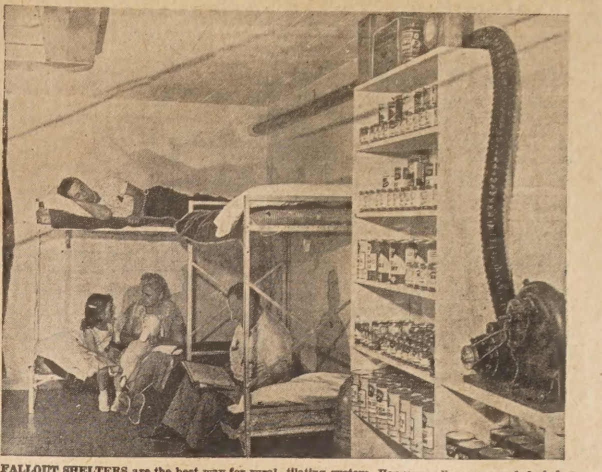
IN THIS NUCLEAR AGE

CD's a Vital Part of Farm Safety



FALLOUT SHELTERS are the best way for rural Americans to protect themselves from a massive nuclear attack which could unleash dangerous radioactive fallout throughout the country. Some of the shelters recommended by the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization are not as elaborate as this one, which includes an auxiliary generator and an electric air filtering and ventilating system. However, all recommended shelters should include the basic features shown here—a place to sleep; food, water and medical supplies, and at least eight inches of concrete or an equal weight of other materials for shielding the shelter against fallout. FROM MY FRONT PORCH

"I Watch The World Go By"

by CARL HELM

One of our better musical plays has a song which proclaims that "You have to be taught to hate." I hope it becomes a popular song — the top of the "Top Ten."

We are not born with hate in our hearts, but with love. Our Heavenly Father, the One God of all creation, all races and all colors, created all of us in His image. He is All-Love. There is no hate in Him.

Consider little children. They don't know enough (of bias and prejudice and bigotry) to discriminate. Their wise elders have to point out "the difference" in people, so the tots will learn to dislike, then to shun, and then to hate.

We plant the seeds of hatred in their innocent hearts, and it is like planting the cells of a cancer there — for both of these spread and consume and, unless cut out, they finally and surely destroy.

I don't know my Bible well enough to be exact. But I do know that for every use of the word "hate" in the Scriptures, there are a thousand mentions of "love." "Love one another," Jesus said, and He said it over and over, in various ways.

There abideth faith, hope, and charity — "and the greatest of these is charity." Charity is Christian love (I Cor. 13).

If Our Lord ever enjoined us to hate anything but sin, it has escaped my reading of the Book. I'm sure that He never enjoined us to hate individuals.

I had to be taught that there is a "difference" between people. I had to be taught to hate. Fortunately, I outgrew it. Or something.

FHA Families Plan for Better Farming

Approximately 64 farm families who are using Farmers Home Administration credit in Chilton County have completed a series of individual meetings wth FHA supervsors to take a careful look at their 1959 operations and to make 1960 plans.

Mr. I. C. Byrd, County FHA Supervisor, said this year-end analysis is a service given by the agency which makes loans to eligible farmers to operate, improve, or enlarge family-type farms.

As a result of this study of their farm operations, Mr. Byrd said, some of the better practices that farmers here are working into their 1960 plans include (1- raising hogs on legume pasture for cheaper gains, (2- farrowing stalls to save more pigs per litter and planning two litters per year, (3) culling herds and flocks, (4) testing soils, (5) better gardens and canning and storing, (6) using adequate equipmet, and (7) following recommended spray schedule for fruits.

Farm families in Chilton County now using FHA credit include 85 with operating loans, 71 with farm ownership loans, and 58 with loans to build or repair houses or other farm buildigs.

Loans totaling $169,630.00 have been made to farmers in this area in an 8-month perion since June 30, 1959. Of this amount. approximately $152,150.00 has been for acquiring equipment, livestock, seed, feed fertilizer, and paying other operating costs, and paying for labor and materials in connection with housing and other improvements. This money, and the extra money from increased incomes, circulate throuh local trade channels.

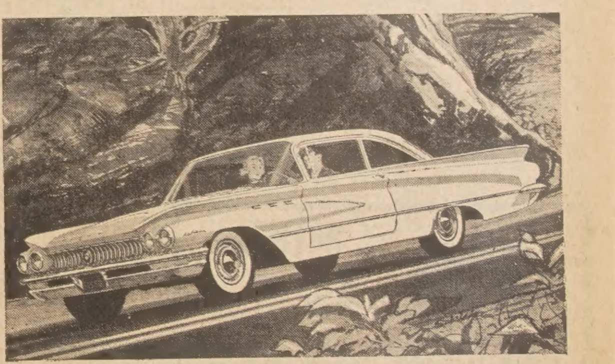
BETTER-BRAKES...BUICK '60



BRAKES HATE HEAT!
Buick's fin-cooled Aluminum Drums get rid of heat quicker so you're safer!

Brakes generate their own worst enemy—terrific heat. Excessive heat is bad because it may cause brakes to lose part of their effectiveness. So the faster you can dissipate it, the better off you are.

Buick gets rid of heat faster by using fin-cooled brake drums. On the front wheels, where most of the braking is done, the drums are aluminum. They cost more to make but they shrug off heat much faster than drums made of ordinary metal. Buick is the only American car that makes them standard, at no extra cost, because you will be safer with them.

Best time to buy a Buick '60 is now because you will get top dollar on your old car and have a wide selection of colors and body styles from which to choose. You can own a quality Buick for less than you might think, and your Buick Dealer can arrange terms to suit your budget.

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

GOD TAKES CARE OF HIS OWN

God takes care of His own. Of this we can be sure, for the Bible is full of examples of how God has brought deliverance to His people in all kinds of need.

Just as it is true of Biblical times, so is it true today. God has His eye on us, and if we will only call upon Him and trust Him completely, He will see us through any trial.

A modern-day example of how God looks after His own is the recent experience of a family living in the West.

The father and mother, with their four small children, became lost while on a vacation trip. They found themselves suddenly in the burning desert country, and their automobile became disabled in a deep canyon. It was one of those places where the sun beats down relentlessly, the temperature often going to 120 degrees.

Realizing at once their serious predicament, with no food or water in the car, the parents knelt beside the automobile and prayed for divine guidance. Being devout Christians, both knew how to pray.

"Dear God," prayed the father, "for reasons known only to you, we have been brought to this desolate, isolated canyon. Unless you provide the means for our deliverance, we will soon perish from heat and lack of water.

"Give me guidance, O God, on how to survive, and send help before it's too late."

Later relating their experience, the father said: "Almost immediately after prayer we seemed to be seized with a new urgency. Our minds became alert and clear to the dangers we all faced. We seemed to have an uncanny knowledge . . . without a moment's hesitation . . . on what to do to survive. God surely looked after us.

"We had found a large overhanging rock, which shielded the family from the intense sun. I realized that the water in the radiator would provide our needs for awhile if it was carefully rationed.

"During the heat of mid-afternoon, when the sun was not shaded by the overhanging rock, I dug holes in the sand and buried the children up to their necks, so they could escape the deadly heat."

This is the condition in which rescuers found the family three days later—each buried up to his neck in sand.

"Of course, we became discouraged," the father related after the ordeal. "But my wife and I both felt the Lord was telling us what to do. We knew we would be saved."

Those familiar with the desolate region marveled at the family's being found alive. Not one of them required hospital treatment.

Yes, God looks after His own. He loves us and has the power to rescue us from any harmful situation.

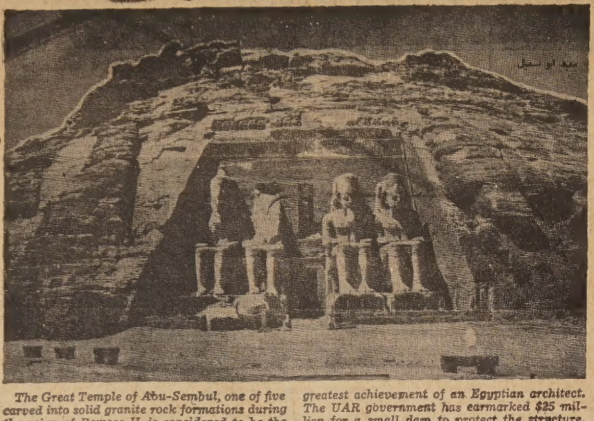
Preserving Pharaoh's Treasures



The Great Temple of Abu-Sembul, one of five carved into solid granite rock formations during the reign of Ramses II, is considered to be the greatest achievement of an Egyptian architect. The UAR government has earmarked $25 million for a small dam to protect the structure.

Early in January construction work was started on the world's largest dam, the High Dam at Aswan, UAR. Although UAR President Gamal Abdel Nasser has hailed the project as more important to Egypt than the great pyramids, Egypt is not forgetting the treasures of the past in the excitement over this vast engineering development.

When plans were being made for the construction of the High Dam, builders realized that the dam's reservoir would flood a number of Nubian temples south of Aswan. Realizing the importance of preserving these valuable antiquities, the Egyptian government, in cooperation with UNESCO, has appealed to the archaeological world for help in saving them from destruction.

It is estimated that about $120 million will be required to build protective dams around the major structures and to remove the smaller ones to higher ground. All nations have been asked to contribute financial and technical assistance for the preservation of the many priceless relics of world history that abound in this area.

UAR Unearths Ancient Theater

The unearthing of the world's most ancient theater was completed recently in the Basra El Sham area of the Syrian Region of the UAR.

Dr. Selim Adel, Director of the Antiquities Department, said that an additional six months will be required to fully reconstruct and prepare the site for display.

However, tourists and camera enthusiasts will be welcome at the site and many are expected to take advantage of the invitation to inspect this unusual relic of an ancient civilization.

TO remove dust from upholstered furniture, cover the surface with a large, heavy turkish towel wrung out of water to which a tabespoon of amonia has been added. Beat with a carpet beater and most of the dust will cling to the towel, which is then easily removed.

FACTS ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

Advice is easy to get, especially advice about health. But be sure you get the facts, particularly about cancer. The American Cancer Society says cancer can often be cured if it is detected and treated early enough. A check-up gives your doctor a chance to detect the disease, if it should be present, while it still may be curable. So, see your doctor for a check-up once a year. You should also know a number of other things about the disease, including cancer's Seven Danger Signals.

OLD STUFF

A Mrs. Julia Trump, who has a bookshop in South Africa, claims, at 92, to be "the oldest active business woman in the world." Opens the shop at precisely 8:39 a.m. daily. Been doing so for the last seven years, having re-entered business after retirement. Why? "There were too many old people around me!"

FAT STUFF

Sometimes when I'm feeling as Fit as any fiddle,
I will note, alack, alas,
There around my middle,
Is a lot of something that Wasn't there my youth in —
Could it be I'm getting fat?
Is there any truth in
All the jokes about the dread
Middle-aged abdomen spread?
Guess there is, and maybe I
Should go on a diet,
Cut out spuds and cake and pie —
But I never try it.
I go on and take a chance,
And I EAT. Oh boy! It
Means a gusset in my pants:
But, how I enjoy it!

THE PACE THAT KILLS

The two most precious things in the world are time and health. Yet how many of us throw away one or the other by today's mode of living?

All we hear is "I've got to pick up the cleaning at 5:30 so I can get home on the 5:32 bus in order to get dinner and the dishes done and be at the party by 7:30."

Americans are the greatest nation of joiners ever recorded in history. This is good in many respects, the majority in fact, but it's bad when a person joins until he can not do justice to any of his activities.

We rush to this and that. The password to a full and fruitful (or maybe fool and fruitless) life is speed just speed.

To what end do we do all this rushing? It merely leaves us without any time for contemplation. There is no time for helpfulness, no time for courtesy, no time for companionship. Just speed, speed, speed.

One-tenth of a sceond clipped from a racing record, one hour less for the transcontinental run and an hour clipped from the trans - Atlantic voyage. For what?

Three hundred and fifty miles covered in a Sunday motor ride, and not one lasting memory of a shadowed mountain or a sunlit valley. Two thousand miles traveled on a two weeks' vacation and no recollections save reeling roadway and blurred landscape.

Precious days wasted and no store of health laid up for the future race. Speed! It's the pace that kills.

The train at the crossing cleared by a split-second. What if the train hadn't got cleared? Would your one second do for the family and friends you left behind.

Regardless, what will you do with that second saved if you beat the red light? Would you bet a million dollars against a cent? "No," you say. But you would bet eternity against seconds.

Call a halt! Take stock! Soothe your jangled nerves before you don't have any left. Take time to live. Enjoy life as you go. Take some time to get acquainted with your family, friends and some good books once more.

Remember, the pace that kills—speed. SLOW DOWN!

WADES MAKE INTERESTING TOUR OF CRAIG AFB

They enjoyed a luncheon at the officers club at Craig AFB. After lunch they visited places of interest on the Base. From the A. C. T. building they watched jets take off and land on radar screen. They saw inside of one of the jet trainers, also saw the crash cable on the end of the run way that spots aircraft on landing and take off's when necessary.

Other members attending the meeting were Lt. Col. Florence Fintak of Eglin AFB, Fla., Donna Lee Shirley of Ft. Walton, Fla., Grace Bailey of Birmingham, Juanita Halstead of Montgomery, Dr. Williams a visitors from Oklahoma City's Chapter of 99's.

The next meeting will be on April 3 at Dannley Field in Montgomery.

A SALUTE TO OUR FLAG

In appreciation of the New flag--Better Speech Club.

The FLAG

On June fourteenth, seventeen--seventy-seven,
We adopted a flag to wave toward heaven.
It was resolved there would be thirteen stripes,
Which would alternate of red and white.
The union was to be, and this is true,
Thirteen white stars on a field of blue;
Which rephesented a new consolation,
Now this was agreed without hesitation.
The flag is called by different names,
Though they all really mean the same.
Some like the Stars and Stripes today,
But Old Glory is what I like to say.
This beautiful flag of colors bright,
Stands for strength, power, and might.
It is just what we make it and no more,
It's the symbol of what we all stand for.
It's the Constitution, the statutes, the law,
The pride and the courage we all applaud,
It is all we ever believe it to be,
The glory and honor of the land of the free.

Charles Honeycutt

OLD GLORY

I love to look at Old Glory
As it waves in the clear blue sky
Because it tells a story
Of a land that shall never die.
As long as the earth is growing
And giving to each a new birth
We, the people will be showing
Old Glory to the new of the earth

Hill Again Blasts Rogers - Dirksen Civil Rights Bill

Washington, D.C.--Senator Lister Hill (D. Ala.) today launched another major assault on the Senate floor against the 7-point Civil Rights bill engineered by Attorney General William Rogers and Senate Republican Leader Everett Dirksen.

The senior Alabama Senator took up the attack where he left off at the conclusion of his four hour address last Thursday and continued his point by point denunciation of the Republican Civil Rights Amendment by comparing one of the major provisions of it to "one of the most iniquitous legislative enactments in American history -- the Alien and Sedition Laws."

The Alien and Sedition Laws among other things, made it a criminal offense to criticize the President of the United States.

Hill pointed out that the first part of the Rogers-Dirksen Civil Rights bill makes it a criminal offense punishable by two-year imprisoment or a $10,000 fine, or both to critize or impede a Federal Court desegration decision.

Hill argued that this provision of the pending Civil Rights amendment is contrary to the Constitutional guarantees of free speech and free press. It is repugnant to the spirit of the Constitution.

In a lengthy legal argument, Hill traced the history of the enforcement of the Alien and Sedition Laws of 1798 and emphasized that the first section of the Republican Civil Rights proposal which would make it a crime to criticize court orders forcing the integration of schools, is comparable to those Acts.

THEY KNOW HOW TO EXERCISE FAITH

One thing that thrills my heart is that the members of my evangelistic team know how to exercise faith.

The other day the secretary to one of the men in our Editorial Department entered her boss' office and said:

"Mother is in the hospital with a slipped disc in her spine. But now the doctor says he thinks she has cancer of the stomach. The back trouble is not too important.

"I have been praying earnestly all night asking God to prove the doctor wrong. I asked my minister and our church members to pray for her. I have faith that whatever the trouble is, God will answer our prayers and deliver her."

"Is the doctor sure?" the man asked his secretary.

"He won't know for sure until the end of the week," she said. "But he is not offering us any encouragement. He says he can tell by mother's color and symptoms that she has cancer of the stomach."

"Don't give up hope," her boss said. "Continue to pray. The doctor's report could prove to be negative, you know."

Two days later the secretary came to her boss' office again. "God has healed mother of her back ailment," she said excitedly. "The doctor' report also came back—two days early. Mother does not have cancer! She is feeling so much better that she is going to be released from the hospital soon."

"Aren't you glad that all turned out well?" her boss asked.

"It couldn't have turned out any other way," she replied. "God answers prayer when we keep our faith strong."

Many of the workers in our Abundant Life Building in Tulsa have this kind of deep, abiding faith. They have learned to trust God for the solving of every problem in life whether it be personal, spiritual, financial, physical, or otherwise.

It is a marvelous thing to be able to keep faith. "Faith," say the Scriptures, "is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

Yes, faith in God can move mountains!

If you have an illness or a personal problem, take your problem to the Lord in prayer. Keep your faith strong. God will take care of the problem for you.

With the many wonderful convenient canned foods available today, you can turn out excellent meals not only during this season but year 'round. Canned macaroni with cheese sauce is studded with delicate pink shrimp (from a can), and chopped celery; topped with buttered bread crumbs and baked to a golden brown. Yummy! Yummy! . . . indeed a mouth-watering dish.

A help-yourself tray of crisp vegetables . . . cucumber strips, carrot curls and radish roses . . . adds a texture contrast. For sert . . . canned apple sprinkled with brown sugar namon, and nuts. This ca baked in the same oven with the macaroni. (The d takes 20 minutes, the macar minutes.) Serve it with a lemon sauce . . . and lots coffee.

Lowery To Head Census Drive In Chilton County

"CREWS" BEGIN CENSUS TRAINING MARCH 7

Appointment of crew leaders for the 1960 Census of Population and Housing in this area was announced today by Supervisor Joah P. Standridge of the Census Bureau's temporary district office in Tuscaloosa, Alabama.

Each crew leader will supervise about 20 enumerators in the big nationwide census which begins April 1. Crew leader training will begin on March 7 for rural cew leades while their city counterparts will start training on March 7. Topics to be covered in the training sessions include procedures for recruiting of census takers, how to train their census takers, canvassing methods, preparation and submission of reports, and the supervision of census takers to insure a complete and accurate count.

The crew leader is one of the key people in the field operations of the 1960 Census of Population and Housin. It is his responsibility to recruit and train the census takers and to take remedial action where necessary, and to handle problems of difficult enumeration.

Names and addresses of crew leaders in this area are: Perry County, Edward T. Lee, Route 2, Marion, Ala.; Chilton County, James R. Lowery, Route 1, Thorsby, Ala.; Bibb County, Margaret L. Hartley, West Blocton, Ala.; Shelby County, Betty A. Crawford, Box 415, Calera, Ala., Fred Hassett, Vincent, Ala.

High-Producing Cows Live Longer

Have you ever heard the theory that high-producing cows burn themselves out and have a shorter life than their low-producing sisters?

According to a recent report from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, 40 years of research show that this is not so. In fact, higher-producing cows tend to stay in the herd longer than low producers even when no selection is made on the basis of production. The average cow stops producing or breeding at about six years of age.

It might be desirable to lengthen the life of the individual cow, but records show that this would probably be extremely difficult. This is because long life has a very low level of heritability. Also, according to reports made by the Agricultural Research Service, nature's automatic selection for long life is already so high that it would be practically impossible to exceed it be deliberate effort.

Your S. S. Number Important In More Ways Than One

"The social security account number is the 'key' to the worker's old-age, survivors, and disability insurance acount," says Cecil L. Simpson, manager, of the Birmingham district social security offic.e.

Simpson points out that social security payments are based on earnings up to $4800 a year in jobs, trades, and businesses covered by the law. The social security account number identifies the earnings of the worker on the records of the Social Security Administration. If his number is omitted from the report of his wage earnings filed by his employer, or if he is self-employed and fails to show it on the report he files of his self-employment income, he gets no credit for his earnings for social security purposes. "That", says Simpson, "can cause a money loss in reduced social security payments to the worker and his dependents when the time comes to claim them. It could mean no payments at all."

The social security official workers to be certain to their employers have their social security numbers. He that some workers and their lies in this area stand to social security payments becaus have failed to give their social security numbers to their em and are therefore not credit for their earnings for security puposes.

Consumer May Purchase Two Kind Of Onions

Two classes of onions are grown in the United States.

These are the large, mild flavored onions and those of medium size with a stronger flavor. Onions grown in cold weather are usually stronger flavored than those grown in warmer climates.

Usually, the onions grown West of the Rockies are milder and sweeter than those grown in the East. However, onions of any class or flavor should be chosen because they are bright, clean, hard, well shaped, and mature with dry, crackjy skikns. Avoid onions with sprouts, cracks, cuts, and root growths.

Or Lose Your Cotton Acreage!

Under the 1960 regulation covering cotton allotments you must either Plant, Release or Plant and Release at least 75% of your allotted acreage or your allotment will be cut at least 50% for 1961.

If you have not planted your cotton acreage in the past two years you stand to lose this acreage unless it is planted in 1960..

Cotton Is Still Profitable:

A recent survey by The Progressive Farmer showed that in farms where cotton was grown it provided the highest profit per acre per dollar invested.

March 15th Is The Deadline For Releasing Your Acreage

Or Requesting Additional Acreage Thru Your County ASC Office.

If you do not plan to plant your cotton acreage this year then release it to your County ASC Committee so that your neighbor that wants to plant cotton may have this additional acreage. We urge your cooperation on this matter as this section cannot afford to lose any more cotton acreage !!

LANDSCAPING—

Home Improvement Is Miss Robinson's Effort

Sue joined the 4-H Club when she was 10 years old and in the 5th grade at Vermont Elementary School. She selected cooking and sewing as projects and served as President of the Club when she was in the 6th grade. Since transferring to Isabella High School, Sue has continued her interest in 4-H work and was elected secretary of her Club, Isabela Sr. this year.

Enters Skirt Revues

Sue has entered the local and County skirt revues for two years. Her first year she won 3rd place in the County Skirt Revue. She has also made aprons, pajamas, dresses, a quilt and a number of smaller articles.

Room Improvement

Last year Sue became interested in a room improvement project when the family began remodeling their home. With the remodeling partly completed, Sue now has a paneled room of her own and a new bedroom suite. She and her mother made new curtains, bedspreads and a cover for a car seat which is used as a small sofa in her room. She has just completed a lamp and a lampshade which she plans to enter in the County Lamp Contest.

Landscaping, New Interest

Sue's newest project is landscaping. When her father had almost completed remodeling the outside of the house, the family realized that the yard also needed improving. After building new front and side porches, a new chimney, and shingling the outside of the house, Sue and Mrs. Robinson decided to rearrange the flowers and shrubs.

Assistant County Agent, John Sellers, and Mrs. Lane visited the home and helped the family prepare their landscaping project.

Since there was quite a variety of shrubs already around the house, Agents studied them and suggested where to move htem. The family is now busy moving shrubs to new locations and they plan to do other work on the grounds as soon as possible.

Value of Records

Sue is learning the value of keeping records and is doing a good job of keeping records of work done on her 4-H projects.

The Chilton County 4-H Council held a meeting Saturday morning at 9:00 A.M. Peggy Glenn, President, of the 1,800 4-H members in Chilton County, presided at the meeting. The 4-H County Council is made up of the officers from the 57 4-H Clubs in Chitlon County.

4-H Rally Coming

The purpose of this meeting was to make plans for the 4-H activities that will take place in the early spring months. One of the big events that the 4-H members look forward to each year is the annual 4-H Rally. This year the Rally is tentatively set for April [illegible]. Four--H members from all Clubs participate in the different events held at the Rally. The Club winning the most points carries back to his school the 4-H trophy, which they keep until the following year.

Safety-Public Speaking

Other 4-H activities that were discussed were the 4-H Safety Essay, which has a deadline for entering of March 15th; Public Speaking Contest, March 31st; and the 4-H Talent Show which will be held April 2nd.

State 4-H Council

After the business part of the meeting, Peggy Glenn, County Council President, told the group about her trip to Birmingham where she attended the State 4-H Council meeting. She expressed her thanks to the 4-H Council for sponsoring her trip.

Leaders: Miss Glenn, Miss Martin Active, Devoted 4-H Clubbers

Peggy Glenn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Osmond Glenn, and Beulah Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Martin, all of Clanton are pictured above.

Peggy Is County President

Peggy is President of the 4-H Club County Council and is serving President of Thomas Jr. 4-H Club. She is active in all phases of school, 4-H Club, and church activities. Peggy has been a member of the 4-H Club for 5 years and is beginning her 6th year. Her three main projects have been clothing, food preservation, and dairy calves. Peggy says that for the past 2 years she has made most of her clothes and has found that she can have more clothes by making them herself. Peggy has entered the Dress Revue for 2 years, and last year won third place in the County Junior Dress Revue and is planning to enter again this year.

Planning and serving meals to a family of five is no small job, but Peggy has found that it's loads of fun. She does a great deal of the family cooking and her specialities include short orders and desserts.

Calf Project

Peggy's calf project has brought her good luck and a chance to meet many new friends. She has shown calves at the County Fair for 4 years. During this time, she has won 2 blue ribbons, 3 red ribbons and 1 white ribbon in county shows. She has won 4 red ribbons in the district show.

Natural Leader

Peggy is a natural leader. Four-H'ers over the county realized her ability and elected her as President of the 4-H County Council for 1959-60. In January she represented Chilton County in Birmingham at the state council meeting.

Three Main Projects

Beulah Martin has also set a fine example as a 4-H'er. Her three main projects have been clothing, food preparation, and home improvement.

Beginning her 6th year in 4-H Club she has improved her skills in homemaking and increased her leadership ability. Beulah says she loves to treat her family to different and delightful desserts. Her clothing project has helped her in planning her wardrobe. Beulah makes most of her clothes and has entered the Dress Revue for three years and won 3rd place in 1959.

Beulah was selected as Chilton County's 1959-60 Dairy Maid and represented the county in the District Maid Contest.

Realizing Beulah's leadership ability, her fellow Club members have elected her to serve in many capacities. She has held the office of President, Vice-Presidnt and Song Leader. She has attended 4-H County Camp and 4-H Rallies, and has attended 4-H conference at Auburn as a voting delegate.

Leadership Qualities

Beulah's leadership qualities are in good use this year as she is serving her second year as President of the Older Youth 4-H Club. While a member of this Club, she has seen it grow from an average of 8 to an average of 20. Beulah and other Older Youth members are proud of their organization because they have one of the few such Clubs. This Club meets twice a month at night and each program is planned with the Older Youth members and their probelms. Beulah has found the Older Youth Club the answer to her problem of how to be a 4-H'er past th grade.

To round out Beulah's acti she is a member of her chorus, science club, Preside her training union class and urer of her Sunday School

These are two 4-H'ers proud of!

Peach growers met in Clanton on Wednesday, March 15th, to study problems and ways and means of improving this important Chilton County commodity.

Emphasis was placed on forming Grower Organization in Chilton County for better relations as well as better methods of moving fruit and improved marketing facilities.

Emergency Loans Available To Farmers

EMERGENCY loans are available in Chilton County to eligible farmers whose crops were damaged by excessive rainfall in 1959 according to saac C. Byrd, County FHA Supervisor.

Loans may be made for the purchase of feed, seed, fertilizer, replacement equipment and livestock, and for other essential farm and home operating expenses. The interest rate is 3 percent.

Loans may not be made to refinance debts or compensate applicants for their losses. Loans are scheduled for repayment in accordance with the borrower's ability to repay. Loans for crop production are usually scheduled for repayment when income from the crop is normally received. The size of the loan varies considerably depending upon the system of farming to be financed and the actual needs of the applicant.

To be eligible a farmer must be primarily engaged in farming and have reasonable prospects for success in the farming operations he plans to carry on. In addition, he must have suffered a substantial loss from the excessive rainfall in 1959 and must be unable to obtain credit he needs from other sources.

Applications may be made at the local Farmers Home Administration Office in Clanton located in the Higginbs Building.

The first company organized was the W. I. Mullins Store. Then several years later it became Mullins & Moore. After this partnership broke up it was the J. R. Mullins & Sons, later the Mullins & Scott and now the MULLINS SUPPLY COMPANY owned by Ed Mullins.

The Mullins Supply Company are agents for the G.E. appliances and are the State's second oldest GE Dealer, having become an authorized dealer in 1937. When they were made authorized dealers in 1937 TV sets weren't even heard of, but today it is one of their big items, displaying the most beautiful and modern sets in their spacious showroom on Second Avenue next to the First National Bank.

Employed with Mr. Mullins is Mrs. Polly Askins and Miss Ruby Branch. Miss Branch has been with the Mullins Stores longer than she cares to remember and Mrs. Polly Askins went with the present owner in May of 1956.

Jack Marcus is the maintenance man and has as his assistant Ennis Winters.

Ed Mullins and wife, Nell, have four children. Three boys and one girl. They live in the home built by Dr. J. E. Edgar East of Clanton.

"Tribute" Campaign Gets Underway Here Today

THE quarters begin rolling in on the 17th of March because the month from March 17 to April has been set aside in Chilton County as "Tribute Campaign" month in recognition of Mr. I. S. (Doc) Levine's 25th Anniversary with Crippled Children in this County.

This campaign is parralled to and in fact, is part of the Easter Seals Campaign which is nationwide.

For the past 25 years Mr. Doc Levine has given tirelessly and generously of his time to the advancement of the Crippled Children program in this County. Many others have been instrumental in this work also and Mr. Levins would be the first to verify this fact. Yet, it is quite obvious that he does have seniority when it comes to service and the method for reaching our quota this year, which, by the way, is $4,600, is a direct tribute to his outstanding contributions to this charity organization and his leadership in keeping the program alive in Chilton County.

This is the kickoff!

It is estimated that if every person in Chilton County were to send a quarter to the Crippled Children Society in due recognition of Mr. Levine's 25 years of service we would surpass our quota. That's only a penny a year for his services and of course he derives no monetary gifts from this campaign or his past service. The donation is made directly to the Society. . . only in appreciation to Mr. Levine for services rendered.

Can you give two quarters? Of course you can. . . and the place to mail your contributions is to "CHILTON COUNTY SOCIETY FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN, P.O. BOX 189, CLANTON, ALABAMA."

If you had rather make your donation in person, you may do so at Levine's Dry Goods Co., either of the banks or to Bob Tucker at Chilton County News.

Don't wait until the last minute... see if you don't have a quarter now!

STATE PLANS ENERGETIC EASTER SEAL CAMPAIGN

CHILTON READY WITH UNIQUE "TRIBUTE CAMPAIGN"

The 1960 Easter Seal Campaign begins this week--March 17 as thousands of volunteers across Alabama are preparing for a vigorous drive for funds to help our crippled children and adults.

Mr. I. S. LeVine, Chairman of the Chilton County Chapter for Crippled Children says that volunteers in this area are primed and ready to hold an energetic campaign.

"We know the needs of crippled children in this area," Mr. LeVine said, "and we hope to raise enough funds to fulfill those needs."

Over Alabama last year 8,927 children and adults received direct help from Easter Seals at a total cost of $233,855. If comparable program is to be carried out this year, 1960 volunteers will have to work hard to at least match 1959 receipts.

Everyone is urged to support the Easter Seal Drive by giving generously to Easter Seals when they are received in the mail. Many special events will be held over the State such as pancake suppers, sports events,, dances and newspaper sales.

Funds from these sources' last year went to buy wheelchairs, pay hospital bills, provide transportation, support workshops and award scholarships to therapists. These and other activities carried on by the Alabama Society for Crippled Children and Adults, the Easter Seal Agency, helped make life more enjoyable for the State's handicapped.

IF you follow the dictates of a good conscience you will find it takes a lot of fortitude.

WEALTH may not bring true happiness, but you can be so comfortable while you are being unhappy.

THE quotation: "It is more blessed to give than to receive" is often quoted, but seldem practiced.

SUCCESS will never come to you if you have no confidence in yourself or faith in your ability.

WHAT enables a man to close his eyes to his faults and imagine no one can see them?

IF you make a place in the sun for yourself--you're going to get blisters.

IF you get nothing else when you try to get something for nothing--you get a lot of experience.

NEVER take that last drink for the road. You might meet a driver who did the same thing, and in the same condition, at the next crossroads.

When You Have The Best--Why Change?--

WE believe few thinking citizens of Clanton will disagree with us when we say we have one of the best Mayors and City Councils we have ever had.

No matter where we looked we would not find a man who instills the confidence--has the city more at heart--is more sincere in his work--more honest--or has the ability to make friends than does Mayor Hollis Jackson.

We understand that Mayor Jackson will announce again for the office of Mayor if there is no serious opposition that would cause friction in the City Council and the other departments of the City government. We will be candid and say we hope no one announces against him so that the objectives started by this Administration can be fulfilled and Clanton can continue to grow, prosper and thrive with a minimum of friction within our City Government.

We have true and honest men on our City Council who have dedicated themselves to the betterment of Clanton and they are doing a good job.

When you have the best--why change?

What Are We Going To Do About The School Problent? --

LAST week we read where some member of the legislature had suggested a "temporary tax". Who in the world ever heard of a "temporary tax"?

About thirty years ago during one of the Administrations of the late Bibb Graves a temporary sales tax was passed.

You know what? Last week we sent a check to the State Revenue Department in payment of Sales Tax collected on a "temporary tax" passed more than a quarter of a century ago.

That is not the answer. Nothing "temporary" will be the answer. The problem must be worked out permanently. The population is growing and the needs of education will be larger and larger.

The Sunday edition announced that thousands of state employees will get a raise in salary, yet the teachers are being told they will be cut--or the schools will be closed and they will be laid off.

No. We would say nothing temporary is needed. It will need to be permanent with an eye to even more revenue in the years to come.

IN this election year the labor unions are in politics in a big way. What is it they want?

The Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union carried an editorial in its official newspaper last summer which included these statements:

"All pensions, health insurance, sick leave and the many other protections we seek against emergency should be handled through nationalized insurance. . . Manipulation of the nation's finances should be placed more securely in government hands. . . Research and development of military equipment should be taken away from corporations and done by government. . . It should be public policy to encourage organization and strengthening of unions. . . The editorial admitted that "to some of these suggestions, the reader will respond, 'That's Socialism'."

CHIITON GETS "HANDSHAKE" FOR 240 PINTS OF BLOOD DONATED TUESDAY 8

Mr. James N. Sudduth
Clanton, Alabama
Dear Mr. Sudduth:

I would like to extend our sincere appreciation to you and the residents of your community for the splendid success of the bloodmobile operation on the visit to your chapter on March 8, 1960. These bloods came at a time when they were vitally needed to off set the cancellations we have had due to the widespread occurance of influenza in our region and the inclement weather conditions in the northern part of the state. Our region is most fortunate to have the very fine assistance of persons such as yourself in planning for community support through donations as well as in the interpretation of the Red Cross blood programs to your community.

NOTE FROM COUNTY CHAIRMAN

I am so very proud of Chilton Countians who gave more than 240 pints of blood last Tuesday.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Debate began in the House of Representatives last Thursday on the so-called civil rights bill and is expected to continue until Wednesday or Thursday of this week when a final vote will be taken.

Since filibustering is prohibited in the House, general debate cannot extend beyond the time limit set by the rule under which a measure is considered. However, the Senate failed last week in an attempt to invoke cloture (limited debate) so that opponents of the civil rights measure will be able to continue their arguments against it, at least for the time being. In addition, long and careful consideration of the measure in the Senate was probably responsible for action taken in that chamber last Friday to defeat one of the major provisions of the Administration's bill. This provision, which constitutes an irresponsible attack on freedom of speech, would make it a crime to interfere with or endeavor to interfere with school desegregation orders by threats of force or by threatening communications.

On the second day of debate in the House, I had an opportunity to speak in opposition to the so-called civil rights bill. In my speech I discussed each part of the bill, provision by provision, in an effort to show House members, regardless of their section of the nation, the dangers inherent in it.

Funds for Space Plans

Before beginning debate on the civil rights issue last week, the House of Representatives authorized appropriations for two facets of our national defense--military construction and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

For military construction in fiscal year 1961, over one billion dollars was authorized for improving or expanding facilities at American bases in the United States and overseas. Although the largest item of $651 million is apportioned to the Air Force, also sharing in the authorization are the Army, Navy, National Guard, and Department of Defense. The measure earmarks about eleven million dollars for construction at military bases in the State of Alabama.

By a roll call vote of 398 to 10, the House authorized a total of $915 million--the full amount requested by the President--for expenditures of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in the new fiscal year which begins on July 1. Of this amount, almost $622 million is to be spent for research and development, with $108 million designated for manned space flight projects. The development program also calls for spending $134 million for work on the Saturn, a multi-stage space booster to be used on advanced space flight projects.

THINGS We see and hear

by BOB

IT is the express policy of the News to confine, or rather to concentrate on, news of Chilton County throughout its pages. In other words, we strive to print everything we can with reference to our communities and our County and to eliminate "foreign" material. The result is, we hope, better features about people and places you know and generally a "closer to home" community newspaper--after all, that's our primary purpose. This week we defer from that policy a small degree only because we feel that 1—the feature on the L&N Railroad is good human interest and 2—the extensive article from the Governor's office is vital and directly of interest to the people of this County concerning our education situation. You won't find much in the News about world affairs--we think we can give you a better community newspaper that way--when you find "foreign substance" on our pages, it is because we feel that the people of our County are interested in the particular matter and deserve some local coverage on the situation. If you haven't already noticed the "local angle" (as we call it) on every story we print -- please do notice and see if you don't agree with us, that it makes a better, more effective community newspaper.

CHILTON County is and has been for several months in bad need of a Chairman for Savings Bonds Sales in this area. As published in the News last week, Chilton's goal for 1960 is $269,000 in Series E and H bond sales. It is interesting to note that here, in the third month of the year (actually it was done in the first month) the County has purchased $56,650 worth of bonds, or 21.1 per cent of it's anual goal. Of course this is no indication to slow down, but since Chilton County is second only to Jackson County in percentage of bonds sales over the entire state we were just thinking what we could do if we had a chairman to push, publicize and advertise savings bonds. We're the only county in the state without a bonds chairman at this time and the only time we see them advertised is when the good ole Chilton County News puts forth. It's wonderful we're doing so well, but how much better could we do with a chairman to help us out? Who are the powers that be?

YOU know what? We know just gobs of teachers (and other folks, too) who are convinced at last that George Wallace wouldn't make such a bad governor after all!

THIS is the week that the Crippled Children of Chilton County, through the Easter Seal Campaign and the State Society for Crippled Children solicit your support of their organization. It cannot be stressed too vividly that the Crippled Children Society does more for the people of Chilton County than any other organization of its kind to be found anywhere. If you are a regular supporter of the Chilton County Crippled Children... fine! If you are not we wish you would reconsider and also keep an eye on the pages of this newspaper for reasons why you should be a staunch backer of such a worthwhile LOCAL organization.

NOTICE where the Decatur Daily maintains that it is "utterly ridiculous" that teachers would go on strike! "They are dedicated to the teaching of children", they said. Well, we like to think we know people. . . teachers included, and to say that many people in this day and time are so dedicated that they will work for peanuts is to our way of thinking "utterly ridiculous" and though we would hate to see the day, it is not impossible for school teachers to get fed up with peanuts and demand steak and gravy now and then!

THE only difference in my kids and myself in the wee morning hours is one says, "Mommy, can I get up?" And the other, "Lemme alone, willya!" Bet you can't guess which one of those is us!

MRS. Frances Y. Davis has moved to Clanton from Talladega where she was recently retired from her work there at the School For The Blind. She has moved her church letter to Clanton Methodist and resides practically next door to the church with her sister, Mrs. Mary Vance. She is also the sister of Ed and Ira Yeargan. As well as Pierce and John. . . but heck, we can't name all that clan, or even begin to. There's a heap of 'em, but if Mrs. Frances, whom we haven't been acquainted with as yet, is as nice and friendly as her brothers and sisters, whom we have had the pleasure of knowing, there's no doubt we'll think an awful lot of her. . . if she cares about that sort of thing. Welcome to Clanton Aunt "Frances"-

Mobile Service Proposed--

Vivid Examples: Why Chilton Needs Library

Do the Citizens of Chilton County want a free public library with book mobile service to all the rural area? Such a program is immediately available to us at a minimum expense. The annual cost to Chilton County's general fund would be equal to only 25c for each citizen.

Chilton County now has an opportunity to join with Shelby and St. Clair Counties in the Coosa Valley Regional Library System. These two counties already have their program working and they share more than $24,000.00 worth of books, and have access to about 200,000 additional volumes houses in Montgomery, with the State Library Sevice. How would our citizens benefit? Here are some examples:

1. A farmer on Route 1, Maplesville, Ala., who raises cows needs a good book on animal husbandry to help him identify, treat, and prevent minor diseases in his stock. The book mobile stops in his neighborhood at a given location on a scheduled time each week. If at that time they do not have the book he wants on the truck, the driver will take his order and bring it to him the following week. If the need is urgent he can pick it up at the Regional Library Store House in Clanton that day.

2. If a member of the Home Demonstration Club in Mineral Springs Community is scheduled to present a program to her club on interior decoration, she can place her order with the book mobile and they will secure for her, several volumes on interior decoration. This type of book is very expensive because it is usually filled with colored pictures giving examples of the subject matter, and the cost can range from [illegible] to $20.00 per volume. Therefore the Regional Library System in all probability would not have her books in stock. But, they could obtain them on loan within a very short time from the State Library Service in Montgomery, where the more expensive and less used books are stored.

3. A history teacher in Jemison needs at least 8 different books on English-History, as his students are writing a theme on the Development of Democratic Principles during the Empire Period. The school library does not have and cannot afford to stock that many different works on English-history since they would be used only one or two days during the entire year. The teacher would place his order with the Regional Library and the books would be delivered school librarian for use class. And then would b up again after the class ha ed with them, and would b able to the next school gro had need for them.

As can be readily seen t ation would afford tremend plement to our presently ina school libraries on an "A when needed" basis. The Library would not displace the growth of our school l but would, instead, be a ment and suppliment to t specific fields of learning, their inventories might be

ABDOMINAL INJURIES

The liver, largest and heaviest organ in the body, is vulnerable in accidents. Physicians do not overlook the possibilities of abdominal injuries in automobile accdents aside from the obvious injuries of arms, legs, head and chest. With the increasing number of accidents on the highways, more than one part of the body is usually involved. Abdominal injuries have assumed a position of importance because they are so frequently overshadowed by visible injuries.

The abdominal injury may be overlooked entirely or discovered so late that surgical intervention is of no avail. In most instances, injuries hindering the function of the heart or breathing are of first importance. Next come abdominal penetration, then injuries to brain and spinal cord, and fourth, extensive soft tissue wounds. The problem for the physician who first sees an injured person is the decision as to which case or type of wound can best withstand delay while something more urgent is to be attended to.

Injuries to the liver are often difficult to treat because of multiple problems involving their proper care. The liver is vulnerable to blunt injury or penetration. In addition, it is easily crumbled which increases its susceptibility to injury.

The proper time for treatment of liver injury varies with the severity of the injury, the pesence or absence of associated injuries and the state of shock. The outlook for recovery from a liver injury is related to the number of other ogans involved, and 90 percent of uncomplicated liver injury cases recover.

SO. BELL MAKES ANNUAL REPORT TO SUBSCRIBERS

Facilities Clearly Explained This Year

The impact of the Southern Bell Telephone Company's operations on Alabama's and the South's economy is illustrated by the firm's 1959 Annual Report received here today. Southern Bell serves Clanton and exchanges in 90 other cities and town in Alabama.

As the year ended, there were 702,500 Southern Bell telephones in the state, 51,410 more than at the close of 1958, the second largest annual gain on record.

Payroll In State

The company payroll in Alabama was $31,415,000 for 1959, the report shows. Employees, located over a big part of the state, numbered 6720. Taxes paid to federal, state, and local agencies totaled $16,441,090.

Expansion

The company built $3'022,000 worth of new facilities in Alabama to raise the value of its telephone plant in this state to $2 5,615,900 at year's end.

New Record Se

President Ben. S. Gilmer, in making the report for the directors, disclosed that in the south as a whole, a new record was set when more than 550,00 Southern Bell telephones were added in 1959, a new high by some 78,000 telephones. Of these, 215,000 were residence extensions, reflecting the trend toward more telphones in each home.

The Number of Southern Bell telephones more than doubled in the past 14 years, which the report described as "our busiest decade." The company now operates more than 6,825,000 telephones compared to about 3,000,000 at the beginning of the 1950's.

42 Million Calls a Day

Local calls made over Southern Bell telephones in the single year 1959 averaged nearly 42 million daily, nearly 15½ million more than a decade ago. Long distance calls averaged over 1 million daily, double the number a decade ago.

Faith In Future

Demonstrating its faith in the continued economic growth of the south, the company in its nine-state territory constructed $266 million of new facilities, equivalent to a "million-dollar plant" each working day. Construction totaled $250 million in 1958.

66 Thousand Employees

Southern Bell's wage costs for the year totaled $33,600,000, up $23,400,000 over 1958. The company has 66,000 employees. Tax payments to federal, state and local agencies in 1959 amounted to nearly $168 million. This does not include the nearly $66 million in federal excise tax on telephone service paid by customers. Total taxes amounted to $2.98 per telephone per month.

"The company has long pointed out," said the report, "that the excise tax, enacted as an emergency measure, should be eliminated. As it is, essential telephone service is the only utility service now so taxed along with luxury items.'

Good Earnings--Better Service

The report stated that the per-share earnings of $1.89, while at a slightly higher rate than for 1958, were short of what they should be and were below the level of other businesses generally, regulated and non-regulated. It continued, "we must compete with other businesses for materials, supplies, competent employees and capital and our earnings should be more in harmony with theirs than they are now or have been since the war. Good earnings make it possible in the long run to provide better telephone service and at lower price than would otherwise be possible."

National 4-H Club Week Promotes New Programs

"Learn--Live--Serve Through 4-H" was the theme of National 4-H Club Week, March 5-12.

About two and a quarter million 4-H boys and girls in the United States joined together last week to celebrate, reports State 4-H Club Leader Hanchey Logue. Alabama observed the week's activities for the 55th time with 133,321 clubsters in the state participating. They joined other 4-H'ers in launching two new programs --- the peanut improvement program and the automative program. Logue points out that over 20 million men and women, 4-H Club alumni, also joined in the celebration.

The state leader explains that the main purposes of 4-H Club week this year were to acquaint more young people with opportunities through joining or forming 4-H Clubs; to assist new members in starting projects in farming homemaking, community service, and other activities; to inform the publi cabout 4-H goals and methods; and to pay tribute to outstanding graduates of the program.

The highlight of the week was in Washington, D.C., where six delegates presented the annual 4-H Club report to the nation, says Logue. This report summarized outstanding 4-H accomplishments and paid tribute to thousands of former members whose achievemennts now show the high ideals of 4-H work through leadership and good citizenship.

"Four-H production projects are still important," says Logue. "But today more emphasis is being placed on the importance of the individual 4-H boy and girl. We are trying to help them to discover, develop, and use their talents and abilities wisely."

March Is National Egg Month; Eat 'Em

A shell-sheltered package of complete food--the egg--is recommended by nutritionists for daily diets.

Since March is National Egg Month, the protein food is an especially good buy. Supplies are large and prices are low--the large and extra large eggs being one of the best protein buys in the grocery store.

Proper storage keeps the quality of eggs high. Buy eggs from a frocer who keeps his supply in a refrigerated case, and then put the eggs into the home refrigerator as soon as possible. If eggs are left in a hot kitchen, they lose some of their quality. Also, keep them covered so they won't absorb strong odors.

Sometimes blood or meat spots may be found in eggs but these do not affect the nutritive value or flavor of the eggs in any way. Remove the spot and use the egg anyway.

If the recipe calls for separating eggs, do so immediately after removing them from the refrigerator because cold yolks are less likely to break. Cover left-over egg yolk with a small amount of cold water and refrigerate. Also place left-over whites in a covered container and put them in the refrigerator.

The best market and price the woodland owner gets depends upon the size and tpye of tree, how far his woodland is from a mill or rail siding, the condition of the roads for trucking, and the ease or difficulty of logging the area.

50 Delegates Plan To Attend Circuit Confab

The Clanton congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses has been notified of the semi-annual circuit meet to be held at Montgomery March 25 to 27. Announcement of the event was made by William E. Robinson, presiding minister of the Clanton Congregation at their meeting last night.

Commenting on the importance of atteding the seminar, Mr. Robinson stated that in the 19 congregations in the east central Alabama circuit there has been encouraging increase in number of active Witnesses in the past year with a 27 percent increase in number of home Bible studies conducted by Witnesses in that same period of time.

"Much of the increase is due to the valuable and practical information received at our assemblies," he said. "We are interested in seeking peace and pursuing it, according to the Scriptural principle at 2 Peter 3:11, 12.

This is done by the teaching and preaching of Jehovah's Kingdom both inside the congregational meetings and outside to people of good will by public preaching from house to house."

Featured highlight of the seminar will be the public talk "Finding Peace in This Troubled World" to be delivered Sunday afternoon by James W. Filson, district supervisor.

Mr. Robinson and Dr. J. L. Bennett of Clanton will head the installations and first aid departments.

About 50 delegates from here plan to attend.

Local 4-H'ers Discuss Talent Show--Rally

On March 14, 1960, Mrs. Littlejohn's and Mrs. Warr's rooms met. The meeting was called to order by the President, Jackson Moore, and then we said allegiance to the United States Flag and 4-H flag.

Mr. Futral talked to us about our 4-H talent shows and 4-H Rally. He also talked to us about how much corn and fertilizer an acre needs to have a good crop.

Enough beef, prok, lamb, and veal probably will be produced in 1960 to provide an average of 161.5 pounds per person in the U. S., according to the National Livestock and Meat Board.

Gov. Patterson Opposes New Tax Increase, States Present Tax On Rise

Montgomery, Ala. -- Under pressure to call a Special Legislative Session to raise more money for schools, Gov. John Patterson this week again voiced his opposition to "raising state taxes or adding on any new taxes."

"The demand for a Special Session includes the demand for more taxes," the governor pointed out.

Even though revenue collections are lagging and state allotments to schools have been cut, Gov. Patterson said school teachers would still receive approximately five per cent more salary from state funds than they received last year.

$20 Million More

"The education leaders are going to have a hard time selling the people on the idea that you have got to close down the schools when they are getting $20 million more this year--even with proration--than they got last year," the governor said.

More Than Before

With a 10 percent cut-back, schools stand to receive at least $135 million this year, and more than this if tax revenues continue to increase. In 1958-59, the schools operated on a 12-month budget of only $115.8 million.

The Alabama Legislature, meeting in Special Session last summer, appropriated an all-time record of $148.5 million for this year's school term. Although now on the rise, new taxes have failed to bring in the anticipated revenues.

Proration

As required by law, Gov. Patterson on Feb. 29 ordered school allotments restricted to 90 percent of the amount appropriated. This amounted to a proration of $13.5 million, or 10 percent of the proratable items.

Education leaders want the Legislature to find ways to make up the difference.

"People Don't Want Taxes"

"It seems to me that the sense of the people of this state is that they do not want their taxes raised again at this time," Gov. Patterson said. "It is simply a matter of cutting back our school expenses until the revenues increase again or raising taxes--and I can't go along with raising state taxes."

The governor said tax collections were steadily increasing and should be up to what was anticipated within weeks.

From October through January, incoming revenues fell about $1 million short each month. In February, the tax "take' was only about $220,000 under par.

Steel Strike Blamed

Gov. Patterson blamed the tax lag on the long-extended steel strike, a drop in farm income and the advance warning that the new taxes were to take effect. He said these conditions brought on an unexpected slump in tax collections.

Faced with a slowly rising deficit in the Alabama Special Educational Trust Fund, the governor had to abide by state law in prorating available funds. "It is certainly an unpleasant task to have to prorate any fund, and especially funds going to schools," Gov. Patterson told the State Board of Education.

Allots Funds To Counties

The board is now faced with the task of amending its school budget.

The state does not directly pay teachers' salaries but rather allots funds to local board for this and other purposes. The local boards set salaries and also augment the salaries with local funds.

Breakdown of Budget

In Alabama, some 68 per cent of all public school revenue comes from the state, which is the fourth highest percentage in the nation. Local sources supply about 22 percent and the Federal government 10 per cent.

Some Can Make It

Using local school funds to make up the difference, many Alabama school systems have announced that the 10 percent reduction in school funds will not mean any decrease in salaries. Included are Mobile and Montgomery as well as several smaller cities, such as Andalusia and Tallassee.

Any Revenue--"Immediately To Schools"

Gov. Patterson has directed the State Finance and Revenue Departments to keep him posted "on the progress of the revnue collections against the revised estimates." The governor, optimistic that revenues will soon mount, called for the additional revenue to go immediately to schools.

"Our goal is to allot as much money as we can for teachers' salaries to operate the full school year," Gov. Patterson said. "The uppermost thing in my mind is to get the most school teachers' salaries out of the money availible as possible."

Set Back "Temporery"

He pointed out that proration did not affect the $100 million school construction program. The first offering of $20 million in school revenue bonds was sold last month, and building is to start this month.

"We have a splendid long-range school program," Gov. Patterson said. "I am confident that this temporary economic set-back will soon be a thing of the past and that better days for our schools are just around the corner."

Supt. of Education Speaks on Proration

For the past several days there has been a great deal said about the State of Alabama's decision to prorate school money. During this time I have had a large number of people to ask what the proration is, and just how it will affect the Chilton County School System.

This can best be explained by saying that the State of Alabama is now proposing to send to each board of education only 90c of each dolalr that the state appropriated for the operation of the schools this year. In other words schools have been in session six month or 2/3 of the school year, and the boards of education throughout the state are now instructed to cut back on expenditures. The 10 percent proration or cut back, would cost your Chilton County School System in state money some $99,544.40 if figured on the total state appropriation for our Chilton County School System.

The State's proposal carries with it a recommendation to reduce the salaries of teachers and other personnel by some 10 percent. Now again, since teachers and other personnel have been working under a cotract based upon the State's appropriation of money since October 1 of this school year, it becomes necessary to reduce teachers' salaries to 30 percent for the remaining 3 months in order to average a 10 percent cut for the entire year.

You have, no doubt, noticed your newspaper and on TV that the teachers in practically every school system in the state are protesting this drastic reduction in their salaies. As Superintendent of Education, I feel it my responsibility to pont out the facts as follows:

1. Alabama teachers and other school personnel are already among the lowest paid of any school people in the U. S.
2. The public school system is the only agency of the state that is being prorated or asked to cut back any expenditures. In fact many thousands of other state workers are presently receiving salary increases.
3. School systems throughout the state have been prorated or cut back for the last three years. The prorations in the past three years have already cost your Chilton County School System over $125,000.00. These prorations or cut backs in school money affect not only the teachers and other personnel, but they also penalize your children in their educational opportunities.

In last week's issue of this paper there appeared a resolution adopted by the teachers of Chilton County which stated that they believed it unfair to reduce their salaries at this time, and that hey felt that the State of Alabama should fulfill its obligation to this and other school systems in the state. It was also stated that they would not accept a reduction in salary.

From what has been said, it is now evident that our school system and other school systems face a very serious crisis. It is a crisis that will challenge our Governor, Legislature and our school leadership.

W. A. LeCroy,
Superintendent of Education

WHAT DOES ALCOHOLIC ANONYMOUS MEAN TO THOSE IN NEED?

"The First Alcoholics Anonymous Club, south of the Ohio River", was formed in Birmingham in 1940. Members of the initial group here were instrumental in setting up scores of other clubs, not only in Alabama, but over the South. Several long time members estimate there are at least 2500 "non-practicing" alcoholics in the Birmingham area alone who during the last 20 years have achieved sobriety through the AA program. The less-than-a-dozen men who set up the first club in Birmingham have seen AA grow from a "what can a bunch of drunks do-for-themselves?" attitude on the part of most medical people, social workers, the clergy and public to complete acceptance as society's best answer to the problem of alcoholism.

A Big Answer To a Bigger Problem

Alcoholics Anonymous stands today almost as the only answer to this age-old problem. Theories may be argued and questioned. But not results. AA keeps no records. There are no membership lists. But it is generally agreed that three out of four persons who SEEK help or their own accord through AA achieve sobriety and recovery. Most alcoholics who first come to AA have tried desperately to control their drinking. Generally, they have will power to quit. They have not had, however, the strength to quit. AA recognizes will power and strength as two different things.

Sick--Mentall, Physically

Many who enter an AA clubroom for the first time have lost their jobs, many their families. They are sick, mentally and physically. They have been lectured by families who do not understand their problem. They, themselves, in the main are unable to understand their own compulsion to drink. In AA, they hear others tell of their own experiences with the drinking and of their steps to recovery. One of the first things they learn is that they must accept the fact that they are alcoholics, and that their lives have become unmanageable. They learn that they must not take that FIRST drink. They hear repeatedly that they are alcoholics-the word "former" is never used. Instead, an alcoholic considers himself after prolonged sobriety as an "arrested case".

12 Steps of Recovery

They work twelve steps of recovery, learn to make amends, seek peace of mind, to lean on a Higher Power for strength, and to repay their debt to AA helping other alcoholics. The alcoholic has reached a major step in his recovery when he learns to cast off the terrible remorse and shame that followed him during his drinking days. He accepts the fact that he has an illness, and that, with recovery, he can walk with dignity among his fellow men. Mainly, the sober alcoholic returns with amazing quickness to a useful, fruitful place in his community.

Study Problems

In 1950 the American Medical Society appointed a committee to stdy the problems of the alcoholic. In 1953, the society, as a result of this committee's studies and findings, declared alcoholism was a disease. AA today is made up of persons from all walks of life--laborers, housewives, lawyers, plant workers, physicians and ministers.

No part of level of society is immune to the disease of alcoholism.

The beginning of the AA was in Akron, Ohio in 1935.

20 Years of Progress

The 20-year growth of AA is shown by the fact that there were not more than 5000 sober alcoholics in the nation in 1940. Today, there are an estimated 250,000 sober AA members in the United States.

Chilton County has an AA Club--They hold "Open Meetings" and are ready and anxious to help those that seek help."

Buy Cottonseed Early; Varieties Short This Year

Since good, high quality cottonseed of recommended varieties will be short this year, farmers should make early buying arrangements with their seed dealers.

In northern Alabama wilt resistant varieties recommended are Auburn 56, Plains, Dixie King, Coker 10A, and Empire. Wilt susceptible varieties are Stoneville 7, Sardel, Pope, Hal 33, and Fox 4.

In southern Alabama the wilt resistant cottonseed are Auburn 56, Plains, Dixie King, Coker 100A, and All-In-One. No wilt susceptible varieties are recommended for planting in South Alabama.

Protect Family With Fallout Shelters

The survival and recovery of our country in case of a nuclear war would depend heavily on the farmer. And his primary danger is radioactive fallout.

Radioactive fallout can kill men and animals, but our families can protect themselves by building a fallout shelter. This shelter can be made with earth, sand, or concrete, and the more material there is between the family and the fallout, the better protection there will be.

Anyone may obtain instructions for building a fallout shelter from his county Civil Defense chairman.

Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God.—(1 John 3:1)

Each of us came into this world filled with the love, the good, of our Heavenly Father. We depart from them through our own wilfulness, selfishness. But even then God continues to love us as His children, ever ready through our prayers, to forgive and help us.

SELDEN SAYS 'FORCED RIGHTS LEGISLATION' WILL ONLY IMPEDE PROGRESS OF SO. NEGRO

In a sweeping attack on the civil rights bill now under consideration by the House of Representatives, Congressman Armistead Selden last Friday warned his House colleagues that "force legislation of this type may further the political destinies of some, but it can only impede the progress of the negro in the South."

Referring to Title I of the civil rights bill, Rep. Selden called it a "blatant, clumsy, assault on the freedom of speech guaranteed by the Constitution." This title encompasses the Administration's proposal which would make it a crime to interfere with or endeavor to interfere with school desegregation orders by threat or force or threatening communications. Selden's criticism of this title was given added emphasis when Congressman Edwin Willis of Louisiana interrupted him to advise that the Senate had just stricken this section from the civil rights measure presently under consideration in the Senate.

Congressman Selden also criticized the remaininb sections of the bill during his speech in the House of Representatives. He warned that the provision requiring electiou records to be preserved up to two years and opened to federal inspection would greatly endanger the right to vote in secret and without coercion, stating that secrecy could not be maintained under the conditions of the bill.

Selden pointed out that under the terms of another section of the bill any local school district in a federally impacted area otherwise entitled to federal assistance for school construction and maintenance would be ineligible for this financial aid unless it agreed in advance to surrender the school facilities built with federal aid to the U. S. Commissioner of Education should he request them.

"It is my opinion,," Selden said, "that many school districts, recognize such an agreement as a permanent claim on their facilities, will decline to accept federal funds for impacted areas, thus denying proper educational facilities to children of the local community as well as those of federal employees."

Debate on the civil rights issue is expected to continue in the House of Representatives most of this week.

Retail food prices will likely average lower this year than in 1959. Prices of pork cuts at retail during the first half of 1960 will probably be lower than during the same period last year.

Old Glory looks so gay and bright,

'Twould suit me fine and be just

Unequaled Building Program Begun--

Proration Would Cost County 18 School Days

RECENTLY there has been much talk about proration of school funds. If proration or the cut comes, it will cost Chilton County approximately eighteen school days. Everything humanly possible to keep schools open for a full term in Chilton County and at the same time maintain present salary schedules will be done that can be done.

We feel that the State of Alabama should meet her obligation and fulfill the obligation by paying salaries as on the contracts which were signed in good faith by the teachers and bus drivers at the beginning of the term.

The Principle Involved

Of course, the amount of money lost by the proration is to be considered, but there is also a principle involved. For instance, on September 1 you signed a contract for nine months for the duration of the contract your pay would be one dollar per hour. At the end of six months the employer told you that he could only pay you ninety cents an hour on each dollar promised. He says since you have worked six months your hourly wage must be reduced to seventy cents per hour so that it will average ninety cents for the duration of the contract. This is the problem faced by teachers and bus driver on the Governor's proposal to prorate school money.

Impossible For Supt. To Determine Cost of School Year

It is utterly impossible for any superintendent or board of education in State of Alabama to determine the exact amount of money that a school system will receive. This is one of the problems that boards of education and superintendents have been trying to get this administration and others to understand. In reality superintendents and boards of education no longer make a school budget but are forced to accept by law an uncertain amount of money and pay minimum salary allotments as set up by the legislature and state government.

If Money Is Sufficient

If the amount of money is sufficient to go around, boards have no financial problem, but when the money allocated to school systems does not equal the salary allotment and other expenses as set by law, then there is a bad problem.

We are facing a real crisis, not only in Chilton County, but in other counties that have to depend on state money. A few county and city systems have additional tax earmarked fo roperational expenses. Several ssytems receive a considerable amount of federal aid as a result of having federal installations in their localities such as Craig Field, Gunter Field and Maxwell Field.

Understanding & Cooperative

The people in Chilton County have been very understanding and cooperative in their efforts to support our school system by relevying the district and county tax and by levying an additional one-cent sales tax which can be used only for building, equipping and maintaining schools. None of this money can be used for salaries of teachers and bus drivers.

Building Program Underway

To let the good people of Chilton County know that the Board of Education will make good use of the sales tax, the Superintendent of Education can report at this time that the largest school building program in the history of the county is now being gotten underway. This is approximately a two million dollar building program. We have had to use much caution in setting up this program in order that the Chilton County people can remain in control.

We will continue to move with caution since here again we believe a principle of local control is involved. In other words, the practice of the state dictating to our county can be as detrimental to democracy as the federal government dictating to the state and that we must all oppose.

W. A. LeCroy,
Superintendent of Education

AND WELL, TOO —

JACK FORGETS FIRST RULE; PLAY ANYHOW

TOURNAMENT time for the Clanton Country Club is drawing and entries continue to roll in from different cities far and near. The golf course is steadily improving and if we can get a little more good weather everything should be in fine shape for the big on April 3.

Many local gofers have been putting in plenty of practice getting ready for their matches. On thing many people wonder how it is possible for Jack Hayes to play golf. If they will come down and watch the tournament they will find that the 1st rule in golf may be all wrong. Jack can't see, but there will be very few that will hit the any better than he can.

Remember the public is invited and will certainly see plenty of good golf. Many of the local golfers will be in the Championship Flight and entries from other cities will find them plenty tough to beat on our course.

PARCHED PEANUTS —

Volunteer Firemen Prove Training In Warehouse Blaze Tuesday, P.M.

HIGH winds and the element of surprise had the Clanton Volunteer Fire Department hopping Tuesday afternoon about 12:30 when a warehouse owned by Jim Wade, located next door to the Clanton Ice Company caught fire and blazed with amazing speed and near uncontrollable fury.

Blaze Endangers Autos, Buildings

For half an hour the volunteer fought the blaze with foam and water combined in efforts to save materials belonging to Jones Seed & Feed Co., which were stored in the building.

Contained Fertilizer, Feeds

The tin building, billowing smoke so that it was completely hidden at times housed hundreds of pounds of fertilizer as well as peanuts, feed and drums of diesel fuel. Standing close to the eastern side of the building is a tank of diesel fuel, which though hard to ignite burns furiously. The tank was saved and so was most of the buildings contents. Greatest damage was to the building itself, acoerding to reports.

Damage Estimated

S. A. Jones, owner of the stored goods estimated damage at $250. Damage to the building was not estimated as Mr. Wade could not be reached for comment.

Cause Undetermined

Cause of the blaze was not determined, but the Clanton Fire Department, usually called to figth brush fires, proved beyond a doubt that it can handle a tough assignment.

Catastrophe Averted

The building is so located that, under prevailing weather conditions, the fire could have been a catastrophe for half of Clanton. Clanton's fearles fire department is on the job, whenever needed and can obviously handle most any situation with efficiency and speed!

Fire Chief Houston Nivens could not be located Wednesday morning for comment, but it is certain that he will want to commend his 'helpers' for a job well done!

Crippled Children Drive Now in Swing

THE 1960 Easter Seal Campaign was officially opened this week and volunteers over the state began raising funds for crippled children and adults.

Among the most deserving of Chilton County's support is the Crippled Children's Easter Seal Drive. Please do not confuse the Easter Seal Drive with any other drive for crippled children. It is your neighbor's child that is being helped by this Crippled Children's Easter Seal Drive.

Chilton Has Many

Chilton County has one of the largest number of crippled children patient per capita. Yet less is contributed to support this program than is needed. Chilton County has failed to reach their quota for several years and has had to rely on other counties for help. Many children who needed help, yet were not emergncy cass had to be postponed due to lack of funds. Approximately $12,000 was spent last year to help 300 crippled children in our county.

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

HAPPINESS IS CONTAGIOUS

There is a "drive-in" eating place in one of the southern states that is very popular. One big reason for its popularity is one of the curb boys who works there. People drive out of their way to come by to have a sandwich there, and he is always their favorite curb boy.

His employer said that he could not do without this Negro boy. There is something about his attitude that is contagious. When he turns to walk toward you, you feel better. He always has something happy to say and his smile and face are radiant. His love of life is so infectious that you can't help but get it into your own system because his entire life is colored with joy. Johnny has learned the secret of happiness and because of that, he makes other people happy. You have met people like him . . . they reach out with warmth and interest to someone else.

The "what am I getting out of this deal" philosophy will never work. The "me first" attitude only makes you sour—and others sour on you. "I am always right" won't work. It is much like the mother who was watching the parade. Her son got mixed up with his marching, and she turned to a neighbor and said, "Look! Everybody else is out of step but little Tommy."

Recently one of my friends was out driving. As he passed a truck, he was forced to squeeze over against the truck because another car came out quickly from one of the side avenues. It irritated the driver of the truck so that, at his first opportunity, he rushed around my friend and forced him over toward the side of the road.

Up ahead was a traffic light and my friend stopped just behind the truck. He got out, walked up to the driver of the truck and what do you suppose he said?

"I am sorry, friend, for dashing over against you back there when that car came out from the side avenue. I want to apologize."

The truck driver answered quickly, "That's okay, buddy. I acted like a heel."

Horns behind them began to blow because traffic piled up, but they took time to shake hands!

You can get along with other people. It is a must for everyone. It is important in your family and it is important in your relationship with others.

First, you must believe that others want to be friendly to you. And you must decide for yourself that others deserve your own good will. Then give it to them—and you will never lack for friends.

You want to be happy and so do I. In fact, life is too short for anyone to cultivate unhappiness. But you will never be happy until you have learned to love your neighbor as yourself—meaning that you should treat your neighbor in the same way that you want him to treat you. This rule is without exception.

Therefore, put a song in your heart . . . a real tune in your whistle. Be friendly . . . be happy! God's for us and everything just has to come out "all right!"

Habit can be a man's best friend--or worst enemy.

Rapid transit isn't necessary in the pursuit of happiness.

The lack of money can also be the root of a few evils, too.

If you're travelling in double harness you should learn to bridle your tongue.

Some folks call it hard luck when they're just getting what they deserve.

It's so easy to go astray--most of the paths lead that way.

What's The Reason --

SELDOM in our travels through this veil of tears have we seen so many people griping about not making enough to pay their bills and get by.

Even during the depression in the early thirties there was less bellyacheing. If you can't remember that far back it was when a man was glad to make forty cents an hour or work a week for fifteen or sixteen dollars. And on Saturday he was far too busy trying to stretch it to pay for bread and meat to gripe. There were too many who mere making less and eating less.

But not today. With cars, and television sets, and washing machines, and radios, and more leisure time on our hands, what do we do?--We gripe.

It doesn't seem possible but the truth is we have too much. We do not appreciate the necessities of life or the luxuries. We're just plain spoiled.

More Money Than Thought --

BRIG. Gen. Bonner Fellers, (USA Ret), one of the wartime adies who helped Gen. Douglas MacArthur plan and execute the victorious, island-hopping "return" from New Zealand to fallen Bataan, told the House Foreign Affairs Committee the other day that there's plenty of money in the current defense budget, but it's being spent for too many of the wrong things.

Appearing as spokesman for the Citizens Foreign Aid Committee, a group that would cut our huge, ineffectual spending in this field, Gen. Fellers declared that $10 billion of current military spending contributes nothing to modern defense and that the $4.175 billion budgeted for foreign military and economic aid in fiscal 1961 will not improve American security.

In case of war, our allies would accept neutrality rather than atomic extinction. Their five million troops and our overseas forces would be useless. Thus, we should cut the handouts in half at once and below the million dollar mark in two years. Bringing our garrisons home would cut another billion to be spent where it would do more good.

Altogether, Gen. Fellers estimated that $18 billion could be salvaged from mis-application and devoted to more and better missiles, nuclear propulsion systems for missiles, more Polaris submarines, jet bombers, rocket engines, space craft and anti-missile missiles.

The Administration has said that nuclear war is "unthinkable". But here is one seasoned old soldier who is toughminded enough to think it through. And we should assume that the Russians are thinking, too - real hard.

Old Age Pension Picture

This graph shows the rapid jump which old age pensions have taken in recent months. When the program began in 1936, average payments were $10.72 and they had increased to only $19.83 by 1950. They were $32.87 in 1956 and only $37.82 in 1958—the year before Gov. John Patterson took office. Payments jumped past the $50-mark this month for the first time in history.

Report from Washington

BY

ARMISTEAD SELDEN

Congressman, Sixth District

Although it had been announced by the leadership that a final vote on civil rights legislation would take place in the House of Representatives about the middle of last week, debate on the measure continued through Friday and further consideration is scheduled for this week.

Shortly before agreeing to a week-end adjournment, members of the House voted, 137 to 134, to retain intact the Administration's voting referee plan which is designed to bring about mass registration of negro voters. This extremely close vote was on an amendment that would have exempted state and local elections from the referee plan. Had the amendment been adopted, however, it would have been subject to a later record vote, and there is every reason to believe it would then have been defeated.

The voting referee plan was tentatively adopted earlier in the week as an amendment to the House civil rights bill. This proposal permits federal courts to issue "federal government voting certificates" to those who complain that they have not been permitted to register. Such certificates must be honored at the polls. The federal referee has the power to request the court to issue a voting certificate based on the sole testimony of the complainnant and without benefit of information from any state or local official.

Provisional Voting

The federal referee plan also provides that if one person in an area has been denied the right to register to vote, then it can be assumed that all the other residents of the same race have also been denied this privilege and are entitled to vote. Thus, certificates could be issued to large groups without consideration of their qualifications.

In addition, the referee amendment was altered by civil rights proponents in the House to permit provisional voting. Should a member of a minority race desire to vote in a forthcoming election,, under the terms of the bill as it is now written he could go to a federal referee 2 days before the electon and request a certificate authorizing him to cast his ballot. If the court receives the application and has some doubt as to whether the applicant is qualified to register to vote, it could nevertheless permit him to cast his ballot as a "provisional" vote.

After the election, the ballot would be held until the court decided whether the voter was qualified. If the court's decision proved unfavorable, the ballot would be counted belatedly.

This intricate, hazardous procedure would serve to complicate the election processes while also jeopardizing the secrecy of the ballot. At the same time, it would deprive the states of their Constitutional authority over elecions.

Southerners Fight

Southern members of Congress are contesting provision by provision and amendment by amendment the so-called civil rights bill now under consideration. But despite valid and reasonable arguments against the legislation, Northern Democrats have joined hands in this election year with the majority of the Republican members of Congress in a determined effort to pass a punitive "civil rights" measure.

THINGS We see and hear

by BOB

HEARD on politician's wife ask another politician's wife: "Oh, are you Mr. So-andSo's mother?" Well, the question was innocent enough, but it would have been much more diplomatic to have approached his mother and asked if .... were his wife! Oh well. . .

BY golly, you'll never make us believe that 'Spring hasn't sprung'! And right about now that particular season of the year is as near 100% welcome as anything ever was! It'll be quite a few months yet before it starts losing its popularity'.

THERE seems to be a natural need in our day and time for more attention to our young folks! Of course most youngsters--in our day and time--are considered lavished already with love and affection. This is true with some; not so with others. Nevertheless, the "attention" we refer to is more to do with morals and guidance than with overdoses of affection and too much freedom!

There is a great moral cavity in our society today with regards to literature which our children are exposed to. Guidance, to our way of thinking, is the key to the cavity. Lack of it has caused the decay and the increasing of it can fill the hole!

The powers that be are considering many ways and means to halt the progress of the movement and sale of filthy literature in the United States, but the thing which will do the most good toward stamping out the blot on our living is for parents and adults everywhere to show more interest and enthusiasm in getting our young folks absorbed in wholesome activities which will enhance rather than distract from their natural purity and God given talents. More power to our youth with guidance from those of us who have been up and down the road--in varying degrees!

WE never cease tobe amazed by the fact that nearly every taxpayer is forced to live on a budget, because of taxes or one thing or another while such a thing as the State, though claiming budget practices seldom lives up to its promises. We know, that a large a thing as a state is hard pressed for funds because of a myriad of emergencies, but we also know that state employees and officials not only get payed pretty well, but their respective offices are usually far from budgetery in their spending of tax funds. It's so obvious until it's accepted and we're all for someone getting down to brass tacks and setting up a workable budget which will benefit rather than hinder the progress of Alabama and her citizens'.

THE Clanton Fire Department handled the fire Tuesday at noon with it's usual thoroughness and efficiency. Man, we hate fires, in any form or fashion (except in the fireplace), but it's thrilling to watch those volunteer firemen do their job. Training and maintenance of equipment is the key to the answer. . . along with, of course, 10 or 20 able and willing fine citizens of Clanton. It's soothing to know those boys are on the job!

AND speaking of fires, Charlie Gay said he heard of a little boy, after their home had been gutted by fire, remark to his dad: "well Pop, at least we saver the fireplace." Guess that's some consolation!

ALSO heard of a couple of local fishing experts who were casually enjoying their favorite sport when a water moccasin dropped into the boat with them. It being a little wet for walking, one of them began knocked a hole in the bottom of the boat. Needless to say, the frailing away with an oar and snake escaped and the anglers didn't. They came out of the fracas wetter by far. . . but wiser by gosh!

THE only thing we find we don't like about Mrs. Etta R. Apperson is that we didn't meet her many years sooner. She is without a doubt the sweetest, most likeable ablest little ole' retired schoolteacher we have ever known and most of all she has a sense of humor akin to our own--be that good or bad. We're not going to mention her age, we don't know it anyhow; but she's the youngest whatever age it is, we've ever run across and when it comes to vitality and enthusiasm she's got us licked a mile. These things mentioned are still, not the magical virtue she possesses which makes her so thoroughly likeable, but it's one of those inner possessions which only she and the Good Lord know for sure, but which radiates out on everyone with whom she comes in contact. She seems to have the secret ingredient for happiness and we're just grateful for the opportunity to be associated with one of the few persons in this world who have it!

Many Books To Be Read--

CTS Thanks People For Library Help

This article is the second of such article written during the past two years giving due recognition to citizens of Chilton County for their loyal and unselfish support to a very worthy cause. . . the Chilton County Training School Library. The writer has pondered and pondered over the possible way of saying "Thank You" to every person who has aided us in our attempt at getting our library ready for evaluation and approved by The Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Truly we are grateful to all the citizens of this very fine community. We feel honored to be a part of such a community that feels and reacts so favorably toward education.

The Chilton County Training School PTA, under the leadership of Mrs. Eunice Craig, President, has taken as its goal the task of purchasing some 1,300 books during 1959-60. We feel sure that the number indicated will be reached by May 20, 1960. This organization has worked like ants. This organization has also purchased many magazines and encyclopedias during the past two years. The campus has been greatly improved through the efforts of the PTA. The citizens came in by giving donations asked of them by the members of our PTA. We want every citizen of Chilton County to know that he has helped directly or indirectly toward the up-grading of the Chilton County Training School

We pay special recognition to the Rev. N. C. Shepherd, originally from Chilton County, now living in Sylacauga, Alabama, who has come to us twice during the past two years. Both times he came, he gave us a financial contribution and a professional contribution free of charge. Another worthy note is that Rev. Shepherd said that he is going to give to the Chilton County Training School a set of encyclopedias. Rev. Shepherd was guest contributor March 13, 1960 at 3:00 P. M., at the Chilton County Training School. Rev. Shepherd's professional contribution was enjoyed by all.

The Chilton County Training School PTA turned to the school $983.07 earmarked library books.

We, the student body, PTA organization, and members of the faculty invite you to visit our school at your convenience. Be it known that the school doors are always open to lovers and supporters of education.

ABUNDANT LIFE

NOTHING IS TOO HARD FOR GOD

There is nothing too difficult for God!

Long after Abraham and his wife Sarah had passed the age of childbearing, God visited them, saying, "I am going to keep my promise which I made to you many years ago." Abraham fell upon his face and laughed. His was the laughter of joy, gratitude and faith that God was keeping His promise—that He was going to give them a child.

Therefore, the Lord was pleased with Abraham's laughter. Sarah laughed, too, but it was a different story here. God was displeased with her laughter and said, "Why did you laugh? Is any thing too hard for the Lord?"

I think this is why Sarah laughed:

First, she laughed because of her age. "How can I renew my youth and bear a child now that I am old?" she asked.

It does sound ridiculous, doesn't it?

Second, Sarah laughed because she could not rationalize or reason it out.

Third, Sarah laughed because in all her knowledge and acquaintance she had never heard of it happening before. "Therefore," she reasoned, "how can it happen to me?"

At first she compared the ability of her body with God's power. Then, she compared her knowledge with the knowledge of God. And, because it was beyond her knowledge, she laughed. It was a sort o

Clanton FFA Studies Livestock Production

Pictured above is the Sr. II class of Chilton County High School. According to J. Reed Thompson Vocational Agriculture teacher these students are taught the breeds of livestock and how to identify them. They are introduced to the beef cattle score card and its purposes.

After a thorough study of the breeds and score cards Mr. Thompson uses picture judging as the boys are using here in the picture. Mr. Thompson states that he has fifteen different classes of live--stock pictures for the boys to study and place.

The livestock study is completed when members bring in their show calves and each member gets to place three classes of live animals.

After a study of this type, the students recognize that there is difference in animals and that if they are to make a profit in livestock, they will have to start with good animals.

Chilton County FFA Members Make Soil Test

CHILTON COUNTY FRIENDS:

Numerous closer friends have for quite some time been asking me to again make myself available to serve my county as a Member of the Board of Revenue and Control from the Fourth District.

First off, I want to thank all for having worked and cooperated with me in my former terms. I am proud to have been able to serve and proud of the record we made in starting a Road Paving Program that was so good many other counties copied. I am also proud of the financial status we kept and left our County in. Since we can again work in a harmonious and cooperative way, I believe I can make every voter who lends a helping hand in my behalf feel forever proud.

A more detailed set-up of the things I want to help with will be presented to you later. For now, let me again thank everyone for their kind considerations and encouragement shown me to date. You friends bolstered my courage through out, and I will always remember this.

Yours for a still Better Chilton County.

Ten years of population change in Alabama will be measured by the 18th Decennial Census of the United States to be conducted in April 1960 by the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce. The new statistics will bring forward the information last collected in the 1950 Census.

In its first year as a State, in 1820, Alabama had a population of 127,901. One hundred and thirty years late, in the 1950 Census, the State ranked 17th in the United States with 3,061,743 inhabitants.

Alabama was formed as a territory in 1817 from the eastern part of the Mississippi Territory and two years later was admitted to the Union as the 22nd State. Its 51,078 square miles, confined within the same boundaries it had when it attained statehood, gave it 27th rank in land area among the States in 1950.

CHILTON'S POPULATION SINCE 1870

THE whole of Chilton County in the year 1870 had a population exactly the size of the County Seat, Clanton today--6,194.

In the year 1870 there were 56 counties with a greater population than Chilton's and in the latest census (1950) there were only 37 counties with a greater population so Chilton is gaining fast, not only in population but in attraction to industry and better farming methods; not to mention, of course, a better educated population.

In 1900 Chilton's population had increased to 16,522 and in 1920 it was 22,770. By the early Thirties we had reached the 24½ thousand mark and the latest census in 1950 gives us nearly 27,000 people (26,922). The only census that indicates a loss in population was from 1940 to 1950 and no doubt the War had something to do with that. In 1940 our population was nearly 38,000 persons.

Chilton County does not have a city with over 10,000 population, but if we continue to progress as we have in the past six to eight years our prediction is that we will have at least one in the next ten years or less. Chilton County is growing and the men and women in our public offices have ever been so devoted to the welfare of the people as they are today. With the continued cooperation of the citizenry Chilton will continue to prosper and forge ahead into a bright future, economically, spiritually and neighborly.

Alabama had a population density of 59.9 persons to the square mile in 1950 as against 748.5 for Rhode Island and 1.5 for Nevada. Alabama's figure for 1940 was 55.5.

The State's population spurted during the 1820 to 1840 period but slackened during the following decades. By 1900, however, the population stood at 1,829,697, or 14 times as larges as in 1820. The State experienced its largest numerical increase and most rapid rate of growth in the twentieth century during the 1,00-1910 decade when an increase of 309,396 or 16.9 percent was recorded. The gain of 228,728 between 1940 and 1950 represented an increase of 8.1 percent over the 1940 population of 2,832,961.

The urban population of Alabama in 1950 comprised 1,340,937 persons or 43.8 percent of the State's total. Some 1,720,806 persons comprised its rural population.

In 1900 there was no city in Alabama with as many as 50,000 inhabitants; by 1950 four cities of this size had a combined population of 617,256, or one-fifth the population of the State. The proportion of Alabama's population livng in urban territory more than tripled over the 50-year period, rising from 11.9 to 40.1 percent.

In 1950 Alabama's 67 counties ranged in size, populationwise, from Coosa with 11,776 to Jefferson with 558,,,928. Between 1940 and 1950 population increases were registered in 23 counties as against 48 counties in the previous decade. Most rapid rate of increase, from 1940 to 1950, was that of Mobile County with a 62.8 percent gain. As in the previous decade the largest numerical increases were recorded in Jefferson and Mobile Counties, the most populous counties in the State, which had increases of 98,998 and 89,131 respectively. The gains of these two counties accounted for more than four-fifths of the population increase for the State between 1940 and 1950.

There were 306 incorporated cities or towns in Alabama in 1950 and 27 unincorporated places with populations of 1,000 or more. The incorporated places ranged in size from Stroud town with a population of 79 to Birmingham city with a population of 326,037.

SCHOOL ADMINISTRATORS RE-NEW STAND FOR LEGISLAT'VE ACTION

School administrators reaffirmed their stand for immediate legislative action to meet the school financial crisis in resolutions adopted at a special called meeting in Birmingham Friday afternoon. Believing that the welfare of school children in Alabama is the paramount issue facing citizens, members of the Alabama Association of School Administrators, adopted the resolutions after full discussion and without a dissenting vote.

(The following is a copy of the resolutions adopted by the County and City Superintendents of Education following the speech made by Governor John Patterson:)

RESOLUTIONS UNANIMOUSLY APPROVED BY THE ALABAMA ASSOCIATION OF SCHOOL ADMINISTRATORS AT A SPECIAL CALLED MEETING BEGINNING AT 2:00 P. M., FRIDAY, MARCH 8, 1960

1. We, the Alabama Association of School Administrators, express our sincere appreciation to the Governor of Alabama and the Legislature of Alabama for the accomplishments of the 1959 legislative session.
2. That the Alabama Association of School Administrators believe that the only proper solution to the present crisis lies in the Governor allowing the legislature of Alabama to fulfill its obligation to make it financially possible for boards of education, state-wide, to honor their contracts with teachers.
3. That the Alabama Association of School Administrators officially commend Dr. Frank Stewart, State Superintendent of Education, the leaders of the Alabama Education Association and the officers of the Alabama Association of School Administrators for their professional statesmanlike, and aggressive leadership.
4. That the organization of Alabama School Administrators petition the State Board of Education not to accept proration on any basis other than one which allows school teachers to be paid their full salary as long as the system can operate and then that each system be allowed to close with no penalty to the local board in 1959-60 or 1960-61.
5. That the Alabama Association of School Administrators commend the teachers of Alabama for their united stand -- "No money, no school".
6. That we feel that all boards should interpret their complete financial positions to the citizens of their respective communities.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO BUILDING SCHOOL BUILDINGS

That school administrators express concern over the creation of a state agency to exercise authority inherently vested in local boards of education relating to school buildings and that we express complete confidence in local boards of education and commend them for their dedication, honestly and devotion to the children of Alabama.
